Repeal.

2. In this Enactment the following terms shall, if not inconsistent with the context or subject matter, have the respective meanings hereby assigned to them:—

"To alienate" means to sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of State land on behalf of the Ruler of the State in consideration of the payment of quit-rent and of such premium, if any, as may be required.

Classification of State land.

3. (i.) State land, for the purposes of this Enactment, is divided into the following classes—that is to say,

- (a) Town lands;
- (b) Country lands of 100 acres in area and under;
- (c) Country lands exceeding 100 acres in area.

(ii.) Under and subject to the provisions of this Enactment, the Resident, in the name and on behalf of the Ruler of the State, shall alienate State land for such interest and in such manner as is authorised by this Enactment, and not otherwise.

(iii.) Nothing in this section shall apply to mining lands except in so far as such lands may be occupied for purposes other than those for which they were alienated.

Revision of

4. (i.) At any time after the expiration of five years from the coming into operation of this Enactment, it shall be lawful for the Resident, subject to the provisions of the following sub-sections hereof, to declare, by notification in the Gazette, that the rent of any State land, to be sold or alienated after a date to be mentioned in such notification, shall be liable to periodical revision, which may result in either enhancement or reduction. The date mentioned in the notification shall be a date subsequent to the date of such notification.

(ii.) Such declaration may apply to the whole of the State land to be sold or alienated after such date, or may be limited to any particular class of land or to any particular district, and shall state the intervals at which such revision is to take place, but no such revision shall take place till after the expiration of thirty years from the date of the declaration.

(iii.) At the expiration of each such interval the rent reserved to the State in respect of any such land may be revised by the Resident, but in making such revision no improvements made by the landowner, or his predecessors in title, shall be taken into account.

(iv.) No such declaration by the Resident shall be valid unless the same shall have received the approval of the Resident-General, to be published in the Gazette at the same time as the declaration.

Implied

5. Every grant issued under this Enactment shall, by virtue of this Enactment, be subject (in the absence of an express provision to the contrary) to the following implied condition in respect of the land comprised therein—that is to say,

That in case of a breach of, or default in observance of, any of the conditions of the said grant, whether expressed or implied by the provisions of this Enactment, the Collector, or any officer authorised by him in writing may, on behalf of the Ruler of the State, re-enter on such land, or on any portion thereof in the name of the whole, and thereupon the same shall be forfeited to and vest in the Ruler of the State: provided always that no re-entry shall be made by the Collector on the ground of any such breach or default as aforesaid, that may be capable of being repaired or made good, until after notice substantially in the form of schedule B hereto shall have been given by the Collector to the party who has been guilty of the same, to repair and make good such breach or default within such reasonable time as may be limited in the notice, and such party shall nevertheless have persisted in his neglect or refusal to repair and make good the same, and provided further that forfeiture may be enforced notwithstanding the fact that quit-rent may have been received under such grant after the accrual of the liability to forfeiture, but so that if the forfeiture be enforced, any quit-rent received after the accrual of such liability shall be repaid.

6. The Resident may from time to time reserve, by notification in the Gazette, any State lands which in his opinion are required for any public purpose or for a residential reserve. Such notification shall fully describe the land, the public or other purpose, and the terms on which it is reserved, and shall be published in two consecutive issues of the Gazette.

Land reserved.

7. After any land has been reserved for a public purpose the same shall not be sold or alienated until such reservation shall have been revoked by the Resident by publication in two consecutive issues of the Gazette; and after any land has been so reserved, every disposition thereof, except for the purpose for which such reservation has been made, shall be void: provided that there shall be no revocation except with the consent of all the parties concerned as long as the terms upon which the land was reserved are faithfully observed.

Land reserved may not be alienated until reservation revoked.

8. Every grant, or other document of title issued under the provisions of this Enactment, shall be deemed to vest in the holder thereof a surface right only in the land granted, and, in the absence of an express condition to the contrary in such grant or other document of title, no right to remove, beyond the boundaries of the said land, any timber or other jungle produce, or any gravel, stone, coral, shell, guano, sand, loam or clay without license shall be conveyed thereby.

Title to convey surface rights only.

9. No right to mine or search for minerals on any agricultural land alienated under previous land regulations, or lawfully occupied under this Enactment, shall be granted to any person unless and until such land shall have been resumed under the provisions of the law for the time being in force relating to mining.

No agricultural land may be mined except under Mining Code.

10. The Resident may, by notification in the Gazette, divide the territory of the State into districts, and may also declare any defined area therein to be a mukim, township or village, as the case may be, and may in like manner vary or revoke such declaration.

Resident may divide territory into districts, etc.

11. Any person who, at the commencement of this Enactment, is in possession of land by virtue of any document of title other than a lease or grant may exchange such document, if the land is situate within the limits of any town, for a grant under the provisions of Part II. hereof, or, if the land is not so situated, for an extract from the register or grant under the provisions of Part III. hereof, without further payment, except for survey and demarcation fees, if any: provided that nothing herein contained shall entitle any person to receive an extract from the register or a grant for a greater area than that specified in the document of title under which he claims.

Issue of titles to present land-owners.

be evidence.

12. A copy of any application, letter, document or instrument of any kind whatsoever relating to any purchase, reservation, grant or title in respect of land, certified as correct by the officer having the custody thereof, shall be admissible in evidence in every case in which the original would be admissible.

Loss of title.

13. If any document of title is lost or destroyed the person lawfully entitled to the custody thereof together with other persons, if any, having knowledge of the circumstances, may file in the Land Office of the district in which the land is situated an affidavit or statutory declaration containing a full description of the lost document of title and the circumstances under which it was lost or destroyed. The Collector shall thereupon cause to be published in the Gazette, and locally in the district, for the period of one month a notice, substantially in the form of schedule C hereto, and a copy of the notice shall also be posted on the land. At the expiration of such period the Collector may upon receipt of the prescribed fees issue to the person so lawfully entitled a certified copy of the document so lost or destroyed, and such certified copy shall be available for all purposes and uses for which the original document of title would have been available, and as valid to all intents as such document of title: provided that the Collector shall not in any case issue such certified copy unless he is satisfied as to the truth of the affidavit or declaration and the good faith of the applicant for the same.

14. The Resident may, with the approval of the Resident-General, from time to time make, and when made vary or rescind, rules for fully and effectually carrying out and giving effect to the various purposes, provisions and powers in this Enactment contained, and such rules, when published in the Gazette, shall have the force of law.

Surrender of title.

19. Land held under a grant or entry in the register may at any time be surrendered to the State by the lawful owner thereof and the document of title be delivered up if the rent for the current year and all arrears, costs and charges have been paid and satisfied. From the date of such surrender the Collector shall cease to demand the rent reserved in such grant or extract from the register.

41. (i.) It shall be lawful for the Collector, on the application of any chargee, and on being satisfied that default has been made in payment of the interest or of any part thereof, or of the principal sum secured by the charge, and that three months' notice in writing demanding payment has been given by the chargee to the owner, to order the sale of the land comprised in the charge, or of such portion thereof as may be necessary.

Sale of land by chargee.

(ii.) Such sale shall be carried out at the District Land Office, and no chargee shall sell any land comprised in a charge except in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(iii.) No order shall be made by the Collector under this section unless and until a written notice of the application shall have been served on all persons who would be affected by such order, and such persons have had an opportunity of appearing before the Collector.

42. (i.) An executor or administrator, or person claiming by any form of succession, may become the registered owner of land by producing at the Land Office the probate or letters of administration granted to him. Upon satisfactory proof of the applicant's claim he shall be so registered.

(ii.) A trustee in bankruptcy, or receiver of an insolvent estate, or other person claiming by any order of court or act of law, may, in like manner, become the registered owner of land upon satisfactory proof of his title thereto.

(iii.) In any case in which no legal representative of any deceased person shall have been registered, it shall be lawful for the Collector at any time after the expiration of twelve months from the death of such person and after notification in two successive issues of the Gazette of the intention to do so, to resume on behalf of the Ruler of the State any lands standing in the name of such deceased person in the mukim register: provided that no such resumption shall be carried out during the pendency of proceedings before any court to establish the claim of any person to act as such legal representative.

(iv.) Nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to vary or invalidate the procedure provided by any law in force for the time being to regulate the succession to estates of small value.

43. (i.) Any person claiming any estate or interest in land under this part may, at any time, apply to the Commissioner for an order that any register book or journal kept at any Land Office under this Enactment shall be rectified, or that any entry may be made or interpolated in any such register book or journal, or that any entry therein may be cancelled: and the Commissioner may either refuse such application, or, if satisfied as to the justice of the case, may make such order in reference thereto as he may think just.

Rectification of register.

(ii.) The Collector and every other person affected by such order of the Commissioner shall obey the same upon being served with a copy of such order.

(iii.) Any person aggrieved by any refusal or order of the Commissioner, under sub-section (i.) hereof, may appeal to the court: provided that such appeal shall not be admitted after the expiration of thirty days from the date of the decision appealed against.

(iv.) No court other than that of the Judicial Commissioner shall have any jurisdiction in matters provided for by this section.

Demarcation.

44. All lands under this part shall be measured and demarcated with permanent boundary marks, and the Collector may at any time, in case of dispute, direct a survey to be made of any of the said lands, and may order the party found to be in the wrong to pay the whole or any part of the cost of such survey according to the prescribed scale.

Grants may issue.

45. To any holder of land under this part, or to anyone who hereafter shall acquire land under this part, there may be issued, on application, and after survey and payment of the prescribed fees, a grant, substantially in the form of schedule D hereto, for the land so held or acquired.

PART IV.

COUNTRY LANDS EXCEEDING 100 ACRES IN AREA.

Obligations and conditions of grants.

46. Every grant under this part for an area not exceeding 640 acres shall be substantially in the form of schedule D hereto, and shall be subject to the obligations and conditions contained in sections 23 and 24 of this Enactment, and to any special terms, not inconsistent with the other provisions of this Enactment, which may be inserted with the approval of the Resident.

Right of re-entry.

47. (i.) In every such grant there shall, by virtue of this Enactment, be impliedly reserved the right to re-enter on the said land in any of the following events—that is to say,

- (a) If a bonâ fide commencement be not made to cultivate the land within twelve months from the date of the grant;
- (b) If the said land be not cultivated to the extent of one quarter of the total area within five years from the date of the grant;

and to resume such portions thereof as are not then under cultivation: provided that there shall, in any such case, be reserved to the grantee such belts of jungle and other plots of land as may be necessary for the purpose of maintaining or protecting existing cultivation, or for the proper and effectual management of the estate:

And provided further, that there shall also be reserved to the grantee the right to retain possession of two acres of land in respect of each acre then being under cultivation.

(ii.) In the case of any grantee who shall have fulfilled the condition of cultivating one quarter of the area comprised in his grant within the required period of five years, there shall be endorsed on such grant and signed by the Resident a memorandum to the effect that the above condition has been fulfilled and that no further liability attaches to the said land in respect thereof. And in the case of contiguous blocks of land being held by the same person, condition (b) shall be held to have been fulfilled if one quarter of the total area of such contiguous blocks be cultivated within five years from the date of the grant. In this section the expression "contiguous blocks" means such blocks as are not separated from each other by other alienated or State lands.

48. Except with the approval of the Resident-General no single proprietor or group of proprietors shall be granted land in excess of 640 acres, and in the event of lands exceeding such an area being so granted, the grant or grants under which the whole area is held shall be subject to the obligations and conditions contained in sections 23 and 24 hereof, and to such other conditions as to cultivation, rent, forfeiture and otherwise as may be imposed in each case by the Resident with the approval of the Resident-General: provided that in the event of the sub-division of any such grant, and the sale or transfer of any part thereof, every part so sold or transferred shall be subject to the scale of rent prescribed in the case of country lands held under grants for areas exceeding 100 acres and less than 640 acres, and to such other conditions as to cultivation, forfeiture and otherwise as the Resident may think fit in each case to impose.

Areas exceeding 640 acres.

PART V.

DEMARCATIION AND SURVEY.

49. Any Collector, settlement officer, surveyor, demarcator or land measurer appointed by and acting under the authority of the Resident may, at any reasonable time, enter upon all lands which he is required to demarcate or survey, and upon lands contiguous thereto, and may make all enquiries and may fix or place any stone, post, pillar or other boundary mark in or upon the land, and may dig up any ground for the purpose of fixing the same, and may cut down and remove any timber or other growth which may obstruct any survey line: provided always that as little damage as possible shall be done to the land or to any property thereon.

General powers.

50. (i.) The settlement officer may cause a notice, substantially in the form of schedule M hereto, to be served on any person owning, occupying, or otherwise interested in any such land, and any land abutting thereon, or on any person employed on or connected with such land, requiring such person to attend before him at a time and place to be stated in the notice, for the purpose of pointing out the boundaries of such land, or of rendering aid in setting up or repairing the boundary marks, or of affording assistance or information for the purpose of the demarcation or survey.

Notice to procure attendance.

(ii.) Every person upon whom such notice may be served shall be legally bound to attend as required by the notice and, so far as he may be able, to do any of the things mentioned therein.

51. The settlement officer may cause a notice, substantially in the form of schedule N hereto, to be served on any owner or occupier of such lands, requiring him to clear any boundary line, or to cut any line which may be necessary for the purposes of demarcation, or to provide labour or otherwise assist in such work; and, if it is necessary to employ hired labour for such purposes, the settlement officer may assess and recover from such owner or occupier the cost of the same.

Clearing of boundary lines.

52. (i.) If it is necessary to remove or destroy any trees, fences, crops or other property of value in order to effect the clearance of any line, the settlement officer shall assess the value of the same, and shall pay or tender the amount so assessed to the owners thereof.

Compensation for injury done by clearance.

(ii.) Any dispute regarding the sufficiency of the amount so paid or tendered shall be determined by the Collector, whose decision shall be final.

(iii.) Provided that the assessment shall be made before the property is removed or destroyed.

Notice to persons to give information or to produce documents.

53. The settlement officer may issue a notice, substantially in the form of schedule O hereto, calling upon any person who can give any information respecting the boundaries of the land, or in whose possession or power any document relating to such boundaries is alleged to be, to attend before him and give such information or produce such document on a date and at a place to be mentioned in the notice. Every person on whom such notice is served shall be legally bound to attend and to give such information, and to produce such document as is required by the notice.

Boundary marks to be erected.

54. The settlement officer shall, after making due enquiry, mark out the boundaries of the land, and shall, unless permanent boundary marks of a suitable description have already been erected, cause the same to be erected, in such manner and number as he may consider sufficient, and may recover the cost thereof from the owner.

Power to place marks under charge of owner and occupier.

55. The Collector may cause a notice, substantially in the form of schedule P hereto, to be served on any owner or occupier, placing under his charge any boundary marks erected on the boundary of his land, and such owner or occupier shall thereupon preserve the same and shall give immediate notice to the Collector or to the nearest penguulu if any such marks are injured, destroyed or removed.

Power to re-erect and repair boundary marks.

56. Whenever a Collector becomes aware that any boundary mark in his district has been injured, destroyed or removed he may cause the same to be replaced or repaired, and may recover the expenses of so doing from the person who is bound to preserve such mark.

Duties of penguulus.

57. It shall be the duty of every penguulu of a mukim or other native headman to prevent the obliteration of any boundary line and the destruction, injury or alteration of any boundary marks within the local limits of his jurisdiction, and to report immediately to the Collector whenever he becomes aware that any such line remains so obliterated or that any such mark has been so interfered with.

Removal of or interference with survey and land marks.

58. No land mark, boundary mark, trigonometrical station, semaphore or other survey mark shall be defaced, obliterated, removed, injured or otherwise impaired, destroyed or rendered useless, except by a person duly authorised thereto by the officer having control of such station or mark, and any person acting in contravention of this section shall be liable, upon conviction by a Magistrate, to the penalty provided by the Penal Code, and may further be ordered to pay a sum not exceeding three times the cost of repairing or replacing such station or mark, and of making any survey rendered necessary by the act for which such conviction was had, the amount to be recovered by the process provided for the recovery of fines. Should any person have occasion to require the temporary or permanent removal or alteration of any such station or mark, he shall make an application in writing to that effect to the officer having control of the same, setting forth the reasons for such application, whereupon such officer may comply with such application and shall be entitled to recover from the applicant the cost of such work as may be thereby entailed.

PART VI.

COLLECTION OF LAND REVENUE.

59. Every sum now due or payable, or which shall hereafter become due or payable to the Ruler of the State, on account of rent or of any revenue due and owing therefrom, may be recovered in the manner hereinafter provided.

Land revenue recoverable.

60. When any such sum has fallen due and a written notice of demand, substantially in the form of schedule Q hereto, has been served on any one of the persons liable therefor, and a period of fifteen days, or such further time as may have been allowed by the Collector, has elapsed from the date of such service without such sum having been paid or satisfied, such sum shall be an "arrear," and every person liable for it shall be a "defaulter."

"Arrear" and "defaulter" defined.

61. With a view to the recovery of an arrear, the Collector may issue an attachment, substantially in the form of schedule R hereto, and may seize, by virtue thereof, any personal property of the defaulter wherever the same may be found, and may also seize any effects or any crops to whomsoever belonging, which may be found on the land in respect of which the arrear is due, and may, not less than three days after such seizure, sell the same by public auction: provided that in the case of growing crops, it shall be lawful for the purchaser to retain possession thereof on the ground until ripe, and thereafter to reap or remove the same.

Proceedings against defaulter for recovery of arrear.

62. (i.) The attachment may be made by an officer deputed by the Collector for that purpose, who shall issue a notice, substantially in the form of schedule S hereto, and shall take an inventory of the property attached.

Attachment may be made by subordinate officer.

(ii.) Such officer shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of the Penal Code.

63. If the arrear cannot be recovered in the manner aforesaid, the Collector may proceed against the land in respect of which the arrear is due as next hereinafter provided.

Proceedings against the land.

64. The Collector may issue a notice of sale of the land, substantially in the form of schedule T hereto, and if at the expiration of the period of three months therein mentioned the arrear has not been paid or satisfied, he may sell by public auction the whole of such land, or such part thereof, or such interest therein, as he may deem sufficient to satisfy the same, together with the costs of all processes relating thereto.

Notice of sale.

65. The proceeds of such sale shall be applied, in the first place, in satisfaction of the arrear and costs, and in the event of there being any surplus remaining, the Collector shall, if he is satisfied as to the right of any person claiming such surplus, pay the amount thereof to such person, and, if he is not so satisfied, shall place the amount on deposit in the Treasury to be held in trust for the person who may ultimately succeed in establishing his claim thereto.

Application of proceeds.

66. The purchaser at a sale held under the last preceding section shall, upon payment of his purchase money to the Collector, be entitled to have the title to the land or interest so purchased by him duly registered in his name, without the payment of any fee therefor, and such registration shall have the effect of transferring to and vesting in him such land or interest free of all encumbrances created by or derived from the defaulter or his predecessor in title, except such as are expressly reserved by the Collector at the time of sale.

Title conferred on purchaser.

Notice to deliver title.

67. The Collector may, by a notice, substantially in the form of schedule U hereto, require the defaulter or any person in possession of any document of title relating to the land which, or a part of or interest in which, has been so sold or offered for sale as aforesaid, to deliver to him such document of title, and such defaulter or other person shall be legally bound to comply with such notice. In any case in which it may be found impossible to recover such document of title, it shall be lawful for the Collector to issue a new document of title in the place of the former one, and thereupon the former document of title shall be deemed to be cancelled, and the new document to be for all intents and purposes the only title for the land comprised therein.

Penalty for
title.

68. Any person knowingly and with fraudulent intent using any document of title relating to the land which, or a part of or interest in which, has been so sold as aforesaid, in a manner inconsistent with the rights of the purchaser, after service on him of the notice required by the preceding section, shall be deemed to have committed, or to have attempted to commit, the offence defined in section 415 of the Penal Code.

Power to stop sale.

69. If any person tenders to the Collector the amount of the arrear and costs at any time previous to the sale, the Collector shall, upon receipt of the same, desist from all further proceedings in respect thereof.

Application to court.

70. If any person whose property, crop or land has been attached or advertised for sale under the provisions of this part, disputes the propriety of such attachment or sale, he may, in the case of movable property, apply to the court of the nearest Magistrate, and, in the case of immovable property, to the court of the Senior Magistrate, for an order to stay the proceedings, and such court, after hearing the Collector and making such further enquiry as may be necessary, shall make such order as may be just.

Reversion to the State of land not sold.

71. If at any such sale as aforesaid there shall be no bid sufficient to cover the amount due for arrears and costs, the Collector shall record the fact in the auction sale book, and upon such record being made the said land shall revert to and be vested in the Ruler of the State, and all right, title and interest of the defaulter therein shall cease. In every such case the Collector shall make an entry to the above effect under his hand on the duplicate of the document of title or in the mukim register, as the case may be.

PART VII.

ACQUISITION OF LAND FOR RESIDENTIAL RESERVES OR PUBLIC PURPOSES.

Power to enter and survey.

72. Whenever it appears to the Resident that land in any locality is likely to be needed for a residential reserve or for any public purpose, a notification to that effect shall be published in the Gazette, and the Collector shall publish the substance of such notification at convenient places in such locality, and thereupon it shall be lawful for any person, either generally or specially authorised by the Resident, and for his servants and workmen, to do all or any of the following things—viz.,

- (i.) To enter upon and survey and take levels of any land in the said locality ;
- (ii.) To dig or bore into the sub-soil ;
- (iii.) To do all other acts necessary to ascertain whether the land is adapted for such purpose ;

73. Provided that no person shall enter into any building or upon any enclosed court or garden attached to a dwelling-house (unless with the consent of the occupier thereof) without previously giving such occupier at least seven days' notice in writing of his intention to do so.

Previous notice of entry.

74. All damages done by proceedings taken under section 72 shall be assessed and paid by the Collector on complaint being made to him by the party suffering the same, subject to reference to arbitration, and to the court, in the manner hereinafter provided.

Payment for damage.

75. Whenever it has been determined to resume any land for a residential reserve or any public purpose, a declaration to that effect shall be published in the Gazette, stating the district or other territorial division in which the land is situate, the purpose for which it is needed, its approximate area, and all other particulars necessary for identifying it, and the place where and the time when a plan of the land may be inspected, and thereupon it shall be lawful for any person either generally or specially authorised by the Resident in that behalf to enter into possession of such land.

Declaration that land is required for a public purpose.

76. (i.) The Collector shall then cause public notice to be given at convenient places on or near the said land, stating that the Government has taken possession thereof and that claims to compensation for all interest therein may be made to him.

Notice to persons interested.

(ii.) Such notice shall state the particulars of the land and shall require all persons interested therein to appear, personally or by agent, before the Collector at a time and place mentioned in the notice (such time not being earlier than twenty-one days after the date of publication of the notice), and to state the nature of their respective interests in the land, and the amount and particulars of their claims to compensation for such interests.

77. The Collector shall also cause a notice to the same effect to be served on the occupier (if any) of such land, and on all persons known or believed to be interested therein, or their duly authorised agents: provided that if any such person, having no agent, resides outside the limits of the State and his address is known, the notice may be sent to him by registered letter and a reasonable time allowed for reply thereto.

79. On the day mentioned in the notice, the Collector shall proceed to hold an enquiry into the value of the land and to determine the amount of compensation which in his opinion should be paid therefor, and shall offer, in writing, such amount to the persons interested.

Award in case of agreement.

80. If the Collector and all the persons interested agree as to the amount of compensation to be paid, the Collector shall make an award under his hand for the same. Such award shall be filed in the District Land Office, and shall be conclusive evidence, as between the Government and the persons interested, of the value of the land and of the amount of compensation to be paid for the same.

Procedure in case of dispute as to apportionment.

81. If any dispute arises as to the apportionment of the same or any part thereof, the Collector shall settle such dispute, subject to an appeal to the court, which may be brought within one month of the date of the award.

Reference to arbitration.

82. If any person whom the Collector has reason to believe to be interested does not attend after due service of notice, the Collector may proceed in his absence to determine the amount of the compensation to be paid, and may make an interim award under his hand for the same, which award shall thereupon be published in each issue of the Gazette for a period of three months, at the expiration of which time—unless in the meanwhile such person shall have protested against the award in writing to the Collector, stating the ground of his protest, and giving a reasonable explanation of his previous non-attendance—such award shall become absolute and final as against such person. In the event of such a protest being received by the Collector within such period of three months, accompanied by a reasonable explanation of the previous non-attendance, the Collector shall re-open his enquiry, and proceed as though no interim award had been made.

83. If the Collector is unable to agree with the persons interested who have attended in pursuance of the notice, as to the amount of the compensation to be paid, or if any question arises of which he is unable to dispose, he shall refer the matter to arbitration in the manner hereinafter provided.

How to be made.

84. Reference to arbitration shall be made in the manner following:—

The Collector shall cause a notice in writing to be served on each of the persons whom he has reason to believe to be interested in the land, or who claims to be so interested, requiring him to state, on or before a day to be therein mentioned, the sum which he claims as compensation for his interest in the land.

Notice to appoint arbitrator.

85. He shall at the same time cause to be served on the parties so interested, or claiming to be interested, a notice in writing requiring them to appoint within the time mentioned by the notice (which shall not be less than twenty-one days from the date of the publication of the notice), a qualified person to act as arbitrator for the parties interested in determining the amount of the compensation.

Collector to appoint arbitrator.

86. He shall also appoint a qualified person to act as arbitrator for the Government.

87. Every person so appointed shall be legally bound to attend and act as arbitrator unless excused for some reason to be approved by the Resident.

Arbitrators
to act.

88. The arbitrators so appointed shall meet at a place and time to be fixed by the Collector, and shall thereupon hold an enquiry and proceed to determine the amount of compensation to be paid for the land, and the persons to whom and the proportions in which the same is to be paid.

Enquiry by arbitrators.

89. The Collector shall furnish, for the information of the arbitrators, a statement, in writing, setting forth the following particulars:—

- (v.) The amount which each of the parties interested claims as compensation for such interest.

90. Powers of Collector and
arbitrators.

91. If the arbitrators agree as to the amount of compensation to be paid and as to the persons to whom and the proportion in which the same is to be distributed, they shall make an award, in writing under their hands, setting forth the same, and such award shall be final, and shall be filed in the place and in the manner provided by section 80.

Award by arbitrators.

92. If the arbitrators are unable to agree upon the matters referred to them for decision, they shall make a report in writing to that effect to the Collector, setting out the differences which exist between them and the points on which they are agreed.

Report by arbitrators in case
ment.

93. The Collector shall thereupon refer the matter for the decision of the court by forwarding the report of the arbitrators, together with a copy of the statement furnished by him to the arbitrators as required by section 89, and the court shall thereupon, as soon as conveniently may be, proceed to determine the amount of the compensation, and no appeal shall be allowed from the order of the court thereon: provided that if no arbitrator is appointed under section 85 the Collector's offer under section 79 shall be referred for the decision of the court.

Payment of compensation and interest.

97. Payment of the compensation shall be made by the Collector, according to the award or order of court, and interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum shall be allowed on the amount of compensation, from the date on which the Government entered into possession of the land to the date on which the compensation is paid: provided that no interest shall be allowed if the amount of compensation awarded by the arbitrators or by the court is not more than the amount tendered under section 79.

Part of house or building not to be taken.

98. The provisions of this part shall not be put in force for the purpose of acquiring a part only of any house, manufactory or other building if any person interested desire that the whole of such house, manufactory or building shall be so acquired.

Payment of charges from public funds.

99. Where the provisions of this part are put in force for the purpose of acquiring land at the cost of any public fund, the charges incurred by the Collector in such acquisition shall be defrayed from such fund.

Entry in Land Office registers.

100. When any land has been resumed under this part the Collector shall cause an entry to be made in the books of the Land Office of the district in which the land is situate, to the effect that the same has vested in the Ruler of the State. Upon such entry being made the land shall vest in the Ruler of the State free of encumbrances.

Exemption from stamp duty and fee.

101. No award or agreement made under this part shall be chargeable with stamp duty, and no person claiming under any such award or agreement shall be liable to pay any fee for a copy of the same.

PART VIII.

102. Whosoever shall fraudulently alter, add to, erase, deface or destroy, or permit to be altered, added to, erased, defaced or destroyed, any entry in any register book authorised or required to be kept by this Enactment, or in any certified copy of any entry in such register book shall, on conviction thereof by the Senior Magistrate, be punished with imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to seven years, and shall also be liable to fine.

105. The Magistrate shall proceed in a summary way, in the presence of the parties, or, in case of wilful absence of any person against whom such information shall have been laid, then in his absence, to hear and determine such information; and, on being satisfied of the truth thereof, such Magistrate shall issue his warrant, addressed to any police officer, requiring him forthwith to dispossess and remove such person from such land, and, on behalf of the Ruler of the State, to take possession of the land, together with all crops growing thereon and all buildings and other immovable property upon and affixed thereto, and the person to whom such warrant is addressed shall forthwith carry the same into execution.

KRIAN IRRIGATION SCHEME.

The Scheme proposes the irrigation of 64,440 acres, approximately 100 square miles of padi land.

First section of main canal, 9 miles, (Headworks to Bagan Serai) commands, with branches—

Selinsing District	...	...	...	...	...	21,120 acres
East of Padang Lalang	...	...	...	...	...	1,320 "
West	..	...	...	...	...	13,600 "
						36,040 "

Second section of main canal, 6 miles, Bagan Serai to Jalan Bharu, commands, with branches to—

Tanjong Piandang, 5 miles, and freshwater canal, 4 miles

28,400 acres.

The works in progress are:—

HEADWORKS.

Construction of spill weir between Bukit Merah and Bukit Berapit Kechil. All foundations completed and superstructure partly so.

Construction of head and scouring sluices in the Kurau river between Bukit Berapit Kechil and Bukit Berapit Besar. Foundations almost completed.

Construction of bund between Bukit Berapit Besar and Kubu Gajah hill. This work completed.

The Headworks will have the effect of impounding about 7,256,000,000 gallons of water to the eastward of the chain of hills known as Bukit Merah, Bukit Berapit and Kubu Gajah hills. The area of this sheet of water will be 10 square miles and it will extend to within a mile of Pondok Tanjong, and will surround the Krian-Taiping Railway bank between Bukit Merah and Pondok Tanjong.

CANALS.

Main Canal, 15 miles:—for 9 miles this will have a bottom width of 58 feet and top width of 72 feet 9 inches, the water will run 4 feet $4\frac{1}{2}$ inches deep above grade line and will be 66 feet 9 inches wide on surface. For 6 miles the canal will have a bed width of 48 feet and top width of 62 feet 9 inches, the water will run 4 feet $4\frac{1}{2}$ inches deep and will have a surface width of 56 feet 9 inches.

The whole of this canal is under construction and about 4 miles is completed.

Branch Canals:—

Selinsing canal, 8 miles, some jungle felling, stumping and earthwork.

Alor Pongsu canal, 3 miles, work not started.

Tanjong Piandang canal, 5 miles, work not started.

Freshwater canal, 4 miles, work not started.

In addition to this there will be a large number of distributaries—crossings, outlets, regulators. The estimated time of completion, 3 years, was based on the assumption that 3,000 men would be employed every day; but owing to difficulties in recruiting coolies we have never had more than about half that number. The maximum supply which the main canal will be capable of carrying will be 650 cubic feet per second or 351,000,000 gallons in 24 hours.

Flood passes are provided in the headworks capable of discharging 18,000 cubic feet per second; the highest flood gauging during the last 3 years has shewn a flow of 12,000 cubic feet per second only.

PERMITS TO LAND IN CAPE COLONY OR NATAL.

No. 101.—The following notice is published for general information:—

In consequence of the establishment of Martial Law at all South African ports, it has been decided with the concurrence of the Governments of the Cape Colony and Natal that on and after the 1st January, 1902, permits will be required by every person proceeding to Cape Colony or Natal, to enable him (or her) to enter those Colonies, and no person unprovided with such permit will be allowed by the authorities in South Africa to land in that country, except under special circumstances.

Each applicant will be required to produce a certificate, signed by the Agent-General for the Cape Colony or Natal, a Member of Parliament, Justice of Peace, Banker, Parish Priest or Minister, or Officer of H.M. Forces, to the effect that he is in possession of at least £100 or is in a position to maintain himself on arrival in South Africa, that the object of his journey, viz.:—

is bonâ fide, and that he has not been deported or sent out of that country as indigent.

Subjects of Foreign Powers, who may wish to proceed to South Africa from ports in the United Kingdom, can obtain a permit on production of satisfactory evidence to the same effect from their respective Embassies or Legations in London.

Passengers from ports not in the United Kingdom must supply themselves with permits from the Colonial Secretary or some officer appointed by the Colonial Government in the case of Colonial ports, or from the British Consular Officer at a foreign port of embarkation, who will satisfy himself, as far as possible, that the applicants fulfil the above conditions.

Members of a family proceeding to South Africa will be shewn on the permit issued to its head, provided that a separate permit will be required for each son or daughter over 16 years of age.

It should be clearly understood that these permits are available only to enable passengers to land in South Africa, and are no guarantee that they will be allowed to proceed inland. Those who wish to do so must apply for permits at the port of disembarkation. The latter are warned that there are still thousands of persons waiting at the coast ports for an opportunity to return to their homes, who will probably have precedence over later arrivals.

Mr. Gerald Koch, Chief Clerk, Treasury, Selangor, has been appointed Chief Clerk, Resident-General's Office, Federated Malay States, with effect from the 26th November, 1901.

REGULATIONS FOR FEDERATED MALAY STATES CADETS.

(NOTE.—These Regulations are subject to amendment from time to time.)

R.-G. O. Circulars No. 16 of 1899 and Nos. 9 and 11 of 1900 are hereby cancelled and the following substituted therefor;

1. With a view of supplying the Civil Service of the Federated Malay States, Cadetships have been established, the holders of which are required to serve in any of the Protected Malay States and to devote themselves for a certain time after their arrival in the East to learning such language as the Government may direct.

Cadets appointed to this service will, in the first instance, be allotted to one or other of the Federated Malay States, and will, as a rule, look for promotion only in that State; but it must be distinctly understood that they will be liable to be transferred at any time from one to another, at the discretion of the Resident-General, and they will also be liable to be transferred to the Civil Service of Hongkong or the Straits Settlements, at the discretion of the Secretary of State, without being given compensation for any special privileges or allowances.

2. Every Cadet on arrival may be called upon to enter into a bond (Appendix II.) for the refund of the cost of his tuition in the language or languages he may be directed to study and the expenses incurred by Government for such study, whether incurred in the Federated Malay States or in some other country, in the event of his quitting the service, without the sanction of the Government, within five years of his arrival in the Federated Malay States.

3. The Cadets, who must be natural-born British subjects, are selected by open competitive examination* held by the Civil Service Commissioners, to whom all enquiries on the subject should be addressed.

The examination for these appointments will, as a rule, be held in the month of August, in those years in which vacancies occur, simultaneously with the examination for the Civil Services of India, Hongkong and the Straits Settlements. Candidates must be between the ages of 21 and 24 on the first day of August in the year in which the examination is held.

4. The selected candidates will be expected to leave England about a month after the results of the examination are announced.

5. (a). Each Cadet will receive salary at the rate of £225 per annum with free furnished quarters (the furniture as per schedule in Appendix I); half salary to commence from the day of leaving England and full salary from the date of his arrival in the State to which he may be sent. A free passage to the Federated Malay States will be provided for the Cadet, subject to an undertaking to refund the cost of his passage in the event of his relinquishing the appointment within three years for any other reason than mental or physical infirmity.

(b). When it is necessary that Cadets should act in superior posts before they have passed the prescribed examinations in Language and Law they may draw salary at a rate not exceeding £300 per annum while so acting, exclusive of horse allowances or other allowances belonging to the appointment held, which are granted for specific purposes and may be drawn by Cadets so long as the purposes for which such allowances are granted be fulfilled.

6. (a). While studying the appointed language the Cadet will be under the control and supervision of the Resident of the State to which he may be sent, who will frame regulations for his hours of study and general government. He will be supplied with a munshi, or teacher, and with certain books which are the property of Government and must be returned, and he will be required to attend the Government Offices a certain time each day in order to give him an opportunity of learning the details of Government business. He may also, if thought advisable, be sent for a certain time to China, or to Madras, in order to acquire more intimate knowledge of the Chinese or Tamil languages. Cadets sent to China will study under the scheme set out in Appendices III and IV.

(b). The progress of the Cadets studying Malay or Tamil will be tested by half-yearly examinations, which will be held as nearly as possible simultaneously in all the Federated Malay States, but Cadets studying Tamil in India will be examined in that country. Cadets must present themselves at each half-yearly examination, but it will be competent for a Cadet, if he so desires, to take up the final standard of the particular language he is studying without the necessity of passing the first standard. Any Cadet will be liable to be dismissed without further pay if he does not pass a final examination in one of the languages within the prescribed period—viz., two years from date of arrival in the State for Malay, two and a half years for Tamil, and two and a half years for Chinese, and the examination in Law, Colonial Regulations and General Orders within three years from date of arrival in the State—or if at any time his progress or conduct shall be considered by the Government to be so unsatisfactory as to render such a course desirable. The Government will decide, having regard to the ground of dismissal, whether the Cadet shall be sent home at Government expense, or shall be left to find his own way home, or shall be, in addition, called upon to refund the cost of his passage out.

For rules for the intermediate examinations of Cadets studying Chinese see Appendix III.

(c). Seniority in the service and service for the purpose of pension will, when not otherwise specified, count from the date of first drawing salary, whether at half or full rates, unless a Cadet fails to pass his final examinations in language and law in the prescribed time. In the event of such failure the Cadet's seniority will, if he be still retained in the service, be deferred by the period by which his passing was overdue, but any modifying circumstances will be taken into account by the Resident-General, who will finally decide as to the seniority of each officer failing to pass his examination within the specified time. Amongst those officers whose appointments are of the same year, those who pass the final examination within the prescribed time will rank, as regards seniority, in the order in which they passed the examination for Cadetships.

(d). Should a Cadet be compelled during the time he is studying the native language, through sickness, to take leave of absence, allowance will be made for the time during which he may be so absent.

(e). As soon as the Cadet has satisfied a Board of Examiners, in one of the languages he is called upon to study, according to the fixed standards (vide Appendices IV., V. and VI.), and has passed the prescribed examination in Law, Colonial Regulations and General Orders (Appendix VII.), his salary will be increased to £300 per annum. He will then be classed as a "Passed Cadet," and will be eligible for the higher appointments of the Civil Service. Should a Passed Cadet remain for three years without obtaining a substantive appointment, his salary will be increased to £350.

7. Subject to the necessities of the service, leave of absence on half salary may be granted after a period of six years' resident service without any special grounds. It may be given before the expiration of that period in cases of serious indisposition or urgent private affairs. In the absence of special grounds, leave in such case must not exceed one sixth of the officer's resident service: on special grounds it may exceed that period by six months. In addition to the above, vacation leave on full pay may be granted, if no inconvenience or expense is caused thereby, not exceeding six weeks in any one year or three months in respect of any two years—the date of service for the purposes of leave is the date of first arrival in the State.

8. The Cadet is eligible for pension under the provisions of the Pension Regulations of the Federated Malay States.

9. A deduction of 4 per cent is made from the salaries of all Cadets as a contribution to the Widows and Orphans Pension Fund of the Federated Malay States.

10. Officers who have held, or are now holding, magisterial appointments will be permitted to present themselves for examination in law, and due consideration will be given to the claims of any such officers as may be able to produce a certificate of competency. The subjects of examination, and the books recommended for study, are those given in Appendix VII.

11. Passed Cadets will be permitted to study for a language bonus on the following conditions only :—

(a). That they have obtained the permission of Government to take up the study of such additional language for the bonus examination ;

(b). That they have shewn such proficiency in their first language as in the opinion of the Resident-General makes it likely that they will be able to obtain a thorough mastery of a second. The test of such proficiency will generally be the number of marks obtained in the final examination in the first language, and the minimum number of such marks which will qualify the student to compete for a bonus in a second language shall be such as may be fixed from time to time by the Federal Examiner with the approval of the Resident-General ;

(c). That their acquiring a knowledge of such second language will in the opinion of the Resident-General prove of real advantage in such appointments as they may be called upon to fill ;

(d). That they clearly understand that their studies are to be confined to their leisure hours and must not interfere with their official work.

12. (i). A bonus may be granted in any of the following languages :—

Chinese, any dialect	Hindustani
Malay	Arabic
Tamil	Punjabi
Siamese	Dutch

(ii). The standard for bonus final examinations shall be the same as that for the final examinations in the first language, except in the case of Chinese, for which a special standard is published in Appendix VIII.

(iii). Progress will be tested by half-yearly examinations, but it shall not be compulsory on any student for a bonus to undergo examination more than once a year.

(iv). The bonus awarded to a student who has satisfied the requirements of the standard shall be $750. Government will not undertake to supply books or to pay the salary of teachers for students for a bonus.

By Command,

RESIDENT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

APPENDIX III.

MEMORANDUM BY THE SECRETARY FOR CHINESE AFFAIRS REGARDING THE SCHEME FOR CADETS STUDYING IN CHINA.

STUDY.

1. Cadets who are sent to Canton will study Cantonese according to the scheme prescribed in Appendix IV.

Two years' study in China should be long enough.

The scheme, however, is made out for two and a half years.

Cadets should try to get through it in two years. They can, if necessary, be given another six months to finish the scheme.

They should therefore understand that they are able to go up for each six-monthly examination as soon as they are prepared to pass.

Hongkong Cadets only get two years to study Cantonese.

RESIDENCE.

2. As to residence in Canton, I think this is left to the Cadets to decide. Each Cadet will have $25 a month in lieu of quarters. There are fair hotels in Canton. Most Cadets either live in the old British Yamen, in the Canton City, or take a Chinese house by the month in the cold weather, and go to the temples on the West Hill in the hot weather. Government will pay for rough barrack furniture if a Cadet elects to live in one of the Chinese houses; such furniture shall, on leaving, be sold, and the proceeds paid to the credit of Government in the Cadet's account.

SALARY.

3. As to salary, each Cadet should draw unpassed Cadet's pay, £225 per annum.

BANKING.

4. Messrs. Deacon & Co., Agents for the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank, Canton, are authorised by the High Commissioner to allow Cadets to each draw up to $200 a month for salaries and other necessities. Each Cadet sends a monthly balance sheet to the State Auditor's Office, Kuala Lumpur, Taiping or Seremban, as the case may be, shewing details of his necessary accounts with Government.

Roughly speaking, a Chinese Cadet's education for two years costs about $3,500 to $4,000.

TEACHERS.

5. Each Cadet will be allowed a Chinese teacher, at a salary of $15 a month, to be paid for by each Cadet out of the Government advances.

It is important to get good teachers of proved ability and experience. Arrangements have been made with the Colonial Secretary, Hongkong, to get teachers for the Cadets.

EXAMINATION.

6. Arrangements have been made by the Governor of the Straits Settlements to request the Hongkong Government to allow the Hongkong Board of Examiners to examine the Cadets. Cadets should write to the Colonial Secretary, Hongkong, directly they are prepared to pass any of the periodical examinations. The final examination is also held by the Hongkong Board of Examiners.

MEDICAL ATTENDANCE.

7. The Government authorises each Cadet to contract with the Chief Medical Officer of the port for medical treatment and medicine. This is the custom in the case of Europeans residing in the Chinese southern ports. The medical fee usually charged is about $25 a quarter.

OFFICIAL SUPERVISION.

8. His Britannic Majesty's Consul-General, Canton, is informed by the High Commissioner when Cadets are going to study Cantonese, and is invited to render them any assistance in his power. All Cadets are clearly to understand that they are to defer to the Consul-General's wishes in any matter in which he is interested in anything that they do, and that they are to appeal to him for advice and assistance if they should find themselves in any difficulty.

TRANSPORT TO CHINA.

9. Transport from the Federated Malay States to Canton, and back, twenty-four months later, is arranged as follows:—

Before leaving the Federated Malay States each Cadet is given one month's pay, plus exchange compensation, together with an advance of $100, to pay first-class passage to Hongkong, hotel bills in Hongkong, passage to Canton, and miscellaneous charges for boat hire and portorage. No personal allowances are granted.

These advances are to be accounted for by each Cadet in his first monthly statement of accounts with Government, to be directed to the State Auditor of the State to which the Cadet is originally attached.

Each Cadet should keep a monthly account with Government, shewing all receipts and expenditure, which he must send every month to the State Auditor of the State to which the Cadet is originally attached (See paragraph 4).

On returning from China at the expiry of their term of study, the Cadets write to their respective Residents, asking them to request the Resident-General to ask the High Commissioner to authorise the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank to advance each of them $100 for their return passage.

BOOKS.

10. Government allow Cadets to buy such books as are wanted in Hongkong. An account of the books should be kept by the Secretary to the Resident or the Resident in each State, and they should be understood to be Government property, and must be given back to Government after the Chinese course is over. The "Documentary Series" should be bought from the Government Printer, Singapore. It cannot be got in China. It is not necessary for Government to buy the "General" books mentioned in the scheme. They can be easily borrowed or read in libraries.

CLIMATE.

11. The Cadets will, of course, understand that they will require winter clothing. Roughly, it is cold (average 50° to 60° F.) from November to March, wet from April to June, and muggy and hot from June to the end of August. September and October may be hot or cool.

Coal for Cadets is paid for by Government in the winter months.

SELANGOR, MALAY PENINSULA,
8th August, 1901.

Secretary for Chinese Affairs,
Federated Malay States.

NOTE.

With reference to such parts of the above schemes as apply to the characters, the student must clearly understand that the only real test of knowledge of the characters is ability to write them, and that the Board of Examiners can accept no other test. It is only in the case of very rare characters that are not in common use that mere ability to recognise, name and explain them will be held sufficient. For this reason the student is strongly recommended to practise writing Chinese, and to consider no character learnt till he is able to reproduce it at will.

2. Should any difficulty arise in procuring any books required for study in the above schemes, the Secretary for Chinese Affairs is empowered to dispense with them or to substitute others in their place.

CHINESE SECRETARIAT,

IPOH, 6th January, 1902.

W. COWAN,

Protector of Chinese, Perak.

THE INSTITUTE FOR MEDICAL RESEARCH,
FEDERATED MALAY STATES,

Kuala Lumpur, 15th February, 1902.

No. 22/02.

SIR,

I have the honour to submit to you a Report on the Institute for Medical Research for the past second year of its existence.

2. The work of organisation is practically finished. It has taken longer than it ought to have from causes that are apparently natural. Further, it has diverted me from and often-times threatened to wholly absorb time that I should have been able to devote to research. For the future, however, I and my successors may give our best energy to the proper work of such a department as this.

3. About the first of last April the main building was free of workmen and has since then been furnished and more fully equipped. It is now ready for several workers in general pathology, bacteriology or medical chemistry.

4. Unfortunately, the autopsy room is still unfinished. The troublesome portion is the refrigerating apparatus. The delays and mistakes in this matter have been put before you and I need not more than to refer to it. I have a hope that it will be in working order before the end of the present month. It is only fair to say that since July last the Public Works Department has handsomely tried to get the apparatus in order. I am especially obliged to the Factory Engineer, who has, by personal supervision, done much to hasten matters.

5. It is to be regretted that the trained European assistants applied for in January, 1901 (Misc. 80/01), and approved of by the Secretary of State for Colonies in August last (H.C. 4849/01), have not yet been engaged. Until they arrive it will be impossible for the Institute to be as helpful to the general medical service as it ought to be.

6. I still hope that independent workers will take advantage of the Institute when it becomes better known. Your circular letter No. 3135/01 calling attention to the Institute has been widely circulated and promises good results. The Pasteur Institute of Saigon has already detailed a member of its staff (Dr. Carogean) to study veterinary pathology here, and during his observations in the Federated Malay States he made the Institute his head-quarters.

7. A considerable number of observations have been made during the past year, chiefly on beri-beri and malaria. An advance copy of the first number of the Archives of the Institute has been submitted to you, containing my Report on the Malarial Fevers of the Federation and Colony, with papers bearing on the same subject by Drs. Travers, Connolly, Watson and Middleton. A similar paper on the Etiology of Beri-beri is in course of preparation. Several papers on beri-beri and other subjects issued from the Institute and published in home medical journals have also been placed before you. So that in spite of the time absorbed by the organisation of the Institute its proper work has not been neglected.

I have, etc.,

TAIPING, 24th March, 1902.

H. C. BARNARD,
Acting Resident Engineer for Railways.

REPORT ON THE TRIGONOMETRICAL AND GENERAL SURVEY DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1901.

GENERAL.

In Perak the Bernam Base Line was measured, one party was engaged on river and coast surveys and another on the demarcation of the Perak-Reman boundary; the major triangulation of Selangor was completed; the major triangulation of Negri Sembilan was proceeded with.

PERAK.

Bernam Base Line.—The measurement of the Bernam Base Line, on which the major triangulation of Perak is closed and on which the distances in Selangor and Negri Sembilan will depend, was carried out during March and April. The line is a little over two miles long and is divided into two sections of nearly equal length. In all seven measurements of each section were made and the final result for the distance between North Base and South Base is 11,001 feet 0·62 inches. The length between the same points, computed from the Larut Base through the triangulation, is 11,001 feet 2·53 inches, giving a difference of 1·91 inches only. The theoretical probable error of the length of the Bernam Base as computed from the Larut Base due to the triangulation is $\pm 3\cdot17$ inches, so that the above result may be regarded as very satisfactory.

On completion of this measurement a check latitude and azimuth were observed from Bukit Asa, with the following results:—

Latitude of Asa as observed	...	...	...	N. 3	40	49·24
Same as computed from observed latitude of Scott's hill	...	...	...	„ 3	40	49·49
Difference						0·25
And for the Azimuth:
True Bearing of Mid-Base from Asa as observed	...	...	...	55	45	40·22
Same as computed from the True Bearing observed at Scott's hill	...	...	...	55	45	29·28
Difference						10·94

These results may also be regarded as satisfactory.

Coast and River Surveys.—The Dedap river was surveyed from Kampong Matang Kuntong to its source, a distance of about 16 miles, the Perak river estuary was triangulated for about six miles, and the coast survey completed to the Dindings boundary, a distance of about 19 miles. In addition about 17 miles of roads and paths were surveyed between S'tiawan and Kuala Perak; observations were taken from Bukit Ungku Busuk, Sigari, Batu Tiga, and from Tanjong Bras Basah, Denison light-house and Pulau Katak light-house in connection with this work.

Demarcation of Perak-Reman Boundary.—The trig: station on Gunong Bintang was restored and about $5\frac{1}{2}$ miles of the line from Bintang to Kendrong were demarcated, 15 permanent marks being established in this distance. Towards the end of the year the place where this boundary cuts the Rui river at Toping Ford was decided upon by Commissioners appointed by the Governments of Siam and Perak and was marked by a masonry pillar on each bank. A pillar was also erected on the path from Grit to Krunei, where it is cut by the line from Gunong Kendrong to Toping Ford.

Re-surveys.—About 12 miles of re-surveys were carried out by Mr. Jayesuria and about 26 miles by Mr. Chapman.

Stations Repaired.—The stations on Gunong Inas, Gunong Bujang Melakak, Gunong Semantggol, Gunong Bubu and Bukit Panchore were repaired.

SELANGOR.

The last two stations of the major triangulation, Gunong Ulu Kali and Gunong Besar, were observed from, and Bukit Lagong was visited to revise a few angles. A mean tide datum was established at Pulau Angsa. Secondary points were established on Bukit Bujang (Kuala Kubu), at Rasa and at Serendah, but owing to the Surveyor falling sick and there being no one to replace him the fixation of these was not completed.

NEGERI SEMBILAN.

The following new sites were cleared and beacons erected on them, Bukit Palong, Jeram Padang, Senorong and Bras; a beacon was erected on the Malacca Survey Department's old site on Mount Ophir and the beacon erected on Bukit Bemban by Mr. Rochfort was removed to Bukit Batang Melakak as being a more suitable site; the following points were being cleared at the end of the year, Bukit Buaian, Bantan and Besar. The erection of the beacons on these will complete the scheme of the major triangulation for this State, but I expect it will take another year before all the observations are made from the sites selected. Observations were taken from Mount Ophir, Kuala Pilah, Batang Melakak and Senaling.

Full details of the field work will be found in the Appendix, from which the following abstract of instrumental readings is made:—

OFFICE WORK.

Mr. F. A. Sugden, Chief Draftsman newly appointed, reported his arrival on the 17th June, and the personnel of the subordinate staff was as follows:—First Draftsman, Mr. W. Van Dort; Second Draftsman, Mr. E. de Witt; First Computer, Mr. V. Namasivayam; Second Computer, Mr. M. Supramaniam; Tracer, Mr. Chang Yiew Chong; Apprentice, Mr. C. Tharmalingam.

There were two vacancies as Draftsmen and one as Computer, which were not filled up owing to insufficiency of work, because of the field staff being mostly employed on major triangulation; but Messrs. G. Jayesuria and F. dos Remedios, Field Apprentices, were employed in the office most of the year.

The new four mile map of Perak was completed and sent in July to the Ordnance Survey Office, Southampton, for re-production. A tracing of it has been retained, from which about 40 sun prints in black and white have been made, coloured and issued to other Departments and the public. The major triangulation of Selangor was reduced by the method of Least Squares as well as the heights of the several points composing it. It was divided into two figures, one called the Prabong Figure, comprising Asa, Tungal, Liang, Prabong, Semangko, Bunga Buah, Lagong and Kuala Selangor Fort trigonometrical stations, required 34 corrections to be determined by 24 equations, and the average correction to an observed bearing found was 1.50 seconds; the other figure, called the Selangor Figure, comprising Kuala Selangor, Tungal, Bunga Buah, Besar, Lagong, Sungei Besi, Tungal, North Hummock, Parcellar and Pulau Angsa trigonometrical stations, required 46 corrections to be determined by 30 equations, and the average correction to an observed bearing found was 1.23 seconds. Special figures were also computed for the fixation of Gunong Ulu Kali, Bukit Unyong, Bukit Lipat Kajang (Klang), Bukit Jeram, Bukit Rantau Panjang and Railway Hill, Kuala Lumpur (also called Observation Point). The average correction to a difference of height in the Prabong Figure was 2.3 feet and in the Selangor Figure was 2.4 feet. The closure of the trigonometrically determined heights on the mean tide datum on Pulau Angsa was very good, the height of the mark there as found from the tidal observations at Pulau Angsa differing by only half a foot from the height computed through the triangulation from the tidal datum established at Port Weld. This may be accidental, as the probable error of the method must be considerably greater than half a foot.

METEOROLOGICAL.

Meteorological observations were recorded continuously throughout the year at Taiping, and the monthly return published in the Gazette. Temperature observations were also made at nearly all the hill stations visited for triangulation purposes. A synopsis of the former for the year 1901 and also for the eight years, 1894 to 1901, with comparative diagrams of rainfall and temperature, are given in the Appendix. The total rainfall registered at the Survey

Office for the year 1901 was 141 inches, being 25·97 inches less than the average of the past eight years. The greatest fall in one day was 4·56 inches on the 14th November. The maximum recorded temperature was 97·3° on 21st April, and the minimum recorded 70·2° on the 25th February. The mean yearly temperature was 80·7°, being 0·3° higher than the mean of the preceding eight years, and the mean daily range was 13·3° as against 12·7° of the preceding eight years.

FINANCIAL.

The provision in the printed Estimates for 1901 was $74,652. This was increased by supplementary votes to $77,720·70. The expenditure was $66,526·04 leaving a balance of $11,194·66, the saving being chiefly due to salaries of vacant appointments. The above total includes the amounts spent in the three States of Perak, Selangor and Negri Sembilan. The amounts charged to Selangor and Negri Sembilan were $12,112·54 and $16,027·94, respectively; these, however, include the charges for December, 1900, which could not be included in that year's account. I estimate these charges as $1,435·62 and $950·69, respectively, so that the amounts expended for work done in the year 1901 would work out as under:—

Perak	...	...	...	...	...	...	40,771	87
Selangor	...	...	...	...	...	...	10,676	92
Negri Sembilan	...	...	...	...	...	...	15,077	25
Total							66,526	04

It must be noted that the total cost of Purchase of Instruments is borne by Perak, the other States being only charged a percentage for use of them; also that the Steam Launch was almost entirely employed on Perak work during the year.

ALFRED E. YOUNG, A.M.I.C.E., F.R.A.S.,
Chief Surveyor, Federated Malay States.

APPENDIX A.

ON THE MEASUREMENT OF THE BERNAM BASE LINE.

This operation was carried out by Messrs. A. E. Young, F. W. Irby, F. Chapman, H. Sheaffe, M. Supramaniam, G. Jayesuria and F. dos Remedios during the months of March and April. The line is very approximately 11,000 feet long, and is divided into two nearly equal parts of 5,500 feet each by a station in the middle. The measurement was carried out by means of a steel tape, 500 feet long, all in one piece, so that there were 11 shifts of the tape in each section. The tape was supported at every 50 feet at a height of about 3 feet from the ground and was stretched by a tension of about 20 lbs. It was first necessary to stake out the line with stout merbau stakes, about 4 inches square in section, at every 500 feet. On the tops of these stakes were nailed small tables of 1 inch meranti, about 8 inches long, in the direction of the line, and 4 inches wide. These were covered with sheet zinc firmly tacked down, on which the centre line of the base was scribed with a steel point. Between each pair of 500 feet stakes were then ranged the 50 feet supporting stakes made of meranti, about 3 inches by 1 inch in section and cut of the requisite length. French nails, about 3 inches long, on which to support the tape, were driven in these stakes horizontally in the line of slope from table to table. At the same time the angles of slope were observed with the vertical arc of the ranging theodolite in order to calculate the necessary corrections. About 3 feet to the rear of every 500 feet stake was driven another stake on which was clamped the holder of the back end of the tape, which had an adjustment in the direction of the line by means of a screw. The forward end of the tape was held beyond the forward stake by a tape stretcher with spring balance, similar to those used in the United States by the Coast and Geodetic Survey, and which was made in Washington D. C. for this office under the direction of the Superintendent of that Survey. The temperature of the tape was measured by 5 thermometers hung upon it, in steel suspenders coiled out of the same kind of steel as the tape itself, at 50, 150, 250, 350 and 450 feet of its length.

The tape itself of blackened steel, 0.2505 inch wide by 0.0157 inch, thick, weighing 1.272 lbs. per 100 feet, was obtained from Messrs. J. Chesterman & Co. of Sheffield. It was about 503 feet long altogether and was fitted with a brass loop at each end. It was marked off in this Office at each 100 feet by a fine scratch made with a glass-cutter's diamond, from comparison with the 100 feet steel standard No. 5,111 made for this office by Chesterman and verified through the kindness of the Superintendent by the United States Bureau of Weights and Measures. The length of this standard, as found in America, differs by 0.023 inch from the length as stated by Chesterman, but I have accepted the American result as most likely to be correct. In order to find the exact length of the marks scribed on the 500 feet tape a 100 feet comparator was made at Tanjong Malim to which they were both referred, the differences of each from the comparator being measured by micrometer microscopes reading to 1/10,000 inch. This comparator consisted of two gas pipes, 12 feet long by 2 inches diameter, driven about 10 feet into the ground, about 100 feet apart and set firmly in cement concrete. Gun metal plugs were screwed into the upper ends of these pipes and on these fine lines were scribed the difference between these lines and the 100 feet marks on each tape being measured in turn by the micrometers previously mentioned. Stakes were driven 5 feet apart between these pipes and were furnished with supporting nails driven horizontally as in the base measurement. The same apparatus served to determine the co-efficients of expansion for temperature of each of the tapes and also for some experiments to determine the form of the curve assumed by the tape when suspended at long intervals instead of being laid flat. It will be noted that the 500 feet tape was compared with the standard when both were laid flat (or as a matter of fact supported at 5 feet intervals) whereas in the actual measurement the 500 feet tape was supported at every 50 feet only. Owing to the curved form of the tape between these 50 feet intervals the length between its terminals would of course be less than if it were all laid flat. Knowing the tension, the weight of the tape and the approximate distance between the supports it is possible to calculate this correction from theoretical considerations, but as an extra precaution an experiment was made to measure the correction directly by driving stakes at every 5 feet, in one 500 feet length, supporting the tape on them and marking the position of the 500 feet end, then hanging it on the 50 feet supports marking the position of the end and measuring the difference in the positions. The results given by calculation and actual measurement were practically identical, being in this case 0.228 inch and 0.212 inch, respectively.

The operation of the measurement was carried out as follows. The tape was hooked to the rear holder and laid out over the 50 feet support nails, the 0 feet mark being set approximately in coincidence with the mark on the rear marking stake. The tension was then applied at the forward strainer, and when the balance registered 20 lbs. the forward observer gave one blast on a whistle; the five thermometer observers then lifted the tape slightly and let it fall on the nails to eliminate any stoppage through friction and then hung on their thermometers. When the vibrations of the tape had ceased the rear observer set the 0 feet mark on the tape accurately in coincidence with the line on the rear marking stake and when correct gave two blasts on his whistle. The five temperature observers then read the thermometers and the forward observer, with a set square and steel scribe, drew a line on the zinc plate of forward marking stake exactly in line with the 500 feet mark on the tape and then gave two blasts on his whistle, whereupon the thermometers were lifted off, the tension relieved at forward end, the tape detached at rear end and the whole apparatus carried forward. The record was kept in ink by one of the thermometer observers and at the end of each section he called up and copied in his record book the thermometer readings of the other four. After the first measurement he also noted at each shift the difference of the new forward mark from that of the preceding measurement as a check.

No artificial means were taken to shelter the tape from the direct rays of the sun during measurement. The section North Base to Mid-Base is sheltered nearly the whole distance by high forest, and as the measurements were usually made very early in the morning or late in the afternoon the sun's rays had no chance of reaching the tape. The other section, Mid-Base to South Base, passes mostly through open padi lands and is not so well sheltered, but for this reason the measurements were made exceptionally early or late. However the agreement of the several measures is not so good in this section and one measure made when the sun was rather high was rejected altogether. The effect of the sun's direct rays is that the tape absorbs heat much more rapidly than the thermometers, so that with a rising temperature the observed temperature is smaller and with a falling temperature higher than the actual temperature of the tape.

In reducing the several measurements each was weighted according to the weight of the mean observed temperature during the measurement, so that the measurements made during a steady temperature affect the result more than those made during a variable temperature.

The following table gives the results of the several measurements and reductions :—

The precision of the final result has been estimated by computing the theoretical "mean square errors" of the weighted means. The mean square error of the measurement, due to manipulation of the tape, but inclusive of the mean square error of its co-efficient of expansion, is for the section North Base to Mid-Base $\pm 0·035$ inches, and for the section Mid-Base to South Base $\pm 0·083$ inches. The result will, however, still be vitiated by the error of comparison of the 500 feet tape with the 100 feet tape, the error in the co-efficient of expansion of the latter, the error of the comparison of the 100 feet tape with the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey standard 100 feet tape, and finally with the error of comparison of the latter with the absolute standard, i.e., the Imperial Yard. I have no means of ascertaining the last two quantities, but I have estimated the mean square error of the comparison of the 500 feet tape with the 100 feet tape inclusive of the latter's co-efficient of expansion. The result gives for the mean square error of the section North Base to Mid-Base $\pm 0·136$ inches, Mid-Base to South Base $\pm 0·155$ inches, thus North to South Base $\pm 0·207$ inches. The probable error is obtained by multiplying the mean square error by 0·6745, which gives $\pm 0·14$ inches for that quantity. This means that it is an even chance whether the actual error, excluding of course sources of error which have not been estimated, differs from the weighted mean by more or less than $\pm 0·14$ inches. By far the greatest part of the absolute error of the measurement will, however, be due to the probable error of the United States 100 feet standard, which from what I have seen of the differences between such standards I should not be surprised to find as much $\pm 0·01$ inches or more. This would give an additional uncertainty of $\pm 1·1$ inches in the whole base line. Taking all these circumstances into consideration I should say that the measurement is correct to within ± 1.5 inches in the whole distance, or say $\pm \frac{3}{4}$ ths of an inch per mile.

APPENDIX B.

OBSERVATION AND ASTRONOMICAL LATITUDE AND AZIMUTH AT BUKIT ASA.

The observation of the latitude and azimuth at Bukit Asa was carried out by Messrs. A. E. Young and H. Sheaffe. The latitude was observed by what is known as Talcott's Method. The instrument used was the 8 inch Micrometer Microscope Theodolite No. 1, which had been specially fitted with a micrometer eye-piece workable both in altitude and azimuth and with the Talcott level, so that it could be used as a zenith telescope. The telescope being only 14 inches in focal length and the eye-piece micrometer screw being rather coarse in pitch, (1 revolution = 149.5 seconds), it cannot be expected that the results would approach in precision those by a zenith telescope proper. The instrument was mounted on a masonry pillar specially built over the centre mark for the purpose. An observing list of about 75 pairs of stars, culminating at a zenith distance of not more than 15 degrees, was compiled from the B.A.C. catalogue of 1850. The weather was unfavourable for astronomical work, there being only four nights on which observations could be made during the visit, which lasted from the 22nd April till 6th May. Forty-four different stars were observed for latitude comprising 35 pairs. The places of all of the 44 stars, except 6, were subsequently found in and re-computed from later catalogues than the B.A.C.

The final result of the observations gives as the latitude of Bukit Asa N. $3^{\circ} 40' 49.24'' \pm 0.53''$. The probable error is rather high, but the result differs by only $0.25''$ from the value obtained by computation through the triangulation from the latitude of Scott's Hill observed in 1894.

For the azimuth a referring lamp was set up in the compound of the Survey house in Tanjong Malim and this was connected with the triangulation by observing the angle between it and Mid-Base. The method was to observe the Sun and Stars near elongation, noting the time. Observations were made on two days only, the 3rd and 5th May. The final result depends on 13 bodies east of meridian and 7 bodies west. Of these 4 are on the Sun east and 4 west and 6 on Polaris east, the rest on 3 stars east and 3 stars west. It is to be regretted that more observations were not made west of meridian, but I did not consider that a longer stay was justifiable for this purpose. The mean of all gives as the azimuth of the referring mark $83^{\circ} 44' 47.64'' \pm 0.82''$. The probable error is less than the average figural correction to a bearing of our major triangulation, so that the result may be regarded as good enough. When transferred to the azimuth of Mid-Base the result differs by $10.94''$ from the azimuth as deduced through the triangulation from the azimuth observed at Scott's Hill in 1894. When it is remembered that in transferring a bearing from Scott's Hill to Bukit Asa there are nine stations to pass through with an average angular error of $1.3''$ each, this result may also be considered as satisfactory.

EXTRACT FROM THE AGRICULTURAL BULLETIN OF THE STRAITS AND FEDERATED MALAY STATES, VOL. 1, NO. 4.

THE SCIENTIFIC AND TECHNICAL DEPARTMENTS OF THE IMPERIAL INSTITUTE.

His Excellency the Governor has received a despatch from the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Colonies calling attention to the advantages offered by the Imperial Institute to Merchants, Planters and others, who may wish to have samples submitted to scientific experts for opinion as to their commercial value, etc. The following extracts from a Memorandum published by the authorities of the Imperial Institute will give an idea of the work undertaken and carried on there:—

“The Scientific and Technical Department of the Institute has been established to acquire “information by special enquiries and by experimental research, technical trials and commercial valuation regarding new or little known natural or manufactured products of the “various Colonies and Dependencies of the British Empire and of Foreign Countries, and “also regarding known products procurable from new sources, and local products of manufacture which it is desired to export. This work is carried out with a view to the creation “of new openings in trade, or the promotion of industrial development.”

2. In an extensive and well equipped series of research laboratories, a numerous staff of skilled chemists, under the direction of Professor Wyndham R. Dunstan, M.A., F.R.S., carry out the investigation of the chemical constitution and properties of new dye-stuffs, tanning materials, seeds and food-stuffs, oils, gums and resins, fibres, timbers, medicinal plants and products, with a view of their commercial utilization. Whenever necessary these materials are submitted to special scientific experts, by whom they are made the subject of particular investigation or practical tests. Reports are also obtained from technical or trade experts in regard to the probable commercial or industrial value of any such products, while full information is collected from official or other trustworthy sources regarding the probable extent and cost of available supplies.

Reports on the results of enquiries or experimental investigations are supplied, as a rule, without charge, but should special expenses be incurred in connection with any such reports, or with the commercial value of particular materials or manufactured products, which the Council do not consider themselves warranted in meeting, a statement of such outlays will be furnished, for repayment, when the reports are supplied. Should an investigation or report of exceptional character be asked for by a Government Department, an estimate of the attendant expenses will be submitted, with a view to ascertain whether authority for such expenditure will be given.

To assist Merchants, Planters and others who may wish to avail themselves of the advantages offered as set forth above, the Government have appointed Mr. C. Curtis, F.L.S., Botanic Gardens, Penang, to act as Agent: to whom all enquiries should be made, and all materials requiring scientific or technical examination, or commercial valuation should be submitted for forwarding to the Imperial Institute.

H. C. BARNARD,
Acting Resident Engineer for Railways.

TAIPING, 24th March, 1902.

REPORT BY THE STATE SURGEON, NEGRI SEMBILAN, ON RABIES OF INDEFINITE CHARACTER AMONG DOGS.

M.D. 22/02.

OFFICE OF STATE SURGEON,
Negri Sembilan, 24th February, 1902.

SIR,—

I have the honour to make a communication to you, upon the subject of rabies among dogs, at once disquieting and important.

2. On the 24th of January last, a dog belonging to a visitor at Port Dickson, being at large, snapped at and bit a child and several (at least six) dogs, a cat and some goats. The owner, with commendable promptitude, at once sent the dog up to me for observation, with an account of the occurrence and of its past history and recent condition. It appeared that the animal had always been of an aggressive disposition towards natives, and that only a month or so before it had attacked and bitten a Tamil at Kuala Lumpur. The owner had observed it to be out of condition, and to be without appetite for food, for some days previously, and had given it an aperient. On the 21st it had been bitten on the nose by a snake, which produced a swelling and was supposedly held accountable for any extra irritability shown by the animal. The owner, a close observer and lover of animals, and a person whose word is absolutely to be relied upon, stated that he had noticed no symptoms of mental change, no such alteration of disposition, or demeanour, as is usually associated with rabies, with the nature of which in these animals he is well acquainted, and the presence of which would at once have aroused his suspicions.

3. When I saw the dog, on the 25th, at midday, all that could be said of it was that it appeared dull of demeanour and poor in condition, it was perfectly tractable and obedient, and responded, though without great alacrity, to address; it allowed itself to be handled by me without the least sign of irritability, and seemed not inappreciative of a caress. There was no excess of saliva about the mouth, no appearance of weakness, or of control over movement. A lady, the wife of the owner, had brought it up with her, on a short chain, in the train from Port Dickson. This lady could, also, perceive nothing more wrong with the animal than a little physical indisposition.

4. So little did it appear to me likely that this animal could then be rabid, that I handled it with as little apprehension as its owners had done. It was put into a 'rikisha and sent up to the hospital, to be kept under observation. In its behaviour under these circumstances was to have been noted possibly the only sign of any mental change. For whereas it showed actually not the slightest objection to parting from its mistress, being handled by a stranger and taken away by a Chinese cooly in a conveyance, it would ordinarily, so the lady assured me, have shown the strongest aversion from all these proceedings.

5. At the hospital it was tied up; its temperature was found to be a little febrile; its appetite was poor; but it was not particularly thirsty; it showed no difficulty in swallowing; in its blood I found a peculiar filiform hæmatozoon. A purge, with santonine, was given and acted, but no worms were expelled. No more definite signs of any kind supervened, except that it entirely refused its food on the night of the 26th. It died early on the morning of the 27th. An examination of the body revealed nothing definite. I believed it to have died of some undescribed malady, connected possibly with the parasite seen in its blood.

6. As there was no certainty about the matter, however, I inoculated a rabbit, subdurally, with a portion of the medulla, and placed another portion of the same tissue in a tube in sterilised glycerine, and sent these, together with the bitten child, in the care of its father, to Saigon, so that no time should be lost in securing for the boy antirabic treatment, if the result of the rabbit-inoculations, made here or in Saigon, should show the dog to have been, after all, really rabid.

7. On the 19th inst. I received a reply to my communication to the Director of the Pasteur Institute at Saigon, of which the following is a translation :—

"INSTITUT PASTEUR DE SAIGON, 12th February, 1902.

"DEAR SIR AND COLLEAGUE,—

"In reply to your letter of the 27th January last, I have the honour to acquaint you that the young Perera is to undergo antirabic treatment, beginning now. The signs given by the autopsy, which you were good enough to communicate to me, leave no distinct impression as to whether the dog was mad; but the rabbit, which you inoculated on the 27th January, died here, on the evening of the 9th February, of rabies, and those I inoculated with the spinal marrow of the dog which bit young Perera are showing, to-day, indubitable signs of paralytic rabies. If other persons were bitten by the same animal they should be sent up here as soon as possible for treatment.

"I am extremely obliged to you for the rabbit, and for the cord, you were so good as to send me, which made it possible to determine what course to pursue. . . .

". . . etc., . . . (Sd.) METIN,

"Director of the Institut Pasteur."

8. By the efforts of the District Officer, Mr. Ellerton, nine other dogs bitten by the first were secured and sent up to me to be kept under observation. Of these, one, of a suspiciously irritable disposition, but showing no certain signs, being improperly secured, got loose on the 29th, but was waylaid and despatched with a stick. A second died on the 11th February. I had carefully watched this animal, as it was clearly out of sorts for the week preceding its death. Its appetite was poor, it was wasting daily, and although tractable when kindly approached by me, it was certainly prone to snap at others, and easily excited into fury if a stick were brought near it, or its chain were shaken. It was restless, but dull; and although readily obedient, and grateful for attention, preferred to be let alone. Once the native attendant thought that there was alteration in the tone of his bark, but I was unable to perceive this. There were no signs more definite than these noted in this animal.

It had a small sore, which got foul for a time, and, which I had supposed, enough to render it ill and irritable. A post-mortem revealed nothing. The brain was examined, and portions preserved, but the appearances to be found in this tissue, even in definite cases of rabies, are far from pathognomonic. I had no rabbits to spare for experiment.

9. A third dog, of those bitten, died on the 20th February. Signs of illness in this last were even less definite than in the other two. In fact nothing was noticed to be wrong with it until just before its death, when, the native attendant said, it seemed to be struggling for breath, and supposed it to have become choked by a bone, as it had just had a meal. I made a post-mortem examination in this case also, but without examining the brain, and found nothing.

The remainder of the bitten dogs have been destroyed.

10. The conclusions to be drawn from these observations are two, and I deem them so important that I would ask Government to give them the widest possible publication:—

- (1) Dogs may have true rabies, and yet exhibit no definite signs of illness by which the malady can be certainly diagnosed.
- (2) Every dog, in which any, even the slightest, signs of indisposition occur, should be at once isolated as suspect, to be kept under observation until it either dies or recovers. Where the dog is not valued, and there is no reason to suppose it may have bitten other dogs or persons, it would be better to destroy it at once.

11. Of the classical signs of rabies in the dog, it may be remembered, the most constant perhaps are: (a) alteration of habit, or demeanour; (b) irritability of temper—snappishness. But these may not be noticed. Wasting, and loss of appetite, continuing for some time, without other more definite symptoms, and not altered by treatment, were practically the only signs shown in common by three of the dogs above referred to, all of which, there need be little doubt, had rabies.

12. The usual order has been taken by the Police with regard to the dogs at large at Port Dickson. I am of opinion that a more effectual procedure for stamping out rabies generally would be the adoption of a muzzling order. The enforcement of the muzzle should be made perennial; it should be compulsorily worn by every dog not confined, or tied by a chain, during the daytime. Every animal found at large without such a muzzle, or not held by some person on a chain, should be shot.

13. The present order regarding importation of dogs would then be unnecessary. It is, at present, constantly evaded. In the case of the dog which was the cause of the present report, the visitor who introduced it came from Selangor, where, it is to be presumed, the animal was infected. Whether the other dogs, which appear to have died of rabies at the hospital, were infected by this one is not certain. The first, destroyed as suspect, or doubtful, of course could not have been so. The second, dying 18 days after being bitten, was probably, and the third, 27 days after, most probably infected by the Selangor dog. Now, in this case, a certificate that the district from which the visitor came had been free of rabies for the preceding six months, would have been of illusory value. The fact is that no one can be in a position to know whether rabies does or does not exist in a district at any time, or whether any—even his own—dog has been exposed to infection.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

W. L. BRADDON,

State Surgeon, Negri Sembilan.

I am directed to enclose for your information copy of a letter addressed by the Resident-General to the High Commissioner (No. 1307/02, dated the 8th instant) in pursuance of the resolution passed at the meeting of Residents held on the 28th January, 1902. I am to inform you that His Excellency the High Commissioner has expressed his concurrence with the resolution in question, and to request that you will convey the necessary instructions to the Chairmen of the various Sanitary Boards in your State.

2. The amendment of the Sanitary Board Enactments and By-laws is receiving attention and the draft amendment of the "Pedlars Enactment" has been submitted to you for report under separate cover.

3. The Government Printer has been instructed to print copies of this correspondence for publication as a Supplement of the Government Gazette of your State.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

D. H. WISE,

Secretary to Resident-General, F.M.S.

THE BRITISH RESIDENTS,

PERAK, SELANGOR, NEGRI SEMBILAN AND PAHANG.

THE RESIDENT-GENERAL, F.M.S., TO HIS EXCELLENCY THE HIGH COMMISSIONER, F.M.S.

RESIDENT-GENERAL'S OFFICE,

No. R-G. 1307/02.

8th March, 1902.

SUBJECT:

FREE MARKETS.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESIDENTS' CONFERENCE.

SIR,—

I have the honour to reply to Your Excellency's letter No. R.-G. 1109 of 17th June, 1901, and former correspondence on the subject of Free Markets.

2. Pages 1 and 2 of the enclosed printed paper "Free Markets" contain the report from Perak asked for in paragraph 3 to Your Excellency's letter.

3. The matter was brought up before a Conference of Residents on the 28th January, and Mr. D. G. Campbell, who has had considerable experience as Chairman of the Kuala Lumpur Sanitary Board, was in attendance, and was subjected to a number of enquiries.

4. The Conference resolved "That there is no objection to leasing any public market provided that free competition be encouraged outside market limits; that the sale of food-stuffs be not confined to markets, but that, for sanitary reasons, it should be provided that fresh beef, mutton and pork shall not be sold outside markets, except in duly licensed places, or by duly licensed hawkers; that hawkers dealing only in food-stuffs other than fresh beef, mutton and pork be not required to obtain licenses under the Pedlars' Enactment."

5. In subsequently considering Sanitary Board By-laws, the Conference decided that market limits should be confined to a distance of fifty yards from the market building.

6. It was also decided that no fee should be charged for licenses to be issued by the Sanitary Boards for places for the sale of fresh beef, mutton and pork outside limits or for the licenses of the hawkers referred to above.

7. The results of these resolutions, if they are acted upon by the authorities in a liberal and correct spirit, will be that though market buildings can be rented out there will be no monopoly of the sale of food-stuffs, as their sale will not be confined to market limits. The sale of food-stuffs outside markets and the hawking of food-stuffs should be encouraged. Hitherto it appears to have been discouraged.

8. The general opinion of the Conference was that in the present state of the financial position there should be no semblance of taxing food for revenue purposes, and that the large revenues formerly accruing to Government from the protected monopoly of the sale of food in townships are no longer required or justified. Not only did the Government or its Sanitary Boards receive a large revenue from this source, but the farmer also made his profit in addition.

9. Owing to various causes, such as combination among the purveyors of some of the chief articles of consumption and to increasing cost of labour and of articles of consumption and of living generally* in this part of the world, the increase in population, and the artificial value of the rupee owing to the action taken by the Government of India, it is not to be expected that the recommendation of the Conference will have the effect of very materially reducing the price of food-stuffs, and it will take some time before the effects of the old monopoly system are obliterated, and a healthy competition in the sale of food-stuffs be created.

The principle, however, that food-stuffs should not be taxed for revenue purposes, but that their sale should be regulated for sanitary reasons, appears to me to be sound, and I therefore ask Your Excellency's approval of the resolution of the Conference in this matter.

I have, etc.,

W. H. TREACHER.

EXPERIMENTAL PLANTATIONS.

REPORT FOR 1901.

KUALA LUMPUR, 15th February, 1902.

SIR,—

I have the honour to forward my report in connection with the Experimental Plantations for the year 1901.

2. The selection of a suitable site for the Experimental Plantations has proved to be a somewhat difficult matter, there being many questions to be taken into consideration which do not affect the average planter. Above all, it was considered essential that these plantations should be situated as centrally as possible, and the Klang district was fixed upon as being, perhaps, the chief agricultural district in the States, and easily accessible from any part of the Peninsula, being in touch with the railway and in close proximity to Port Swettenham. Unfortunately, most of the land in this district has been alienated. A block of land near the Padang Jawah station—the only available land near the railway which was likely to meet the requirements—was inspected, but after a thorough examination was deemed unsuitable. Selection of site.

3. I desire here to record my thanks to the Chairman of the United Planters' Association (E. V. Carey, Esq.), the Chairman of the Selangor Planters' Association (W. W. Bailey, Esq.), and other members of these Associations, for the kind assistance rendered in the exploration of this land. Acknowledgment of assistance afforded.

4. On behalf of the Selangor Rubber Syndicate, Mr. Bailey very kindly offered to allow Government to resume 200 acres of their estate subject to the approval of his Directors. This offer was accepted, Government agreeing to pay the sum of $500 as compensation for survey fees and other expenses incurred.

5. The site selected is part of portion G. 2,357. It is situated about midway between Kuala Lumpur and Klang, being close to the Batu Tiga station. It has a railway frontage of about three-quarters of a mile, which forms the northern boundary, the eastern and south-eastern boundaries being the Damansara river. Situation of proposed site.

6. The transfer of the land has taken a considerable time, a circumstance apparently unavoidable, but, nevertheless regrettable, as the work has been seriously handicapped in consequence. In the meantime, some nurseries have been commenced on Government land close by, where it will be possible to work up a considerable stock of plants ready for planting as soon as the proposed site becomes available. For experimental purposes, it would have been advantageous to have procured a site which comprised, to some extent, the various character of soils in use on the different estates. These, however, differ so widely that it was impossible to represent them on one small block of land. The ground on the site selected is chiefly undulating, the soil being somewhat heavy and rather deficient in organic matter. There are suitable sites for the erection of cooly lines and also several acres of low-lying land which I intend to utilise for the growth of "padi" (rice). Delay in transfer. Nurseries commenced. Nature of soil.

7. Experiments on the extraction and coagulation of the latex of Hevea brasiliensis have been made at S'tiawan (Perak). A report of the work carried out there was furnished, a copy of which forms the subject of appendix C. The results, so far obtained, I consider entirely justify the great interest taken in this product. Although it has not been definitely decided at what age tapping operations can profitably commence, it will be seen, from the report attached, that an average yield of $\frac{3}{4}$ lb. of dry commercial rubber was obtained from 6- to 7-year-old trees growing under somewhat unfavourable conditions, while 9-year-old trees gave an average of 2 lb. The largest amount obtained from one tree (9 years old) was 5 lb. 1½ oz. of dry marketable rubber. Experiments in the extraction of rubber.

8. One of the most notable features in connection with these experiments was that of the disparity in yield of trees of similar age and dimensions, and growing under precisely the same conditions, and apparently possessing neither specific nor varietal distinction. This fact makes it very essential that experiments—if they are to be conclusive—must be conducted on a large number of trees. It is probably accounted for by the cells, constituting the laticiferous tissue, being more intercommunicative in some trees than is the case in others. When possible, propagation should be from those trees which are known to yield freely. Disparity in yield.

9. A few trees, 3½ years old, and which had a circumferences of 32 inches at 3 ft. from the ground, were tapped on the Petaling Estate and an average yield of 6 oz. obtained. This is evidently too young, as the amount of rubber obtained was quite out of proportion to the labour entailed. It is questionable whether trees under five years of age can be tapped profitably, but experiments in this direction are difficult owing to the scarcity of trees of the requisite age. Age at which tapping might commence.

10. Other experiments are in progress and will be continued from time to time with a view to deciding any question that may arise with regard to the extraction and coagulation of latex. Other experiments.

The African rubber.

11. Among other new plants introduced lately from the Botanic Gardens, Gold Coast, was Kickxia africana, the well-known and important African rubber plant. Some seeds of this species have been distributed among the planters and some sent to the Singapore and Penang Botanic Gardens. This is the first time, I believe, that the true African rubber plant has been introduced, and, judging from the growth during the last six months, it promises to be a success.

Seeds of ornamental trees, palms, etc., were given to the Chairman of the Public Gardens Committee.

Estates visited.

12. A considerable portion of my time during the year under review has been occupied in visiting estates throughout the Native States. A thorough grasp of the state of agriculture has been gained thereby, together with the opinion of the planters on various agricultural matters.

13. A short summary of the work it is intended to carry out on the Experimental Plantations forms the subject of appendix B.

Supt., Experimental Plantations.

APPENDIX B.

13th February, 1902.

SIR,—

I have the honour to enclose for your information the following short sketch of the work it is intended to carry out in connection with the Experimental Plantations.

2. The initial work must of necessity consist of working up a collection of economic plants, for experimental purposes and for distribution, if necessary; of erecting buildings—cooly lines, stores, etc.—making roads, drains, etc. Plants of economical value will be introduced from other parts of the tropics and a collection of local economic plants will also be maintained. Initial work.

3. Attention will be directed chiefly to those plants of the greatest utility, but not exclusively, as I think it would be a mistake not to avail ourselves of the opportunity of bringing together a botanical collection, as such a collection would probably contain plants destined to become economically important. A botanical collection will be maintained.

4. Experiments as to the best method of extraction and coagulation of rubber will be continued on the older trees on the different estates, and new rubber-producing plants will be introduced and their adaptability reported upon. Attention has been drawn to the disparity in yield of the "Para" rubber, and experiments with a view to accounting for this will be made.

5. A portion of the ground will be utilised for the growth of this important product. An endeavour will be made to establish species new to this country, and the hybridisation and grafting of Coffea liberica with other species will receive special attention. Coffee.

6. A collection of the various fibre-producing plants will be maintained, samples being sent to London for valuation, and the cost of upkeep, yield per acre, and other matters regarding the cultivation thereof will be reported on from time to time. Fibres.

7. There are several acres of land on the sites selected for the Experimental Plantations suitable for the cultivation of "padi." It is my intention to use this with a view to improving the quality and yield per acre of this product by the introduction of new seed and a process of selection. I believe that in a few years much might be accomplished in this line and possibly a hardier and more robust variety, which would withstand the varying conditions of the climate, might be established, thereby considerably reducing the risk of failure. Considering the importance of rice as a staple food, and in view of the important irrigation works being carried out by Government to encourage the cultivation of this product, this question is, I think, worthy of special attention. Rice.

8. Coconuts are particularly adapted to the conditions obtaining in the Native States. These and other oil-producing plants, medicinal plants, pepper, nutmegs, camphor, and, in short, any plant of economic value which is likely to succeed here, will form part of the collection, and when sufficient stock has been obtained will be planted out, and observations as to the best method of cultivation and probable return per acre will be made. Coconuts and other plants of economical value.

So far as I can judge, the work indicated above will, if properly carried out, meet to a large extent the requirements of the planters of these States.

I have, etc.,

STANLEY ARDEN,

Supt., Experimental Plantations.

THE SECRETARY TO THE RESIDENT-GENERAL, F.M.S.

APPENDIX C.

2nd December, 1901.

SIR,—

I have the honour to inform you that I visited S'tiawan (Perak) in June last, with the object of conducting some experiments on the production and coagulation of the latex of Hevea brasiliensis, which furnishes the "Para" rubber of commerce. These experiments being as yet incomplete, I do not intend in this report to go into details, but merely to give a summary of the work carried out there.

2. The trees utilised for these experiments were chiefly the property of the natives and had been much neglected. The soil, which was dry and sandy and wanting in the necessary constituents of plant life, was in places densely covered with "lalang"—Imperata cylindrica, a vigorous grass which chokes out nearly all other vegetation. These conditions had evidently affected the growth of the younger trees, for I have measured 3- to 4-year-old trees in other parts of the Native States whose circumference was equal to that of trees growing at S'tiawan which were twice the age. Conditions under which the trees were growing.

3. The trees ranged from 7 to 10 years old. The approximate height of the 7-year-old trees was 40 to 45 ft. and the average girth 2 ft. 6 in. measured at 3 ft. from the base. The Age and dimensions.

height of the 10-year-old trees was 55-60 ft., the circumference taken at a yard from the base ranging from 3 ft. 6 in. to 5 ft., the average being about 4 ft.

Distance between the trees.

The trees had been planted irregularly, but it was noticed that some 9-year-old trees, planted 36 ft. apart, were touching each other at the tops. There is a tendency to plant trees much closer than this, and I mention this fact to show what amount of space this tree will occupy if allowed room to develop itself.

Tapping implements.

4. The incisions were made by means of a sharp pruning knife. An ordinary carpenter's chisel was also tried, but the knife found most favour with the Malays, who soon became used to the work. I prefer the knife to the chisel as with it a cleaner cut is made, thus enabling the latex to get away freely—an important point, for if impeded in its flow there is the possibility of it coagulating on the wound, thus preventing a further flow. Nor does there appear to be quite the same danger of cutting into the wood as with a chisel and mallet, and injuring the tree. I have recently had a knife made, fitted with adjustable blades, which will, I believe, when perfected, considerably reduce the cost of tapping.

to be tapped.

5. With a view to ascertaining what part of the trunk contains the largest amount of latex, trees were tapped at different heights, ranging from the base of the trunk to 6 ft. up. In almost every case it was found that the latex flowed most freely from the lower portion of the trunk. Ten trees were tapped on fourteen consecutive days with the following results:—

140 incisions	from base to 3 ft. up.	gave 395 $\frac{1}{8}$ oz. latex
140 „	3 ft. to 6 ft. up	gave 325 $\frac{1}{8}$ „ „

The greater exudation appears, however, to be chiefly confined to the first foot of the trunk, which must therefore not be neglected when tapping.

Kinds of incisions.

6. An attempt was made to determine the best kind of incision to make, and trees of the same age and dimensions were tapped with vertical, oblique, and double oblique (V) incisions.

Those tapped with the V-shaped incision generally gave the best return. If these incisions are made above one another and connected by means of a small channel, forming what is sometimes known as the "herring-bone" incision, the collection of the latex is simplified, but the return was found to be less favourable than when V-shaped incisions were made about 2 ft. apart and extending over the whole area. The two lines forming the V were in each case 6 in. long.

incisions.

7. The different kinds of incisions, which on the first occasion were made about $\frac{1}{4}$ inch wide and just deep enough to cut through the inner layer of bark, were renewed at regular intervals. It is important that full advantage be taken of what is termed the "wound-effect," and this experiment was conducted, with a view to ascertaining:

- (a) The number of times the incision might advantageously be renewed;
- (b) The length of time that should elapse between each renewal.

The renewal is accomplished by taking off a very thin layer from each side of the wound, and was carried on for a full month at regular intervals, some trees being tapped every day, others every second, every fourth, and every seventh day; so that while some trees were tapped on thirty occasions others were only tapped on four. The number of occasions it is advisable to renew the incisions was not decided, as in some cases the tree continued to exude latex even after having been tapped on thirty consecutive days. In a few cases the maximum yield was attained on the eighth day; while, in others, there was a gradual increase up till the fourteenth tapping. This difference in the behaviour of trees makes it impossible to lay down any hard and fast rule as to the number of times it is advisable to renew the incision, but in the majority of cases the maximum yield will probably be reached at the tenth or eleventh renewal.

should be renewed.

9. Nor does it appear that there is anything to be gained by allowing the trees to rest a few days before renewing the incision, for the yield of those trees on which the incisions were renewed daily was equal to, and in some cases exceeded, that of trees which were tapped at weekly intervals. The ultimate result, therefore, would seem to be dependent, to some extent, upon the number of times the incisions are renewed, and it is doubtful if a saving of labour can be effected by renewing the incisions at long intervals.

latex.

10. Ordinary cigarette tins were used for the collection of the latex. These were attached to the tree by a small nail driven through a hole in the side of the tin, a little clay being placed between the tin and the tree to prevent any latex trickling down behind. I have had some similarly shaped tins made with a "lip" which is filed at the edges. The lip is simply pressed into the bark, no nail being required, while any escape of latex is impossible. A loose lid prevents any dirt or pieces of bark from falling into the latex. The latex exudes very slowly, and it was generally found necessary to leave the tin on the tree for about an hour after making the incision.

Coagulation.

11. Several methods of preparing commercial "india-rubber" from the latex were tried, and coagulation by the addition of mercuric chloride, sodium chloride, alum, acetic acid and other reagents was effected, but as these are still under consideration I do not intend to dwell upon them here. I am satisfied, however, that a good marketable rubber can be obtained, at a very small cost to the producer, in three or four days, if he has suitable drying accommodation at his command.

12. The difference in yield of trees of the same age and growing under similar conditions is very remarkable, making experimental work difficult, especially when the number of trees at our command are limited. The amount of dry rubber obtained from 9-year-old trees varied from 7 to $81\frac{1}{2}$ oz. The average yield per tree was just under 2 lb.; but, had all the trees been tapped on the most approved style and the incisions renewed an equal number of times, this amount would doubtless have been exceeded. Yield.

13. The youngest trees tapped were 6 to 7 years old, and gave an average return of $12\frac{1}{2}$ oz. of dry rubber. This was the result of fourteen days' tapping—i.e., the incisions were renewed on fourteen consecutive days, so that the average yield per day was less than 1 oz. of dry rubber. As pointed out at the commencement of this report, these trees had been much neglected, and I think it is fairly safe to prophecy a return equal to this from European estates, where the trees receive every attention in from five to six years from the time of planting.

14. The experiments initiated at S'tiawan will be carried on from time to time, and samples of rubber prepared by various methods will be sent to England for valuation and the results reported to you in full. In the meantime, too much stress should not be laid on these, the results of a single experiment. Experiments to be continued.

76. Provided that upon the commission by a statute immigrant of any of the offences described in the three last preceding sections the employer may, instead of proceeding against him before a Magistrate, make deductions from the wages next coming due to such statute immigrant in manner following, that is to say—

In cases of neglect to labour or unlawful absence, one day's wages may be deducted for every day or portion of a day on or during which such neglect or absence may occur or continue.

In case of disobedience to a lawful order, half a day's wages may be deducted.

81. Any statute immigrant who wilfully inflicts on himself any injury, or wilfully does any act by which he may be made unable to work, and any person abetting within the meaning of the Penal Code the infliction of such injury, or the doing of such act, the injury or act being of such a character as to prevent the statute immigrant from labouring according to the terms of his contract, shall be liable to imprisonment of either description for a period not exceeding one month.

Every such cancellation shall be certified by the Superintendent on the back of the contract, and such statute immigrant shall be liable to work during the remainder of the term of the cancelled contract on such public works as the Resident may direct at the same rate of wages as named in such contract.

If the services of any such immigrant shall not be required by the Government, the Superintendent shall take such steps as may be proper, subject to the provisions of Part V. hereof, for securing employment for him if applied to by him for that purpose.

89. Whenever any statute immigrant shall have been twice convicted of offences under this part the Superintendent, on the application of the employer, or of his own accord, may, with the approval of the Resident, transfer the contract of such statute immigrant to some other employer willing to accept the same, upon such terms and conditions as between the old and new employers as shall appear to him reasonable.

No. 9 02.

WIDOWS AND ORPHANS' PENSION FUND OFFICE,
Selangor, 25th March, 1902.

SIR,—

We have the honour to submit our report on the working of the Widows and Orphans' Fund for the year 1901:—

POSITION OF THE FUND.

2. The accounts of the Fund, taken up to 31st December last, show a balance of $60,242.97 to the credit of the Fund, the summary of the figures on either side of the account being as follows:—

By Balance on 1st January, 1901	...	...	...	...	$41,577 15
By Receipts, 1901	...	...	...	...	21,003 73
Total					$62,580 88
Deduct Expenditure, 1901	...	...	...	...	2,337 91
					$60,242 97

3. These figures are exclusive of contributions for December last (say $1,700) on the one hand, and claims for the last quarter of the year not rendered (approximately $625) on the other.

4. We think that it may safely be assumed that the sum to the credit of the Fund has been increased during the year under review by more than $19,000.

CONTRIBUTORS.

5. The new contributors added to the list were 70 in number, while 18 fell out for various reasons as follows:—

By Death	...	...	...	...	...	1
„ Being found ineligible to contribute	...	...	...	...	...	7
„ Dismissal	...	...	...	...	...	4
„ Resignation	...	...	...	...	...	6
Total						18

There were therefore 326 names on the list of contributors on 31st December, 1901, as against 274 at the commencement of the year.

PENSIONS.

6. The one deceased contributor, Mr. Alfred Beck, Inspector of Police, Selangor, left a claim in favour of his widow to the amount of $213.48 per annum, accruing from 1st May, 1901.

The liability of the Fund on account of pensions, nine in number, stood on 31st December, 1901, at the figure of $2,567.05 per annum.

GENERAL.

7. As is to be expected in a young institution the Directors have had some few difficult cases to deal with, and have to thank the Judicial Commissioner for his adjudication in more than one instance.

8. Among the questions of importance with which we have had to deal we may mention that which has risen, or rather been revived, as to the status of Ceylon Hindus in connection with the Fund.

The members of this class of the official community, though observing a creed which admits of polygamy, were found, on enquiry held three years ago before the Judicial Commissioner, to be restricted by the law of their domicile to one wife at a time, and therefore eligible as contributors.

It was, however, assumed at the time that registration was essential to validity of marriage in Ceylon, and the Directors of the Fund have acted on this assumption, which has lately been shown to be erroneous. Various points of doubt have resulted, but we are, at time of writing, in receipt of a ruling by the Judicial Commissioner, given without prejudice to any case which may be brought before him in Court, but which we venture to hope will clear the way for our successors.

THE RESIDENT-GENERAL. F.M.S.,
SELANGOR.

9. We have also been called on to consider the bearing of sections 7, 8 and 9 of our present regulations on officers transferred to services outside the Federated Malay States.

Of these contributors, transferred to the service of the Government of Hongkong, two have resented the provisions of section 8 of our present law by which they are required to continue their contributions or to forfeit their interest already acquired in the Fund.

Another contributor, transferred to service under the Crown elsewhere, is ineligible to contribute further though desirous of doing so.

It has been found expedient to adopt the provision of sections 9 and 10 of the Straits Settlements Ordinance V. of 1901, and a draft amendment framed in order to put this object into effect is now before you.

10. The adoption of the Straits Settlements Ordinance V. of 1901, in full, is also under consideration.

11. Three ordinary meetings and one special meeting of Directors have been held during our year of office.

12. One of our Board, Mr. A. M. Pountney, Assistant Secretary for Chinese Affairs, left for Europe at the close of the year. Another, Mr. A. Hale, has also left, agreeing to the draft of this report.

We have, etc.,

REPORT ON THE MALAY STATES GUIDES FOR THE YEAR 1901.*

COMMANDANT'S OFFICE, MALAY STATES GUIDES,
Taiping, 7th March, 1902

I have the honour to forward herewith my annual report for the year 1901 on the Regiment under my command.

This is the combined report called for in correspondence R.-G.O. Misc. 2707/01.

STRENGTH.

RETURN A.

2. On the last day of the year the Regiment was 1 Wing Officer, 1 Armourer-Sergeant, 2 Armourer-Apprentices under strength and 3 Privates over strength. Arrangements have been made to obtain the services of a qualified Armourer-Sergeant from India.

RECRUITS.

RETURN B.

3. Three hundred and thirty natives of the Punjaub offered themselves for enlistment as compared with 356 in 1900 and 327 in 1899: 225 were rejected by me for various reasons, and 5 medically unfit: 36 had previously served in the Indian Army. The already existing high standard is well maintained.

DISCIPLINE.

RETURN C.

4. The discipline of the Regiment has been very good—less crimes than in any previous year.

5. Total number of crimes was 160 as compared with 162 in 1900.

6. Of the 160 crimes no less than 64 occurred in Kuala Lumpur.

7. The perpetrator of the foul murder in "E" Company's Barrack Room was convicted and hanged.

8. The following statistics contain many points of interest:—

	1901.	1900.
Nationality, Sikhs	545	531
" Pathans	50	35
" Punjaubi Mussulmans	42	49
Average age	27 years and 5 months	26 years and 8 months
" service	4	4
" height	5' 9½"	5' 9½"

This compares favourably with the year 1900.

	N.-C.Os.	Privates.
Married on strength	30	38

9. Six additional married quarters have now been completed.

ARTILLERY.

10. The armament consists of three 7-pounder mountain guns of 200 lb. They are provided with jungle transport equipment which enables the gunners to keep up with the infantry in any country. Three rocket troughs complete the armament.

11. The establishment is complete. They are a fine, smart body of men.

12. The annual gunnery course was carried out at the Dindings. This, I regret to say, was marred by a sad accident, in which two gunners were injured. Lieutenant McKeon, the officer in charge, attributes the accident to faulty sponging out.

13. The guns have now been revented.

14. The same high standard of efficiency was maintained.

15. Of the 34 excised, 31 qualified as marksmen.

16. A special report on the accident and artillery course has already been furnished.

* Returns not printed.

MUSKETRY.

17. I attach the Annual Musketry Return, marked D.
 18. Seventy-four men were exercised in recruits' course of musketry (which is the same as fired in 1900), with the following very satisfactory results:—

1901.		1900.
357	(Individual)	354	(Individual)
45	(Collective)	38	(Collective)

This shows an improvement of 3 points in the individual, and 7 in the collective practises.

19. Five hundred and twenty-three men were exercised in the trained soldiers' course with the following results:—

161 qualified as marksmen
 332 „ 2nd class shots
 30 „ 3rd „

20. The figure of merit of the various companies is as follows:—

"A" Company	...	...	...	133.5
"B" "	...	...	...	41
"C" "	...	...	...	133.9
"D" "	...	...	...	41

Gunners	...	...	...	129
Depôt Company	...	...	...	31
				134.9

best shooting company

21. The regimental figure of merit is $\frac{133.5}{32}$. It is quite impossible to compare the averages in the trained soldiers' course with those of 1900. An entirely new and far more practical course has been fired.

22. The field firing was carried out at Kuala Lumpur with most satisfactory results.

23. The umpire's report is attached, marked E. "E" Company was placed 2nd in the competition for the Warren Shield. The shooting of all companies shows a high standard of excellence.

24. All ranks exhibited the greatest keenness, and to this, and to the liberal supply of ammunition, I attribute the all-round excellence of the shooting.

25. Each company has qualified range-takers.

26. The rifle ranges at Taiping and Kuala Lumpur are in good order. New iron frames (Jeffries) have now been fitted for all targets and new butts made at Taiping. This work has been carried out regimentally and well done under the supervision of Lieutenant McKeon without any extra cost to Government.

SIGNALLING.

27. The staff consists of 1 Sergeant-Instructor, 1 Corporal and 12 Privates.
 28. They were exercised during field training at Kuala Lumpur; I attach report, marked F, of Captain H. S. Ainslie, Acting Second in Command (who holds a signalling certificate).
 29. No qualified Wing Officer is available to instruct the signallers.

FIELD TRAINING, ETC.

30. Field training was carried out by all companies in a very thorough manner.
 31. Battalion field training took place at Kuala Lumpur from 9th June to 10th July; the result was most satisfactory. All ranks showed the greatest keenness.
 32. I attach programme, marked G, of battalion field training.
 33. The Regiment is regularly exercised in route marching and tactical schemes.
 34. All arrangements for mobilization are complete, and at the shortest notice three Companies (300 men) and 50 gunners could be despatched for mobilization.
 35. The companies for mobilization are now armed with Lee-Enfield magazine rifle.

FIRE BRIGADE.

36. The Fire Brigade which protects the town of Taiping is organised and manned by the Regiment.
 37. It consists of 6 divisions, 5 being hose reels and 1 for the ladder party.
 38. Each division consists of 4 trained men, 4 draught men with 2 ladder party, and each under the command of an European or Native Officer.
 39. The water supply providing very high pressure the hose is worked from hydrants located at every corner of the various blocks of buildings, thereby enabling the fire to be kept within the block in which it originated.
 40. The Fire Brigade is in a satisfactory state of efficiency.

MEDICAL.

RETURN H.

41. I attach the Medical Officer's Report. The health of the troops at Taiping has been good.
42. In April and May there was a large increase of intermittent fever, this was due to exposure of men to malarial influences when on fatigue duty on the new rifle range butts.
43. Work was discontinued for a time until the epidemic ceased.
44. The total number of admissions into hospital was 631, as compared with 504 in 1900.

			1901.		1900.
Daily average in hospital	...	...	9.80	...	7.15

Deaths	...	...	1	...	4
Percentage of deaths per 1,000	...	...	3.12	...	11.11

45. The one fatal case recorded was due to apoplexy.
46. Nine men were discharged on medical grounds.
47. Only 0.63 per cent. of the admissions into hospital were due to venereal causes.
48. Three thousand two hundred and eighty-five out-patients were treated as compared with 3,700 in 1900.
49. The Medical Officer has done his work to my entire satisfaction.

KUALA LUMPUR.

50. The health of the troops has been good.

51. There have been no outbreaks of an epidemic character.
52. The Dresser, Mr. Appa Row, has shown a great interest in his work and has given me entire satisfaction.

KUALA LIPIS.

53. The detachment at Kuala Lipis was withdrawn on 8th August, 1901.
54. The number of cases treated was 27. Of these 14 were Pathans and 13 Sikhs.
55. The principal diseases treated were fever, diarrhoea and dysentery.

QUARTER-MASTER'S STORES.

56. The stores and everything connected with this branch are in a highly satisfactory state.
57. They include all warlike stores in addition to equipment, barrack stores, etc.
58. Boots are still obtained from Messrs. Cooper, Allen and Company, Cawnpore, and give every satisfaction.
59. All repairs to boots are carried out in the Regimental Shoemaker's Shop.

SCHOOL.

60. I attach a return (H) giving the daily average attendance--

64. Mr. G. F. Neal was appointed Assistant Armourer and took over his duties at Kuala Lumpur on 7th June, 1901.
65. I wish to testify to the good work done by Mr. Field and his staff.

CLOTHING DEPARTMENT.

66. Work to the value of $44,295.30 was executed. The Police Forces and Gaol Warders (with the exception of Selangor Warders) are clothed by this department.
67. With the exception of Selangor Police, the clothing has given every satisfaction, and in this case the clothing has been taken over without being finally inspected by an European Officer.

 69. This department has been worked at a profit of $2,739.26.

A. S. VANRENEN, MAJOR,
Acting Commandant, M.S.G.

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER OF LANDS AND MINES, F.M.S.,
Kuala Lumpur, 2nd April, 1902.

REPORT ON THE LANDS, MINES AND SURVEYS OF THE FEDERATED MALAY STATES FOR THE YEAR 1901.

PART I.

FEDERAL AND GENERAL.

LAND OFFICE COLLECTIONS.—The revenue collected by the Land offices of the Federated Malay States during 1901 (omitting—as in previous years—the "forest revenue" of Perak) amounted to $872,342, which is larger by $54,773 than that reported a year ago for 1900, and $145,312 in excess of the estimate.

2. FOREST REVENUE.—Of this total, however, I understand, though no official instructions on the point are to be found in my office, that the "Lands and Mines" are no longer entitled to claim, as heretofore, the "forest revenue" collected in Selangor, Negri Sembilan and Pahang, as it has been transferred for the benefit of the newly created Federal Forests Department. It is still, however, collected almost entirely by the Land offices.

3. CORRECTED REVENUE.—This "forest revenue," according to the returns supplied by the different Land offices, amounted in 1901 to $110,466, and in 1900 to $106,624, so that the figures for 1901 and 1900 should be reduced by those amounts, respectively, and stand at $761,876 for 1901 and $710,945 for 1900, showing an increase of $50,931 for the year under report. Reducing the estimate for 1901 in the same way, gives $150,561 in favour of the collections for the year. I should mention that the receipts for survey and demarcation fees, and on the sale of maps and plans, are included in the above totals, as also is the large amount of $134,907 received as "premia."

4. REVENUE OF PRECEDING YEARS.—I am not in a position to separate the forest revenue from the rest of the revenue recorded as received in the nine years previous to 1900, and, in order to compare the receipts for 1901 with those of the ten preceding years, must fall back upon the figures which include the forest revenue of Selangor, Negri Sembilan and Pahang throughout, and the forest revenue of Perak up to 1897. These figures are given in the following table:—

1892	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	300,680

5. RENTS.—Rents, as was to be expected, account for the larger part of the receipts for 1901, the amounts collected being—on an increase on the totals of $40,719 in 1901.

Mining lands	...	...	...	...	...	...	189,616

Total $484,546

Mining lands	...	...	...	...	...	...	167,677

6. PREMIA.—Premia were received in 1901 amounting to $134,907, as against $128,514 received in 1900.

7. SURVEY FEES.—Receipts on account of survey and demarcation fees were $57,195 in 1901, and $53,302 in 1900, which is an increase of $3,893, the estimate for 1901 was $51,100; so that the actual receipts exceeded the estimate by $6,095.

* In the returns for 1898 and the following years the Perak forest revenue is not included.

8. REGISTRATION FEES.—The fees collected in stamps for registration work—chiefly the registration of new titles, transfers and charges—amounted to $19,390.

9. EXPENDITURE.—I have found it impossible to obtain satisfactory statements of the expenditure of all the Land and Mines offices. Though the figures for each office can be given in some districts, in others no attempt seems to be made to separate them, and in the smaller offices they are often not to be separated from the expenditure of the District office. The figures relating to the revenue surveys are, however, available, and show that the votes at the disposal of the four Revenue Survey Departments amounted to $401,239, of which $324,605 was spent. These votes included sums of $35,000 and $12,000 for trigonometrical survey in Selangor and Negri Sembilan, respectively, and $20,000 specially provided to pay for connections.

10. LAND ALIENATION.—The year's work of the Land offices resulted, beyond the collection of revenue, in the alienation, on permanent title, of 6,741 agricultural lots of a total area of 41,934 acres; 914 mining lots of a total area of 20,340 acres; and 688 town and village lots (of which the area is not given in all cases), which brings the estimate of the amount of land now held under permanent title in the Federated States to 93,021 agricultural lots of a total area of 575,324 acres; 9,840 mining lots of a total area of 268,598 acres; and 11,456 town and village lots.

These figures, however, as has been pointed out more than once by my predecessors, give little idea of the area actually in occupation, as a great deal of land is still occupied without permanent title, pending settlement and survey or demarcation. In one district—Kuala Pilah—the Collector estimates the area of such lands at no less than 58,000 acres.

The area of the four States has been put at 24,951 square miles, which equal 15,968,640 acres.

11. REGISTRATION WORK.—There were 11,240 registrations of transfers, charges, discharges, new titles, powers of attorney, caveats, etc., carried out during 1901, the stamp value being $19,390, as against 10,902 registrations in 1900, of a stamp value of $15,789.

AGRICULTURE.

12. The reports of the Collectors only refer to the progress of agriculture incidentally, in connection with the alienation of new land, and no doubt it is more a matter for Administration reports than for Land Office reports. Still, I may notice a few matters of interest in this connection.

PADI.—In Krian, where the cultivation of sugar and padi has been long established on a considerable scale, there has been a disastrous failure of the padi crop, though happily it does not seem to have affected the rent collections. Owing, as the Collector says, to the supineness of the penghulus, in neglecting to see that the transplanting was done at the proper time, the first nurseries were almost entirely ruined, and by the time that second nurseries were ready, and their contents transplanted, heavy rains came to retard the development of the young plants, which were then attacked by a wire worm and the greater part of the crop was spoilt. As a result, the export of padi from Krian, which in 1900 was valued at $538,404, was in 1901 worth no more than $190,533.

In several other districts, however, the padi crop has been a fine one. In Kuala Kangsar, where it has been particularly good, I have heard the result attributed mainly to the influence of the penghulus, who understood what ought to be done, and took care that it was carried out.

13. SUGAR.—Sugar cultivation in Krian produced an export of the value of $1,480,168, as against $1,315,974 in 1900. At the large estate at Sungei Gedong in the Matang district, where over 1,100 persons are employed, the crop is estimated to produce 55,300 pikuls of sugar.

14. PINANGS.—From Selama it is reported that 10,630 pikuls of pinangs were exported in the course of the year.

15. COCONUTS.—In Lower Perak, Kuala Selangor and Kuala Langat there has been a considerable demand for land for coconut plantations, but there are also many complaints of the damage done by beetles and by rats. Mr. Hale, the Collector and Registrar of Titles in Kuala Lumpur, thinks that unless rigorous measures are taken it will soon be hopeless to attempt to grow coconuts within five miles of the centre of Kuala Lumpur, owing to the number of heaps of stable and other refuse in which the beetle (Oryctes rhinoceros) is allowed to breed undisturbed.

16. TAPIOCA.—In Negri Sembilan, where tapioca has been largely grown for years, a considerable area of fresh land was alienated during 1901 for that cultivation, with a condition requiring the planter to introduce some "permanent" form of cultivation (e.g., getah rambong or coconuts) pari passu with the planting of the tapioca.

17. GAMBIER AND PEPPER.—The price of both gambier and pepper has risen, and some fresh land has been alienated for their cultivation.

18. COFFEE AND RUBBER.—The prospects of coffee have, unhappily, not improved materially, and a great deal of land planted with that product has been abandoned. Many estates, however, have been kept going, and may be expected to do well in the future with the help of the para rubber which is now growing up between the rows of coffee.

19. TOBACCO.—In Ulu Langat tobacco is grown on a small scale by Javanese settlers.

OFFICE WORK.

20. Taking over the office of Commissioner from Mr. Duberly late in the year I was practically only able to devote the last two months of the year to inspection work, during which time I made the acquaintance of 17 of the 27 Land offices in the Federation.

21. What struck me most at these first visits was the general prevalence of arrears of work of one sort or another. In nearly every district work beyond the current work of the day is waiting to be done. In some offices there are an astonishing number of applications waiting either for report or for settlement or demarcation, or both; in others numbers of titles are waiting issue; in some offices the mukim registers are extremely incomplete, and in more than one instance have not yet been begun; and in others there is much to be done in the way of replacing agreements for leases and other old documents by the later forms of title, whilst more than one office is badly in arrears with the rent collections.

22. A great deal of work is, however, done in the Land offices of the Federated States. Many of the officers are devoted to their duties, and the arrears on hand in the busier offices are, speaking generally, the result of being short-handed rather than of any lack either of hard work or ability. In some of the smaller offices, where the District Officer is his own Collector, I have thought that the Land office work was left too much in the hands of Asiatic clerks.

23. PRACTICE.—There appear still to be a good many points of practice in which the various offices differ. In some cases the practice which obtains generally is found to have been varied, in a particular office, by some executive instruction; in other cases the ambiguities of the law have given rise to doubts which have been resolved in different ways in different offices. By circulars in some cases, and by word of mouth in others, I have done something to promote uniformity, and hope to do much more; but there are other points of difficulty which can only be met by an amendment of the law. Such a one, to give an example, is the universal, but illegal practice, which has been sanctioned by authority, of charging a fee upon the transfer of the rights of a holder by "approved application." No doubt the impending amendment of the Land Enactment and the Land Rules will do a great deal to meet such difficulties.

24. FORMS.—Much remains to be done to secure uniformity in the matter of the books and forms used in the Land offices. These were elaborately revised a few months ago, but the result has not been found to be very satisfactory, and I have been collecting the views of the Collectors upon the subject with the view of further revision.

25. SETTLEMENT WORK.—It seems to me (though, in view of the small experience which I have had as yet of Land Administration, I give my views on the subject with much diffidence) that the tardy rate at which the settlement and measurement of the great number of holdings which are occupied without any permanent title is being done, is a matter for serious consideration. In many districts it is apparently hopeless to think of getting all holdings properly registered without a good deal more assistance than is given at present, and I cannot but think that not only from the point of view of good government, but also from the revenue point of view, such delay in this matter is bad policy. The greater part of these lands of course pay rent regularly, but they pay on roughly estimated areas, which, upon measurement, are found, in the large majority of cases, to have been underestimated. These holdings would, when their areas had been properly ascertained, contribute to the revenue considerably more than they now do, and, besides these, there are many thousands of acres at present occupied by squatters, some of whom pay no rent at all, because there has been no systematic settlement work done to reveal their unauthorised occupation; and others of whom, having been discovered by accident, are made to take out licenses for temporary occupation fixed at a low rate in anticipation of the time when their lands can be properly described, measured and assessed and the rents definitely ascertained. It seems impossible to doubt that the bringing of these irregularly occupied lands on to the registers would result in an increase to the revenue out of all proportion larger than what would be spent on the salaries of a few temporary extra Settlement Officers, who, if they were moved about from district to district in intelligent co-operation with survey parties, would be able not only to regularise the positions of the rent-paying holders who have as yet no permanent title, but also to bring to book large numbers of occupiers of lands who have at present no authority whatever for their occupation.

MINES.

26. The Warden of Mines for South Perak, Mr. C. Pearse, has furnished a full and interesting report, but the reports of the other Wardens are not very satisfactory from the compiler's point of view, and I have some difficulty in giving the combined figures for the Federation.

27. REVENUE.—The revenue actually credited to the several Mines departments is small, and consists chiefly of fines inflicted in the Wardens' Courts, and of fees for boiler inspections.

28. TIN OUTPUT.—The output of tin was approximately 789,218 pikuls in 1901, and 713,065 pikuls in 1900, an increase in production of 76,153 pikuls for the year under report.

29. PRICE OF TIN.—The average price of tin in Perak is given as $67.56 per pikul in 1901, and $74.15 per pikul in 1900.

30. VALUE OF OUTPUT.—The value of the 1901 output was therefore approximately $53,319,568 and that of the preceding year $52,873,769.

31. DUTY.—The duty collected on tin in 1901 was approximately $6,968,281, against $7,048,236 in 1900.

32. LABOUR SUPPLY.—The labour force employed in mining was approximately 169,700. It has increased since 1900 in Perak and Selangor. The Wardens for Negri Sembilan and Pahang do not give the figures required for a comparison. The number of coolies available is, after making allowance for labour-saving machinery, far below the proportion of two men to each acre of mining land which used to be required by the conditions of mining leases, and even under the conditions at present in vogue, which only require the employment of one man to every two acres, much land is held short-handed. A good deal of such land has been resumed.

33. PERAK TIN MINING.—On the whole, Perak—which is well at the head of the Federated States in the matter of tin output—has had a very good year, and, with the exception of a big failure in Larut, both the Government and the miners have done well. Though the mining application books in Kinta remained closed to the general public throughout the year there has been considerable development in that district, both in the adoption of improved methods of mining and in the opening up of fresh deposits. Eleven monitors are now in use in Perak. Mr. Pearce, in a paragraph which I will quote later, gives his grounds for thinking that there is no reason to fear an early exhaustion of the tin supply. The Perak output was 385,066 pikuls against 355,589 in 1900.

34. TIN MINING IN THE OTHER STATES.—Miners in Selangor, which shows an output of 302,598 pikuls against 269,490 in 1900, and in Negri Sembilan, with 75,242 pikuls against 72,251 pikuls in 1900, are said not to have made much money, and it is represented that the returns for 1902 are likely to show a considerable falling off in the production. The Pahang output has increased from 15,725 pikuls in 1900 to 22,084 pikuls in 1901.*

35. GOLD PRODUCTION.—Pahang, of course, is a long way ahead of the other States in gold production. The total production of the Federation for the year has been estimated at 25,792 ozs. of the value approximately of $853,866, of which Pahang contributes 23,946 ozs. valued at $793,366. 18,901 ozs. of this came from the Raub Mines; the Keebau Company exported 1,755 ozs. and the Malaysian Mining Company 1,315 ozs. from reef, and 1,164 ozs. from alluvial workings. Neither the Selensing nor the Punjurn Companies did any mining during the year.

36. COPPER ORE.—Pahang also exported 265 pikuls of copper ore during 1901.

37. MINING CONFERENCE.—A mining conference was held during the year at Ipoh, and was attended by many of the principal miners and by several officials of the Government. The report on the conference has not yet been published.

SURVEYS.

38. The Survey departments in the four States, in addition to a good deal of other work, surveyed for the Land and Mines offices—

710 agricultural lots of a total area of 25,231 acres;

672 mining lots of a total area of 16,872 acres;

697 town and village lots, and demarcated 11,002 native holdings, of a total area of 35,140 acres.

39. COST OF SURVEY.—The disproportion between the expenditure on surveys and the receipts is no doubt a matter for serious consideration. My own view is that the expenditure must be faced for the present. The question whether the low fees which it has been the policy of the Government to charge the public for the work done can be raised without discouraging new-comers, so as to more nearly meet the actual cost, is now under the consideration of the Government.

40. NEED FOR SURVEY.—There are several considerations which seem to me to involve a comparatively heavy expenditure upon survey and demarcation at present. Chief among these is the fact that this a country which is only now being opened up; it is not, as an old settled country would be, already divided up into holdings, which have descended to their present owners from previous generations with well-known boundaries, but the several Governments of the Federated Malay States have to give good and transferable titles for previously undemarcated areas to the people who take up land from them. In order to do this properly, it seems to be unavoidable that a survey establishment capable of accurate work, and of a good deal of it, should be maintained; to provide reliable plans, to set up fairly permanent boundary marks, and to compile maps upon which alienated holdings shall be shown well enough to obviate the likelihood of the land being promised over again to new applicants. Cheap work generally means bad work, skill and hard work are both needed to produce accurate work, and both have their market value. Moreover, inaccurate survey work is not only discreditable, but involves so much trouble and rectification later, that it is far more expensive in the end than good work done in the first instance.

41. COST OF DEMARCATION.—The present policy of demarcating native holdings almost free of cost to the occupiers accounts for a considerable proportion of the unremunerative expenditure. The Superintendent of Revenue Surveys, Selangor, writes in his report: "I draw attention to the fact that the Government lose annually through demarcation over $20,000. The average size of a native holding is four acres and the cost of demarcation or surveying it, including boundary stones, averages $10. The fee charged for this is only $2."

42. OTHER EXPENDITURE.—The money spent on the trigonometrical survey ($47,000 of which is included in the expenditure under consideration); on connections to join isolated holdings or groups of holdings to ascertained points, the expense of which is largely dependent upon the extent to which the country has already been divided up by the trigonometrical survey; on surveys of townships; on the delimitation of reserves, and on the re-measurement of lands in cases (not at all uncommon) in which the work for which fees were originally paid has been found to be unreliable, is all expenditure for which no direct return can be expected, but which it would be difficult to dispense with without sacrificing more than the money's worth.

43. LICENSED SURVEYORS.—The employment of licensed surveyors has not proved very successful. The fees allowed to them, though higher than those taken by the Government, are not high enough to attract a sufficient number of men, and whilst it is found necessary to allot to the few that we have the easiest and most remunerative work, their results are found to be less accurate and to require more checking than those of men in the regular service of the Government.

PART II.

THE STATES OF THE FEDERATION.

PERAK.

LAND OFFICES.

44. REVENUE.—The revenue collected by the Perak Land offices in 1901 is returned at $362,348; in 1900 it was $352,467—an increase of $9,881. The estimate for 1901 was $292,950, no less than $69,398 below the actual collections. The forest revenue, though still largely collected by the Land offices, is not included in these totals.

45. RENTS.—Of the above revenue, "land rents," which is the expression generally used to include the rents of agricultural, town and village lands, as distinguished from the rents of mining lands, produced $139,801, as against $129,054 for 1900, whilst "mining rents" accounted for $123,219, as against $109,444 collected in 1900. The rents received for agricultural lands are not separated from those received for town and village lands, in the returns furnished to me.

46. PREMIA.—Premia brought in $33,764, as against $47,892 in 1900.

47. SURVEY AND DEMARCATION FEES.—Survey fees came to $19,721, and demarcation fees to $10,523, a total of $30,244 for 1901, as against a total of $33,631 in 1900.

48. REGISTRATION FEES.—The stamp value of 7,008 acts of registration carried out in 1901 was $10,267, as against $6,637 paid on 5,627 transactions in 1900.

49. ADMINISTRATION.—I will refer to the chief particulars of Land Administration below under the headings of the various districts.

MINES.

50. The Warden of Mines, North, has mixed up his account of the work of his district as Collector of Land Revenue, Registrar of Titles, and Warden of Mines in one short report, which does not contain much information. Mr. C. Pearse, the Warden of Mines, South, on the other hand, has written a full and interesting report.

51. REVENUE.—The revenue of the northern district has not been separated properly; that for the southern district was $8,649, as against $9,483 in 1900. It consists chiefly of fines from the Warden's Court; the next most important item being fees for the inspection of boilers.

52. EXPENDITURE.—The expenditure in the whole State was $53,586—$23,750 of this was spent in the northern district, which contributed only 11.5 % of the output of the State.

53. OUTPUT OF TIN.—The output of tin from the State was 385,066 pikuls, against 355,589 in 1900. It was the largest output since the "record" year 1895, when the output was 400,956 pikuls.

54. MARKET PRICE OF TIN.—In 1895, however, the average price of tin was $35.05 per pikul, whilst in 1900 it was $74.15, and in 1901 $67.56; so that, of those three years, the largest output was worth the least, and the smallest output the most, money, that is to say:—

In 1895, the output of 400,956 pikuls was worth $15,047,748;

In 1900, the output of 355,589 pikuls was worth $26,032,000;

And in 1901, the output of 385,066 pikuls was worth $25,501,936.

Of the output of 1901, 204,182 pikuls were smelted in the State.

55. DUTY.—The duty collected on the export of tin from the State was $3,473,621, as against $3,571,578 collected in 1900. Of the total of $3,473,621 for 1901, $2,088,289 is to be credited to the southern district.

56. GOLD PRODUCTION.—The gold produced in Perak does not appear to be very satisfactorily accounted for. The return lately furnished by the Resident gave 1,077 ozs. as the approximate production, but in the case of the gold which is obtained from the tin ore in Batang Padang, Mr. Pearse considers that the amount is largely underestimated, and that the duty paid on its export, instead of being 5 per cent. of its value, as was intended, is but little over 1 per cent. of its value.

57. LABOUR FORCE.—The labour force employed in mining is put at 74,914 in 1901, as against 71,894 in 1900, an increase of 3,000, which is all taken by the southern district; the northern showing a small falling off in the number of men employed.

58. COOLIES' EARNINGS.—Mr. Pearse estimates that 70 per cent. of the miners are working on the "tribute" system, and puts the average nett earnings of a coolie at $260 per annum, which is a good deal higher than the estimate made in Selangor.

59. MONITORS.—Two monitors were set to work during 1901, in addition to the nine already established, and several others are to be shortly at work.

60. BORING MACHINES.—The boring machines which have been provided by the Government have been in constant use.

61. ENGINES.—The number of mining engines in the State has increased from 260 in 1900 to 335 in 1901, and the boilers have been systematically inspected.

62. CHANGKAT PARI MINE.—In his account of the more important of the mining concerns, Mr. Pearse has the following interesting remarks on the workings at Changkat Pari—

"Changkat Pari, the property of the Leh Chin Mining Company, is situated in the heart of of the mining district and has been turning out some marvellous stuff during the year. The formation is extraordinary and most interesting. The country is limestone in which occur irregular deposits of ore. These ore deposits have no distinct walls, but gradually change into enclosing rock. They appear to have a general "strike." The concession was originally worked as an alluvial mine and in course of development an iron cap covering blue and green carbonates of copper was exposed. The carbonates proved to overlies oxides of the same metal which were in turn succeeded by sulphide of copper, native arsenic, arsenical pyrites, and oxide of tin. Sometimes these ores are much mixed, whilst at other times they are almost pure. Tin ore is the most prominent mineral in the lower parts of the workings. Besides the above minerals, ores of antimony and manganese also occur in fair quantities, while assays have shown that bismuth and silver are also sometimes present.

"The mine is at present being worked as an open quarry. The ore is hand picked and stacked in heaps according to the prevailing metal. A shaft is being sunk at the south end of the quarry to prove the depth of the deposit. This shaft is now down about 50 feet and the ore shows no sign of giving out. None of the stone has yet been crushed and a battery will not be ordered till the deposit has been proved to a fair extent and depth. The Manager, Mr. Latham, estimates that he has 400 tons of stone already stacked which will assay twenty-five per cent. of black tin.

"At the north end of the quarry underground caves full of wash dirt carrying tin ore have been encountered.

"These caves are worked by Chinese who dive some twenty to forty feet through water and bring up in buckets the wash dirt which sometimes contains fifty per cent. of clean tin ore. These Chinamen are paying tribute at the rate of about seventy per cent., which is the highest paid in Perak south.

"I have discussed this deposit rather at length. I have a reason for so doing, and that is, that I consider its discovery most important, and one that may have a great influence on the future of Perak. Practically the whole of the Kinta Valley has limestone as bed rock, and, if tin is found to occur in one place in the limestone there is every probability it occurs similarly in other localities, and so, when the alluvial deposits of the State are exhausted which they will not be for many years to come, there may be these deposits in rock to fall back upon."

SURVEY.

63. PROVISION, EXPENDITURE AND RECEIPTS.—The votes for survey and demarcation in 1901 amounted to $152,645, of which $141,902, was spent. The estimated receipts were $25,350, and the actual collections amounted to $34,144. Of this latter sum, as already noted, $30,244 was received as fees for survey and demarcation work.

64. FIELD WORK FOR LAND OFFICES.—The work done for the Land and Mines offices was the survey of 346 agricultural lots of a total area of 9,377 acres; 450 mining lots of a total area of 11,025 acres; 391 town and village lots, and the demarcation of 3,055 native holdings of a total area of 10,949 acres; 515½ miles of circuit traverses were run.

65. SURVEY DIFFICULTIES.—Mr. J. P. Harper, the Superintendent of Revenue Surveys, sends me an excellent report on the year's work, and points out that the diminution of the area of agricultural and mining lands surveyed during 1901 (it was 6,342 acres less than that surveyed in 1900) is accounted for by the fact that in Kinta, where the mining application books have so long been closed to the general public, the holdings that now require survey in that district are comparatively few, and very much scattered, which adds considerably to the difficulties of the work.

66. OFFICE WORK.—Besides many miscellaneous tracings and maps, the office staff prepared and handed over title maps for 524 mining leases, 361 agricultural titles, 369 town titles, 72 burial licenses and 4,154 mukim extracts—1,254 of these being prepared in duplicate.

67. EXTENT OF ALIENATION.—The estimate of all lands now alienated in the State on permanent title is 49,518 agricultural lots of a total area of 269,333 acres; 5,888 mining lots of a total area of 117,330 acres; 5,677 town and village lots.

LARUT.

68. In Larut the revenue collected was $34,833, as against $31,444 collected in 1900, and an estimate for the year of $29,175. There were therefore increases of $3,692 over the previous year's total, and $5,658 over the estimate.

The land rents collected were $15,031, as against $14,348 in 1900, and the mining rents came to $7,924, as against $6,835 in the preceding year. The year closed with arrears of rent amounting to $2,868 outstanding.

Three hundred and sixty-three agricultural and 23 mining titles were registered in the Land office, and the total registered transactions (which include transfers and charges) were 783, on which fees amounting to $278 were paid, as against 519 transactions paying $235 in 1900.

Land sales produced $2,240 more than in 1900.

I remember noticing that settlement work was much behindhand in this office.

The Collector is also Registrar of Titles for the districts of Larut, Matang, Kuala Kangsar, Krian, and Selama, and in that capacity carried out 566 transactions of a stamp value of $1,974.

MATANG.

69. The Matang revenue shows a small decrease of $44, having fallen from $18,178 in 1900 to $18,134 in 1901. It is, however, slightly above the estimate.

Land rents fell from $13,996 in 1900 to $13,883 in 1901. Mining rents remained unaltered at $13.

One hundred and sixty-eight new titles, comprising a total area of 1,017 acres, were issued.

One hundred and thirty-six acts of registration produced fees to the value of $89.35.

The settlement work is fairly up to date, and the return of 283 lots of a total area of 1,074 acres demarcated is an improvement on the work done in that direction in 1900.

Rubber and sugar are both doing well in this district.

KUALA KANGSAR.

70. There was a very satisfactory collection of revenue in this district. The total of $36,745 was $5,698 larger than that of 1900, and no less than $11,670 larger than the estimate. The Collector attributes this result, in part, to the good terms existing between the Land office and the penghulus.

Land rents accounted for $19,867 of the total receipts, as against $16,386 in 1900. Mining rents fell slightly. A good many outstanding arrears were recovered.

Premia on leases brought in $3,376, as against $2,053 in 1900.

One thousand and sixty-seven applications for small agricultural holdings were registered, and 199 applications for mining land, as against 116 in 1900; the increase in the number of these mining applications is put down as being due partly to the difficulty of obtaining mining land in Kinta, where the application books have been closed to the general public for several years.

Survey and demarcation fees brought in $1,136 more than in the preceding year.

Seven hundred and thirty-nine agricultural lots of a total area of 3,190 acres were demarcated, and 84 lots of mining land, of a total area of 1,257 acres, were surveyed.

Some good settlement work was done in the district, two of the mukims being completed, and good progress being made in two others.

I heard an appeal in a case of a disputed sale of land, and reversed the decision of the Collector.

A good deal of land is under padi in the district, and the 1901 crops were excellent throughout.

UPPER PERAK.

71. The revenue for 1901 shows a falling off in this district, both in comparison with the preceding year's collections and on the estimate. $3,653 was collected, as against $3,741 in 1900, and an estimate of $4,750.

Both land rents and mining rents produced more than in 1900, the principal decreases being in survey fees, which produced only $177, as against $588 in the previous year; the sale of boundary marks, and land sales, which both show decreases; and prospecting licenses, which brought in $75 in 1900, but nothing in 1901.

Very little was done in the way of registering titles, but there were 45 transfers and a few other transactions registered. The total value of the stamps for registration was $59.

This district alone, of all the districts of the Federation, failed to furnish me with a report.

KINTA.

72. This district, which produces nearly half the total land revenue of the State, returned a slightly smaller revenue for 1901 than was collected in 1900, the figures being $150,064 for 1901, as against $150,518 in 1900. The estimate, however, was exceeded by $29,464. The expenditure was $19,741.

Land and mining rents both show large increases, the aggregate of the two items being $115,451 in 1901, as against $103,724 in the preceding year.

There was a falling off in survey fees of over $2,300, which has already been referred to under the head of "surveys."

In land sales also a considerable decrease is shown; "premia on leases" (i.e., mining leases) producing only $17,685, as against $25,745 in 1900. This item might of course be largely increased at any time that the Government chose to open the mining application books again. For the last five years the Government has refused to alienate fresh land in Kinta to the general public, with the primary object of obtaining time to overtake the arrears of survey work. In ten special cases applications for mining land were entertained. In 1896, the year in which the books were closed, no less than 2,090 mining leases were issued in the district.

In November of the year under report, the agricultural application books were also closed to applications which would require survey.

An unpleasant feature of the Land Administration of the district is the large amount of arrears of rents outstanding. On the 1st January, 1901, they stood at no less than $30,871. On the 1st January, 1902, they had been reduced to $21,915.

Among the few blocks of mining land which were alienated during the year was one of a little over 16 acres at Talam in the Kampar mukim, which was sold at auction for $7,000.

Titles for 166 leases were issued from the Land office.

The Collector reports that "no mukim extracts have yet been issued."

The Collector of Land Revenue, Kinta, is also the Registrar of Titles for the districts of Kinta, Batang Padang and Lower Perak, and reports the registration during the year of 538 grants and 25 certificates of title, besides several hundred transfers, charges and other transactions. Under practically every heading, the work largely increased in 1901.

LOWER PERAK.

73. The collections in this district for 1901 were less than those for 1900 by $959; the figures being $24,525 for the year under report, and $25,485 for the preceding year. The estimate was slightly exceeded.

Land rents show a substantial increase of $1,098, mining rents stand at $5 for both years. There is one mining title in the district, for which $5 a year is paid, whilst there are 12,632 titles for agricultural holdings: 1,430 of these were put on the register during 1901.

The number of transactions requiring registration in the Land office was large; 1,836 as against 591 in 1900. The stamp value was $162.

There was a deficit of over $2,000 in the receipts for survey fees, as compared with those of the preceding year. On the other hand, demarcation fees realised $666 more than in 1900.

Premia on grants, which produced $1,876 in 1900, fell to $1,045 in 1901. This item would have been well up to the preceding year's collections, but for an arrangement under which the Straits Sugar Company is allowed to pay premium on land taken into cultivation from the reserve, at stated periods, instead of upon each occasion when land is taken up.

There are a good many old titles in this district to be got in and exchanged for modern forms, and no less than 5,667 applications waiting to be dealt with. Roughly, 15,000 acres are awaiting settlement, and throughout the year there has been but one Settlement Officer, a Malay Raja, to do the work of the district.

The arrears of rent have slightly increased since the end of 1900, but are not serious.

The cultivation of both sugar and coconuts is flourishing, but both beetles and rats are reported to have done much damage.

BATANG PADANG.

74. The revenue of $44,566 shows a considerable increase, being $3,186 above that of 1900, and no less than $18,941 above the estimate.

Land rents were slightly below the preceding year's collection, but mining rents were a good deal higher: the total of the two items being $25,263 in 1901, as against $21,726 in 1900. The Collector, who writes the annual report, seems to have found the office in a deplorable state of confusion, and by dint of hard work and the ready assistance of others to have succeeded in bringing it into a satisfactory condition by the end of the year.

At the beginning of the year there were a very large number of both agricultural and mining holdings unsurveyed, and the rent-rolls and the office records generally were in great disorder. Of the mining titles there were about 400 in order, but all the others—agreements for leases, mining certificates, old mining licenses and "banchis," to the number of about 530—were unsurveyed, and often unlocated. When this work was taken in hand, numerous overlaps, as was to be expected, were disclosed, but before the end of the year Mr. Clayton could show 640 leases settled and surveyed, 100 agreements for leases surveyed and leases ready for issue, 200 mining certificates surveyed and leases ready and other difficult matters adjusted. In this work he was well seconded by the Surveyors, who dealt with 171 lots of mining land of a total area of 5,894 acres.

A great deal of settlement work was also of course involved, and Mr. Clayton writes in high terms of the officers who did it.

Much additional expense and annoyance resulted from the faulty work which had been done previously by a licensed surveyor, who "has in many cases been paid for work which now has to be done again without fees (as applicants cannot be asked to pay twice) owing to the blocks being unconnected, only demarcated instead of surveyed, or so wrong that they are quite useless (e.g., Mr. — on an application for 25 acres, surveyed 24 acres, and caused three overlaps, but drew money for the survey, and in another case surveyed the whole held under two agreements for mining leases for one of these two titles, nearly doubling the area of the agreement for mining lease which he so favoured)."

There are several important mining enterprises in Batang Padang, and it is fortunate that an officer of Mr. Clayton's energy and good sense was sent there to rescue it from the chaos which previously existed.

It was not possible to give the same amount of attention as was given to mining titles to the work of setting in order the agricultural titles, but a good deal of settlement, survey and demarcation work was got through, and many titles issued. There are 4,000 mukim extracts in the office awaiting issue.

In addition to all this, five new townships and three village sites were gazetted during the year, and a good deal of work—also much hindered by faulty work in previous years—was devoted to settling the lands included in them.

Land sales realised $4,348, principally derived from new town lots.

Survey fees realised $5,543, on an estimate of $500.

Eight thousand two hundred and forty-seven dollars of the total revenue reported above came from the small sub-Land office at Tanjong Malim. This was $1,523 more than was collected there in 1900. Land rents showed a decrease of $332, and mining rents an increase of $850. The largest increase shown was that of $1,937 for survey fees, the figures being $2,153 for 1901, as against $215 for the year before.

When I visited the sub-office in October last I was not at all favourably impressed, but it is now in the hands of a different Assistant Collector, and Mr. Clayton reports that it is rapidly being got into order.

KRIAN.

75. The revenue of the Krian district was $45,545 in 1901, as against $47,058 in 1900—a decrease of $1,513—in spite of the fact that land rents (there are no mining rents) increased from $35,861 in 1900, to $38,480 in 1901.

There was a considerable reduction in the fees received for registration of transfers, etc., and in both survey and demarcation fees. In survey fees alone, $2,064 less was received in 1901 than in the previous year.

The arrears of rent outstanding, which were considerable on the 1st January, 1901, were reduced during the year, and stood on the 1st January, 1902, at $3,715. Rent due on abandoned lands to the amount of $4,315 was written off.

The Collector accounts for the falling off in the receipts for demarcation fees, in part, by a reference to an order of the Resident, dated the 4th September, 1901, suspending the alienation of land within irrigation areas. It is to be feared that so much land has already been alienated within the Krian irrigation area that the heavy expenditure of Government money on the scheme will result to the benefit of sugar estate owners rather than to that of the native padi growers on whose account it was incurred.

The office was short-handed for the greater part of the year, and a similar state of things was recorded by my predecessor in his report for 1900. It seems a great pity that offices should be allowed to suffer in this way. It means that arrears of work cannot be reduced, and that complications are left on hand instead of being dealt with, and it must often mean that the collections fall short to an extent which outweighs any saving effected by not filling the vacancies.

SELAMA.

76. There is a small increase in the revenue of this district—from $3,917 in 1900 to $4,279 in 1901. An increase of $273 in the amount received as mining rents accounts for most of it. There are also increases of $42 and $70 under the items licenses for temporary occupation and demarcation fees, respectively.

One hundred and sixteen lots of a total area of 494 acres were demarcated.

Two hundred and forty entries in the mukim registers were made, but only 68 extracts were issued.

Padi and pinangs are reported to be doing well. The result of mining enterprise in the district is as yet a matter of doubt.

SELANGOR.

LAND OFFICES.

77. REVENUE.—The total collections of the Selangor Land offices (omitting the sums collected as forest revenue) amounted to $243,669 in 1901, as against $217,096 collected in 1900, which shows a satisfactory increase of $26,573. The estimate (always omitting the forest revenue) of $175,435, was exceeded by as much as $68,234.

78. RENTS.—Land rents—i.e., the rents of agricultural, town and village holdings—contributed $74,425 of this total, as against $71,318 collected in 1900; and mining rents produced $47,040, as against $44,358 received in the preceding year. The total receipts under these two items show an increase of $6,790 in favour of the year under report. As in Perak, the agricultural rents are not shown separately from those received from town and village lots.

79. PREMIA.—Premia to the amount of $87,111 was collected in 1901, as against $69,730 collected in 1900.

80. SURVEY AND DEMARCATION FEES.—$3,854 was collected in survey fees, and $3,976 in demarcation fees, as against amounts of $3,423 and $2,506, respectively, recorded for 1900.

81. REGISTRATION FEES.—The value of the stamps sold to pay registration fees with amounted in 1901 to $6,780, representing 2,801 transactions, whilst in 1900 the corresponding revenue was $6,884, as the result of 3,986 transactions.

MINES.

82. No forms for annual returns appear yet to have been prescribed for the Wardens of Mines, and the result is that statistics which one would like to have are not always available.

83. REVENUE.—The revenue collected by the Mines department in Selangor amounted to $8,572, as against $9,067 collected in 1900. This revenue appears to have consisted of fees for ore-buyers' and smelters' licenses, for the inspection of engines, and for the examination of engine drivers, and of fines in the Warden's court. The fees for the inspection of engines show an increase of $1,368, and the fines in the Warden's court a decrease of $2,071.

84. EXPENDITURE.—The expenditure is given as $28,303—about $6,000 more than was spent in 1900.

85. OUTPUT OF TIN.—The output of tin for 1901 was 302,598 pikuls, as against 269,490 pikuls obtained in 1900. About three-fifths of this total was exported as ore, and the Warden notes that the proportion of ore exported to smelted tin exported is increasing, in consequence, he suggests, of the difficulty which the Chinese smelter finds in competing with a rich company like the Straits Trading Company, which, to make matters worse, has a smaller export duty to pay than the other exporters, by virtue of a special arrangement with the Government.

86. DUTY.—The duty paid to revenue on the export of the year was \$2,706,949, as against \$2,695,829 paid in 1900, an increase for the year under report of \$11,120. The duty amounts roughly to an ad valorem tax of $13\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

87. LABOUR FORCE.—The labour force is estimated at 71,000 men for 1901, as against 68,000 in 1900. As there are over 52,000 acres of land in the State held under mining titles, which for the most part contain a condition for the employment of two men to each acre, it is obvious that even with every allowance made for labour-saving machinery the labour force falls far below the numbers required for the observance of such a condition. Even under the modified condition which requires only one man to be employed for each two acres, the titles to many hundreds of acres have been cancelled for non-employment of a sufficient number of coolies.

88. STATE OF INDUSTRY.—The Warden does not consider that 1901 was, on the whole, a prosperous year for Selangor mining. Shaft working has not been a success as a rule; the deep strata proving unreliable and the water overwhelming. Still, at Rasa and Rawang, in Ulu Selangor, there is a great deal of work being done. Serendah, which used to have a mining population of from 12,000 to 15,000, has now no more than 3,000.

89. WARDEN'S COURT.—There was a marked decrease in the number of cases in the Warden's court, but the figures are not given.

SURVEYS.

90. PROVISION, EXPENDITURE AND RECEIPTS.—The Revenue Surveys department was estimated to cost $140,867 in 1901. The sum actually expended was $94,408. The revenue, estimated at $7,240, amounted to $8,312. Of this, $7,875 was received in survey and demarcation fees and the balance of $437 on the sale of maps and plans.

91. FIELDWORK FOR LAND OFFICES.—The work done for the Land and Mines offices comprised the survey of 238 agricultural lots of a total area of 1,241 acres; 111 mining lots of a total area of 1,363 acres; 217 town and village lots of a total area of 17 acres; and the demarcation of 1,644 native holdings of a total area of 8,309 acres. Besides the above, there were 164 miles of connections, circuits, rivers, etc., surveyed.

92. OFFICE WORK.—In the office 3,006 title plans were prepared, charting was done on the State maps, and many miscellaneous services performed.

93. STAFF.—Mr. Shaw, the Superintendent of Revenue Surveys, says that he had great difficulty in obtaining qualified Assistant Draftsmen and that much overtime work had to be done in consequence. The field staff is said to be insufficient to cope with the demands for survey and demarcation, but, small as it is, to be capable of more work than can be drawn by the draftsmen in the office.

94. LICENSED SURVEYORS.—Three licensed surveyors worked intermittently during the year, but did not account for more than 934 acres finished and paid for. In addition to this, $4,076 was paid to them for connections.

95. EXTENT OF ALIENATION.—The total area of the lands now held under permanent title in the State is estimated at 52,039 acres of mining land and 155,150 acres of agricultural land.

KUALA LUMPUR.

96. Exclusive of forest revenue, the collections by the Kuala Lumpur office in 1901 amounted to $97,310, as against $100,643 collected in 1900. The estimate for 1901, after deducting the proportion expected from forest revenue, was $68,925. So the actual collections exceeded it by $28,385.

The expenditure was $25,161, as against $20,468 spent in 1900.

Land and mining rents combined accounted for less than one half of the total given above, which was swelled by $36,810 derived from land sales.

The rents collected were—

Land rents $18,552, as against $18,417 in 1900, and mining rents $24,652, as against $23,204 in 1900.

“Fees” also made a considerable addition to the total, the principal items being—

Preparation and registration of titles	...	...	...	$1,007
Registration of transfers, charges, etc.,	...	...	...	2,008
Survey	...	...	...	2,503
Fees of office	...	...	...	1,026

The land sales mentioned above comprised agricultural and town lands, on which $23,225 was realised, and mining lands, which brought in $13,585—of the first of these two sums $17,285 came from the sale of town lots in Kuala Lumpur.

Licenses for temporary occupation yielded the unusually large sum of $6,039, which was mainly the result of the discovery, made by one of the Assistant Land Officers, of a large colony of foreign Malays living as squatters within three miles of Kuala Lumpur. They had been settled there for four or five years, and had well cultivated gardens, and a headman of their own. They had no titles of any description, nor any objection to taking out titles and paying rent on the asking, for the land they occupied. Pending the issue of titles, they were required to take out licenses for temporary occupation and to pay up arrears at a low assessment. The Collector says that there are “a great quantity of people who hold on the same tenure in the mukim of Petaling, they will pay rent as soon as it is demanded, but it cannot be demanded until officers are available to inspect the land and assess the value of occupancy, for this reason it does not seem fair to prosecute for trespass. Another phase of the question is, that the appointment of another officer to the department, whether as Settlement Officer or Assistant, would mean increased revenue to the extent of a great many times the value of his salary, and also, which is the most important, proper control.” 1,661 such licenses for temporary occupation were issued in 1901.

More prospecting licenses than usual were taken out, which is regarded as an indication that people take more care than they used to take in selecting their mining land. The fact that the areas now taken up after selection are smaller than formerly, points in the same direction.

There is a great deal to be done yet in this district in the way of settling applications and getting the mukim registers brought up to date.

The Collector of Land Revenue in Kuala Lumpur is also Registrar of Titles for the whole State under the Registration of Titles Enactment. In that capacity, he records a large number of transactions in a return of which the arrangement might be improved. It appears that 256 new grants were issued in 1901, as against 242 in 1900, and that the total number of transactions were 1,865, which brought in by means of stamps $5,585, as against 2,566 transactions, producing $5,633, in 1900. This return, however, confuses the registrations carried out by the Collector of Land Revenue with those carried out by the Registrar of Titles, and I hope to have the statistics better arranged in future.

KLANG.

97. The report of the Collector for the Klang district contains, considering the importance of the interests involved, less useful information than any of the other Land office reports. The returns are incomplete, and inaccurate.

From the returns it appears that the revenue of the district for 1901 was $22,447, as against $26,559 collected in 1900. This falling off is largely accounted for by a decrease of $3,075 under “Premia.” The collections for the year fell short of the estimate by $953.

Land rents produced $18,243 as against $18,520 in 1900, and mining rents accounted for $876 as against $753 received in the preceding year. $1,925 due as land rents was written off, and the land on which it was due reverted to Government. There is more agricultural land alienated on permanent title in this district than in any other district in Selangor—viz., 48,270 acres, of which 761 were alienated during 1901.

The registration work done comprised 327 transactions, for which fees amounting to $254 were paid, as against $776 transactions in 1900, realising $452.

The Collector mentions that land in the vicinity of Port Swettenham sells at about $1,000 an acre.

The export of tin was 114 pikuls.

I was unfortunate enough to inspect the Klang office on a day when no European Land Officer was there, and I may have formed an erroneous impression of the work there; it seemed to me to be capable of a good deal of improvement.

KUALA LANGAT.

98. The revenue of Kuala Langat is the smallest of all the Selangor districts. Exclusive of forest revenue, as all the figures given for the districts are, the collections amounted to $9,552, as against $8,700 in 1900, a satisfactory increase.

The rents are entirely land rents, the mining ventures started in former days having been practically abandoned. The amount collected was $8,532, as against $7,334 in 1900.

There are a considerable number of Javanese in the district, and fresh immigrants keep coming in.

Coconuts are extensively cultivated, and a good deal of rubber has been planted: but the largest areas alienated are those devoted to gambier and pepper, the production of which has been considerably stimulated by a rise in the market prices.

A fair amount of demarcation work was done, but both demarcation and survey work are still greatly in arrears, and little settlement work was got through, the officer in charge of it having been transferred early in the year.

ULU LANGAT.

99. The large increase in mining in Ulu Langat has saved the revenue from a falling off. $37,795 was collected in 1901, as against $32,739 in 1900. The land rents were rather less than in the preceding year, but mining rents showed an increase of $1,553, and the sales of mining land amounted to $16,184, as against $10,811 in 1900—an increase of $5,373.

One hundred and fourteen new mining titles were registered, which is a larger number than is returned by any other office in the State, and it appears, from the Collector's report, that many other titles might have been issued if the office had been able to cope with the applications received. However, as the area of mining land alienated in this district is given at 11,103 acres, and the labour force at 6,000, a good deal of the land already taken up must be insufficiently worked. The Collector writes: "Again I can report that no one has made any money by mining during the year in this district, but nothing seems to discourage the miner."

A good deal of survey work was done on river and road traverses, but not much actually for the Land office. The mining survey work was performed by a licensed surveyor.

Two hundred and ninety-eight lots were settled, but there appears to be a difficulty about issuing the extracts which have been prepared, owing to the persons for whom they were intended having abandoned their holdings in large numbers.

KUALA SELANGOR.

100. There must be a mistake in the return from Kuala Selangor which puts the total area of alienated land in the district at 1,248 acres. There must be considerably more than that area held under extracts in the single mukim of Jeram, not to mention the native holdings in the other mukims and the European-owned estates.

The revenue collected shows a very small increase for 1901; the figures being $12,158 collected in 1901, as against $12,112 collected in 1900. Land rents, at $10,304, account for the greater part of the collections, and demarcation fees for $783 of the remainder.

Very satisfactory work has been done in connection with native holdings; the settlement work appears to be up to date, 546 lots of a total area of 3,097 acres were demarcated, and over 770 extracts were issued.

Three hundred and ten new applications for small holdings were received and approved during the year: 146 of these applications were for land for coconut planting in the Jeram mukim. The Collector writes that the padi planters had a successful season and that the happy proprietors of the old coconut groves at Jeram are making a good thing out of copra. Considerable damage to these, however, appears to have been done by encroachments of the sea.

ULU SELANGOR.

101. Mr. Hume, the Collector for Ulu Selangor, furnishes a useful and interesting report of the year's work in his district, the revenue of which shows the substantial increase of $28,063 since 1900; the figures being $64,404 for 1901, as against $36,341 in 1900.

Land and mining rents together only show a slight increase, but land sales produced $33,092, which is $26,892 more than was estimated for, and $25,150 more than was realised in the preceding year. A considerable demand for building lots in Rawang, and competition for mining land, principally in the mukims of Serendah and Rawang, were the main causes of the increase. Mining rents by themselves show a slight falling off, but land rents show an increase from $10,005 in 1900 to $11,712 in 1901.

Agriculture, however, is not in a flourishing condition. Mr. Hume writes: "Coffee is now almost a thing of the past in this district, which formerly must have had many thousand acres of coffee land under cultivation." There is not much padi in the district, and what there is at present is all dry padi. The Kuang irrigation scheme is, however, approaching completion, and will render about 500 acres available for the cultivation of wet padi.

Mining has boomed largely in the district, principally at Rawang, and the Collector notices the fact that the Malays take a considerable part in its development. Being at home in the country, they are in the best position for locating paying land, and endeavour to secure for themselves a share of the plunder by registering applications for agricultural holdings, which they take up merely with the view of selling them profitably to the Chinese miner. It is, of course, contrary to the policy of the Government to allow stanniferous land to be alienated on agricultural titles, but it is not an easy policy to carry out in a country which has been opened up so little as Ulu Selangor, and, after all, there seems to be no great harm in the practice as it exists in this district, whilst it undoubtedly conduces to the opening up of fresh land for the miners.

No estimate of the labour force in the district is given, but a considerable number of mining blocks were resumed during the year for failure to work the land properly. Mr. Hume thinks that many of these were taken up on speculation, with the view of subsequently selling them at a profit.

A good deal of settlement work was done during the year, but both this and demarcation work is badly in arrears: 276 lots, of a total area of 1,457 acres, were demarcated in 1901. The fees for this work amounted to $1,719—an increase of $1,118 over the receipts of the same account in 1900. There are no less than 840 approved applications waiting to be dealt with, and only two demarcators.

Six hundred and forty-seven acres of agricultural and mining lands were surveyed, besides work done on town boundaries, roads, and the extension of Rawang township. Of the above-mentioned 647 acres, only 126 acres were surveyed by the Government Surveyor, who was working for six months of the year in another district.

NEGRI SEMBILAN.

LAND OFFICES.

102. REVENUE.—Eliminating—as in the case of the other States—the amounts realised as forest revenue, the collections of the Negri Sembilan Land offices amounted in 1901 to $110,692, as against $104,041 received in 1900, a very moderate increase of $6,651. The estimate of $111,735 proved to be too sanguine a one.

103. RENTS.—$75,545 of this total revenue was derived from land and mining rents; the former producing $60,745 in 1901, as against $58,538 in 1900; and the latter accounting for $14,799 in 1901, as against $11,721 in 1900.

104. PREMIA.—The amount received as premia amounted to $9,915 in 1901, as against $9,747 in 1900; a very small total when compared with the $87,111 realised on the same account in Selangor.

105. SURVEY AND DEMARCATION FEES.—The receipts for survey and demarcation fees, on the other hand, were largely in excess of what was collected in Selangor, where the total was only $7,830, as against $16,090 in Negri Sembilan. Out of this, $10,330 was collected as survey fees, and the balance of $5,470 as demarcation fees. The receipts on both accounts for 1900 were $11,789.

106. REGISTRATION WORK.—The combined returns of the districts show that registration work involving 978 transactions, with a stamp value of $2,021, was done in 1901; as against 939 transactions, requiring $1,876 worth of stamps, in 1900.

107. LAND UNDER PERMANENT TITLE.—The fresh land alienated under permanent title during the year comprised 821 agricultural lots of a total area of 10,696 acres; 161 mining lots of a total area of 5,227 acres, and 42 town and village lots; and the total amount of land so held at present in Negri Sembilan is estimated at 8,059 agricultural lots of a total area of 112,607 acres; 649 mining lots of a total area of 18,862 acres, and 1,051 town and village lots.

MINES.

108. The Negri Sembilan Mines office, as far as I can understand, does not collect any revenue. The expenditure was $6,637 in 1901, as against $5,658 in 1900.

109. OUTPUT OF TIN.—The year's output of tin is given as 75,242 pikuls as against 72,251 pikuls in the preceding year.

110. VALUE.—The value of the 75,242 pikuls was $5,073,678, as against $5,338,424, which was the value of the smaller output in 1900. The difference is, of course, accounted for by the fact that the price of tin was lower during 1901 than during the year before.

111. DUTY.—The duty collected was $668,087, which is $24,431 less than was collected in 1900.

112. MINING PROSPECTS.—The Warden does not take a favourable view either of the results of last year's working or of the prospects of mining in Negri Sembilan in the future. He writes that several mines employing a large labour force lost heavily; that mining land is not plentiful in the State; and that, though a great deal of prospecting has been done in all the districts during the last four years, the results have been most disappointing.

113. LABOUR FORCE.—The labour force is estimated at 18,000 men, but is said to be decreasing, a large number of coolies having returned towards the end of the year to Selangor, from which State most of them came to Negri Sembilan in 1897-98.

114. GOLD PRODUCTION.—At Batu Bersawah, on the Muar river, 769 ozs. 6 dwts. of gold, valued at $25,000, were obtained from 2,259 tons of stone.

115. WARDEN'S COURT.—No information as to the work of the Warden's court is available.

SURVEYS.

116. PROVISION, EXPENDITURE AND RECEIPTS.—The provision for survey in the Estimates for 1901 was $72,970; of this sum $63,646 was expended. The estimated receipts were $17,250, and the actual collections were $17,221. Survey fees realised $10,530, and demarcation fees $5,470; the balance being made up by the sale of boundary stones. The expenditure included a sum of $12,000 for trigonometrical survey.

117. FIELD WORK FOR OFFICES.—The work done for the Land and Mines offices comprised the survey of 81 agricultural lots of a total area of 11,272 acres, 101 mining lots of a total area of 3,579 acres, and the demarcation of 4,721 native holdings of a total area of 11,464 acres.

377½ miles of circuits and connections were run, and 50½ miles of road traverses.

118. OFFICE WORK.—Plans were prepared for 121 mining leases, 86 grants, 92 town lots and 237 extracts from mukim registers. The Superintendent of Revenue Surveys writes that there is great difficulty in getting suitable men for the higher grade appointments in the office.

SEREMBAN.

119. The Land office revenue of the Seremban district for 1901 was $32,983, as against $32,191 collected in 1900, an increase of $792. The estimate for the year was $35,925, the actual collections falling short by $2,942.

The expenditure of the Land office was $16,790.

Land rents show a falling off, from $10,924 in 1900 to $9,464 in 1901; mining rents, on the contrary, have increased from $7,730 in 1900, to $9,417 in 1901: so that the two items together show a slight increase of $227 for the year under report.

Premia realised $5,824; $1,802 on grants, and $4,022 on mining leases. The total was about $1,000 higher than that for 1900.

Survey fees, amounting to $3,430, and demarcation fees, amounting to $542, both show fair increases.

Including the registration work done in Seremban by the Collector in his capacity of Registrar of Titles, there were 612 acts of registration, paid for in stamps worth $1,596. In 1900 there were 405 transactions and the sums collected amounted to $982.

The new titles registered during the year comprised 254 agricultural titles to a total area of 625 acres; 86 mining titles to a total area of 3,542 acres; and 20 town and village lots.

The Collector writes: "The settlement work in this district requires immediate attention, especially in the Lenggeng mukim, where there are some 3,000 acres of sawah and kampong land not yet brought on to the rent-rolls, though in many cases they have been occupied for several years."

In September, the mining application books, which had been closed for two years, were again opened to the public, and 92 applications for a total area of 3,755 acres were received before the end of the year, as well as 33 applications for prospecting licenses.

COAST DISTRICT.

120. The revenue of the Coast District Land office in 1901 was $32,983; in 1900 it was $32,191; the estimate for the year was $35,925; so there was an increase on the collections of the preceding year amounting to $792, and the actual fell short of the estimated revenue by nearly $3,000.

There is very little mining in the district, but the returns from land rents are larger than those for any other district in the State, and show a moderate increase; the figures being $16,804 for 1901 and $16,342 for 1900.

A considerable area of land was alienated during the year, as shown by the registration of 203 titles for agricultural holdings of a total area of 4,577 acres; but the greater part of this area must, I think, be included in holdings which have been for some time in occupation, hitherto without permanent titles.

The return of registration work consists of only one transaction of a stamp value of 50 cts. I have no explanation at present of what appears to be a curious occurrence.

Both under "survey fees," and under "premia on grants," increases of over $1,000 are shown.

The Collector reports a steady rise in the value of land at Port Dickson; lots which sold for $354 a lot on an average in 1901 fetched only $56 a lot in 1896.

The demarcation work was confined to the Linggi mukim, where 498 lots of a total area of 1,335 acres were disposed of: 771 lots in this mukim were settled, and there remains little to do in the mukim but to write up the register and issue the extracts. Altogether, 1,021 lots were demarcated.

A fair amount of survey work was done, 48 lots comprising an area of 5,378 acres being surveyed; including a large Chinese-owned tapioca estate of 4,230 acres at Sendaian.

The Lukut valley exported 14 catties of smelted tin, and 371 pikuls of tin-ore.

JELEBU.

121. The Jelebu revenue, though each of the other districts in the State collects at least three times as much, has the proud distinction of being collected in full. The Collector writes that no arrears whatever were carried forward to 1902. There was a moderate increase of $792 in the collections for the year: the figures being $7,357 for 1901, as against $6,884 for 1900.

Land rents were almost stationary at $1,600, but mining rents were $2,222, as against $1,573 in 1900. $1,091 were received as premia on mining leases.

Settlement work is in a very bad way in this district. Not one mukim register had been started when I was there towards the end of the year. The Collector writes on this subject: "When this work is taken in hand I am certain it will make a large increase in the land rents, as all the land held on approved applications paying rents is certain to be of larger area than that on which rent is being paid, besides all the encroachments on State land by the holders of other titles."

Thirty-eight lots of a total area of about 705 acres were demarcated.

There is a good deal of mining enterprise just now in Jelebu, but the output from the district is not given, as it is all weighed and taxed in Seremban. One hundred and fifty-six applications for mining lands of a total area of 2,066 acres were received, as to which the Collector writes "37 were cancelled," and I presume that the balance of 119 were approved.

The labour force employed in mining is put at 2,984 men, as against a return of 2,903 in 1900.

TAMPIN.

122. The collections for 1901 amounted to $23,306; as against $23,919 for the preceding year. The estimate of $21,925 was surpassed by $1,381.

Mining rents at present contribute under $300, and are a little below the collections for 1900, but land rents have increased from $15,467 in 1900 to $18,202 in the year under report.

Survey fees brought in $1,713 and demarcation fees $1,076.

Premia on grants produced $877.

Applications for 8,980 acres of agricultural land were received during the year, and some grants for comparatively large areas were issued to tapioca planters.

There were also a number of applications for mining land, but not much successful mining appears to have been achieved as yet.

A fair amount of settlement work was got through (1,081 lots), but for some months the district was without a Settlement Officer, and, the work getting behindhand, the demarcation work was also delayed.

Two hundred and forty-one mukim register extracts were issued.

Mr. Crum-Ewing, the Collector, writes: "I foresee considerable difficulty in inducing the people of Rembau to exchange their old and worthless titles for extracts, without legal compulsion. When it is remembered that these old titles do not show any boundaries, that one title is frequently held for several distinct lots of sawah or kampong or both, separated by a distance up to a mile or so, and that it is impossible to obtain any hint from the title as to whether it represents one lot or more, or any information to determine the position of such lots, it must appear most unfortunate that the taking out of extracts cannot be made compulsory." There are a large number of such old titles in other districts also of Negri Sembilan, and the holders seem to like them, and not to be amenable to suggestions that they should exchange them—a matter which is arranged in most other parts of the Federation without difficulty. I think that the holdings ought, nevertheless, to be demarcated and put on the mukim registers.

Towards the end of the year I heard five appeals at Tampin from orders of the Collector made under section 30 of the Land Enactment, and confirmed the orders made in each case.

KUALA PILAH.

123. The revenue for 1901 in the Kuala Pilah district fell short of the estimate by nearly $2,000, but was nearly $3,000 in excess of the amount collected in 1900. The figures for the two years were $23,633 for 1901 and $20,718 for 1900.

Land rents produced a large proportion of the total—viz., $14,601—and mining rents $2,570, both figures being fair improvements upon the figures of the preceding year.

Demarcation fees added another $3,450, as against $1,610 in 1900.

No premia are recorded as having been received.

Settlement and demarcation are both sadly behindhand in this district, which returns 734 acres of mining land, and 559 acres of agricultural land, as the area of lands held in the district under permanent title. The Collector estimates that there are in addition 58,000 acres of land lawfully occupied in the district, which have not been settled and measured.

Tin mining is carried on with some energy near Kuala Pilah, and the labour force has increased from 1,044 in 1900 to 3,608 in 1901. The 769 ozs. 6 dwts. of gold mentioned in paragraph 114 above comes from this district.

PAHANG.

LAND OFFICES.

124. REVENUE.—The revenue collected by the Pahang Land offices in 1901 (not counting the forest revenue) shows an increase of $7,826, when compared with the collections made in 1900; the figures being $45,164 for 1901, as against $37,338 for 1900. Compared with the estimate for the year, there is a surplus of $4,620.

125. RENTS.—The increase in rents, which produced $24,514 in 1901, as against $19,393 in 1900, accounts for $5,121 of this improvement. Land rents brought in $24,514 of the total, and mining rents the balance of $4,557.

126. PREMIA.—The receipts as premia which were $4,115 in 1901, as against $1,143 in the preceding year, contribute $2,972 towards the excess over the collections of 1900.

127. Survey and demarcation fees, though they produced considerably less than the sum estimated for them, came to about $1,000 more than was received from them in the year before.

128. REGISTRATION WORK.—The fees paid in stamps for registration work, on account of 453 transactions, came to $321, as against $390 received in 1900, in respect of 350 transactions.

129. EXTENT OF ALIENATION.—The extent of the land alienated on permanent title in Pahang is put at 80,366 acres of mining land, held in 214 lots, and 38,231 acres of agricultural land, held in 20,871 lots.

MINES.

130. REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE.—I have no information about the revenue and expenditure of the Mines office, except that, in reply to a telegram, I was informed that there was no separate revenue, and that the expenditure was included in that of the Senior Magistrate's office.

131. OUTPUT OF TIN.—The report of the Warden gives 22,084 pikuls of tin (tin ore being estimated at 68 per cent.) as the total export for 1901, but I see that the return for the Federated Malay States published in the Gazettes, compiled by the Warden of Mines, Negri Sembilan, gives 21,139 pikuls as the figure, and I think that the latter should be taken as the more correct, as I find a mistake in the arithmetic from Pahang, and considerable discrepancy between the total and the combined figures given for the different localities.

132. DUTY.—The Warden, Pahang, returns the duty collected at $120,082; and the return compiled in Negri Sembilan puts it at $119,622. The latter figure, however, is only given as approximate, and I daresay that the larger figure is correct. In 1900, the Warden, Pahang, says that the duty collected amounted to $91,403; which again is a higher figure than that given in the return compiled in Negri Sembilan.

133. GOLD PRODUCTION.—The output of gold was 23,946 ozs., the value of which, at £3 5s. an ounce, is put at $793,366.

The following table shows the output for the last six years:—

1896	21,300
1897	26,420
1898	22,200
1899	18,507
1900	17,048
1901	23,946

134. DUTY.—The duty paid upon the export for 1901, if I may rely upon a statement which is not very clear, was $38,436, as against $29,106 collected in 1900.

135. OLD CONCESSIONS.—There now remain only three of the many large concessions for gold mining granted by the Sultan before the British Protectorate—Raub, Punjom, and Selensing. The first has done, and is doing, well; Punjom has stopped milling, and is prospecting; and Selensing has shut down.

136. NEWER MINES.—Six mines have been opened since the Protectorate was established, and do a good deal of work between them.

137. FUTURE PROSPECTS.—The Warden considers that any decided opinions as to the future of gold reef mining in Pahang are premature, as no reef has yet been followed to 500 feet below the surface, and the overgrown state of the country makes prospecting very difficult.

138. ALLUVIAL GOLD.—The working of alluvial gold, which has hitherto been confined to natives, has lately been successfully undertaken by the Malaysian Company, and as the auriferous deposits are known to cover a very large tract of country, this new development may prove one of great importance to the country.

139. LABOUR FORCE.—The labour force engaged in mining at the date of the Census taken in March, 1901, was 5,790; of which 1,342 were employed in getting gold, and 4,448 in the tin workings.

SURVEYS.

140. PROVISION, EXPENDITURE AND RECEIPTS.—The provision made for the expenses of revenue survey in 1901 was $34,757; the total expenditure came to $24,649; so there was a saving of over $10,000. The fees for survey and demarcation were estimated to produce $5,450 and did actually produce $3,119.

141. FIELD WORK FOR LAND OFFICES.—The surveys and demarcation of holdings for the Land and Mines offices comprised the survey of 45 agricultural lots of a total area of 3,341 acres; 10 mining lots of a total area of 905 acres; 232 town and village lots; and the demarcation of 1,582 native holdings of a total area of 4,418 acres.

The surveys of agricultural lands required by the Land offices are well up to date. Surveys of mining lands have had to be postponed to a large extent, but a licensed surveyor has now been induced to undertake them. The work done by a licensed surveyor at Bentong has had to be rejected for inaccuracy. That of two other licensed surveyors is said to be satisfactory, so far as it has been checked.

A good deal of expense was incurred in connections, and, in the present preliminary state of the trigonometrical survey in Pahang, it is impossible to connect all the surveys, and even groups of isolated surveys must remain unlocated until the trigonometrical survey is more advanced and can be utilised without very great expense.

The circuiting and demarcation work is carried on under special disadvantages in Pahang, where there appear to be no Settlement Officers at all. Under such circumstances, I fear that much of the labour expended will be thrown away.

142. OFFICE WORK.—Plans were provided for 159 extracts, 83 mining certificates, 77 grants and 15 mining leases. Many tracings were also supplied and various miscellaneous services rendered to the Government.

The Pahang Survey Department has, I think, done a good year's work, under very considerable difficulties.

PEKAN.

143. The Pekan returns show a collection amounting to $6,219 for 1901, as against $5,637 in 1900—an increase of $582. The estimate was also exceeded by $99.

There are no "permanent" titles for mining land in the district and apparently the only revenue obtained from mining lands was $200 for prospecting licenses; the land rents produced $3,417, as against $2,979 in 1900.

The returns show that 337 titles for agricultural lands of a total area of 1,070 acres, and two titles for town or village lots, were issued.

Also that there were 88 registration transactions carried out, and fees collected therefor to the value of $17.

Licenses for temporary occupation account for the comparatively large amount of $1,539—an increase of $172 over the receipts on that account for the preceding year. In the absence of Surveyors and Settlement Officers no doubt such licenses must be largely used.

There are 9,490 acres in the district held under permanent title in 3,145 holdings, of which 337 holdings, of a total area of 1,070 acres, were registered in 1901.

The Land office work in this district must be particularly difficult, though the amount of revenue is small. It contains 28 mukims, and an area estimated at about 3,000 square miles; the penghulus, upon whom the Land Officer must depend to a great extent, are for the most part unable to read or write, and the means of communication between one part of the district and another are very primitive, and travelling laborious.

KUANTAN.

144. The elimination of the forest revenue makes a great deal of difference in many districts to the amount of the collections which we may claim for the "Lands and Mines," but in none does it make more difference than in the out-of-the-way district of Kuantan. The total collections amounted to $13,986, and all that is left to us after deducting the forest revenue is $2,616. This amount was $173 less than that realised in 1900, if the forest revenue of that year be also eliminated.

The land rents are returned at $1,236, and the mining rents at $216, the first figure is $46 more than the corresponding collection in 1900, and the second figure $171 below what was realised on mining rents in 1900.

Land sales also fell off; from $538 in 1900 to $280 in 1901.

No survey fees were received; the demarcation fees amounted to $219, as against $75 in 1900.

The registered titles in Kuantan district comprise nine titles for mining land of a total area of 928 acres; 519 titles for agricultural land of a total area of 2,153 acres; and 104 for town and village lots. The new holdings registered during 1901 were in respect of 69 agricultural lots of a total area of 128 acres, and three town lots.

There were a few applications during the year for mining land; three certificates were issued and surveys made of 500 acres in Blat for the mining syndicate of that name, but the leases were not ready for issue before the end of the year.

The total output of tin ore from Ulu Kuantan—i.e., from the mines of the Pahang Corporation and the Pahang Kebang—was 11,365 pikuls, whilst the Blat produced 849 pikuls: in each case about 180 pikuls more than the output for the preceding year.

TEMERLOH.

145. A rather decided falling off is shown by the returns from Temerloh, where the Land office revenue fell from $9,524 in 1900 to $7,956 in 1901. The decrease is accounted for by the fact that in 1900 $2,511 were collected "for registration of titles on Malay certificates under the old Pahang Land Regulations which were not paid for when issued." This collection was stopped by order of the Resident when only $9 had been collected; no doubt in the interests of justice, but to the detriment of the district revenue.

Only $18 was collected as mining rents; the land rents accounted for $5,997, as against $3,686 in 1900. No new lands at all were alienated during the year. The return of the total alienated areas, besides one mining lot of 18 acres for which the $18 just referred to is paid, shows 9,458 acres of agricultural land comprised in 8,332 holdings—not much over an acre to each lot—which is, I think, the smallest proportion recorded for any district in the Federation.

An increase of $321 in the fees paid for licenses for temporary occupation helped to reduce the deficit: as did also a fee of $500 for a license paid for by the Société des Etains de Kinta for the exclusive right of prospecting in the Triang watershed.

A comparatively large amount of registration work was done during the year—118 transactions, which brought in fees to the amount of $64, being carried out; as against 34 transactions, bringing in $17, in the preceding year.

An experiment in planting padi seed, obtained from Perak, appears not to have been a success. It was a very dry season, which may have had something to do with the result, but, under the conditions which existed, the Pahang seed did much better than that imported.

KUALA LIPIS.

146. The collections in the Kuala Lipis district show a satisfactory increase from $10,507 in 1900 to $13,042 in 1901. Mining rents remained almost at the figure of the preceding year, whilst land rents rose from $4,059 in 1900 to $5,395 in 1901.

Several items show rather considerable increases—such as licenses for temporary occupation, mining licenses, registration fees, survey and demarcation fees, and fees of office. There is also a sum of $1,440 credited as "exemption fee;" I do not understand what this refers to.

The large old rent-free concessions of Selensing and Punjom are in this district. The actual work done by the concessionaires has never amounted to much; and at present practically nothing is done, but no permanent titles for agricultural land can be issued in any part of the huge areas included in the concessions. A large number of licenses for temporary occupation are, however, issued year by year for wet padi land within the concessions. Unfortunately, the year under report was an exceptionally dry one; the crop was a complete failure in the Lipis, bad in the Jelai, and only moderate in the Tembeling and at Pulau Tawer. Under these circumstances, the Malays who were short of rice planted ladangs, and when these too failed through the drought, took out mining licenses, so the Collector, who writes an interesting report, accounts for the increases under both licenses for temporary occupation and mining licenses.

A good deal of demarcation work was done in the district, but the settlement work is not done, because there is nobody to do it, and it would seem that under such circumstances a good deal of the demarcators' trouble is likely to be useless.

RAUB.

147. Raub, which appears in 1901 for the first time as an independent land district, returns a revenue which is not far from being double that of the year before, and is actually larger than that returned by any other district in the State.

In 1900 $8,879 was collected, and in 1901 $15,330.

Mining rents increased from $1,213 in 1900 to $3,777 in 1901, at the expense of the receipts for mining licenses: 6 leases and 69 mining certificates, comprising a total area of nearly 1,630 acres, being issued during the year.

Land rents rose from $3,324 in 1900 to $3,910 in 1901, 264 holdings of a total area of 765 acres being alienated during the year. These new holdings are principally in the neighbourhood of Raub and Tras towns, where the growing mining population demands garden produce.

One hundred and seventy-one grants for town lots were also issued during the year; 120 of them to Towkay Loke Yiew at Bentong. Several sales of town lots were held, and brought in good prices at Tras and Bentong, accounting for $2,299 of the increased revenue. Even better results are expected from the sale of Raub town lots in 1902.

Such a substantial increase in the output of tin as is shown by the figures 17,077 pikuls exported in 1901, as against 5,169 pikuls exported in the preceding year, is evidence of much fresh mining enterprise in the district. The Warden of Mines notices that the Tras area, which was formerly held by Mr. L. J. Fraser, and abandoned by him in favour of the Sempam watershed, is now the centre of great mining activity, and produces more tin than any other part of the State, excepting the deep mines of the Pahang Corporation in Kuantan.

It is much to be regretted that no settlement work could be done during the year, for lack of a Settlement Officer to do it.

148. I attach as appendices the returns A to F for the Federation, and for each State, as I found them in use. They are the same as those sent in by the Collectors, but are not very satisfactory, and will, I hope, be replaced by other forms giving more information before the report for 1902 becomes due.

DESPATCH FROM THE RIGHT HONOURABLE THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE COLONIES.

(Circular.)

DOWNING STREET, 28th December, 1901.

SIR,

With reference to my Circular despatch of the 25th August, 1900, enclosing copies of a Memorandum issued by the Board of Agriculture relating to the importation into Great Britain of dogs brought from abroad, I have the honour to acquaint you that the Board have informed me that, in view of the fact that rabies, whilst very prevalent abroad, is believed to have been finally eradicated in the United Kingdom, they have considered it a favourable opportunity to issue regulations which, although not differing in character from those at present in force in so far as they require all dogs landed from abroad to undergo a period of quarantine, yet lay down more specific and stringent rules on the subject, and I accordingly transmit to you for such publication in the Colony under your Government as you may think desirable, copies of the Importation of Dogs Order of 1901 and of a Memorandum thereon. (12th December, 1901.)

2. The Board have observed that the new Order will not have full effect prior to the 15th March next, and that in the meantime the landing of dogs other than performing dogs intended to be kept in this country will be authorised on conditions substantially the same as those which have hitherto obtained.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient, humble Servant,

J. CHAMBERLAIN.

THE OFFICER ADMINISTERING THE
GOVERNMENT OF THE STRAITS SETTLEMENTS.

BOARD OF AGRICULTURE.

IMPORTATION OF DOGS ORDER OF 1901.

The Board of Agriculture desire to draw the attention of Local Authorities and of the public generally to the provisions of this Order, which regulates the landing in Great Britain of dogs brought from any country except Ireland, the Channel Islands, or the Isle of Man.

This Order, which consolidates and amends the Importation of Dogs Order of 1897 and the Orders amending it, takes effect from the 1st of January, 1902, except as to Article 2 which is particularly referred to hereafter. It will be observed that no imported dog is allowed to be landed in Great Britain without a licence of the Board of Agriculture obtained previous to landing.

Until the 15th March next, the landing of dogs will be authorized under substantially the same conditions as to detention and isolation as have hitherto obtained. After the 15th March the landing of dogs will be subject to Article 2 of the Order, which expressly provides that every imported dog must be detained and isolated at the expense of its owner upon premises in the occupation or under the control of a Veterinary Surgeon, which shall have been previously approved in writing by the Board for that purpose, for a period of six calendar months, during which period the dog may not be moved from the place of detention except as provided in that Article. This Article does not apply in the case of an imported dog which is intended to be exported from Great Britain within forty-eight hours, or of a performing dog, with regard to the detention and isolation of which special conditions will be imposed by the licence authorizing its landing.

CONDITIONS OF LICENCES.

The Board may insert in any licence granted by them authorizing the landing of an imported dog, such further conditions as they think necessary or desirable for prescribing and regulating the detention and isolation of the dog, upon the place of detention authorized in the licence, or for any of the purposes set forth in Article 3 of the Order.

Every dog which is brought to Great Britain from any other country except Ireland, the Channel Islands, or the Isle of Man, and which is not accompanied by a licence issued by the Board of Agriculture authorizing the landing of the dog in Great Britain must at all times while on board a vessel in any port in Great Britain be (a) secured to some part of the vessel by a collar and chain and muzzled with a wire cage muzzle so constructed as to render it impossible for such dog while wearing the same to bite any person or animal, but not so as to prevent such dog from breathing freely or lapping water; or (b) confined in an enclosed part of the vessel from which the dog cannot escape. And if any such dog die, or be lost from such a vessel, the person in charge of the dog is required forthwith to give notice of such death or loss to the Board.

The Memorandum A 160/a as to the Importation of Dogs into Great Britain from abroad, dated the 8th August, 1900, will cease to have effect when Article 2 of this Order comes into operation.

In order that as little inconvenience as possible may be caused in the enforcement of the Order, the Board trust that local authorities will assist them by taking steps to make its contents known as widely as possible in their districts.

Secretary.

ORDER OF THE BOARD OF AGRICULTURE.

(Dated 12th December, 1901.)

IMPORTATION OF DOGS ORDER OF 1901.

The Board of Agriculture, by virtue and in exercise of the powers in them vested under the Diseases of Animals Acts, 1894 and 1896, and of every other power enabling them in this behalf, do order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows:—

Restriction on Importation of Dogs.

1. An imported dog, that is to say, a dog brought to Great Britain from any other country, except Ireland, the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man, shall not be landed in Great Britain unless its landing is authorised by a licence of the Board previously obtained, and when landed it shall be subject to the provisions of this Order, and to the conditions inserted in any licence authorising its landing.

Detention and Isolation of Imported Dogs.

2. (i). An imported dog shall, for a period of six calendar months after its landing, be detained and isolated at the expense of its owner upon premises in the occupation, or under the control, of a Veterinary Surgeon, which shall have been previously approved in writing by the Board for that purpose, and such premises are in this Order referred to as the "place of detention."

(ii). During the said period the dog shall not be moved from the place of detention except to another place of detention or to a vessel for exportation, and in either case only with a licence of the Board authorising such movement.

(iii). This Article shall not apply to (a) an imported dog which is shewn to the satisfaction of the Board to be a bonâ fide performing dog; or (b) to an imported dog which is intended to be exported from Great Britain within forty-eight hours after its landing; but every such dog shall be subject to the other Articles of this Order.

(iv). This Article shall come into operation on the 15th day of March, 1902.

Conditions of Licence.

3. The Board may insert in any licence granted by them under this Order authorising the landing of an imported dog such conditions as they think necessary or desirable for the following purposes:

(i). For prescribing and regulating the detention and isolation of the dog so far as the same is not prescribed and regulated by this Order;

(ii). For prescribing the person by whom and the premises on which the dog shall be detained and isolated;

(iii). For regulating the movement of the dog to the place of detention, or vessel for exportation, and for prohibiting or regulating its movement during a period of six calendar months after its landing, or until its exportation, as the case may be;

(iv). For prescribing the confinement of the dog in a suitable hamper, crate, box, or other receptacle during the movement of the dog by railway, or along a highway or thoroughfare;

(v). For prescribing the mode of isolation of the dog;

(vi). For prescribing the muzzling of the dog;

(vii). For prescribing the notice to be given of the death or loss of the dog, or of any matter arising in connection with the movement, detention, or isolation of the dog and the persons by whom and to whom the notice is to be given; and (viii). For prescribing the production of a licence for inspection by an officer of the Board, or constable, or officer of Customs.

Notice of Detention in case of Illegal Landing.

4. (i). Where an imported dog has been landed in contravention of this Order or of any Order hereby revoked, the Board, or an Inspector of the Board, may give notice to the owner or person in charge of the dog requiring that, within a time specified in such notice, the dog shall be moved (a) to a vessel for exportation, or (b) to a place of detention for the purpose of detention and isolation in accordance with the provisions of such notice.

(ii). Such provisions may be inserted in the notice as the Board may think necessary or desirable for any of the purposes mentioned in the preceding Article.

(iii). A notice under this Article may, subject to any instructions issued by the Board, be given by an Inspector of the Local Authority.

(iv). If the owner or person in charge of the dog, after receipt of such notice, fails to move the dog as required by the notice, he shall be deemed guilty of an offence against the Act of 1894.

Withdrawal of Licence in cases of Default.

5. (i). If the owner or person in charge of an imported dog is convicted of an offence under this Order in relation to the dog, the Board, or an Inspector of the Board, may give notice to such owner or person in charge, requiring him to move the dog to a vessel for exportation within a time specified in such notice.

(ii). If the owner or person in charge of the dog, after receipt of such notice, fails to move the dog as required by the notice, he shall be deemed guilty of an offence against the Act of 1894.

Re-landing prohibited of Imported Dogs moved to Vessels for Exportation.

6. An imported dog which has been moved to a vessel for exportation in accordance with a licence or notice under this Order shall not be re-landed in Great Britain without a licence of the Board authorising such landing.

Seizure of Dogs in case of Default.

7. (i). If an imported dog is not detained and isolated as required by this Order or by the conditions or provisions of any licence or notice thereunder, an Inspector of the Board may seize the dog and thereupon the Board shall detain and isolate it at the place of detention specified in the licence or notice, or any other place of detention selected by them, in accordance with the requirements of this Order or the said conditions or provisions.

(ii). If the owner of the dog does not, within 10 days after the expiration of the period of detention specified in this Order or in the licence or notice, claim the said dog from the Board and pay to them their expenses of detaining and isolating the dog, the Board may destroy or otherwise dispose of the dog as they think expedient.

Proceedings under Customs Acts for Unlawful Landing.

8. (i). If any person lands or attempts to land a dog in contravention of this Order, he shall be liable, under and according to the Customs Acts, to the penalties imposed on persons importing or attempting to import goods the importation whereof is prohibited by or under the Customs Acts, without prejudice to any proceedings against him under the Act of 1894 for an offence against that Act.

(ii). The dog in respect whereof the offence is committed shall be forfeited under and according to the Customs Acts in like manner as goods the importation whereof is prohibited by or under the Customs Acts.

Detention of Dogs on Vessels in Port.

9. (i). Every dog to which this Article applies shall at all times while on board a vessel in any port in Great Britain be—

(a). Secured to some part of the vessel by a collar and chain and muzzled with a wire cage muzzle so constructed as to render it impossible for such dog while wearing the same to bite any person or animal, but not so as to prevent such dog from breathing freely or lapping water; or

(b). Confined in an enclosed part of the vessel from which the dog cannot escape.

(ii). If any dog to which this Article applies shall die, or be lost from a vessel, in any port in Great Britain, the person in charge of the dog shall forthwith give notice of such death or loss to the Board.

(iii). The provisions of this Article shall apply to every imported dog which is not accompanied by a licence issued by the Board authorizing the landing of such dog in Great Britain.

Section 43 (powers of police);

Section 44 (powers of inspectors);

Section 56 (unlawful landing).

and also for the purposes of all other sections of the said Act containing provisions relative to or consequent on the provisions of those sections and this Order, including such sections as relate to offences and legal proceedings.

12. (i). If a dog is landed in contravention of this Order, the owner and the charterer and the master of the vessel from which it is landed, and the owner of the dog, and the person for the time being in charge thereof, and the person causing, directing, or permitting the landing, and the person landing the same, and the consignee or other person receiving or keeping it knowing it to have been landed in contravention as aforesaid, shall, each according to and in respect of his own acts and default, be deemed guilty of an offence against the Act of 1894.

IMPORTATION OF DOGS INTO GREAT BRITAIN.

On and after the 1st day of January, 1902, the landing in Great Britain of dogs from abroad will only be permitted subject to the provisions of the Importation of Dogs Order of 1901, which in effect requires that after the 15th of March next every imported dog shall be detained and isolated at the expense of its owner upon premises in the occupation or under the control of a Veterinary Surgeon for a period of six calendar months from the date of landing.

Until the 15th of March next dogs will be allowed to land upon conditions substantially the same as at present.

The disease of Rabies having ceased to exist both in Great Britain and in Ireland, it has become of the utmost importance that the most effective steps should be taken to prevent its re-introduction from abroad, and the Board have felt it incumbent upon them, in the interests of dog owners in this country, to amend their regulations in the manner above described, and to warn persons who may propose to travel that after the above mentioned date the isolation and detention of dogs on the private premises of their owners can no longer be sanctioned.

By the Dogs (Landing from Ireland) Revocation Order of 1901, the restrictions on the movement of dogs between Ireland and Great Britain have been removed.

Secretary.

BOARD OF AGRICULTURE,

4, WHITEHALL PLACE,

LONDON, S.W.

December, 1901.

(Circular.)

DOWNING STREET, 11th March, 1902.

SIR,

With reference to my Circular despatch of the 28th of December last relative to the importation into Great Britain of dogs brought from abroad, I have the honour to transmit to you, for the information of your Government, a copy of a letter (1st March, 1902) from the Board of Agriculture enclosing a copy of a further notice which has been issued to the Press in this country on the subject, and calling attention to the desirability of giving wide publicity in the Colonies to their Order of the 12th of December, 1901, and Memorandum A 214/a, further copies of which are herewith transmitted.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient, humble Servant,

THE OFFICER ADMINISTERING THE

J. CHAMBERLAIN.

GOVERNMENT OF THE STRAITS SETTLEMENTS.

ENCLOSURE I.

BOARD OF AGRICULTURE,

4, WHITEHALL PLACE,

LONDON, S.W.,

1st March, 1902.

No. A. 6,663/1902.

SIR,

I am directed by the Board of Agriculture to advert to Mr. Graham's letter of the 31st December last acquainting the Board, in reply to their communication of the 12th December, that copies of the Importation of Dogs Order of 1901 and of the Memorandum thereon would be forwarded, as on previous occasions, to the various representatives of the Colonies in this Country and abroad, and I am to say that notwithstanding the wide publicity which has already been given to the requirements of the Order, the Board have issued to the Press a further notice, copies of which are enclosed, as a reminder to the public that the 15th inst. is the date upon which imported dogs will become subject to detention under quarantine for a period of six months at a Veterinary establishment approved for the purpose. By this means the Board hope to minimise the inconvenience which may be caused by the movement of dogs out of Great Britain by persons imperfectly acquainted with the regulations, but they think that a greater service might be rendered to those concerned if the Order and its requirements could be published more widely abroad, and this would appear to be specially desirable in the case of the Colonies.

I am, therefore, desirous to ask you to be so good as to move the Secretary of State to cause copies of the Press Notice, and of the Order and of the Memorandum A 214/a, to be again sent to the Governors of Colonies, The High Commissioner for Canada, and the Agents General and other colonial representatives to whom copies of the Order and the Memorandum have already been forwarded, with a request that steps may be taken to disseminate the information in their respective countries as widely as possible.

The Board feel it their duty to omit no step which may have the result of mitigating the effect of an Order, the enforcement of which, unfortunately, must at first be expected to interfere very considerably with the convenience of a section of the travelling public, and it is upon these grounds that they seek the co-operation and assistance of your Department and of the various Authorities representing the Colonies.

I am,

Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

T. H. ELLIOTT,

Secretary.

THE UNDER SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE COLONIES,

DOWNING STREET, S.W.

ENCLOSURE II.

IMPORTATION OF DOGS.

The Board of Agriculture again desire to draw the special attention of the public to the fact that after the 15th of March next the landing in Great Britain of dogs brought from any country except Ireland, the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man, will be subject to Article 2 of the Importation of Dogs Order of 1901, which expressly provides that every imported dog must be detained and isolated at the expense of its owner upon premises in the occupation or under the control of a Veterinary Surgeon, which shall have been previously approved in writing by the Board for that purpose, for a period of six calendar months, during which period the dog may not be moved from the place of detention except as provided in that Article. This Article does not apply in the case of an imported dog which is intended to be exported from Great Britain within forty-eight hours, or of a performing dog, with regard to the detention and isolation of which special conditions will be imposed by the licence authorising its landing.

The Memorandum A 160/a, as to the Importation of Dogs into Great Britain from abroad, dated the 8th August, 1900, will cease to have effect when Article 2 of this Order comes into operation.

Secretary.

H. C. BARNARD,
Acting Resident Engineer for Railways.

TAPING, 21st April, 1902

REPORT FOR THE RESIDENT-GENERAL, F.M.S., FROM THE PROTECTOR OF INDIAN LABOUR, F.M.S.

This department was formed on the 20th of June, 1901. A clerk was not appointed until October (Mr. Tiruchelvam), and in the month of November he resigned. Mr. Krishna Aiyer was then appointed on probation, and since then the work has been efficiently carried out.

2. June, July, August, and part of September were spent by the Protector of Labour in visiting works and districts where Tamils and Indian labourers were largely employed on Government works, estates and contracts.

In some instances, foresight, administrative capacity and attention to details were wanting in the treatment of the labourers. In all cases these matters have been put upon a more satisfactory basis.

After this tour of inspection, a system of tickets—showing each coolie's account monthly, to be handed to him with his pay—was suggested for coolies employed under overseers and on outlying works. It has been adopted with great benefit to the coolie and added considerably to his content.

3. In September, by the direction of the Resident-General, the Protector of Labour proceeded to India, with a view of seeing how the immigrants were treated on the steamers, the systems of recruiting followed, and acquiring information for the bettering of the position of the immigrant and increasing the supply.

4. This visit to India was of great value, as showing how the people it is sought to attract here have had their position improved under the Government of India during the last 25 years, and that attractions must be offered them to bring an adequate supply. It served to bring the Protector's knowledge of the coolie in his own home up to date.

5. The transport of the labourer under the Government contract with the British India Company leaves nothing to be desired, as seen on the s.s. Bulimba (26-9-01), the Company feeding the coolies in a liberal way and paying every attention to their cleanliness, health and comfort. The same was apparent on the Colombo-Tuticorin line, where the Protector was quite unknown.

At Negapatam, the Protector of Labour called upon Dr. Foston, and went over the Depôt with him. The Depôt grounds have an area (from memory) of 9 acres. The position is suitable, the buildings are adequate and the Depôt being available for canganny-recruited labourers, as well as indentured immigrants and free coolies, the kindness and attention of Dr. Foston to all that do use it will gradually extend the scope of its utility.

6. On the return of the Protector of Labour, under the instructions of the Resident-General, the information acquired was dealt with under six headings—

- (i.) Recruiting.
- (ii.) Labour Bureau.
- (iii.) Industrial education for immigrant children.
- (iv.) Inducements to attract permanent settlers.
- (v.) Transport of coolies from India by rail and steamer.
- (vi.) Diet scales for coolies in hospitals and on works.

7. Headings (i.) (ii.) and (v.) were dealt with in special reports forwarded during the year under review. The information collected under heading (vi.) was handed to the State Surgeon, Selangor, to be dealt with. Heading (iii.) is still under discussion with the Inspector of Schools, F.M.S., prior to submitting a definite scheme to the Resident-General. Heading (iv.) awaits further information and subsequent organisation.

8. FINANCE.—The amount spent on the department during the six months and ten days of its existence was $2,749.31—exclusive of the cost of the visit to India, which cost $792.30 inclusive of $167.67 expenditure on property for the F.M.S. Government (books of reference, maps, dictionaries and other small items). These purchases have already proved of value to the department, and it is hoped to be of use to employers of labour should the assistance of the department be sought.

9. The number of Indian immigrants in the Federated Malay States on the 31st of March (date of Census) was—

STATEMENT OF TAMIL POPULATION.

Name of State.	Population on date of Census.	Immigrants since Census.	Emigrants since Census.
Perak	31,026	10,284	8,107
Selangor	15,476	8,681	5,883
Negri Sembilan	5,107	1,434	381
Pahang	918	194	134
Increase since Census	6,088	Nil	Nil
Total population ...	58,615

10. It is to be noted that no returns are available of Indians arriving and leaving via Province Wellesley. It is probable that rather more arrive than depart by that route; therefore, there may be a small increase in the numbers shown in Perak.

Perak is the only State where there are indentured immigrants. There are no statements of sufficient accuracy available to furnish statements of details of Indian immigrants. There may be such statements in the Perak report.

11. There are a few points that it may be advantageous to deal with briefly here:—

- (i.) HOSPITALS.—It would be well that the cook in all the hospitals be a high caste man. He can then cook for all. Low caste men desiring beef, pork, etc., can obtain them from the Chinese cooks.
- (ii.) The vessels used for feeding the high and low caste patients should not be mixed. They can be kept in separate racks and a high caste man would see this was the case. The administration of these matters in India is most admirable and satisfactory to the patients.
- (iii.) Where labourers are employed on Government works, in all cases the plan that has worked satisfactorily on the Krian irrigation works should be followed: a reliable European put in charge of the coolies, who knows their language and is in sympathy with them and to whom they could look up and appeal.

12. It is apparent to all, who have looked into the question, that the ill-health of the coolie is during his acclimatisation period—his first year—in some instances induced by privation before leaving India. It is well worth the consideration of the Government if it would not be more to the advantage of the State and the employer, whether planter or Government, to extend the period of indenture, and issue rations to the coolie for the first year, on the same system as is done in Natal, Mauritius and the Seychelles. It would probably reduce the death-rate, rations not to be cut; but days absent to be added to the number of days the coolie had to work for employer. Stringent regulations would be necessary with regard to the sale of rations. After the first year, leave the labourer to provide for himself.

13. It is apparent that the indentured coolie employer will not be able to attract the coolie from Negapatam by an offer of sixteen cents of our dollar per day, which wage he can earn there daily, and with provisions much cheaper.

The shortness of the grain supply in India has lessened this result up to date, but as the grain supply tends to reach normal, although it will improve the physique of our immigrant, it will render him less willing to come here at the low exchange value of the dollar for rupees. Had it not been for the facilities and improved communication arranged by the Straits and Federated Malay States Governments this point of pressure would have been earlier heard of.

14. The canganny-recruited labour employers take all care of their labourers, women, children and sick, so much so, that in more than one instance it is a practice to send sick people to the sea to recruit their health. No complaints have reached this department from this class of labourer.

15. The indentured coolie employers appear to be alive to the fact that it is to their interest to accept the Enactment in a liberal spirit and a kindly way, and on all the estates I visited I found the regulations of the Enactment faithfully carried out. It must not be overlooked that the death-rate in Madras is forty in the mille, and, with it, to the interest of the professional recruiter to get anyone he possibly can passed; such a death-rate here, for a variety of reasons, does not appear to me an abnormal one, although no effort is wanting or will be to reduce it.

On some of the sugar estates visited, the water supply is indifferent and requires to be watched. On most, the floors of the houses should be raised at least two feet above the surrounding land and the houses stand on such raised land. As the people's own houses are so raised in India, this is a point of importance.

Having paid only one visit to the estates and works during the year under review, and in nearly every instance found willingness on the part of employers, or those regulating the affairs of the estate to carry out any improvements considered necessary, it does not appear desirable to particularise unfavourable exceptions since remedied.

During the worst part of the cholera outbreak on the Robana and Nova Scotia Estates, I thought it my duty to visit and inspect the cholera wards, and, sad as the results were, I am glad to be able to state that all that was possible was done and the medical officer in charge of the estates was unremitting in his care and attention to the cholera patients.

During the year 1902 it is to be desired that a form of return applicable to all classes of labourers be agreed on by the Residents and adopted, whereby this department may be in a position at any time to know the actual condition of the labourers and their well-being at a given period.

At present there are no regular returns and no continuous organised information is available. These returns should be obligatory on all employers (unless the State grants immunity for good reasons), particularly the employers of ten and upwards, mostly Government contractors, from whose labourers complaints are most frequent, whose payments to coolies are delayed for long periods, and whose affairs are sometimes the cause of enquiries in Court, for elucidating matters that require to be amended.

The Resident-General has already expressed the thanks of the F.M.S. and the community to Dr. Foston for the way he has sought for and obtained the assistance of Indian officials in abolishing sundry small abuses very vexatious to immigrants while they existed.

In conclusion, I would suggest that all Government officers directly connected with labour should be furnished on taking up their appointments with a copy of the Labour Code, and that it be stated to them that it is obligatory to them to work under the conditions drawn up by the Government for the control of all employers of labour.

EXTRACT FROM ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SECRETARY FOR CHINESE AFFAIRS FOR THE YEAR 1901.

2. Women and Girls' Protection Regulation, IV. of 1895.

THE FEDERAL HOME, OR PO LEUNG KUK.

The Federal Home for Women and Girls still continues to be a most valuable institution, it is now in immediate charge of an European, Mrs. Daly, who was appointed Matron in July last; the great drawback, however, is that she does not know Chinese and has to issue all her instructions through the Assistant Matron, who is Chinese and speaks some English. Mrs. Daly is, however, now trying to pick up some Chinese. The Home is regularly inspected by both the Secretary for Chinese Affairs and Assistant Secretary.

3. On the 31st December, 1900, there remained 75 inmates in the Home; throughout the year 153 were admitted, making a total of 228 inmates for the year. Out of this number 119 were released on security bond and 13 on informal security. Five women were sent from other States under warrant.

4. There were nine girls married according to Chinese custom from the Home during the year. I am glad to report that these Chinese marriages have proved in most cases very satisfactory.

5. Thirty-seven girls were discharged after enquiry, three have been sent to Singapore to the charge of the Protector of Chinese there. Two girls escaped from the Home and one died.

6. There were 184 women and girls discharged during the year, leaving 44 inmates on 31st December, 1901, I append a table showing the number of girls admitted to and discharged from the Home during the last four years.

Year.	Admitted.	Put under security bond.	Released on informal security.	Discharged after enquiry.	Returned to proper guardian.	Sent to China.	Sent to Protector of Chinese Singapore.	Married.	Absconded.	Died.	Total discharges.

TAIPING, 31st May, 1902.

H. C. BARNARD,
Acting Resident Engineer for Railways.

PUBLIC WORKS, F.M.S., 1901.

DIRECTOR'S REPORT.

1. The total expenditure on Public Works during the year 1901 was $3,792,737.40; and, exclusive of Federal charges, the cost of the establishment, paid locally, was $243,187.02, being 6.41 per cent. of the actual expenditure.

2. Taking each State separately, in Perak the expenditure was $1,521,434.38 and local cost of establishment was $87,281.63, or 5.73 per cent.; in Selangor the expenditure was $1,355,140.77 and the local cost of establishment $107,543.85, or 7.93 per cent.; in Negri Sembilan the expenditure was $749,468.10 and the local cost of establishment $30,218.33, or 4.03 per cent.; and in Pahang the expenditure was $166,694.15, and the local cost of establishment $18,143.21, or 10.88 per cent.; the relative cost of establishment to expenditure being greatest in Pahang and least in Negri Sembilan, where it was, unfortunately, much too low, the relative cost, as estimated for the current year, being 6.3 per cent.

3. Want of sufficient qualified supervision must injuriously affect either the quality or the quantity of the work done, and it is evidently better to reduce the quantity than to lower the quality; the removals and changes consequent on the federation of the department increased the difficulties of working with a small staff, both in Perak and Selangor, and in the latter State large sums were provided for works which it was found impossible to commence, and, in two instances, the original plans were abandoned and the work re-started on quite different lines; it is therefore reasonable to expect large unexpended balances at the close of the year.

4. The extension of cart roads in Perak met with a serious check during the year by the outbreak of cattle disease at Ulu Kurau and the excessive prices paid for earthwork on the Tanjong Malim-Sungkai section of the State Railway; the remetalling of the roads was well attended to, but the substitution of permanent for temporary bridges and culverts must be carried on at a much more rapid rate if permanent reduction in the cost of upkeep receives the attention it deserves.

5. In Selangor the deviation of the road at Sungei Besi has given much trouble and necessitates considerable unlooked-for expenditure, and the absence of judicious alignment and grading in the laying out of some of the older roads makes efficient upkeep practically impossible; that portion of the road between Kajang and Semenyih which has lately been reconstructed must not be taken as an example of what is required to effect improvements which will render efficient upkeep possible and bring its cost within reasonable limits; the position, prospects, and condition of the whole Selangor road system should be carefully considered before any further improvements in this line are authorised, but too much importance cannot be attached to the necessity for using the best metal, and the best metal only, for upkeep purposes.

6. In Negri Sembilan the roads have been laid out as a rule with a view to keeping the cost of earthwork as low as possible and without due regard to the requirements of the traffic or the cost of upkeep; the roads from Tampin to Kuala Pilah, from Kuala Pilah to Seremban, and from Seremban to Kuala Klawang have been of great advantage to the State. Two large deviations, one between Kuala Pilah and Seremban and the other between Seremban and Kuala Klawang, now in hand, will effect great improvement, and there are many places where these roads can be improved at little cost, by short deviations, or small additions to existing cuttings and embankments; the road from Seremban to the Selangor boundary near Beranang differs considerably from the roads mentioned, and it is to be hoped that the traffic over it will soon be carried by the railway now under construction. Much of the metal used for upkeep repairs is of inferior quality, even where good metal is readily obtainable: with the increased staff now provided this matter can be properly attended to.

7. In Pahang the upkeep, improvement and condition of the metalled cart roads received every consideration and, were sufficient funds available, would leave little to be desired; as matters stand, much has to be left undone that should have been done, and keeping the roads open for traffic is, during the heavy rains, a matter of some difficulty.

8. There were in Perak at the close of the year 472.2 miles of metalled cart road, 119.25 miles of unmetalled cart road, 493.75 miles of bridle road and 106.85 miles of paths upkeep, a total of 1,192.05 miles.

9. In Selangor there were 312.64 miles of metalled road, 51.56 miles of gravelled road, 52.71 miles of unmetalled cart road and 180.02 miles of bridle road, a total of 596.93 miles.

10. In Negri Sembilan there were 82 miles of metalled road, 93 miles of gravelled road, 79 miles of unmetalled road and 172.5 miles of bridle road, a total of 426.5 miles.

11. In Pahang 82.75 miles of metalled road, 21 miles of unmetalled road and 72.75 miles of bridle road, a total of 176 miles.

12. These roads may be divided into two principal classes: (a) those which greatly facilitate transport and (b) those whose principal duty is to facilitate communication; of the former class Perak has 472.20 miles, Selangor 364.20 miles, Negri Sembilan 175 miles and Pahang 82.75 miles, the total being 1,094.15 miles; of the latter class Perak has 719.85 miles, Selangor 232.73 miles, Negri Sembilan 251.5 miles and Pahang 93.25 miles, a total of 1,297.33 miles; the total length of all roads in the Federated Malay States, exclusive of those maintained by the Sanitary Board, Kuala Lumpur, being 2,391.48 miles.

13. The estimated total revenue of the State for 1901, was—

$16,482 per mile of cart roads class (a) in Perak
15,225	"	"	"	Selangor
8,562	"	"	"	Negri Sembilan
5,000	"	"	"	Pahang

14. The most important work in the Federated Malay States, the Krian irrigation works, which were ably carried on by Mr. Anderson and Mr. Thomas, form the subject of a separate report attached to that of the State Engineer, Perak.

15. The extension of the works for supplying Kuala Lumpur with water was abandoned, in favour of a scheme for a much larger additional supply at about the same cost.

16. The Klang and Port Swettenham Waterworks, commenced in 1900, were well advanced, the tunnel having been constructed prior to the advent of the present State Engineer, but no provision has been made for filtration at the head works and the supply of water appears rather limited.

17. The Kuang irrigation works were near completion and should be finished in time for the next planting season; much sickness amongst the coolies employed on this work is reported by the Engineer in charge.

18. Arrangements were made for the building of a new gaol at Seremban, the contract being let to a Taiping contractor of considerable experience.

19. The surveys in connection with the partial irrigation of, and water supply to, the delta between the Perak and Bernam rivers, show that a channel from the Sunkei must cross some twelve miles of swamp, a very costly matter; this swamp can be avoided by taking the Batang Padang as the source of supply, but that necessitates the crossing of the Bidor river, also an expensive matter; the advisability of undertaking either of these works depends upon the area and quality of the land to be benefited, and the area of State land which could be sold to meet the proposed expenditure, and rated to provide funds for upkeep; there is every probability that with a sufficient supply of fresh water in all seasons, this land would be as valuable as similar land in Krian and Province Wellesley.

20. Any serious attempt to harmonise the working of the department in the different States was impossible, the position and powers of the Director being still undecided; it is a matter requiring care and consideration and will probably take some time to effect, as it is not desirable to disturb any existing methods until the officers concerned are fully acquainted with the working of the improved methods by which they are to be replaced; there are, however, many things which can be placed on similar footing without delay, such as the employment for road making of most durable materials obtainable, and the provision of adequate protection from both sun and rain in all new buildings.

H. C. BARNARD,
Acting Resident Engineer for Railways.

Taiping, 31st May, 1902.

FEDERATED MALAY STATES.

FINANCIAL REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDING 31st DECEMBER, 1901,

BY

THE FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER, F.M.S.,

TO

THE RESIDENT-GENERAL, F.M.S.

RECEIPTS, PAYMENTS AND CASH BALANCES.

1. REVENUE.—The total revenue amounted to $17,541,507.23, being $2,300,271.23 more than was estimated, $1,931,698.63 in excess of the revenue of the previous twelve months, and $673,337.69 beyond double the sum received during the first year of the Federation, 1896.

2. EXPENDITURE.—The total expenditure was $17,273,158.57: $34,791.57 over the estimate, $4,544,226.82 in excess of the expenditure of the preceding year, and $76,861.71 beyond double the disbursements made during the first year of the Federation.

3. PERSONAL ACCOUNTS.—The transactions under personal accounts on both sides of the cash books represented $54,784,754.65, or $28,612,063.97 less than the figures of the year 1900, and $27,668,436.20 in excess of the sum dealt with in the first year of the Federation.

4. CASH BALANCES.—The cash balances in the Treasuries, and in the Chartered Banks on current Treasury Accounts, on 31st December, 1901, amounted to $951,585.98, or $888,740.91 less than was in hand at the beginning of the year.

5. TRANSACTIONS TABULATED.—I have in the following statement tabulated the figures dealt with in the four preceding paragraphs:—

6. STATE DETAILS.—The Government of each State has been furnished by me with a comprehensive Financial Report for the year 1901, and in those reports [appendices A (i.), A (ii.), A (iii.) and A (iv.)] I have entered into local details which will not appear in this summary and review of the financial transactions of the Federated Malay States.

REVENUE.

7. STATE CLASSIFICATION.—In the F.M.S. Financial Report for 1900, I adopted for purposes of comparison the classification which was followed in the Federal summary of the States Estimates. As, however, I have compiled the Financial Reports of the four States for the year 1901, it may be misleading and cause confusion if my review of the whole is based on a different classification. I therefore propose to work on the State classification for purposes of comparison in this report, though I will also forward with it statements based on the Federal classification.

8. COMPARISON WITH STATE ESTIMATES.—I submit [appendix A (v.)] an abstract of the revenue for the year, showing, under every principal head of the Estimates, the estimated and actual revenue of each State.

(ii.) STATES.—The revenue of each State compares with the Estimates as follows:—

State.	Estimated.	Actual.	Excess.
	$	$ c.	$ c.
Perak... ..	7,779,695	8,532,594 03	752,899 03
Selangor	5,552,970	6,544,796 27	991,826 27
Negri Sembilan	1,498,340	1,669,352 57	171,012 57
Pahang	410,231	794,764 36	384,533 36
Total ...	15,241,236	17,541,507 23 15,241,236 00	2,300,271 23
Excess Revenue ...	...	2,300,271 23

That Pahang shows so large an excess is due to $356,206.46, credited under Special Receipts, for interest debited up to 31st December, 1901, against the State expenditure, being subsequently remitted by Perak and Selangor; without this assistance, however, the Pahang revenue exceeded the estimate by $28,326.90, thus enabling Pahang to share honours with the three Western States in touching the highest point yet reached in the matter of revenue.

(iii.) PRINCIPAL HEADS OF ESTIMATES.—It is also satisfactory that, with only two exceptions, every principal head of revenue yielded an excess over the amount estimated as detailed in the subjoined summary:—

Head of Revenue.	Estimated.	Actual.	Difference.
			Excess.	Deficiency.

9. SUB-HEADS OF ESTIMATES.—Appendix A (vi.) affords detailed comparison of the estimated and actual revenue under every sub-head of the Estimates for each State, and I only propose to review in this report those points which call for more prominent notice.

10. LAND.—The Estimates were exceeded by $68,109.73, Negri Sembilan alone failing to reach expectations. $626,114.73 is not a large revenue to derive from rents, fees of registration, fees of survey, etc., on the agricultural, mining, and town lands of the four States.

(ii.) The monthly statements which were forwarded to me by Land Officers show that the total amount of quit-rents represented as collectable in the rent-rolls for town, country and mining lands on 1st January, 1901, was $531,459.76; this was increased to $592,205.81 by rents on titles issued during the year. Deducting the amount shown in these statements as actually collected, and rents on cancelled titles, the balance remaining still due to the States on 31st December last was $47,639.47, or 8.82 per cent. of the total sum represented as collectable in the rent-rolls of the year. Perak was responsible for arrears of $34,750.42; Selangor, $7,922.10; Negri Sembilan, $3,327.85; and Pahang, $1,639.10.

The Treasury accounts show that for quit-rents on town, country and mining lands the sum of $490,502.28 was received from the Land Offices against $492,318.63 reported in the statements sent to me by the Land Officers—a discrepancy which needs explanation. The difference is shown thus:—

(iii.) I furnish in appendix D further particulars for each State, and in appendix E a summary of the figures of the four States.

(iv.) I have bestowed a considerable amount of trouble during the past two years in establishing the system by which this information is gathered monthly from the Collectors and notified by me to the Residents and the Resident-General; and it is the only means I have of watching the progress of rent collection against the rent-rolls. I regret that there is a tendency on the part of the Residents to render the returns less useful by reducing them from monthly to quarterly statements. It will mean that instead of having nine or ten opportunities during the year of knowing progress in time to issue any instructions that may be necessary, they will only have three, and my scope of supervision will be reduced accordingly. I deprecate any such change, and I go further by stating that the trouble to Collectors in compiling one quarterly return will eventually be greater than the compiling of these monthly returns—the latter being done while memory is fresh, and while the risk of changes in staff is reduced. Correspondence R.-G.O. 4,105/01 illustrated to His Excellency the High Commissioner how useful and necessary are these monthly returns.

11. LAND SALES.—A new item in 1901, which was in former years shown as premia under land revenue, brought in $137,528.71 on an estimate of $65,975, due to the large excess in Selangor.

12. FOREST.—This source of income has been built up by transfers of items which in former years appeared under land revenue, and by increased taxation. $287,542.13 were realised on an estimate of $208,520, the excess being mainly due to licenses for timber and firewood, and to royalty on timber. In view of the interest which now centres on the development of the Forest Department, I summarise below the several sub-heads which constitute its income:—

13. CUSTOMS realised a large excess of $1,302,110.51 on an estimate of $7,899,194, again due to tin and opium.

(ii.) TIN.—A statement of the duty collected on the block tin and tin-ore exported from the Federated Malay States in 1900 and 1901 is given in appendix F of this report. The duty yielded $6,968,183.96 on an estimate of $5,713,934, and against $7,050,125.23 collected in the previous year. The quantity of smelted tin and tin-ore (latter reduced to 68 per cent. on gross weight) exported was 785,246 pikuls 83 katis, as against 713,059 pikuls 62 katis in 1900. The export of block tin and tin-ore increased in all the States, with the single exception of Negri Sembilan, where the quantity of tin-ore exported was less than in the previous year.

Thus, while the export of tin exceeded by 72,187 pikuls 21 katis the quantity sent out in the year 1900 and recorded the largest export in any year from the Federated Malay States, the duty received thereon by Government was $81,941.27 less than in the year 1900. This is explained by the sliding scale of duty (vide para. 12 (iv.) of F.M.S. Financial Report, 1900) operating adversely during the year by the average price of tin being lower, and by the fact (vide Enclosure N (ii.) of the States Financial Reports for 1901) that in months when the output largely exceeded the output of corresponding months in the preceding year the price of the metal was lower and the difference in the rate of duty consequently greatest. In an exceptionally prosperous year this result is perhaps not much felt, but it would be a serious matter under other conditions; the lesson is that the sliding scale cuts both ways. If the sliding scale of duty had been in force in Pahang there would have been a very great falling off in the duty instead of an increase of $28,678.30 as compared with the previous year.

The fluctuation in the price of the metal ranged from $62 to $75 per pikul, the average price and duty in each of the Western States during 1900 and 1901 comparing thus:—

State.	Average value per pikul.		Average duty per bhara.

Selangor	74 18	67 40	30 20	26 80
Negri Sembilan	74 19	67 49	28 84	26 66

(iii.) OPIUM.—The duty collected on opium amounted to $2,102,053.25, or $54,053.25 in excess of the Estimates: detailed thus:—

Perak	Estimated	$ 968,000.00	Actual	$1,044,960.00
Selangor... ..	"	840,000.00	"	789,946.25

Total		$2,048,000.00		$2,102,053.25
				2,048,000.00
			Excess ...	$ 54,053.25

The rate of duty and the conditions as regards Pahang (vide paras. 12 (viii.) and (ix.) of F.M.S. Financial Report, 1900), remained unchanged.

(iv.) GOLD.—Duty on gold disappointed expectations. Perak collected $294.33 on a small estimate of $75, but Pahang only realised $38,435.76 on a $50,000 estimate. Compared with the year 1900, Pahang shows an increase of $9,329.11 in duty and of 6,900 ounces in weight of the gold exported (vide para. 3 (iv.) of appendix A (iv.).

14. JUDICIAL.—Courts revenue exceeded by $55,503.96 a liberal estimate of $122,410—all the States collecting more than was expected and the increase being proportionally equal on the criminal and civil sides.

A distinctive adhesive stamp has been finally decided on for judicial revenue, and it is hoped that it will be introduced during the current year.

15. REIMBURSEMENTS contributed a comparatively small nett increase, but under several sub-heads the differences were great.

(ii.) Federal contribution to Perak for supervision of Province Wellesley section of the railway brought in $9,029.49 against a "nil" estimate, the item being wrongly estimated under Railway Receipts.

(iii.) The abolition of the Railway Superannuation Fund brought in from Perak a refund of Government contributions to the extent of $22,401.72 on a "nil" estimate.

(iv.) The chief excesses over estimates were—

	Estimated.	Actual.
Prison Labour	$12,850	$18,718.36
Hospital Revenue	12,825	16,749.37
Printing Office	7,250	11,093.94

Siam Refund Account Boundary Commission	...	2,090.84
Punjom Mining Concession Refund Account Native Chiefs	...	4,048.93
Miscellaneous	4,295	25,086.25

(v.) Sale of Public Works stores brought in only $45,968.12 on an estimate of $68,975. Selangor being $13,838.19 and Negri Sembilan $9,831.59 short of the estimate.

(vi.) Perak estimated to receive $37,000 from Selangor and Negri Sembilan as contributions towards the trigonometrical survey expenses, but received $14,317.93

(vii.) The Factory revenue was only $12,470.32 on a $21,900 estimate.

(viii.) Other chief items wherein estimates were not realised were:—

	Estimated.	Actual.
Federal Contribution Malay Leper Establishment	$5,000
Chinese Immigrant Office Charges...	4,000
Printing Contribution, Negri Sembilan and Pahang	13,000	10,408.06
Contribution to District Surgeon's salary, Raub	3,000

16. INTEREST realised $252,861.44 on an estimate of $158,040—the excess being due to larger daily balances on current account at the Banks. Selangor surplus funds in the hands of the Crown Agents also brought in interest.

17. POSTS, TELEGRAPHS AND STAMPS.—The revenue was $202,121.42 on an estimate of $197,695.

(ii.) Sale of postage and revenue stamps realised $168,254.60 on an estimate of $170,425; the sales of the previous twelve months amounting to $160,383.19. I regret that no remedial measures have yet been taken to rectify the evils recorded in para. 18 (i.) of the F.M.S. Financial Report for 1900.

(iii.) Selangor and Pahang have not yet fallen into line with Perak and Negri Sembilan, and in consequence the uniformity in accounts advocated in para. 19 of the F.M.S. Financial Report for 1900 has not been established.

18. STATE RAILWAYS.—Railway earnings amounted to $2,189,914.47 on an estimate of $2,027,000. The excess being Perak $12,740.37 and Selangor $162,174.10. Fares and freight were raised during the year, and more traffic is reported. The 1901 earnings included $45,842.84 (Perak $28,954.52, Selangor $16,888.32) for freight on railway construction materials carried over the open line during the year, thus swelling the revenue of the open line at the expense of construction.

19. MISCELLANEOUS AND FEDERAL RECEIPTS included the Federal Revenue of two years, 1900 and 1901, though estimated only for one year.

20. MUNICIPAL revenue was $465,434.93 on $478,280 estimated.

(ii.) Market rents brought in only $62,331.44 of the $126,490 estimated. This was due to the market rights being very considerably curtailed in the hope of reducing the cost of food—a hope which was not realised.

(iii.) Taxes on vehicles produced $34,078 beyond the estimate in consequence of an unforeseen increase in the number of vehicles in Perak.

(iv.) House assessment, fire and water rates yielded $130,570.23 on an estimate of $123,570, the increase being chiefly in Perak. In Selangor fire and water rates fell short of the estimate by $5,397.08.

(v.) The statements which have been sent to me monthly by the Sanitary Boards in Perak, Selangor, Negri Sembilan and Pahang show that the total amount borne on the assessment rolls on 1st January, 1901, was $125,723.65. This sum was increased by $1,178.40 on account of assessment subsequently added in the rent-rolls of Kuala Kangsar, Kuala Lumpur, Kuala Kubu, Seremban, Kuala Pilah and Tampin. According to the Sanitary Board statements the actual amount collected during the year was $119,700.12, the balance remaining uncollected at the end of December being $7,130.05, a great portion of which is irrecoverable owing to houses being vacant and demolished, especially in Negri Sembilan.

The figures in the tabulated statement below, and in appendix G, summarise the years' working; assessment is not levied in Upper Perak, Selama and Temerloh:—

State.	Shown as due in assessment rolls plus supplementary amounts.	Collections shown in Sanitary Board returns.	Actual amount received by Treasuries.	Difference to be explained.
	$ c.	$ c.	$ c.	$ c.
Perak	60,931 96	58,832 48	61,899 80	3,067 32

Nett difference	...	...	7,130 05

These returns would be more satisfactory if the Collectors' returns agreed more nearly than they do with the amount paid into the Treasury. In Negri Sembilan the two amounts do correspond; in Pahang there is a small difference; but in Perak and Selangor the difference is very considerable.

The remarks in para. 10 (iv.) of this report regarding the land rent-rolls are applicable here to the municipal assessment rolls, except that what is only contemplated in the former has been ordered in respect to municipal assessment statements. I deplore this the more because the information is, I believe, actually compiled monthly by the Sanitary Boards in Perak, and I consider it of great importance to closely watch progress through these monthly statements.

21. SPECIAL RECEIPTS represent the amount due by Pahang, as interest up to 31st December, 1901, on loans received from Perak and Selangor. Year by year as the interest became due it was charged against Pahang expenditure and placed to debit of the State in a "Personal Account," and there held to credit of Perak and Selangor. Recently Perak and Selangor consented to remit the interest thus due, and it became necessary to credit Pahang with the $356,206.46 which had from time to time been charged against the State expenditure.

REVENUE, 1900 AND 1901.

22. REVENUE, 1900 AND 1901.—F.M.S. revenue for 1901 exceeded that of the previous year by $1,931,698.63. I present an abstract [appendix G (ii.)] comparing the revenue of the two years, on the States classification, under each principal head of the Estimates, and also an abstract [appendix G (iv.)] which affords more detailed comparison under every sub-head of the Estimates.

23. STATES.—The progress in each State in the two years was as below:—

24. LAND in 1900 included premia on grants and leases which in 1901 is classed separately under land sales, and also licenses for jungle produce which in 1901 appear under Forests. For comparison these three heads for the two years should therefore be taken together—then the revenue for 1900 would be Lands, $773,862.64 + Forests, $182,972.32 = $955,834.96, and for 1901 Lands, $626,114.73 + Land Sales, $137,528.71 + Forests, $287,542.13 = $1,051,185.57, or an increase of $95,350.61.

25. FORESTS.—For the reason given in para. 12 of this report I have prepared the following summary of forest revenue from the main heads of land, forest, licenses and customs:—

(ii.) The getah industry was restricted practically to Pahang, and the Pahang getah farm was not renewed.

26. LICENSES gave an increase of $1,021,224.02 through the reletting of revenue farms, principally in Perak, at advanced rates. The Pahang decrease is due to the getah farm being abolished.

27. CUSTOMS produced a very small increase, opium duty and gold royalty assisting to balance the $81,863.90 decrease on tin duty (vide para. 13 of this report).

28. JUDICIAL.—Courts business increased in about equal proportion on the criminal and civil sides, and the increase was common to all the States.

29. INTEREST.—Fixed deposits and loans were not so large throughout the year, and the item ($122,415.67) which appeared in the Perak 1900 accounts for adjustment of exchange was not represented in the 1901 accounts.

30. STATE RAILWAYS.—The increase of $184,234.49 is due to increased traffic and rates, an increase of a fraction over 9 per cent. on the earnings in 1900.

31. MUNICIPAL.—Market rents fell $2,342.70 below half the $129,348.29 received in 1900—the reason being the curtailment of market privileges in the hope of reducing the price of food.

(ii.) Taxes on vehicles realised $37,030.85 beyond the $94,028.15 received in the previous year.

(iii.) House assessment, lighting, fire and water rates advanced by $16,426.65.

32. MISCELLANEOUS.—The total revenue in 1901 should be regarded as $37,968.73, for the Perak and Negri Sembilan share of Federal revenue should appear under Federal revenue.

33. FEDERAL REVENUE.—To the Selangor and Pahang share of $97,476.29 should be added $137,776.34 for Perak and Negri Sembilan share incorrectly estimated under Miscellaneous Receipts—thus bringing the total Federal revenue credited in 1901 up to $235,252.63 for the years 1900 and 1901. Nothing was credited in 1900 because the Federal revenue for 1899 and previous years was not shown in the State accounts, only the nett cost of Federal administration being apportioned in those years to the States.

FEDERAL CLASSIFICATION OF REVENUE.

34. FEDERAL CLASSIFICATION OF REVENUE.—For purposes of reference in connection with the F.M.S. Financial Report for the year 1900, I forward herewith statements [appendices B, C, G (iii.) and G (v.)] which will afford comparison of the actual and estimated revenue, and of the figures of the two years 1900 and 1901.

EXPENDITURE.

35. EXPENDITURE ESTIMATED AND ACTUAL.—The F.M.S. expenditure in 1901 amounted to $17,273,158.57, being $268,348.66 less than the revenue, but $34,791.57 in excess of the Estimates, the figures for each State being as follows:—

36. PERSONAL EMOLUMENTS were charged with the extra exchange compensation granted during the year, and, notwithstanding that the Estimates were not framed for that purpose, the savings on estimated salaries were sufficient, after paying for the extra exchange compensation, to leave an unexpended balance of $57,554.49.

37. FEDERAL CHARGES exceeded the Estimates because they were only framed to bear the Federal expenditure of the year 1900, whereas they include also the 1901 expenditure,

38. WORKS AND BUILDINGS SPECIAL only absorbed $934,494.46 of the $1,499,665 provided in the Estimates. Full details are given in the State Financial Reports, 1901 [appendices A (i.), A (iii.), A (iv), para. 6 (vii.), and appendix A (ii.), para. 6 (vi.)] so, I will only here summarise the position—

39. ROADS, STREETS AND BRIDGES, SPECIAL.—Although the Estimates provided $1,151,767, only $885,288.35 were expended. Full details are given in the State Financial

In para. 7 and its sub-sections of appendices A (i.), and A (ii.) I have dwelt somewhat fully on the expenditure under each of the heads of railway services.

42. SPECIAL EXPENDITURE was not estimated for in any of the States; the large sum of $519,981.08 charged to this account includes $331,363.08 for interest written off by Perak and Selangor on loans due by Pahang.

In appendix K (i.) full details are given, the principal items being—

Refund of Revenue	...	...	...	...	$10,548.21
Rice Allowance (Selangor)	...	...	...	...	19,991.92

Steam Launch (Negri Sembilan) balance	...	...	...	...	10,000.00

Many of the items debited to Special Expenditure [vide para. 6 (ix.) of appendices A (i.), A (ii.), A (iii.), and A (iv.)] would have been more appropriately classified under other headings.

43. LOANS.—This item was incorrectly inserted in the Estimates by the Acting Resident, Negri Sembilan, as an expenditure of the State, the loan was received and entered as a personal account, and the repayment should have been on personal account.

EXPENDITURE, 1900 AND 1901.

44. EXPENDITURE, 1900 AND 1901.—The expenditure 1901 exceeded that of the previous year by the large sum of $4,544,226.82. I submit an abstract, appendix K (ii.), comparing the expenditure of the two years under every principal head of the Estimates. The disbursements in each State were:—

the chief increases occurring under Federal Charges, (explained by the expenditure of two years being included in 1901 accounts), Works and Roads, Railways Perak and Selangor, and Special Expenditure.

COST OF ADMINISTRATION.

45. PERCENTAGE OF REVENUE.—In appendix J will be found a detailed statement of the percentage which the expenditure on establishments, exchange compensation, and other allowances bears to the revenue of each State, and to the revenue of the four States combined, during the year. The expenditure has increased in consequence of (a) the grant of exchange compensation on the full salaries of officers entitled thereto, (b) bonus to the regular clerical service, (c) and increases in staff, but through the rise in revenue the percentages in Perak work out to very nearly the same figures as in 1900, in Selangor there is a decided rise when railway items are included, in Negri Sembilan the percentages are less than in the previous year, and in Pahang there is a marked advance on the figures of 1900 if calculated, as it should be, on the legitimate revenue of the year under review. The nett result is that the total expenditure of the four States on this account in 1901 is 17.63 per cent. of the revenue against 16.67 per cent. in the preceding year.

PERSONAL ACCOUNTS.

46. PERSONAL ACCOUNTS.—The payments in the year 1901 amounted to $27,970,922.11 under the many accounts which are embraced in the personal accounts. I referred somewhat fully in para. 62 of the F.M.S. Financial Report for 1900 to the heavy work which these accounts mean to the Treasuries and Audit Offices, and to the necessity for close watchfulness over them; but experience during the past year has convinced me that the work of the Treasuries and Audit Offices has increased to such a great extent of late years that it is quite impossible to give these accounts the same attention that was possible formerly. This is especially marked in the Audit Office where the strengthening of the staff has not nearly kept pace with the rapid growth in the work of audit. I am of opinion that in the matter of such accounts as Sundry Deposits, Court Deposits, Land Office Deposits, and Survey Deposits the time has come for the audit supervision to be of a general description, sufficient only to protect the interests of Government by seeing that all the money received by collectors is paid into the Treasury, and that the total amount paid out by the Treasury under any of these accounts does not exceed the amount held at credit of such account in the Treasury. This suggestion is in harmony with H.E. the High Commissioner's opinion that the audit supervision of the departmental accounts of collectors of revenue should be relaxed in favour of requiring Heads of Departments to give more detailed attention to their accounts. I do not at present share those views in regard to revenue collections, but I do think that the lines which can be drawn round such personal accounts as I have named are sufficient safeguard to justify the application of my suggestion to them.

ASSETS AND LIABILITIES.

47. EXCESS ASSETS.—Assets of the Federated Malay States, in excess of liabilities, grew during the year from $4,955,790.92 on 1st January to $5,296,425.21 on 31st December. The balances of all the States, except Perak, improved.

48. STATES SUMMARY.—I present the following tabulated statement which briefly explains the change in the financial position of each State during the twelve months :—

State.	1st January, 1901.		1st January, 1902.
	$	c.	$	c.

49. STATES DETAILED.—I further submit a summary (appendix L), compiled from the assets and liabilities statements of the four States, giving full details in respect to each State.

50. CASH BALANCES.—The current cash balances in Treasuries and Banks, and cash on fixed deposit with the Banks rose from $3,876,216.89 at beginning of January to $4,126,585.98 on close of the year.

51. HINTS IN COMPARISON.—The remission of interest ($356,206.46) by Perak and Selangor lightened Pahang liabilities, and removed from Selangor assets $331,363.08, which were not realisable.

52. DISCREPANCIES DISAPPEAR.—I have at last succeeded in getting the assets and liabilities of each State to agree one with the other—thus removing the objectionable discrepancies which have hitherto existed—(para. 51 of F.M.S. Financial Report for the year 1900).

TREASURY TRANSACTIONS OF PREVIOUS YEARS.

53. STATES.—I furnish herewith a statement (appendix M) showing the revenue and expenditure, the receipts and payments on personal accounts, and the Treasury and current bank balances of each State for the years 1896 to 1901.

54. PRINCIPAL HEADS OF ESTIMATES.—I also attach a statement (appendix N) in which the figures of appendix M are, as regards revenue and expenditure, arranged on State classification to show the progress, year by year, under each principal head of the annual Estimates.

55. HINTS IN COMPARISON.—In making the comparisons afforded by the appendices referred to in the two preceding paragraphs, my remarks in para. 15 of the F.M.S. Financial Report for 1900 should be borne in mind. It should also be remembered that the Pahang revenue for 1901 is subject to the remarks made in para. 8 (ii.) of this report.

FEDERAL REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE.

56. REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE.—On the 26th ultimo I reported (vide appendix O) on the Federal revenue and expenditure for the year 1901. The revenue was $157,860.21 and expenditure $809,983.22, and the accounts were closed in time to admit of these amounts being included for the first time in the State accounts for the year—it not having been possible hitherto to incorporate the Federal accounts of each year in the State accounts of the corresponding year.

57. DETAILS.—I need not dwell on details here as they are contained in appendix O, to which I invite attention.

SAVINGS BANKS.

58. WORK IN 1901.—The transactions of the Perak Savings Bank during the year 1901, and the position on 31st December, 1901, and those of the Selangor Savings Bank for period 1st June, 1901, to 30th April, 1902, are given below :—

	Perak.	Selangor.

Working expenses during the year ...	$1,360.43
Nett profit made by Bank in the year ...	$543.34

59. WANT OF UNIFORMITY.—As the suggestion offered by me last year to close the Selangor Savings Bank Accounts on 31st December, as in Perak, has not been acted on, I regret that a satisfactory comparison cannot be made.

60. REVENUE AUDIT.—Revenue audit work in Perak and Selangor was considerably in arrears at close of the year; in Negri Sembilan it was well up to date; and in Pahang a very marked improvement occurred during the last four months of the year. Now that the State Auditors have been relieved of the State financial correspondence, and of responsibility in respect to the monthly Treasury Accounts, there can be no excuse for Perak, Selangor and Pahang not attaining the excellent standard set by the Negri Sembilan State Auditor.

61. I am of opinion that the time has arrived when the audit staffs of the Railway and Posts and Telegraph Departments should form a portion of the Financial Department of the F.M.S., thus removing them from departmental influences and encouraging more independent criticism than is likely while they are directly subordinate to these departments.

62. TREASURIES.—I invite attention to paras. 15 and 16 of [appendix A (i.), paras. 14, 15 and 16 of appendix A (ii.), paras. 13 (i.) and 13 (ii.) of appendix A (iii.), and paras. 13, 14 and 15 of appendix A (iv.)] on the subject of Treasury work during the year. When Treasurers and Heads of Departments are taught to realise and satisfactorily discharge their responsibility in enforcing and observing the General Orders in respect to every transaction, a much-needed improvement will have been effected.

63. TREASURY SURVEYS.—The requisite number of Treasury surprise surveys were held under G.O. 292 wherever it was possible to hold them—the exceptions being Selama, Upper Perak, Sepang and Bernam, and the Pahang Treasuries.

64. DEFALCATIONS.—(i.) During the year I received reports of defalcations in the Sanitary Board accounts at Gopeng, in the Sanitary Board accounts at Batu Gajah, and in the Court accounts at Seremban. In the Gopeng case the Sanitary Inspector was convicted in respect of the sum of $318.19 and sentenced to imprisonment; the money was recovered from his sureties.

In the Batu Gajah case the Chief Clerk of the Sanitary Board Office absconded with $547.75 and, so far as I know, has not been arrested. It has been ordered that $342.75 of the money is to be recovered from the Chairman, the Secretary, and the Gopeng Sanitary Inspector.

In the Seremban case the Chief Clerk was convicted in respect of the sum of $20, the money being recovered.

(ii.) $198.50 disappeared from the safe of the Ways and Works Engineer, Selangor Railway; a clerk was arrested and tried in connection with this, he was convicted in the Magistrate's Court, but on appeal the conviction was quashed. The money was made good by the Railway Guarantee Fund.

(iii.) A large sum ($1,986.42) was stolen from the Railway bungalow at Tapah Road, and the amount of only $293.98 was recovered. The Railway Engineer who was in charge of the money was held responsible, and has been ordered to pay to Government $500 of the sum lost.

(iv.) The services of a Tamil Interpreter at the Serendah Courts were dispensed with in connection with irregularities in regard to judicial stamps which should have been affixed by him in the Civil Court Register. In my opinion, great blame attached to the Magistrates for not ascertaining before they signed the processes that stamps of sufficient value were affixed to the register and duly cancelled.

65. NOTIFICATIONS FROM SECRETARIATS.—I would like to see a change in the objectionable system of Secretariats passing minute papers to the Audit Office "to note," this means very often that in order to make certain what has to be noted a lot of extraneous matter has to be perused, and time wasted which can ill be spared. I would prefer that intimations regarding leave, appointments, and so forth should be issued by the Secretariats in clear definite memorandums which can be understood at a glance by the clerks who have to deal with them, and held by the Audit Office as its authority.

66. SUBSIDIARY COIN.—It was arranged that the F.M.S. should obtain their supply of subsidiary coin direct from the Crown Agents, instead of through the Colonial Treasury at Singapore as hitherto.

67. SECURITY BONDS.—The principal security bonds of officers under G.O. 78 have been transferred from the State Audit Offices to the Central Audit Office, and the subsidiary security bond lists under G.O. 85 are now received in the Central Audit Office from Heads of Departments.

68. GOVERNMENT GUARANTEE FUND.—I much regret that the Government Guarantee Fund (para. 68 of the F.M.S. Financial Report for 1900) was not adopted during the year. A Committee has, however, recently sat to report on the subject, and it is hoped that some final steps will now be taken by Government towards establishing the fund. The present system is not satisfactory.

69. (i.) DUPLICATE KEYS.—There has been some activity in the matter of duplicate keys, and some new safes have been purchased to replace those of which the duplicate keys were not forthcoming.

(ii.) If any argument is necessary to show the importance of safeguarding duplicate keys, no better one can be adduced than the recent experience of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank in Singapore.

(iii.) In the two cases mentioned in paras. 64 (ii.) and 64 (iii.) of this report there was a want of knowledge of the whereabouts of the duplicate keys of two safes.

70. COUNTERFOIL BOOKS.—I am not satisfied that the check on the issue of counterfoil books is sufficiently well maintained—or that the books received by departments are systematically accounted for. When the rules were first drawn up by me for Perak the quantity and variety of books were not nearly so great as now, and the sources of supply were not so complicated as they have become under the development of new systems. I have, however, instructed the State Auditors to give this important matter careful attention, and to report fully thereon at end of current year.

71. UNIFORMITY IN PRINTED FORMS.—The number of different kinds of counterfoil books and printed forms in use for financial transactions have not, so far as I know, decreased during the year. I am personally controlling the forms in use in the Financial Department (Treasuries and Audit Offices) and have instructed the Government Printers not to print any new forms without my sanction. In this way I hope to work off the old stock and to gradually introduce uniformity in new supplies. For this work in other departments I have recommended the Resident-General to nominate officers, as it is quite impossible for me to undertake more than the Financial Department.

72. SURVEY OF STORES.—Recently the Government decided on appointing a Federal Checker of Stores whose duty it will be to inspect and check once a year the books and stock of all Government Stores in the Federated Malay States; when this officer is at work we may expect an improvement in this important matter (vide para. 71 of the F.M.S. Financial Report for 1900).

73. RAILWAY STORE ACCOUNTS.—I submitted recommendations, jointly with the General Manager, Railways, for putting the Railway Store accounts on an uniform and more businesslike footing—these have been approved and will be introduced by the end of this year.

74. GENERAL ORDERS.—It is quite time to revise the General Orders which were published in July, 1900. To give some idea of the necessity for this, I may mention that the final order in that book was numbered 303, and that since then the amendments and new orders on financial matters alone number about 150. This is to be expected in a country where the official administration is in its infancy, but in view of the strict attention required to General Orders it is not helpful to officers, or to the advantage of the Government, to let long periods elapse between the official compilations of the General Orders.

75. FINANCIAL CLERICAL SCHEME.—The Clerical Financial Scheme was favourably received at a recent conference of Residents; definite proposals were subsequently drafted by me and they are now receiving the attention of the Resident-General and the High Commissioner. The necessity is so well acknowledged that I will now only say it has become more accentuated during the year.

76. WORK OF THE YEAR.—I made nine inspection tours during the year, visiting Parit Buntar, Taiping, Matang, Teluk Anson, Kuala Lipis, Raub, Port Dickson, Seremban, Tampin, Jelebu, Jugra, and Kuala Selangor. For a week I sat on the Confidential Committee appointed to report on the sterling salaries scheme—a report being furnished to the Resident-General; I was also engaged on a Postal Committee—a report being sent to the Resident-General.

Some idea of my office work during the twelve months may be gathered from the fact that 800 letters, and 476 memos were issued, and that 2,088 minutes were written on minute papers of the Federal and States Secretariats. In addition, several special Reports, which required much time and attention, were written by me at the instance of the Resident-General and His Excellency the High Commissioner.

77. (i.) INAUGURATION OF THE FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.—The work of the year lay, however, in advancing the views expressed by me in para. 76 of the F.M.S. Financial Report for 1900 in favour of the establishment of a Financial Department. The development of events in Pahang led in September to my proposals being first applied to the Treasuries and Audit Offices of that State, and shortly afterwards I received, with satisfaction, from the Resident-General the announcement that the High Commissioner had been pleased to approve of my proposals being extended to all the States.

By the close of the year the reorganisation of the Audit Offices in Perak, Selangor and Negri Sembilan was begun by the revenue audit work being assigned to the respective State Auditors with a portion of the staff, and by the opening of the Central Audit Office at Kuala Lumpur where the auditing of the monthly accounts of all the Treasuries, and the general accounting work of the Federated Malay States, will in future be performed. It will take time to settle the new order of things to my satisfaction, and even then everyone may not be satisfied with the change, so patience and a sympathetic tolerance must be evinced in favour of efforts which will be made to benefit the greatest number—isolated interests giving way to the interests of the majority.

For encouragement, I point to the fact that the report on the Federal Revenue and Expenditure, and the Financial Reports of each of the four States, for 1901, was submitted by me early in the current month, and that the writing of this report is taking place three months earlier than it was possible to write that for the year 1900.

(ii.) ASSISTANCE ACKNOWLEDGED.—I record with pleasure the cordial assistance received from the British Residents, and especially from Mr. Rodger, C.M.G., the Resident of Perak, in introducing this scheme—an assistance which I rely on receiving whenever it may be required. An important epoch has been marked in the administration of the financial affairs of the Federated Malay States, and now a work of considerable magnitude has to be accomplished. I recognise the responsibility which the confidence of the Resident-General and His Excellency the High Commissioner casts on me, and all I ask the Government for is a fair opportunity to place the Financial Department on a sound working basis—this can only be achieved by making all other considerations subordinate to efficiency.

FEDERAL FINANCIAL OFFICE,
Kuala Lumpur, 23rd April, 1902.

R. D. HEWETT,
Financial Commissioner, F.M.S.

FEDERATED MALAY STATES.

REPORT ON THE PERAK STATE ACCOUNTS FOR THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 1901,

BY

THE FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER, F.M.S.

GENERAL INTRODUCTION.

1. An abstract of the State revenue and expenditure, and of the receipts and payments on the personal accounts, during the year 1901, at the nine Treasuries of the State is presented in enclosure A.*

The gross amount dealt with on the receipt side of the cash books was $22,051,331.59, and on the payment side $23,151,912.39, the corresponding figures in the previous year were $27,901,960 and $27,362,259.51, respectively.

REVENUE—ESTIMATED AND ACTUAL.

3. Enclosure B* affords detailed comparison of the actual and estimated revenue under every sub-head of the Estimates, while enclosure C* gives particulars of the actual revenue in each district under every sub-head of the Estimates. I will therefore in this covering report merely touch on the points which call for more prominent notice.

(ii.) LAND REVENUE shows an excess under every sub-head except mining licenses, and the nett result is an excess of $62,646.22. Special rent-roll returns compiled by me for the year are in the possession of the Government. I consider that the arrears brought forward year after year are not creditable to the Land Officers, if the money is really due it should be collected, if not collectable it should be written off. On the rent-rolls, representing $333,485.23, sums were written off amounting to $32,806.72, and yet $34,750.42 remained still due on the close of the year, and of this the sum of $17,458.95 was for arrears due prior to 1st January, 1901.

(iii.) FORESTS.—The gross excess on the sub-heads was $87,587.58, and the gross deficiency $19,457.75. The deficiency was chiefly made up by timber licenses ($2,096.06), charcoal licenses ($6,244), sawpit licenses, nothing collected on a $1,175 estimate, royalty on rubber ($7,098.90) and jungle produce ($2,778.79). The excess revenue beyond the estimates was contributed to by firewood licenses ($13,092), rattan licenses ($2,440), rattan royalty ($1,866.09), atap royalty ($2,233.71), timber royalty ($60,043.41), and on a "nil" estimate charcoal royalty was $7,255.75.

* Not printed.

(iv.) CUSTOMS.—The nett excess was $492,404.02, mainly due to tin.

TIN.—The increased output more than counterbalanced the fall in market price of the metal and so led to expectations being exceeded by $406,420.88. I give in enclosure N (i.) * a statement of the tin and tin-ore exported from Perak, and duty collected thereon, during the years 1900 and 1901, and in enclosure N (ii.) * I give a more detailed statement showing the output and duty month by month during those two years, together with the average monthly duty on, and market value of, the metal. A study of this will indicate that in each month of 1901 the average rate of duty was less than in the corresponding month of the previous year, and that in those months when the output largely exceeded the output of corresponding months in 1900 the difference in the duty rate was greatest; thus leading to the somewhat unsatisfactory result of an excess output of $29,477 pikuls 48 katis yielding $98,413.09 less in 1901 than was collected on the smaller output of the previous year. In an exceptionally prosperous year this is not perhaps much felt, but it would be a serious matter otherwise. The Customs Duties Enactment of 1898 was amended to provide for an extra duty of 50 cents per pikul on tin raised from such mines within the Batang Padang district as may from time to time be certified by the Warden to be gold-producing mines.

OPIMUM duty produced an excess of $76,960 on a $968,000 estimate.

SUGAR duty yielded $14,539, or $2,039 more than was expected. The "Rabana" Estate on the Perak river began exporting sugar in October, but the collection of duty thereon was delayed until 1902, through necessary instructions from Government not reaching the District Treasurer in time.

COFFEE brought in $12.52 on an estimate of $825, and there were only two other items which fell short of the estimates.

(v.) FEES OF COURT.—The criminal and civil courts brought in very considerably more than was estimated to come from this uncertain source; the criminal court revenue exceeded the estimate by a shade over 33 per cent., and the civil court exceeded its estimate by a shade over 64 per cent.

(vi.) REIMBURSEMENTS.—$9,029.49 were received against a "nil" estimate for supervision of Province Wellesley line, the item being estimated under Railway Receipts.

In consequence of the abolition of the Railway Superannuation Fund $22,401.72 were refunded on account of the Government contribution thereto. $5,529.19 were refunded by the Hongkong Government on the transfer of Cadet Wolfe to that service.

(vii.) RAILWAY earnings exceeded the estimate of $1,015,000 by $12,740.37, due, I conclude, to increasing traffic and a higher rate of fares and freight.

(viii.) MISCELLANEOUS RECEIPTS.—The item share of Federal revenue, incorrectly shown under this head, caused the large excess, because the share for two years is included in the 1901 accounts.

(ix.) MUNICIPAL.—The gross excess was $37,458.08, and the gross deficiency $23,430.13. The latter mainly accounted by market rents falling short of the estimate by $16,798.62 through the market farm rights being very considerably curtailed. The excess over estimate was chiefly caused (a) by house assessments, lighting, fire and water rates bringing in $61,899.80 on a $48,600 estimate, explained by the rateable value of property having increased and more new houses being built. A statement of progress in collection of assessment during the year has been compiled by me and is in the possession of the Government. On a grand total of $60,931.96 borne on the rolls only $2,610.92 remained uncollected at the close of the year—a very creditable record; (b) By vehicle taxes realising $61,720.75 on a $44,525 estimate in consequence of an enormous increase which there was no reason to foresee, in the number of vehicles in the Kinta district; (c) By opium shop licenses exceeding a $10,725 estimate by $3,104.75. I give below a short summary of the total municipal revenue—estimated and actual of each district:—

REVENUE—1900 AND 1901.

4. The State revenue of 1901 exceeded that of the previous year by $896,467.27. Enclosure D* enables a comparison of the two years under each main head of revenue and shows that the gross increase was $1,169,283.01 against a gross decrease of $272,815.74.

(ii.) LAND in 1900 included premia on grants and leases which brought in $48,061.83; in 1901 these items are classed under the new main head of "Land Sales." For purpose of comparison with 1901, the 1900 land revenue must be taken as $351,451.36—$48,061.83 = $303,389.53, or $24,231.69 less than the amount collected during the year under review—a result contributed to chiefly by the following items, to the extent stated against each, land rents, $10,412.68; rents on leases, $16,124.69. Decreases occurred under survey fees, $2,842.45; ladang passes, $975.50, and to a smaller extent under other sub-heads.

(iii.) FORESTS produced a nett increase of $27,547.14. As this source of income is attracting attention, I give below full details under each sub-head:—

Total			133,062.69	160,609.83
Nett Increase			...	27,547.14

(iv.) LICENSES.—This source gave $832,101.95 more in 1901 than in the previous year, due to the revenue farms being relet from 1st January, 1901. The general farms yielded in 1900 $724,800, but from 1st January, 1901, the rent of the big general farm was raised to $1,440,000 per annum and that of the Coast general farm to $156,000 per annum. The Upper Perak chandu farm gave $2,760 in 1900, but was relet from 1st January, 1901, for $6,000.

(v.) CUSTOMS.—The nett decrease was $84,364.79. Tin duty fell off to the extent of close on one hundred thousand dollars as explained in para. 3 (iv.) Tenth on sundry exports exceeded by $7,949.34 the collections of 1900, and other items gave small increases also.

(vi.) COURTS.—Criminal courts brought in $40,176.03 and civil courts $33,930.30 in 1901, against $33,003.19 and $24,040.70, respectively, in 1900.

(vii.) REIMBURSEMENTS.—There was in 1901 a decrease of $16,282.78 in the Selangor contribution to the Trig. Survey, and of $4,938.72 in the Negri Sembilan contribution—due, I think, to the Trig. Survey Department not rendering its accounts in time to admit of these contributions appearing in the 1901 accounts. On the other hand, there were no receipts in 1900 on the following items which appear in 1901—Federal contribution to supervision of Province Wellesley Railway section, $9,029.49; refund from Railway Superannuation Fund, $22,401.72; refund by Hongkong Government on transfer of Cadet Wolfe, $5,529.19; refund by Siamese Government for boundary commission expenses, $2,090.84.

(viii.) INTEREST.—The big decrease is due to the 1900 accounts being charged with $122,415.67 for adjustment of exchange on change of system in dealing with the Crown Agents' accounts [vide para. 17 (ii.) of F.M.S. Financial Report for 1900].

(ix.) RAILWAY.—Earnings on passenger and goods traffic exceeded the figures of 1900 by $94,439.03, due to increased mileage, heavier traffic, and a higher tariff. The 1901 earnings included $28,954.52 for freight on railway construction materials carried over the open line during the year—thus swelling the revenue of the open line at the expense of construction.

(x.) MISCELLANEOUS RECEIPTS.—The enormous nett increase of $118,156.36 is due to the 1901 accounts carrying $116,237.86 as the Perak share of Federal revenue for 1900 and 1901. The share for 1899 and previous years was not specially shown as revenue because only the nett cost of Federal administration was apportioned in those years to the States.

(xi.) MUNICIPAL.—The chief increases occurred in the following items to the extent stated against each: vehicle taxes, $14,203.60; house assessment and rates, $12,457.69;

* Not printed.

opium shops, $2,315.25; and sale of night-soil buckets, $5,785.23. On the other hand, market rents brought in $18,540.17 less than in 1900 [vide para. 3 (ix.)]

(xii.) LAND SALES yielded $13,877.60 less than in 1900 for premia on grants and leases.

EXPENDITURE.

5. State expenditure during 1901 amounted to $8,882,578.74, being $349,984.71 in excess of the revenue and $196,845.74 more than the sum authorised in the printed Estimates for the services of the year; comparison under the main heads of the Estimates is as follows:—

EXPENDITURE—ESTIMATED AND ACTUAL.

6. Enclosure E* furnishes comparison of the estimated and actual expenditure of each department under Personal Emoluments and Other Charges and of the estimated and actual expenditure under the other main heads of Estimates, while enclosure F* gives particulars of the actual expenditure in each district under every sub-head of the Estimates.

(ii.) PERSONAL EMOLUMENTS.—Notwithstanding the payment of double exchange compensation there was a nett saving of $30,864.95 due to the causes explained in enclosure E.*

(iii.) OTHER CHARGES.—There was a gross saving of $79,820.05. In the Chinese Secretariat nothing was spent on (a) the $4,500 provided for diets in the Women and Girls' Home, (b) on the $8,100 provided for contingencies. Of the $5,760 voted for horse allowances, Land Office, only $2,888.23 were spent. In the Survey Office, $6,745.12 were spent on $10,000 provided for connections by licensed surveyors, and travelling and personal allowance cost only $6,092.65 on a vote of $8,000. The Trigonometrical Survey spent but $20,996.13 of the $26,000 voted for general expenses. In the Public Works Department $3,034.39 were spent of $5,220 provided for horse allowances, and $2,605.87 of $4,420 sanctioned for wages of chainmen and coolies. The Forest Department expended $6,927.01 for travelling and personal allowances on a vote of $8,000 and only $1,675.34 of the $5,750 voted for rubber collection. The Posts and Telegraphs paid away $737.82 of the $7,000 voted for contribution to Straits mail subsidy. The Courts did not spend any portion of the $1,000 provided for payments in revenue seizure cases. Nothing was spent by the Medical Department on the $5,000 voted for maintenance of lepers at Pulau Lalang. In the District Hospitals (except Bagan Serai) diets for patients cost $60,500.71 on a $66,350 estimate. The Police Department paid out only $2,161.22 on a vote of $3,350 for destruction of noxious animals, only $1,132.49 on $4,320 voted for quarantine watchmen, and nothing on $2,000 provided for purchase of weights and measures. Districts Officers' horse allowance cost $4,079.49 on a $5,640 estimate, and on municipal scavenging $46,485.94 were spent of the $48,250 provided. Turning now to the excess expenditure, amounting to $13,230.37, I find that the Audit Office travelling and personal allowances came to $3,329.12 on a $2,250 estimate. The Forest Department spent $1,000 on building huts which were not provided for in the Estimates. The Post and Telegraph Department, (a) travelling and personal allowances cost $5,286.57 on a $3,500 estimate, (b) $12,506.45 for maintenance of lines on a $11,000 estimate, (c) $6,077.39 for purchase of stamps on a $2,500 estimate, (d) $13,658.85 on mail services for which only $11,800 were estimated, and (e) $9,750 on Penang-Negapatam mail service for which no provision was made in the Estimates. Under Medical, (a) the maintenance of lepers at Pulau Jerajah cost $5,678.57 on a $4,000 estimate, (b) diets for patients at Bagan Serai cost $8,574.49, whereas the estimate only provided $5,500. Police travelling and personal allowances cost $10,463.07 on $8,950 estimated. There were also many smaller excesses on votes in nearly all the departments.

(iv.) ALLOWANCES TO CHIEFS.—Chabut paid to H.H. the Sultan on Kampar tin amounted to $64,825.90, or $19,225.90 more than was estimated. I have addressed the Government on the system of ascertaining this chabut, and on the tin pass system generally.

(v.) FEDERAL CHARGES in 1901 bears the Perak share of Federal expenditure for 1900 and 1901, whereas the estimate was only framed to meet that of one year.

(vi.) MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES.—Passages of officers on 1st appointment cost $12,060.87, or $8,060.87 more than the estimate, and the expenses of Census were $27,600.54 on a $20,000 provision.

(vii.) WORKS AND BUILDINGS.—Annually recurrent expenditure shows a nett unexpended balance of $23,778.92, due chiefly to (a) purchase and maintenance of instruments, tools and plant absorbing only $1,861.78 of a $12,000 estimate, (b) purchase of stores amounting to $6,966.03 on a $10,000 estimate, and (c) minor works costing $18,643.68 on a $25,150 estimate. The nett unexpended balance for special works was $83,997.12, and the nett excess on revotes was $19,030.21, the actual transaction on each separate vote is recorded in enclosure G* for special works, and in enclosure H* for revotes.

(viii.) ROADS, STREETS AND BRIDGES.—Annually recurrent expenditure was within the estimates on all the items except one, where a small excess occurred. The chief unexpended balances were $7,584.63 on cart roads, $3,443.70 on bridle paths, and $1,282.46 on tracing and surveying new roads. Special works absorbed only $181,876.68 on a provision of $301,407, and the nett excess on revotes was $5,681.85. The actual transaction on each work is recorded in enclosure J* for special works, and in enclosure K* for revotes.

(ix.) SPECIAL EXPENDITURE amounted to $170,067 on a "nil" estimate, the chief item being $153,259.85 for Perak's half share of interest due up to 31st December, 1901, by Pahang to Perak and Selangor—now written off by virtue of a resolution passed at a conference of Residents. I give below a full statement of all items paid under this head:—

(iii.) GENERAL MANAGEMENT expenditure is summarised in the following statement. I have lately reported on the "General Stores and Spare Parts" vote. (iv.) SPECIAL WORKS cost $295,651.08 against $519,500 estimated; the unexpended balance being greatest under the items Locomotives and Rolling Stock ($184,031.20), vacuum brakes ($24,868.35), and additional machinery for Ipoh Workshops ($12,874.68). In reporting specially to the Resident-General on excess expenditure under certain works I have had to call attention to the necessity for closer conformity with General Orders and procedure in carrying out Railway Works. The actual and estimated expenditure in 1901 under each separate special work is given in enclosure N.*

(v.) REVOTE WORKS were not provided for in the Annual Estimates, but authority issued during the year resulted in $91,935.79 being spent on the under-mentioned works :—

Work.	Spent.
Passenger Station, Teluk Anson	$ 1,222.30
Reclamation River foreshore, Teluk Anson	648.17

(vi.) CONSTRUCTION WORKS absorbed $1,991,538.34, or $250,578.34 more than the Estimates provided: the works were:—

	Excess	250,578.34

(vii.) INDENTS ON CROWN AGENTS cost $1,022,065.41 on an estimate of $1,090,000. On the general subject of paying for and accounting for stores I made to the Resident-General a joint recommendation with the General Manager, Railways, some six months or more ago, but up to time of writing this report I have no information of the action the Government proposes taking in the matter—it is one of importance.

ESTABLISHMENT PERCENTAGE.

8. The percentage which the cost of establishments, exchange compensation, and other allowances bears to the revenue of the State for the year 1901 is given in enclosure O.* Through increased revenue the cost of administration, notwithstanding increased establishments and the grant of double exchange compensation, works out at very nearly the same figures as in the previous year.

EXPENDITURE, 1900 AND 1901.

9. The actual expenditure of 1901 exceeded that of the previous year by the large sum of $2,737,804.53 as detailed under the main heads of expenditure in enclosure P.* The principal heads contributing to the excess are as follows, to the extent of the figures noted against each:—Other Charges, $119,244.23; Federal Charges, $501,607.40; Miscellaneous Services, $24,320.73; Works and Roads, $220,876.83; State Railways, $1,606,112.51; Special Expenditure, $153,259.85. The increase for Federal Charges is due to the charges for two heavy years being entered in 1901 accounts [vide para. 6 (v.)] and that under Special Expenditure is explained in para. 6 (ix.) of this report. I will not add to this report the figures of years prior to 1900, for they are already available in the Gazettes and in printed reports of former years.

ASSETS AND LIABILITIES.

10. The financial position of the State at end of 1901, as compared with what it was at end of the preceding twelve months, is given in enclosure Q,* the nett result being a decrease in excess assets of $349,984.71—the amount by which expenditure exceeded the revenue in 1901.

PERSONAL ACCOUNTS.

11. The transactions of 1901 under Personal Accounts represented $13,518,737.56 on the receipt side, and $14,269,333.65 on the payment side, of the Treasury cash books. Though these figures do not exceed those of the previous year, they include many intricate accounts; they caused the Treasuries a great deal of trouble, and demanded of the Audit Office more attention than can properly be bestowed on them in view of the great calls on the time of the staff in dealing with the revenue and expenditure accounts of the State.

12. I consider that in regard to such accounts as Sundry, Court, Land, and Survey Deposits the time has come for the audit supervision to be of a general description, sufficient only to protect the interests of the Government by ensuring that all the money received by Collectors is paid in to the Treasury, and that the total amount paid out by the Treasury under any of these accounts does not exceed the total amount held to credit of such account in the Treasury. The responsibility of the Head of the Department would then be within these limits under certain procedure for their guidance.

TREASURY SURVEYS.

13. In addition to the annual and audit inspection surveys the following surprise surveys were held on Treasuries during the year, under G.O. 292:—

Taiping	21st Mar., 4th June, 2nd Sept. and 17th Oct.
Selama	1st May, 27th Sept. and 21st Nov.
Parit Buntar	19th Mar., 4th June, 2nd Sept. and 7th Nov.
Matang	18th Mar., 4th June, 2nd Sept. and 7th Nov.
Upper Perak	31st Mar., 5th June, and 8th Nov.
Kuala Kangsar	20th Mar., 4th June, 3rd Sept. and 6th Nov.
Batu Gajah	21st Mar., 25th June, 5th Sept. and 23rd Dec.
Tapah	18th Mar., 6th June, 2nd Sept. and 9th Nov.
Teluk Anson	20th Mar., 19th June, 20th Sept. and 20th Dec.

REVENUE AUDITS.

14. At close of the year the audit of Revenue Collectors' Accounts (including accounts of moneys collected on the personal accounts) stood as detailed in enclosure R*. In my opinion the audits were not sufficiently well up to date, but I look forward to greater promptness, and general improvement in the quality of the work, following on the redistribution of duties which now restrict the entire attention of the State Auditor and his clerks to this important branch of the audit duties. I attach the State Auditor's Report (enclosure S*) for 1901.

TREASURIES.

15. I forward [enclosures Sa* Sb* Sc*] the Annual Reports of the District Treasurers at Larut, Lower Perak and Kinta. Speaking generally, the Treasury work in Perak is well done, but instances have come to my notice which satisfy me that Treasurers have yet to realise the importance of, and to strictly enforce, the General Orders: if this were done efficiently and without fear or favour a very great deal of the trouble and correspondence would be saved: it must be realised by Treasurers that it is their duty to see that all bills are in order in every respect under the General Orders before they pay money thereon, it must not be left to the Audit Office to find out that witnesses have not signed, that there is no receipt stamp on the voucher, that certificates on vouchers and on schedules are either not signed or not signed by the proper official, and so forth. Matters such as these are easily enforced before payment, but to put them right after payment involves a great deal of trouble and waste of time which should be better employed. Only in the last couple of days two striking breaches of General Orders have been brought to my notice by the Central Audit Office—in one case $600 were paid out in December to a clerk and no mention was made in any way to record that the receipts of other persons would have to be produced: in fact, on the face of the transaction nothing more remained to be done: fortunately, a careful audit clerk had to deal with the voucher, and now (four months after payment) it is ascertained that the necessary receipts are not yet forthcoming. A careful Treasurer would not have paid on such a voucher. The other case is somewhat similar.

16. One other respect in which Treasury work must be improved is in prompt attention to every detail of work, whether it be the cashing of a draft, the paying of a bill, the issuing of advices, the answering of communications, or the rendering of accounts and returns.

17. The work and responsibility of the Lower Perak Treasury at Teluk Anson has increased very much of late years: it is there that the duty is collected on practically all the tin exported from the State: it may help to understand what this means when I say that the export from Teluk Anson equals more than half the total output of tin from all the Federated Malay States combined. The collection of this duty involves, in addition to the general work of the Treasury, the receiving and accounting for of over four and a quarter millions of dollars mostly in hard cash.

18. The system favoured in recent years of centralising departmental votes in Taiping has resulted in a considerable increase of paper work in the Larut Treasury, it has also involved the noting of information, regarding appointments, changes and so forth, which in former years was noted in other District Treasuries. A great deal of work is also thrown on this Treasury, and in a lesser degree on other District Treasuries by departments paying individual salaries by cheques (instead of drawing a lump sum and disbursing the cash as formerly), these cheques are cashed at Treasuries where there is not a Bank and gradually filter back to the Bank in Taiping through the Larut Treasury.

19. At the Tapah District Treasury a great deal of risk to Government, and extra work and responsibility on the officials, is caused by the large number of private cheques and drafts being cashed there. On the close of the year a retrograde step was taken by abolishing the post of Financial Assistant; as it was done against my deliberate advice, I disclaim my share of the responsibility in the consequences.

GENERAL ORDERS.

20. The work of the Financial Officers would be very materially assisted if the Resident would bring home to Departmental Officers their responsibility for observing General Orders instead of leaving it to the Treasury and Audit Office to enforce compliance. It is too generally left to the Audit Office to discover neglect of General Orders and errors of omission and commission which ought never to occur if Heads of Departments were made to seriously feel the result of their neglect or carelessness. The Head of a Department told me the other day that a certain item for which he had no proper authority under the General Orders was passed by him because a responsible official wrote something which caused him to think it was right—nothing except strict compliance with the procedure laid down in General Orders can be accepted as sufficient authority in matters financial. In another instance, irregular payments were obtained from the Treasury against a certain vote, and when they were detected by an audit clerk and reported to the Government they were allowed by the Resident to pass because there was a sufficient balance on the vote—thus throwing to the winds all rules and efforts for enforcing proper classification of expenditure. Again, sums amounting in the aggregate to many hundreds of dollars were paid against a certain vote on the signature of a responsible officer without any sufficient authority, and when the Audit Office brought the matter to notice the Head of the Department concerned, instead of condemning the responsible officer who certified the improper payments as correct, indignantly asked why the Audit Office had not detected the irregularity earlier. I do not wish here to enter into a defence of the Audit Office, I merely desire to state my opinion that it is radically wrong for responsible officers drawing high salaries for attending only to the particular work of their department, to completely depend upon audit clerks, who draw small salaries and have to deal with the accounts of many departments, correcting such unpardonable errors. It is not fair to the Government and it most certainly is not fair to the Auditors in charge of the Central Audit Office, for they cannot possibly personally attend to and remember every detail of the many thousands of vouchers which are checked in their office every year. His Excellency the High Commissioner is desirous that Heads of Departments may be requested to depend less than at present on the Audit Office, and this is a direction in which measures might advantageously be taken to introduce the principle by awakening the Heads of Departments to a sense of their responsibility.

ADMINISTRATION.

21. I assumed direct administrative charge of the Treasuries and Audit Offices of the State on 7th December, 1901. The audits of Treasury accounts were then in a deplorable state of arrears, the important accounts of Larut and Kinta had not been audited beyond end of May, those of Krian, Upper Perak, Lower Perak and Batang Padang not beyond end of July, those of Matang and Kuala Kangsar not beyond end of August, and the very small accounts of Selama were only up to end of September. That I am able to render to you the audited accounts of the year two months earlier than those for 1900 were sent in reflects great credit on the Assistant Auditor (Mr. Mahoney) and his staff of clerks.

22. The audit of accounts of Collectors of Revenue will in future be carried out by the State Auditor with the assistance of a staff of clerks, while the accounts of the Treasuries will be audited in the Central Audit Office, Kuala Lumpur, by the Assistant Auditor and his clerks.

23. In concluding this report I desire to acknowledge the cordial assistance which was rendered to me by the British Resident (Mr. Rodger, c.m.g.) and by his Secretary (Mr. Venning) in my first steps towards reorganising the Financial Offices of the State.

Financial Commissioner, F.M.S.

FEDERAL FINANCIAL OFFICE,

FEDERATED MALAY STATES.

REPORT ON THE SELANGOR STATE ACCOUNTS FOR THE YEAR ENDING 31st DECEMBER, 1901,

BY

THE FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER, F.M.S.,

GENERAL INTRODUCTION.

1. An abstract of the State revenue and expenditure, and of the receipts and payments on the personal accounts, during the year 1901 at the six Treasuries of the State is presented in enclosure A.*

The gross amount dealt with on the receipt side of the cash books was $17,033,493.07, and on the payment side $16,736,383.22, the corresponding figures in the previous year were $24,066,367.73 and $24,022,002, respectively.

REVENUE.

2. State revenue for the year 1901 amounted to $6,544,796.27, or $991,826.27 in excess of the Estimates—summarised as follows under the principal heads of revenue:—

REVENUE—ESTIMATED AND ACTUAL.

3. Enclosure B* affords detailed comparison of the actual and estimated revenue under every sub-head of the Estimates, while enclosure C* gives particulars of the actual revenue in each district under every sub-head of the Estimates. I will not therefore do more than touch in this covering report upon the points which call for more prominent notice.

* Not printed.

(ii.) LAND REVENUE.—The rents on permanent title show a deficiency which is, I understand, due to European-owned estates being in arrears. Special land revenue returns compiled by me for the year 1901 are in the possession of the Government.

(iii.) LAND SALES.—A large excess in town, agricultural and mining lands.

(iv.) LICENSES.—The principal revenue farm contracts expired on 31st December, 1901, and have since been relet at a considerable advance.

(v.) CUSTOMS.—TIN.—The excess export duty on tin was due to increased output which more than counterbalanced the fall in market price of the metal. I give in enclosure N (i.) * a statement of the tin and tin-ore exported from Selangor, and duty collected thereon during the years 1900 and 1901, and in enclosure N (ii.) * I give a more detailed statement showing the output and duty month by month during the two years, together with the average monthly duty on, and market value of, the metal. A study of this will best explain how duty follows the market price—not the output—of tin.

COFFEE.—In 1901 the ruling prices were below $19 per pikul, and so the estimate was not realised.

OPIUM.—The amount realised from this source was $50,053.75 less than the estimate, and $55,378.75 less than the sum collected in the previous year.

(vi.) PORT AND HARBOUR.—Light dues largely exceeded the estimate through the opening of Port Swettenham Wharves to the shipping and to the increased rates.

(vii.) FINES AND FEES OF COURT.—The revenue derived from civil and criminal courts increased, chiefly in Kuala Lumpur and Ulu Selangor.

(viii.) FEES OF OFFICE.—Hawkers' licenses realised $8,899 on a $1,000 estimate.

(ix.) REIMBURSEMENTS.—Prison labour realised double the estimated sum, sale of P.W.D. stores brought in $13,838.19 less than the estimate. Chinese Immigrant Office charges were not collected. Factory revenue fell $9,429.68 short of the estimate.

(x.) INTEREST.—Daily balances were larger than anticipated by the Estimates. The balances in hands of the Crown Agents were used by the Crown Agents for other accounts and interest earned thereby. The interest on loan to Pahang is credited in this account though subsequently remitted (vide para. 6, (ix.) of this report.)

(xi.) STAMPS AND POSTAGE.—The sale of revenue and postage stamps realised only about $\frac{2}{3}$ ths. of the estimate.

(xii.) RAILWAY RECEIPTS exceeded the estimate on account of growing traffic and the increased rate of fares and freight.

(xiii.) FEDERAL RECEIPTS of two years 1900 and 1901 are included in the 1901 State accounts, hence the excess over estimate.

(xiv.) CONSERVANCY.—The estimate for market dues was not realised because the markets were not leased out on lines of former years, in the hope of reducing cost of food in Kuala Lumpur. The Government is already in possession of returns which give interesting information regarding the progress in collection of assessment.

REVENUE—1900 AND 1901.

4. The State revenue of 1901 exceeded that of the previous year by $241,630.82; enclosure D* enables a comparison of the two years under each main head of revenue and shows that the gross increase was $422,835.84, against a gross decrease of $181,205.02.

(ii.) LAND REVENUE, as classified in 1900, was divided into three heads in 1901, the nett result being an increase of $30,506.03.

(iii.) LICENSES realised more in 1901 by the revenue farms producing advanced rates.

(iv.) FINES AND FEES OF COURT brought in more than the previous twelve months by reason of increased work, especially in Kuala Lumpur and Ulu Selangor courts.

(v.) REIMBURSEMENTS exceeded the amount received in 1900, mainly because sale of Public Works stores brought in nearly double the 1900 revenue, and under Miscellaneous the increase was over $6,000.

(vi.) INTEREST grew by reason of larger balances in the Banks on current account.

(vii.) RAILWAY RECEIPTS exceeded those of the previous year with the assistance of increased tariff and more traffic.

(viii.) FEDERAL RECEIPTS in 1901 include the Selangor share for 1900 and 1901; the shares for 1899 and previous years were not specially shown because only the nett amount of Selangor advance for Federation expenses was apportioned in those years to the States.

(ix.) CONSERVANCY REVENUE.—The decrease is chiefly due to the markets not being farmed out on same lines as in the previous year.

EXPENDITURE.

5. State expenditure during 1901 amounted to $6,060,780.01, being $484,016.26 less than the revenue and $175,113.99 within the sum estimated for the services of the year; comparison under the main heads of the Estimates is as follows:—

EXPENDITURE—ESTIMATED AND ACTUAL.

6. Enclosure E* furnishes comparison of the estimated and actual expenditure of each department under Personal Emoluments and Other Charges, and of the estimated and actual expenditure under the other main heads of the Estimates, while enclosure F* gives particulars of the actual expenditure in each district under every sub-head of the Estimates.

(ii.) PERSONAL EMOLUMENTS.—The gross excess was $21,298.57 and the gross saving $25,744.31; the excess being due to the grant of double exchange compensation,

(iii.) OTHER CHARGES.—There was a gross saving of $78,629.49 in all except four departments. The gross excess was $10,520.25, of which $9,184.09 occurred in the Gaol Department, chiefly through rations for prisoners costing $6,913.81 more than was estimated. The large saving in the Lands, Survey and Mines Departments was mainly due to demarcation expenses costing $6,848.91 short of the estimate, to the Trigonometrical Survey estimate being $26,386.26 in excess of the expenditure and to the Licensed Surveyors' fees being only $4,076.32 on an estimate of $10,000. The Public Works saving was general to most of the votes: $1,000 voted for maintenance of the Factory timber yard was not touched and of $3,000 provided for new machinery at the Factory only $343.57 was spent. In the Postal and Telegraph Department $12,154.92 were paid on an estimate of $4,000 for foreign mail service. Telephone Exchange extension cost $10,651.14 on an estimate of $19,000. $1,800 voted for plant for wireless telegraphy were not spent, and a vote of $6,000 provided for a mail sorting van was transferred to the Railway Department.

(iv.) FEDERAL CHARGES in 1901 bear the Selangor share of Federal expenditure for two years, whereas the estimate was only framed to meet that of one year.

(v.) MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES.—Fire Brigade cost $4,036.82 less than was estimated; $5,540 provided for the Immigrant Establishment section of Chinese Secretariat were not drawn on; the share of cost of Indian immigration cost less than half the sum voted. On the other hand, Census expenses exceeded the estimated cost.

(vi.) WORKS AND BUILDINGS.—Annually recurrent expenditure slightly exceeded the Estimates on current repairs but had an unexpended balance under minor works. The nett unexpended balance for special services was $397,389.50, and the nett excess on revotes was $9,646.36; but the actual transaction on each separate work is recorded in enclosure G* for special services and in enclosure H* for revotes.

(vii.) ROADS, STREETS AND BRIDGES.—Annually recurrent expenditure was within the estimates on all the items, the chief feature being that agricultural drains cost very little more than half the $25,000 voted. Special services absorbed in 1901 $155,344.45 less than the money provided, and the nett excess on revotes was $29,535.01. The actual transaction on each work is recorded in enclosure J* for special services and in enclosure K* for revotes.

(viii.) CONSERVANCY WORKS.—Notwithstanding that works which were not provided for in the Estimates absorbed \$15,087.90 and that many items provided for were exceeded, the nett unexpended balance was \$68,805.33; a result due to (a) nothing being spent on the \$20,000 voted for an iron bridge in Rodger Street; (b) only \$4,500 being expended against \$43,100 provided for the new Batu-Ampang Road; (c) a little more than $\frac{1}{3}$ th being spent of the \$5,000 voted for pipes and fittings; (d) no expenditure being incurred against the \$25,000 voted for an additional filter at the impounding reservoir, though I understand that the Kuala Lumpur water supply and expenditure generally has been the subject of special enquiry. In enclosure L* will be seen the actual and estimated expenditure under each separate item of Conservancy special works.

(ix.) SPECIAL EXPENDITURE amounted to $272,708.17 against a "nil" estimate: the chief item being $178,103.23 for Selangor's half share of interest due up to 31st December, 1901, by Pahang to Perak and Selangor—now written off by virtue of a resolution passed at a Conference of Residents; $17,423.93 were spent on a scheme (since abandoned) for a subsidiary water supply from the Sydney Lake; $18,000 paid for purchase of land from Mr. Nicholas at lower end of the Lake grounds on the Damansara Road should not have been paid under Special Payment the correct heading would have been "Land Resumed." Rice allowance cost $19,991.92 against $19,349.74 in 1900; $3,578.28 were written off for the Kuala Lumpur Treasury defalcations of 1898, and $176.50 for the Kajang (Moi Kon Fah) defalcations of 1899. Below is a full statement of all items under this head:—

(ii.) GENERAL MANAGEMENT.—Loading and unloading charges cost $62,496.61 on a $45,000 estimate; due, I understand, to coolies' wages having been raised at Port Swettenham to attract labour. Overtime, Sunday, and night allowances exceeded the $15,000 provision by $8,373.55. It has been recognised by the Government that the practice of grouping in the Railway Estimates under "General Charges" items which in other departments are separately specified is objectionable, and instructions have been given to discontinue it in Estimates of future years.

(iii.) SPECIAL WORKS cost $248,985.53 against $389,250 estimated, the unexpended balances being greatest under wire fencing, additional rolling stock, relaying north and south sections, and vacuum brake apparatus: the actual and estimated expenditure under each separate special service is given in enclosure M.*

(iv.) REVOTE WORKS exceeded the estimated $62,000 by $181,207.50, detailed as follows:—

Head of Service.	Estimated.	Actual.	Excess.
	$	$ c.	$ c.
Alteration to a Bridge	2,000	2,987 78	987 78

Nett Excess ...	...	181,207 50

(v.) CONSTRUCTION WORKS on the Seremban extension cost in the Selangor section $809,680.62 against $575,000 estimated, while in the Negri Sembilan extension there was an unexpended balance of $325,596.56 on the amount estimated.

ESTABLISHMENT PERCENTAGE.

8. The percentage which the cost of establishments, exchange compensation and other allowances bears to the revenue of the State for the year 1901 is given in enclosure O.* There is a rise in the 1901 expenditure on these services as compared with the previous year, and it is attributable to the grant of double exchange compensation, bonus to the regular clerical service, and to an increased staff.

EXPENDITURE, 1900 AND 1901.

9. The actual expenditure of 1901 exceeded that of the previous year by $1,116,619.49, as detailed under the main heads of Expenditure in Enclosure P.* I will not add to this report the figures of years prior to 1900, for they are already available in the Gazettes and printed reports of former years.

* Not printed.

ASSETS AND LIABILITIES.

10. The financial position of the State at end of 1901, as compared with what it was at end of the preceding twelve months, is given in enclosure Q;* the excess assets being $7,149,618.88 as against $6,665,602.62 on 31st December, 1900. The interest due by Pahang on loan stood at $237,908.12 at the beginning of 1901, but that sum, together with accrued interest for 1901, has been remitted in exchange for $153,259.85 which Perak has agreed to pay as a gift to Selangor, in settlement of the account against Pahang.

PERSONAL ACCOUNTS.

11. The transactions of 1901 under Personal Accounts represented $10,488,696.80 on the receipt side and $10,725,289.97 on the payment side of the Treasury cash books. Though these figures did not exceed those of the previous year they included many intricate accounts; they caused the Treasuries a great deal of work, and demanded from the Audit Office much careful watching and attention.

TREASURY SURVEYS.

12. In addition to the annual and audit inspection surveys the following surprise surveys were held on Treasuries during the year under G.O. 292:—

Kuala Lumpur, five	...	4-2-01, 19-3-01, 10-6-01, 7-8-01 and 5-11-01
Ulu Selangor, four	...	19-4-01, 11-6-01, 20-9-01 and 21-12-01

Klang, "	...	19-4-01, 10-6-01, 8-8-01, " 11-12-01
Ulu Langat, "	...	19-4-01, 10-6-01, 9-8-01, " 16-12-01
Kuala Langat, "	...	22-4-01, 11-6-01, 9-8-01, " 14-12-01
Serendah, "	...	9-5-01, 10-6-01, 17-8-01, " 20-12-01
Sepang, three	...	17-1-01, 12-6-01 and 13-8-01
Bernam, two	...	19-6-01 and 23-8-01

REVENUE AUDIT.

13. At close of the year the audit of revenue accounts (including accounts of moneys collected on the personal accounts) stood as detailed in enclosure R.* I consider that the audits were not sufficiently up to date, but I look forward to greater promptness and general improvement on the quality of work following on the redistribution of duties which now confine the entire attention of the State Auditor to this branch of the audit duties. I attach the State Auditor's Report for 1901 (enclosure S*).

TREASURIES.

14. I advocated bringing the administration of District Treasuries in Selangor more into line with the Perak system as it obtains in the Krian district—Selangor correspondence 6891/01 points to the necessity of this.

15. Kuala Lumpur Treasury, where the principal Treasury work of the Selangor and Federal Governments is transacted, was during the year in the charge of three acting Treasurers, so many changes are to be deplored in an office where a great deal depends on the Treasurer knowing not only how to perform his duties, but being also thoroughly acquainted with the many points which are essential to guarding against what may be comprehensively termed wrong payments, the adjustment of which means much worry and loss of time.

16. A blot on the Kuala Lumpur Treasury work of the year was the omission to at once detect that $16,684.44 of 1900 revenue which had been paid in to the Bank on 31st December, 1900, and duly notified to the Treasury, was entered in the January, 1901, accounts. It was instead left to the Audit Officers to discover this irregularity.

GENERAL ORDERS.

17. The work of the Financial Officers would be materially assisted if the Government would bring home to departmental officers their responsibility for observing General Orders instead of leaving it to the Treasury and Audit Office to enforce compliance. The Treasuries are not strong enough to minutely examine all bills before payment, and so it falls on the Audit Office to query after payments—a very unsatisfactory procedure—and I venture the opinion that a very large percentage of the queries which are laboriously compiled monthly by the Audit Clerks on Treasury accounts would not occur if the General Orders were consistently observed.

18. I wish also to urge that steps should be taken to make spending departments spread their financial work out more evenly over the year. The practice of rushing in bills at the end of a year in order to save the votes throws too great a strain on the Treasuries and Audit Offices at a time when their resources are specially taxed with the closing of the annual accounts. It also is prejudicial to the interest of Government in other ways, and I will just instance two cases. In December, 1900, a sum of $1,447.21 was paid out from the Kuala Lumpur Treasury on the certificate of a Head of a Department that the service in question had been duly performed. In June, 1901, the money was refunded to the Treasury because the work had not been performed. Obviously the money was drawn from the Treasury to save the balance on the vote which would lapse with the closing year. In another case money specially voted for one purpose was deliberately spent on another purpose in distinct opposition to the order of the Government. Irregularities such as this should be put down with no faltering hand.

* Not printed.

ADMINISTRATION.

19. I assumed direct administrative charge of the Treasuries and Audit Offices of the State in the last month of the year; measures have since been taken which will eventually place these financial departments on a sound and efficient working footing if the new régime is allowed a fair and generous trial.

R. D. HEWETT,
Financial Commissioner, F.M.S.

FEDERAL FINANCIAL OFFICE,
Kuala Lumpur, 29th March, 1902.

FEDERATED MALAY STATES.

REPORT ON THE NEGRI SEMBILAN STATE ACCOUNTS FOR THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 1901,

BY

THE FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER, F.M.S.

An abstract of the State revenue and expenditure, and of the receipts and payments on the personal accounts, during the year 1901, at the five Treasuries of the State is presented in enclosure A.* The gross amount dealt with on the receipt side of the cash books was $3,201,399.35, and on the payment side $3,222,686.37; the corresponding figures in the previous year were $2,616,046.46 and $2,596,328.86, respectively.

REVENUE.

2. State revenue for the year 1901 amounted to $1,669,352.57, or $171,012.57 in excess of the Estimates, summarised as follows under the principal heads of revenue:—

Head of Revenue.	Estimated.	Actual.	Difference.

REVENUE—ESTIMATED AND ACTUAL.

3. Enclosure B* affords detailed comparison of the estimated and actual revenue under every sub-head of the Estimates, while enclosure C* gives particulars of the actual revenue in each district under every sub-head of the Estimates. I will not therefore do more than touch in this covering report upon the points which call for more prominent notice.

(ii.) Special land revenue returns compiled by me are in the possession of the Government.

(iii.) FOREST REVENUE.—The duty on firewood more than doubled the estimated amount, and tithes on export of jungle produce realised $6,193.22 more than the estimate; on the other hand, tithes on rattans and ataps brought in a very small part of the $6,700 estimated.

(iv.) LICENSES.—Hawkers and village traders' licenses produced $1,952 on a $900 estimate.

(v.) CUSTOMS.—Opium exceeded the estimate of $240,000 by $27,147. Duty on tin exceeded by $117,987.82 the $550,000 estimated. The quantity of tin and tin ore exported was, however, only 2,991 pikuls in excess of the output of the previous year; though the duty collected was $24,274.04 below the amount received from this source in 1900. I give in enclosure N(i.)* a statement of the tin and tin ore exported from Negri Sembilan, and duty collected thereon, during the years 1900 and 1901, and in enclosure N(ii.)* I give a more detailed statement showing the output and duty month by month during the two years, together with the average monthly duty on, and market value of, the metal. A study of this will best explain how duty follows the market price—not the output—of tin.

(vi.) HARBOUR DUES.—Only $3,228.99 were collected of the $4,500 estimated for light dues.

* Not printed.

(vii.) COURTS.—On both criminal and civil sides the revenue largely exceeded anticipations.

(viii.) FEES OF OFFICE.—The Estimates were exceeded under every sub-head, the most striking point being that marriages and divorces registration were more numerous than was expected when the Estimates were framed.

(ix.) REIMBURSEMENTS.—P.W.D. stores were estimated to bring in $10,000 by sales, but only the sum of $168.41 was realised. I do not understand on what basis it was expected to realise $2,500 from the Selangor Government for hire of the Port Dickson launch, but I think the explanation of the deficiency lies in the fact that fuel consumed while on Selangor duty is charged by the contractor direct to the Selangor Government.

(x.) POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS.—The excess under sale of postage stamps is due to the introduction of the system of payment of cost of private telegrams by postage stamps.

(xi.) MISCELLANEOUS RECEIPTS.—The Federal revenue of two years—1900 and 1901—is included in the 1901 accounts, whereas the estimate was only framed for the share of one year.

(xii.) MUNICIPAL.—The Government is already in possession of special returns which give interesting information regarding progress of assessment collection.

REVENUE—1900 AND 1901.

4. The State revenue of 1901 exceeded that of the previous year by $417,986.43, enclosure D* presents a comparison of the two years under each main head of revenue, and shows that the gross increase was $456,913.15 against a gross decrease of $38,926.72.

(ii.) LAND REVENUE in 1900 included forest revenue and land sales, and realised $125,169.59. In 1901 the two latter are shown as separate items, the nett result being that the revenue of the three items exceeded by $17,646.33 the land revenue of 1900.

(iii.) LICENSES.—The revenue farms were relet during the year at a higher rental than obtained under the expired contracts.

(iv.) CUSTOMS.—Opium duty exceeded 1900 receipts by $204,025.80; tin duty decreased by $24,274.04 [vide para, 3 (v.)]

(v.) FEES OF OFFICE.—The decrease under this head is due to cart and ghari tax being classified in 1901 under "Municipal."

(vi.) MISCELLANEOUS RECEIPTS.—The excess over previous year is due to the share of Federal revenue for two years being credited to this head in 1901.

(vii.) MUNICIPAL.—In 1901 cart and ghari taxes were classed under this head and realised $16,568.50—whereas in 1900 they appeared under "Reimbursements."

EXPENDITURE.

5. State expenditure during 1901 amounted to $1,632,958.18, being $92,395.18 beyond the estimated provision for the services of the year and $36,394.39 less than the revenue; comparison under the main heads of Estimates is as follows:—

EXPENDITURE—ESTIMATED AND ACTUAL.

6. Enclosure E* furnishes comparison of the estimated and actual expenditure of each department under Personal Emoluments and Other Charges, and of the estimated and actual expenditure under the main heads of the Estimates, while enclosure F* gives particulars of the actual expenditure in each district under every sub-head of the Estimates.

(ii.) PERSONAL EMOLUMENTS.—The excess is due to payment of double exchange compensation.

(iii.) OTHER CHARGES.—The principal excess is caused by diets and medical comforts for patients in the State hospitals costing $27,857.32 on a $19,500 estimate; under Police the excesses are mainly due to clothing and books ($2,231.86 excess), conveyance and maintenance of witnesses and criminals ($1,016.50 excess) and to allowance to Police costing $2,641.50 against a “nil” estimate; land surveys, etc., cost less than was estimated, chiefly owing to only $5,704.19 being spent on the Trigonometrical Survey vote of $12,000.

(iv.) FEDERAL CHARGES.—The estimate only provided for bearing a share of the Federal expenditure for 1900, whereas that for 1901 has been included in the actual expenditure of the year.

(v.) LOANS.—It was entirely wrong to include in the expenditure estimates the $70,000 instalment repaid on debt to Perak, which was being treated as a personal account.

(vi.) MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES.—The unexpended balance of $15,922.77 is accounted for mainly by inoculation against rinderpest having cost only $7,249.72 on a $25,000 vote. The other items presented small excesses or savings which practically balanced each other.

(vii.) WORKS AND BUILDINGS.—Annually recurrent expenditure very slightly exceeded the $36,500 voted. The chief excesses were current repairs (1,667.59 excess), and furniture ($973.90 excess). $10,000 were voted for purchase of P.W.D. stores (to be reimbursed) and of this $8,219.10 were spent. Reading this with para. 3 (ix.) of this report the inference is that the sales did not justify such an outlay, and that the material in stock was considerable at close of the year.

The nett unexpended balance for special works was $51,414.36 and the nett excess on revote works was $11,473.77. The actual transaction on each separate work is recorded in enclosure G* for special services and in enclosure H* for revotes.

(viii.) ROADS, STREETS AND BRIDGES.—The nett unexpended balance on special works was $47,652.23, as detailed in enclosure J,* and nett excess expenditure on revote works was $33,213.30, as detailed below:—

A perusal of the foregoing will satisfy any careful observer that it is somewhat farcical to have on the one hand carefully classified estimates of expenditure, and on the other such an irregular grouping of expenditure items as appear in the above list.

ESTABLISHMENT PERCENTAGE.

7. The percentage which the cost of establishments, exchange compensation and other allowances bears to the revenue of the State for the year 1901 is given in enclosure O.* Notwithstanding the grant of double exchange compensation, the percentage is lower than in the previous year and is due to the revenue being proportionately greater.

EXPENDITURE, 1900 AND 1901.

8. The actual expenditure of 1901 exceeded that of the preceding twelve months by $623,639.59, as detailed under the main heads of expenditure in enclosure P.* I will not add to this report the figures of years prior to 1900 for they are already available in the Gazettes and printed reports of former years.

ASSETS AND LIABILITIES.

9. The financial position of the State on 31st December, 1900, showed a debit balance of $39,452.63. At end of 1901 there was a credit balance of $66,941.76, vide Enclosure Q.*

PERSONAL ACCOUNTS.

10. The transactions of 1901 under Personal Accounts represented $1,532,046.78 on the receipt side and $1,589,728.19 on the payment side of the Treasury cash books. The figures of the previous year were thus exceeded, throwing increased work on the Treasuries and Audit Offices.

TREASURY SURVEYS.

11. In addition to the annual and audit inspection surveys the following surprise surveys were held on the Treasuries during the year under G.O. 292:—

Seremban ...	Four, 15th Mar., 20th May, 11th Sept. and 22nd Nov.
Coast ...	" 20th " 20th May, 30th Sept. and 5th Dec.

Tampin ...	Five, 5th " 25th Mar., 6th May, 22nd July and 16th Dec.

* Not printed.

REVENUE AUDITS.

12. At close of the year the audit of revenue accounts (including accounts moneys collected on the personal accounts) stood as detailed in enclosure T.* The State Auditor (Mr. W. P. Thorpe) is the only Auditor in the Federated Malay States who keeps his revenue audit work well up to date, and the close personal supervision which he bestows on his work sets up a standard which must be attained in Perak and Selangor. I attach the State Auditor's Report (enclosure R*) for 1901.

TREASURIES.

13. I was not entirely satisfied with the conduct of work in the Seremban District Treasury throughout the year—two irregularities occurred which were not creditable. I have given instructions which will, I hope, lead to improvement.

(ii.) The District Treasuries in the out-stations were well supervised by the District Officers, the Chief Clerk in each District Office being practically the Financial Clerk. The time has, however, arrived to work the Coast Treasury through a Financial Assistant, as in the Krian district of Perak.

SUNGEI UJONG RAILWAY.

14. I have given some attention during the year to the financial position of the Government in regard to the Sungei Ujong Railway, and, after calling for and studying a great mass of correspondence which had never been submitted to me, I have succeeded in compiling a statement (vide enclosure S*) of the revenue and expenditure of the railway for period 28th July, 1891, to 31st December, 1899, showing also the payments made to the Company by the Negri Sembilan Government under the 4 per cent. guarantee. The total amount thus paid by the Government up to 31st December, 1901, on account of the guarantee for period ending 31st December, 1899, is $179,378.44, and for miscellaneous items $99,317.42, making a grand total of $278,695.86, as detailed in the subjoined schedule:—

profit of $47,414.43. In the event of the annual profits of the Railway at any time] during the period of lease showing an excess after deducting all working expenses and 6 per cent. on the estimated cost price of the Railway, one half of the excess is to be enjoyed by the Government.

ADMINISTRATION.

15. I assumed direct administrative charge of the Treasuries and Audit Offices of the State in the last month of the year, and, though the conditions then prevailing in Negri Sembilan left less room for improvement than was the case in the other States, I have no doubt whatever that the inclusion of the Negri Sembilan Financial Offices in the Financial Department of the Federated Malay States will lead to good results if the new régime is given a fair and generous trial.

R. D. HEWETT,
Financial Commissioner, F.M.S.

FEDERAL FINANCIAL OFFICE,
Kuala Lumpur, 4th April, 1902.

FEDERATED MALAY STATES.

REPORT ON THE PAHANG STATE ACCOUNTS FOR THE YEAR ENDING 31st DECEMBER, 1901,

BY

THE FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER, F.M.S.

1. An abstract of the State revenue and expenditure, and of the receipts and payments on the personal accounts, during the year 1901 at the four Treasuries of the State is presented in enclosure A.* The gross amount dealt with on the receipts side of the cash books was $2,069,115.76 and on the payments side $2,133,098.70, the corresponding figures in the previous year were $1,544,779.56 and $1,625,814.85, respectively.

REVENUE.

2. The State revenue for the year 1901 amounted to $794,764.36, or $384,533.36 in excess of the Estimates, mainly due to $356,206.46 being credited under "Special Receipts" for interest debited up to 31st December, 1901, against State expenditure, and now remitted by Selangor and Perak. This fact should be borne in mind in any comparison of the Pahang revenue for 1901 with past or future years. The summary of revenue for 1901 is as follows:—

3. Enclosure B* affords detailed comparison of the estimated and actual revenue under every sub-head of the Estimates, while enclosure C* gives particulars of the actual revenue in each district under every sub-head of the Estimates. I will therefore merely touch in this covering report on the points which call for more prominent notice.

(ii.) LAND.—Special quit-rent returns compiled by me are already in the possession of the Government. Temerloh disappointed expectations under fees for registration of titles.

(iii.) FORESTS.—Rubber did not yield the estimate, but there was a marked increase under wood-cutters and timber.

* Not printed.

(iv.) CUSTOMS.—Tin brought in more duty than was expected. The metal exported was pikuls 6,611.21 more than in 1900: that the duty exceeded the 1900 figures by $28,678.30 is due to the ad valorem duty (10 per cent. and 8 per cent. in a few cases). If the sliding scale in vogue in the Western States had been in force in Pahang during 1901 there would have been a very considerable falling off (possibly $75,000) in the duty as compared with 1900. In enclosure N* will be found a statement of the tin and tin-ore exported from Pahang, and the duty collected thereon, during 1900 and 1901. Duty on gold (5 per cent. ad valorem) did not realise 4/5ths of the $50,000 estimate, though it exceeded the 1900 income by $9,329.11, and the weight by oz. 6,900, details being given in the subjoined statement:—

(v.) REIMBURSEMENTS.—Police Stores realised $1,485.89 on an estimate of $300 only. $3,000 estimated to be contributed by European mining companies towards District Surgeon's salary were not collected, because a Surgeon was not available for duty at Raub. The Punjom Mining Company reimbursed $4,048.93 as half the allowance paid to Native Chiefs in connection with the property.

(vi.) MUNICIPAL.—Taxes on vehicles brought in $2,292.50 on a $500 estimate in the Ulu Pahang district. Statements showing the progress in assessment have already been submitted to the Government by me.

(vii.) FEDERAL RECEIPTS.—The 1901 accounts include the share of Federal revenue for two years, 1900 and 1901, hence the excess over estimate.

(viii.) SPECIAL RECEIPTS.—$356,206.46 represents interest charged in past years and up to 31st December, 1901, against Pahang expenditure (carried on the personal accounts as a liability) for interest due to Perak and Selangor up to the end of 1901, now remitted by those States.

REVENUE, 1900 AND 1901.

4. The revenue of 1901 exceeded that of the previous year by $375,614.11, or, in view of paras. 2 and 3 (viii.), more correctly speaking by $19,407.65. Enclosure D* presents a comparison of the two years under each main head of revenue, and shows that [the gross increase (deducting the $356,206.46) was $62,708.59 against a gross decrease of $43,300.94.

(ii.) FOREST revenue is summarised thus:—

Sub-head of Revenue.	1900.	1901.
Receipts from Rubber	...	$ 12,042.40
Rubber licenses	$ 7,350.00	4,508.00
„ tithes... ..	20,408.95	11,886.57
Total ...	$27,758.95	$28,436.97

while timber tithes exceeded by $4,217.76 the 1900 figures.

(iii.) LICENSES.—The large decrease is due to the getah farms, which brought in $39,025 in 1900, not being relet in 1901.

(iv.) CUSTOMS.—The increase is on tin and gold duty [vide para. 3 (iv.)].

(v.) SPECIAL RECEIPTS did not contribute anything to the revenue in 1900, the 1901 item is explained in paras. 2 and 3 (viii.)

* Not printed.

EXPENDITURE.

5. State expenditure during 1901 amounted to $696,841.64, being $97,922.72 less than the revenue as it appears in enclosure A,* but $258,283.74 in excess of the revenue if the sum for remitted interest appearing under "Special Receipts" is deducted, as it should properly be. The actual expenditure was $79,335.36 within the sum estimated for the services of the year.

Comparison under the main heads of the Estimates is as follows:—

EXPENDITURE—ESTIMATED AND ACTUAL.

6. Enclosure E* furnishes comparison of the estimated and actual expenditure of each department under Personal Emoluments and Other Charges, and of the estimated and actual expenditure under the other main heads of the Estimates, while enclosure F* gives particulars of the actual expenditure in each district under every sub-head of the Estimates.

(ii.) PERSONAL EMOLUMENTS, notwithstanding the grant of double exchange compensation, show a gross excess of $44.58 and a gross saving of $28,286.12. In the Survey Department less than half was spent of the $15,000 provided for wages of chainmen, etc., this is an item which should not be classed under Personal Emoluments. Of $9,900 provided for salaries of Cadets only $6,394.09 were spent. Of $1,992 voted for salaries of Draftsmen only $704 were spent. A saving of $1,518.15 occurred on salaries of school teachers, and of $4,500 provided for salaries of District Surgeons only $2,100 were drawn. Other departments also had savings.

(iii.) OTHER CHARGES give a gross excess of $712.49 and a gross saving of $24,188.91. The latter being chiefly due to printed forms and books (saving $2,871.19), Survey Office transport (saving $1,771.76), protection of getah trees (unspent $4,027.68), payments to other Postal Administrations (saving $2,205.23), arms, ammunition and accoutrements (saving $2,247.83).

(iv.) INTEREST AND LOSS ON EXCHANGE.—Only $92,000 were estimated for interest on loans, whereas the interest for 1901 on debt to Perak and Selangor amounted to $103,938, subsequently remitted and credited to Special Receipts.

(v.) FEDERAL CHARGES.—The excess is caused by Pahang's share of Federal expenditure of two years (1900 and 1901) being charged in the 1901 accounts.

(vi.) MISCELLANEOUS SERVICES.—Saving $3,267.61 on "Passages on 1st Appointment."

(vii.) WORKS AND BUILDINGS.—Annually recurrent expenditure exceeded the provision by $1,565.56.

The nett unexpended balance for Special Works was $32,369.56, or very little less than half the estimate. The actual transaction on each separate work is recorded in enclosure G.*

ESTABLISHMENT PERCENTAGE.

7. The percentage which the cost of establishments, exchange compensation, and other allowances, bears to the revenue of the State for the year 1901 is given in enclosure O.* The actual cost was greater in 1901 than in the previous year, but worked on the revenue figures given in enclosure A * the percentage is less. As a truer result is arrived at by deducting the "Special Receipts" already alluded to, I give also the percentage based on the lower figures, which are very nearly the same as the revenue of 1900—these show an increased percentage in 1901.

* Not printed.

EXPENDITURE, 1900 AND 1901.

8. The actual expenditure of 1901 exceeded that of the preceding twelve months by $66,163.21, as detailed under the main heads of the Estimates in enclosure P.* I will not add to this Report the figures of years prior to 1900, for they are already available in the Gazettes and printed reports of former years.

ASSETS AND LIABILITIES.

9. The financial position of the State on 31st December, 1901, showed only a slight improvement over the position of twelve months earlier—notwithstanding that the large liability for interest due to Perak and Selangor was remitted by those States during the year. Details are given in enclosure Q.*

PERSONAL ACCOUNTS.

10. The transactions of 1901, under Personal Accounts, represented $1,274,351.40, on the receipt side and $1,436,257.06 on the payment side of the Treasury cash books. The figures of the previous year were thus exceeded by $589,842.73, throwing increased work on the Treasuries and Audit Office.

TREASURY SURVEYS.

11. In addition to the annual and audit inspection surveys the following surprise surveys were held on the Treasuries during the year, under G.O. 292—

Lipis, three	...	...	21-3	...	13-6	...	12-12
Raub, two	...	...	16-9	...	30-11
Temerloh, one	...	...	19-6
Pekan, two	...	...	26-6	...	30-12
Kuantan, one	...	...	31-12

REVENUE AUDITS.

12. At close of the year the audit of revenue accounts (including accounts of moneys collected on the personal accounts) stood as detailed in enclosure T.* In August the work was lamentably in arrears, but splendid progress was made before the year closed.

TREASURIES.

13. Mr. C. B. Mills ably conducted the Lipis Treasury work up to September, when he changed places with Mr. Krickenbeck and became Auditor. I was not equally satisfied with the progress of Treasury work under Mr. Krickenbeck.

14. A District Treasury was established at Raub towards the end of the year, until then it was a branch of the Lipis Treasury.

15. I have not yet visited District Treasuries at Temerloh, Pekan and Kuantan, but hope to do so this year. The monthly accounts have been rendered by the District Officers in charge of these remote and out-of-the-way Treasuries with a commendable promptness which I take this opportunity of acknowledging—they set an excellent example to Treasurers who, though more favourably situated, are not nearly so smart in the rendering of accounts or in prompt attention to matters connected therewith.

GENERAL ORDERS.

The Government has seen fit to lay it down that the General Orders are not so strictly applicable to Pahang as to the Western States, but I am right, I think, in saying that the general principles of the General Orders are observed in Pahang.

ADMINISTRATION.

On the urgent application of the Resident, I assumed administrative charge of the Treasuries and Audit Office of the State in September. A reorganisation of the Audit Office has already resulted in placing the financial administration on a more healthy basis.

REPORT ON THE FEDERAL ACCOUNTS FOR THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER, 1901,

BY

THE FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER, F.M.S.,

TO

THE RESIDENT-GENERAL, F.M.S.

1. (i.) Federal revenue for the year 1901 amounted to $157,860.21, being $5,360.21 in excess of the Estimates, as detailed below :—

Head of Revenue.	Estimated.	Actual.	Excess.	Deficiency.
	$	$ c.	$ c.	$ c.
Railway (Province Wellesley) ...	150,000	141,824 40	...	8,175 60
Reimbursements ...	2,500	15,393 85	12,893 85
Interest on daily Bank Balances ...	...	267 59	267 59
Miscellaneous Receipts ...	...	374 37	374 37
Total ...	152,500	157,860 21	13,535 81	8,175 60

(ii.) The railway from Prye was not open for traffic beyond Bagan Serai until 1901 had closed, otherwise the estimate would doubtless have been realised.

(iii.) Excess under reimbursements is due to $12,561.17 being refunded by Selangor for Selangor's share of interest on State payments by the Crown Agents in England (vide para. 4 (vi.) of Report on Federal Accounts for 1900).

(iv.) Miscellaneous receipts are made up by fees derived from the registration of companies.

2. (i.) Compared with the previous year the Federal revenue of 1901 shows an increase of $80,467.79, representing 103.97 per cent. explained as follows :—

Head of Revenue.	Year.		Increase.
	1900.	1901.
	$ c.	$ c.	$ c.
Railway (Province Wellesley) ...	74,783 35	141,824 40	67,041 05

Miscellaneous Receipts ...	...	374 37	374 37
Total ...	77,392 42	157,860 21	80,467 79

(ii.) Increase in railway receipts is due to the line from Prye being open to Bagan Serai during the twelve months of the year, whereas it was only open for eight months of 1900 as far as Nibong Tebal.

3. (i.) Federal expenditure for the year was $809,983.22, or $64,279.22 in excess of the amount provided in the budget and is summarised thus:—

Head of Service.	Estimated.	Actual	Excess.	Saving.
	$	$ c.	$ c.	$ c.
Personal Emoluments	320,764	323,961 24	3,197 24

(ii.) Gross savings under personal emoluments amounted to $12,755.50, and the gross excess to $15,952.74. The savings would have been greater and the excess less had it not been for the grant of exchange compensation and the cost of the Director, Public Works Department, which was not provided for in the budget.

(iii.) Though the nett excess under "Other Charges" is small the gross savings were $13,316.95 and the gross excess $13,705.22. The chief savings occurred under contribution to Training College for Malay Teachers and the Queen's scholarship fund (Education) and under experiments in agriculture (Plantations). The excess is mainly caused by transport expenses, and by the purchase of stores and ammunition (Malay States Guides), purchase of fuel and stores for the Meran, furnishing and upkeep of laboratory (Pathologist), and the unprovided expenditure on the Public Works office.

(iv.) Unforeseen expenditure of $500, paid to the widow of a deceased clerk, turned a small saving into an excess on the provision in the budget.

(v.) Interest on money advanced to Federal account by Selangor for the Federal services of 1900 exceeded by $7,746.63 the provision made in the budget.

(vi.) Under Miscellaneous Services the gross saving was $85,869.07 and the gross excess $7,834.43. The items in excess were passages of officers on first appointment, maintenance of Federal Home for Chinese women and children, and the cost of dies for the new Federated Malay States postage and revenue stamps. The savings occurred chiefly under the provision made for encouragement of immigration and of experimental porcelain potteries.

(vii.) Railway expenditure caused a gross excess of $18,015.43 on the provision in the budget, and the excess was common to all, except two, sub-heads of service. The two exceptions gave a gross saving of $22,671.46, most of which occurred on the maintenance of the Province Wellesley section of the open line.

(viii.) WORKS AND BUILDINGS.—Gross saving, $6,483.75; gross excess, $19,988.94. The latter was mainly due to the Pathological Institute buildings costing $11,751.38 beyond the amount provided for them. Other large excess occurred through work being carried out on revotes which were not inserted in the budget—i.e., Cottage walls, $1,286; approach road to cantonments, $1,298.38; and quarters for Engineer of Meran, $1,503.11. The chief item of the unexpended balances was $1,200, which were provided for Malay States Guides' kitchens in Pahang, and fortunately not spent before the withdrawal of the Guides.

Rice Allowance to Native Employè's	$8,229.75
Presentation Casket, etc.	3,878.07
Fees to Analyst	144.00
Secretary Salaries, Revision Committee	2,417.37
Contribution to Queen Victoria Memorial, London	100,000.00
10 % Bonus to Clerks	2,124.44
Donation, Colonial Nursing Association	5,161.29
Delegate, British Congress on Tuberculosis	70.06
Total ...	$122,024.98

4. Fuller details of the estimated and actual Federal expenditure of 1901 are given in enclosure A* of this report.

5. (i.) Federal expenditure during the year 1901 exceeded that of the previous 12 months by $77,349.16, an increase of 10.55 per cent., summarised as follows:—

Head of Service.	Year.		Difference.
	1900.	1901.	Increase.	Decrease.

		732,634 06	92,619 81
Nett Increase	...	77,349 16	77,349 16

(ii.) Increase in personal emoluments is due to grant of double exchange compensation, and to the salaries of two new departments—Plantations and Public Works.

(iii.) Other charges bear increases in nearly every department for transport expenses. The gross decrease is trivial and confined to three departments. The gross increase of $17,323.33 being further chiefly accounted for by mobilisation expenses (Malay States Guides), contribution to Training College for Malay Teachers, Queen's scholarship fund (Education), fuel and stores (Marine), and the expenditure on the two new offices—Plantations and Public Works.

(iv.) Interest and loss on exchange shows a decrease of $11,720.75, but this is only due to the expenditure of 1900 having been abnormally high [vide para 1 (ii.) of Report on Federal Accounts for 1900.]

(v.) Miscellaneous services show a gross decrease of $4,580.93 and a gross increase of $12,467.74. The decrease is mainly caused by less having been spent in 1901 on introduction of Indian immigrants, and by the 1901 provision for contribution to Training College for Malay Teachers, and for experiments in agriculture being placed under "Education" and "Plantations," respectively. The increase is accounted for by Forest Office and encouragement of Indian immigrants appearing in 1901 under this head against a "nil" expenditure in the previous year, and by increased expenditure on the votes for passages of officers on first appointment, maintenance of Federal Home for Chinese women and children, and new dies for postage and revenue stamps.

(vi.) RAILWAYS.—The decrease is due to the accounts for 1900 having been charged [vide para. 4 (vi.) of the Report on Federal Accounts for 1900] with $116,778.24 for railway loan interest, which was not incurred in 1901 because the money advanced by the Crown Agents was repaid very early in the year. Deducting this factor the result left is that the railway expenditure considerably increased during the year just closed. Maintenance cost more probably because there was a greater length of line open; $9,029.49 were paid to Perak, against nothing in the previous year, for the Federal proportion of Railway Officers' salaries, allowances etc., which are charged to the Perak Railway expenditure; and finally the salary and staff of the recently created General Manager's Department, and payments on account of quarters now being built for the General Manager, were debited to this head of service.

(vii.) WORKS AND BUILDINGS.—The expenditure provided under this head was a trifle over one-third of the amount estimated for the previous year, but the actual amount expended was $34,155.19 against $63,838.63 in 1900.

(viii.) Special expenditure was increased by a contribution of $100,000 to the Queen Victoria Memorial in London, and by a donation of $5,161.29 to the Colonial Nursing Association.

6. Fuller comparison of the Federal expenditure during 1901 with that of the previous 12 months is given in Enclosure B* of this report.

7. The actual cash transactions of the year 1901 are summarised as follows:—

10. The recommendation made in para. 8 of my Report on the Federal Accounts for 1900 has been acted on to the extent that the receipts and expenditure of the Tailoring Department appear in the Federal Estimates of 1902, but it remains to bring into the new system the $19,010.64 outstanding on 1st January, 1902, against the old account—the stock will have to be valued and charged to the 1902 provision. If the valuation equals the $19,010.64 the old account will close itself, but if there is a deficiency the difference will have to be dealt with before the old account can be closed.

11. The Federal revenue and expenditure of the year 1901 will appear in the State accounts of the same year. This is the first occasion on which the Federal accounts have been included in the State accounts of the year to which they relate, this—and the fact that this report is presented to you six weeks in advance of the date on which the report for 1900 was sent to you—represents some of the improvements which are due, in some measure, to the reorganisation of the Financial Department.

FEDERAL FINANCIAL OFFICE,
Kuala Lumpur, 24th March, 1902.

REPORT ON EDUCATION IN THE FEDERATED MALAY STATES FOR THE YEAR 1901.

The educational work done during the year 1901 in each State, as given in the reports of the State Inspectors, may be summarised thus:—

PERAK.

INSPECTORS.—Mr. Collinge, the State Inspector, was absent on leave during the first eight months of the year, Mr. Phillips, the titular Senior Assistant Inspector, acting for him until his return.

2. NEW SCHOOLS.—The report for the State shows that very satisfactory progress was made on the whole. Nine new schools were opened during the year; one an Anglo-Malay school in Taiping, and six vernacular boys' and two girls' schools for Malay children in various parts of the State.

3. SCHOOLS DISCONTINUED.—The Taiping Training College was discontinued, as the students from the Federated Malay States are now being trained with those of the Colony at Malacca, and the regimental school of the Malay States Guides was removed from the list of schools under the supervision of the Education Department.

4. NUMBER OF SCHOOLS.—This leaves the department with 118 Government schools to control and manage, and 8 grant-in-aid schools (which are equally divided between the Roman Catholic and Methodist Episcopal Missions), making a total of 126. Of these 110 are for boys and 16 for girls. If classified by the curriculum of work done in them they consist of 98 Malay vernacular schools for boys and 12 English or Anglo-vernacular; and 13 vernacular schools for girls (12 Malay and 1 Tamil) and 3 English.

5. ATTENDANCE.—The average enrolment of all the schools in the State for the year 1901 was 5,033 against 4,599 in the previous year, and the average attendance 3,791 as against 3,334 for the same period. These figures are satisfactory as the actual attendance in Perak for the year 1900 showed a decrease on that of the preceding year. The percentage of attendance has also risen from 72 in 1900 to 75 in the year under review.

The attendance in English schools increased from 1,071 in December, 1900, to 1,136 in December, 1901.

6. COST OF MAINTENANCE.—The grants-in-aid earned by the English or Anglo-vernacular schools in the State amounted to $6,255, or $938 more than in the previous year.

The total cost of upkeep of all the schools to the Education Department was $85,100.12, representing $25.13 per head for the English and $11.48 for the vernacular education. The revenue derived from them was $2,479.06, three quarters of which was realised from fees charged at the Central School, and the rest from the sale of books and school material. The balance of cost represents about 1.1% of the estimated revenue of the State for the past year.

ENGLISH EDUCATION.

7. ENGLISH SCHOOLS.—The English schools in the State are of two classes:—

- (i.) Those in which a purely English education is given; and
- (ii.) Anglo-vernacular, in which English is taught in addition to a vernacular.

In the former class, which contains eight schools, English is made as much as possible the medium of instruction; in the latter, of which there are seven, the vernacular is almost entirely the medium of instruction. Of these seven schools five are Anglo-Tamil, one Anglo-Malay and one Anglo-Chinese. The education given in the latter class is generally much less advanced than that given in the purely English schools and may be said to finish at the 3rd or 4th standard. They have their uses, however, if they can serve as feeders and preparatory schools to the larger English institutions; and, with the extension and joining up of the railway system, they are becoming so to a much greater extent than formerly.

8. CENTRAL AND IPOH SCHOOLS.—It is in the purely English schools that an education fitted to meet the requirements of the Government and of the chief commercial and professional men is given, and no school which does not teach up to the 7th (highest) standard of the English Code can be said to be doing this. The only boys' schools that are doing this at present are the Central School, Taiping, and the Wesleyan Methodist Mission School at Ipoh.

It would seem, moreover, that the only centres of population large enough to call for a complete and fully staffed English school are the two mentioned.

9. CENTRAL SCHOOL.—The Central School is making satisfactory progress in every way. When I examined it in December I found the space available was all occupied, and with 300 names on its registers it was inconveniently overcrowded in some rooms. The new school proposed, which is to replace it, will, however, rectify this defect. I was pleased to find that the whole work and tone of the school had greatly improved, but the European portion of the staff was inadequate, and Mr. Curtis, the only European Assistant, had been on sick leave for the greater part of the year.

Provision has been made in this year's Estimates to give two European Assistants instead of one.

10. AMERICAN MISSION SCHOOL, IPOH.—The English boys' school at Ipoh continues doing the excellent work it has always done. The boys again distinguished themselves in the upper standards by their good grasp of English. I regret to have to report that Mr. Wood, who has raised the school without European help to its present satisfactory condition, has broken down under the strain and been compelled to return to America. During the four years Mr. Wood was in charge the numbers attending the school trebled, and at the end of the school year under review numbered 220. I consider that the cause of education in Perak is much indebted to Mr. Wood for the excellent work he has done.

11. ENGLISH GIRLS' SCHOOLS.—The two girls' schools in Taiping—the Treacher Girls' and Convent Schools—acquitted themselves very creditably indeed in their examinations, as did the Methodist Mission Girls' School at Ipoh—although the numbers in the latter are disappointingly small. These three schools represent all that is being done towards giving a higher education to the Eurasian and better class of native girls in Perak, the total number of children attending them being about 140 during the year 1901. It must be admitted that the numbers are small, but it is difficult to see how they can be increased as long as there is so much indifference on the part of parents with respect to the education of their girls. There is some encouragement in the fact that the numbers have more than doubled in three years—thanks, beyond all doubt, to the efforts of the missionary teachers in the schools and amongst the parents.

12. MALAY VERNACULAR SCHOLARSHIPS.—I think it a matter for regret that, after providing $1,200 for scholarships for boys from Malay vernacular schools to enable them to learn English in the Central School, Taiping, or at Ipoh, so little was done during the year 1901 to put the scheme into operation. It appears to have been lost sight of while both the titular Federal and the State Inspector were absent on leave, but is being taken in hand now. It is a matter of great importance to the children themselves and to the State that the best intellects in Malay schools in the distant kampongs should have a chance of being trained by English teachers and of sharing with the more fortunately placed Chinese and Tamil boys in towns in the best education the State can give them. From the Government point of view, too, the English-speaking Malay clerk with a good knowledge of his own vernacular is, potentially, in most departments a more useful member of the service than the Chinese or Tamil.

VERNACULAR EDUCATION.

13. NUMBER OF SCHOOLS AND ATTENDANCE.—In December, 1901, there were 98 Malay boys' and 12 Malay girls' vernacular schools attended by 4,366 boys and 276 girls with an average attendance of 45 and 23, respectively; against 37 and 20 for 93 boys' and 10 girls' schools in the previous year. As the average attendance has risen from 70 per cent. to 73 per cent. in the same period satisfactory progress may be said to have been made.

Only two of the Malay schools have more than 100 in attendance, those at Gunong Semangol (111) and Kuala Kangsar (109). The best attended Malay girls' school is that at Bagan Serai, with 35 pupils.

14. NUMBERS ENROLLED AND LEFT SCHOOL DURING THE YEAR.—During the year no less than 2,058 children left the vernacular schools and 3,856 were admitted. Allowing for a considerable proportion of these being due to change of residence and school, it appears clear that there is a disposition on the part of parents not to take the education of their children very seriously, and the proportion of boys who stay and finish in the 4th standard is not as high as it should be. Of all the children borne on the registers of the schools only 1,380 were presented in standards 1 to 4—a very poor proportion out of a total of 4,642 in average enrolment.

15. GIRLS' SCHOOLS.—It is satisfactory to note that needlework, knitting and weaving are receiving full attention in the girls' schools, and the State Inspector reports it to be as satisfactory as in previous years.

16. KORAN CLASSES.—Koran classes were held in 89 schools and were attended by 2,030 scholars, of whom 132 are credited with having passed in the Koran during the course of the year.

17. VERNACULAR EDUCATION OTHER THAN MALAY.—I find myself generally in sympathy with the report of the State Inspector, but cannot share with him his desire, as given in para. 69 of his report, to spread vernacular education other than Malay in these States. The policy of keeping the children of alien immigrants aliens for the next generation is surely not the best, and is not the policy usually followed in any country, even where foreign immigrants are numerous. It would be doubly undesirable here, where every effort should be made, in view of our abnormally small child population, to break down the language barrier as far as possible and make, at least, the new generation regard this as their home-land. I have previously pointed out what inherent difficulties would attend a multi-lingual scheme of education in these States. It would mean giving vernacular education in two or even three dialects of Chinese, in Tamil, and, near the big towns, in Bengali; although a free education in the vernacular of the country is already provided.

SELANGOR.

18. INSPECTION.—During the year under review the services of the State Inspector were required during more than half the year in the Chinese Secretariat and the work of visiting the schools was considerably hampered. The two native Visiting Teachers were assiduous in this part of their duties but their visits cannot, of course, have the moral effect of that of a European Inspector.

19. NUMBER OF SCHOOLS.—The total number of schools now under the supervision of the department, either directly as Government or indirectly as Grant-in-aid schools, is 42. These are made up as follows:—

Malay Vernacular	Boys' Schools	...	...	...	33	Government
"	Girls' "	...	...	...	2	"
Chinese	Boys' "	...	...	...	2	"
English School	(Boys)	...	...	...	1	Grant-in-aid
"	(Girls)	...	...	...	2	"
Anglo-Vernacular	Boys' "	...	...	...	2	"
Total					42

One new school, for Malay boys, was added during the course of the year in the new Malay Settlement at Kuala Lumpur.

20. ATTENDANCE.—The attendance has increased from 1,406 in 1900 to 1,503 in the year under review in the vernacular schools, and from 608 to 659 in the English or Anglo-vernacular schools in the same period, the totals for the years 1900 and 1901 being 2,014 and 2,162 in average enrolment, respectively. The percentage of attendance varied from 81 in the Vernacular schools to 92 in the Victoria Institution. This satisfactory attendance is, I think, due in the vernacular schools to the Compulsory Education Enactment, and in the English to the fact that fees are charged in all of them but one—the small Anglo-vernacular school at Klang.

21. COST OF MAINTENANCE.—The total cost of maintenance for 1901 was $46,162.97 as compared with $39,524.74 in the previous year, the increase being chiefly due to the larger grants earned by the grant-in-aid schools. The cost for the year as given in the State Inspector's report was $24.74 per head in English, $16.39 in Chinese, and $10.39 in Malay schools, or an average of $17.21 per scholar. The grants earned by grant-in-aid schools amounted in all to $12,929. A liberal salary grant has now been made to the Victoria Institution in lieu of all grants previously paid by the Government.

ENGLISH EDUCATION.

22. ENGLISH BOYS' SCHOOLS.—There are three English boys' schools in the State—the Victoria Institution, with an average enrolment of 458; the Anglo-Chinese and Malay school, Klang, with 37; and the Anglo-Tamil school, Kuala Lumpur, with 42.

The Victoria Institution gave in the annual examination its usual evidence of thorough and conscientious work in each department. Two features in the year's work stand out prominently—viz., the successes achieved by three of its pupils in the Cambridge Local Examinations, one boy winning first-class honours, second division, in the Junior, with two marks of distinction, and two in second-class honours with the same number of marks of distinction for each, one in the Junior and the other in the Preliminary Examinations. Two other candidates passed in the Junior and eight in the Preliminary Examination. I may mention incidentally that the work of the Cambridge classes which I examined in December was the best I have yet had from the school. The other strikingly satisfactory feature is the growth and work of the Malay department of the school. Many of these boys are the holders of vernacular scholarships, and it is gratifying to be able to report that they are not only more than holding their own in English subjects in their respective standards against their Chinese and Tamil school-fellows, but are still working with profit and success at their own language.

23. The two smaller schools mentioned are teaching up to the 3rd standard and acting as preparatory schools to the Victoria Institution. They are certainly serving a useful purpose for that reason.

24. ENGLISH GIRLS' SCHOOLS.—The two English girls' schools—the Convent and the Methodist Mission School, Kuala Lumpur—passed a very satisfactory examination in each case. The only discouraging feature about them is that they do not show by their increased numbers a public appreciation of the excellent work they are doing that they certainly deserve. Their numbers only show an increase from 69 to 77 and 44 to 45, respectively.

VERNACULAR EDUCATION.

25. BOYS' SCHOOLS.—The year's work in the vernacular education does not call for any particular comment. The Inspector notes the excellent effect that the gift of a suitable ground and a football has upon the general tone of the schools, and reports a much-needed improvement in the two Chinese vernacular schools.

Thirty-five boys from Malay schools with small bursaries of $5 per mensem are now in attendance at the Victoria Institution. The vote of $400 for the payment of school fees for boys from Malay schools who are not quite up to the mark of scholarship boys has proved exceedingly useful, and 28 Malay boys have thereby been enabled to attend the classes at the Victoria Institution.

26. GIRLS' SCHOOLS.—The vernacular girls' schools number only two—those at Bandar and at Kuala Lumpur—with a total enrolment of 46. In connection with them the Inspector notices an improvement in the weaving. Unless, however, the bigger girls and even young married women can be induced to learn weaving—as they do in Perak—the average Malay schoolgirl will not learn much, as at the age of about 10 she is generally withdrawn from school and kept in seclusion.

27. INDUSTRIAL INSTRUCTION.—The industrial instruction furnished by the wood-carver, silversmith, blacksmith and tailor in the new Malay encampment at Kuala Lumpur has not been taken advantage of by the youths of the settlement to anything like the extent that was hoped. Several apprentices have entered, but the majority of them seem to prefer, after a trial of a few months, to return to bullock-wagon driving and other similar pursuits. A new day school has been started in the settlement and an effort will be made to get the bigger boys from it to learn one of the useful trades that the Government workmen are prepared to teach, but the majority of the children are much too young to begin yet.

28. KORAN CLASSES.—Koran classes were held in 28 schools and were attended by 620 children out of the 1,255 in average enrolment in the day schools in which they were held.

NEGRI SEMBILAN.

29. INSPECTION.—The work of inspection was carried out by Mr. Franklin, as far as his numerous other duties, and the difficulty of moving from the district of which he was in charge, would permit. He was assisted by a native Visiting Teacher, by whom, naturally, the great majority of the visits were made.

30. NEW SCHOOLS.—Three new Malay vernacular schools were opened during the year 1901—at Kampong Gulam, Sri Menanti (where the old building had been blown down) and at Salak Nama—thus raising the total number of schools in the State to 28. In accordance with the decision arrived at with respect to the gradual improvement of the vernacular schools, new buildings were taken over at Repah (for Tampin), Bagan Pinang and Kuala Klawang, in addition to the new schools mentioned above.

31. ATTENDANCE.—The attendance in the vernacular schools increased from an average of 941 in 1900 to 1,154 in the year under review, the percentages of attendance varying from 72 to 89, the highest being generally in the schools newly opened. One school, at Jempol, had an average attendance of 95 for the year—the highest in the State.

The average attendance in the only English school in the State was 53 for the year. This is the St. Paul's Boys' Grant-in-aid School, Seremban. The total number in average enrolment for the years 1900 and 1901 were 1,169 and 1,372 in vernacular schools, and 49 and 53 in the English school, respectively.

32. The total expenditure incurred for maintenance by the Education Department was $11,705, an increase of nearly $2,000 on the expenditure for the previous year. This is, of course, exclusive of cost of new buildings and repairs to existing schools. The cost per head on the average enrolment was $7.88 in the vernacular schools and $17.14 in the English school.

33. VERNACULAR SCHOOLS.—There is a marked improvement in the general state of the schools so far as classification and attainments are concerned, and the difference that formerly existed between the tone and efficiency of the average Negri Sembilan vernacular school and that in a similar school in the sister States of Perak and Selangor is rapidly disappearing. I rarely now find schools with a large proportion of the children below the first standard and the unsatisfactory and incompetent teachers have gradually been replaced by young men trained as assistants in bigger schools, or even in the Malacca Training College. They are generally, too, in receipt of slightly increased salaries. It is still, however, difficult to get a little drill and set of extension motions well taught by many of the teachers.

34. ENGLISH SCHOOLS.—The English school at Seremban again acquitted itself very creditably indeed in its annual examination. In spite of a few weaknesses in the lower standards the school is quite up to the average of any English school in these States. The tests in "English" in the higher standards—including framing of sentences and continuous composition—were not surpassed by those done in any other school in corresponding standards, except perhaps at the Methodist Mission School, Ipoh.

35. NO FEMALE EDUCATION.—There is no female education in the State yet. The fact is much to be deplored, but it is difficult to see where a school can be established amongst such a scanty and scattered population with much hope of success. An English school for girls has been tried in Seremban, but the numbers attending it were not sufficient to keep it going.

36. SPACE FOR SCHOOL BUILDINGS.—I found in my recent visit to Negri Sembilan that there is a tendency to build all new schools of about the same size. Many of the old ones that these have replaced were certainly small and cramped, but it is useless to build a school-room capable of holding from 100 to 120 children in districts like Bagan Pinang and Kampai (Chenoh), that have never yet furnished more than 40 scholars.

At the same time, it may be necessary in such places as Salak Nama, Jempol, Sri Menanti and Tanjong Ipoh to increase the dimensions beyond those usually allowed.

PAHANG.

37. NUMBER OF SCHOOLS.—At the close of the year 1901 there were 13 schools in existence, all Malay vernacular schools for boys. These are widely scattered and include 3 in the Raub district, 6 in Kuala Lipis district, 1 in Temerloh, 2 in Pekan, and 1 in Kuantan.

38. SUPERVISION.—The work of inspection and visiting is, therefore, extremely difficult and expensive. The schools are supervised generally by the District Officers and native headmen and inspected as far as possible once a year by the Federal Inspector of Schools.

39. ATTENDANCE.—The total number of children on the registers was 528 and the average attendance nearly 74% of this in December of last year. The largest school was that of Pulau Tawar with 89 on the books and an average attendance of 72, whereas Pekan, which in 1899 was the largest vernacular school in any of the Federated Malay States, had at the close of the year under review only 51 names on the school register.

The large increase in the Pulau Tawar school is due to the enlightened interest taken in it and help given by the headman of the district, and to a change of teachers, the previous one having been reported by me as unsatisfactory in 1899.

40. There are no English schools or girls' schools in the State.

41. EXPENDITURE.—The expenditure incurred in the maintenance of the schools was $3,417, which gives a cost per head of average enrolment of $6.47.

42. WORK OF THE SCHOOLS.—Mr. Voules, who acted as Federal Inspector of Schools last year until the month of September, found that the schools in Ulu Pahang had, as a rule, only boys in the lowest standards, the majority of them having been newly opened, but that the work in those standards was generally satisfactory. All the new teachers appointed will be quite capable of bringing their children up to the requirements of the Code.

43. One school, at Bersarah, in Kuala Kuantan, has disappeared from the list of schools in the State, as the numbers did not keep high enough to justify its continuation.

GENERAL.

44. TRAINING COLLEGE STUDENTS FOR VERNACULAR SCHOOLS.—During the year under review eight youths from the Federated Malay States entered the Training College for Teachers at Malacca. Six out of the eight acquitted themselves creditably in the examination at the end of their first year's training. One candidate was compelled to leave the college temporarily through illness and was not examined, and one, who was not sufficiently advanced when he entered the college, was unable to continue his course of studies during the second year.

Two from Negri Sembilan, who completed their second year's training, have received appointments in their own State schools.

Considerable difficulty is still experienced in getting suitable and intelligent boys to leave these States and go into residence in Malacca; and except in Negri Sembilan, which is near at hand, the best candidates of even those who first offer themselves can very frequently not be prevailed upon to enter when the time comes for doing so.

45. TECHNICAL INSTRUCTION.—The technical instruction actually given during the past year to boys from F.M.S. schools was still inconsiderable. A few scholarship apprentices worked in the Government Factory and Railway Works at Kuala Lumpur and made a small claim on the vote for Technical Instruction in Selangor. The attempt made to teach Malay handicrafts in the new settlement at Kuala Lumpur has been mentioned in the portion of the report on Selangor.

46. SPORTS.—Sports have now been recognised as a feature of the school life in all the three western States and votes for their encouragement have been provided. Football appears to be the one to which the Malay youth is most inclined, and it is greatly enjoyed at all those schools that are fortunate enough to have a suitable ground for playing.

47. RAILWAY PASSES.—With the joining up of the railway, and the considerable extension of the system of free passes to children attending school in Selangor, it has now become possible for any child in that State, or Perak, living within reasonable distance by rail to come in to school every day. The majority of those who do so are attending English schools, and a considerable impetus has thereby been given to education in districts that were not big enough or populous enough to support a school. The system appears to have worked very well hitherto: no complaints have reached me about the conduct of the boys while travelling, and the privilege is certainly very keenly appreciated by both pupils and parents.

48. SPECIFIC SUBJECTS IN ENGLISH SCHOOLS.—With respect to the English schools it is perhaps fitting in this report to point out that while the Code provides work in a large number of "specific subjects" there is no obligation on the part of the teachers to take them up unless they feel the pupils can do so with distinct advantage to themselves, and, above all, without detriment to their "elementary" and necessary "class" subjects. As the grant given on passes in "specific" subjects is a fairly high one a fairly high standard to obtain a success must be exacted, and some disappointment may have been felt by the teachers concerned that larger numbers of their pupils have not been accepted as "passes" in the tests set. As a general rule, I do not think the average 6th or 7th standard boy should be expected to take up two specific subjects, and, unless he has a special bent for them, the time required to make him fairly certain of a pass will certainly be taken from what could more profitably be employed in his "elementary" and obligatory subjects.

49. During the year under review the first Queen's Scholarship of £250 per annum given by the Government of the Federated Malay States was gained by Mr. Chan Sze Pong, and he is now pursuing his studies at Gonville and Caius College, Cambridge. The scholarship is tenable for four years.

50. I attach a table of statistics giving the number of schools and scholars and the cost of actual maintenance of the schools for the last four years. This covers the period during which a Federal Inspector for all the States has been in charge. It will be noticed that the total expenditure thus incurred last year was $157,104, or about 1 per cent. of the estimated revenue of all the Federated Malay States:—

The following statement gives the respective per-centage of working expenses to gross receipts on each of the Railways :—

	1900.	1901.
Province Wellesley	95'73	91'77
Larut and Krian	77'49	91'94
Kinta Valley	41'56	46'74
Selangor Railways	50'31	50'63

The increase of 3·49 per cent in the relation of working expenses to gross earnings is accounted for by the opening of two sections in Perak, namely Kuala Kangsar to Padang Rengas, on 1st July, and Bagan Serai to Alor Pongsu, on 1st May, and to the cost of alterations to steam ferries, rebuilding the Kamunting bridge, arrears of exchange compensation, increased cost of fuel and rise in rates of wages.

The number of train miles run was 806,517, being 100,097 in excess of those run in 1900, due to extra miles opened and increase of traffic. A special night goods train on the West Section, Selangor, is now a regular train on the working time table.

CAPITAL ACCOUNT.

The per-centage of nett profit for the year upon the capital expended up to 31st December, 1901, was 5·82 per cent, viz., Perak and Selangor, 4·72 and 7·30, respectively. This does not include capital lying idle, provided for lines still under construction.

The following statement shews capital expenditure and cost per mile open of the various Federated Malay States Railways, on the 31st December, 1901.

	244	53	18,534,011	75,754

In viewing the average rate per mile for all open lines it should be borne in mind that this rate of $75,754 includes the cost of constructing wharves, piers, buildings, sidings and purchase of land at six ports, viz., Penang, Prai, Port Weld, Teluk Anson, Klang and Port Swettenham, the latter alone costing $1,108,791.

RATES AND FARES.

A Commission appointed in 1899 to assimilate and settle the rates and charges on the Federated Malay States Railways forwarded their report on the 5th of July, 1900, and as a result, new rules relating to the Classification of Goods and Passenger Rates were published and brought into force in October, 1901. Prior to October, 1901, the rates ruling on the Perak Railways were much lower than those ruling in Selangor Railways. The new Classification assimilated the Perak rates to those ruling in Selangor, and in many instances reduced the latter. The rates now in force compare favourably with the Ceylon rates "Below Nāwalapitiya, also on Kurunégala and Mátalé Branches," though the cost of maintenance and working is more expensive here than in Ceylon.

CONDITION OF ROLLING STOCK.

OPEN LINES.

The locomotives were with considerable difficulty maintained in good order during the year. The shortness in engines and rolling stock caused a heavy strain in coping with the increased traffic. The stock of engines, waggons and carriages was very inadequate for the requirements, and consequently engines and stock that should have been in the shops had to be kept running; this was particularly the case in Selangor. The following statement shews the number of engines and vehicles available on the 31st December, 1901.

Of the 50 engines and 1,168 vehicles only 35 and 1,030, respectively, were available for working the traffic, the rest being engaged on Construction, Ways and Works and Locomotive Departments.

The daily mileage per engine working the traffic, including shunting, throughout the year was 112 for Perak and 100 for Selangor.

There were 50 engine failures, of which Perak contributed 46, causing 26 hours 59 minutes delay. The majority of these failures were of a trivial nature. There were no engine failures to cause delays to traffic in Selangor after the 13th of June, reflecting credit on the Selangor Locomotive administration.

Though the tax upon the Locomotive Departments to meet the demand of the traffic was exceptionally great I am pleased to report that all demands for engine power were satisfactorily met—but great difficulty was experienced, particularly in Selangor, in meeting the requirements of traffic with sufficient vehicles, and it was impossible to maintain the stock in Selangor in proper condition.

ACCIDENTS.

There were no injuries or accident of any nature to passengers during the year. Six deaths occurred in connection with working the traffic, three due to trespassing and three to misadventure. There were 31 derailments, of which nine occurred in Perak. Only one at Padang Java Station, Selangor, was of a serious nature, caused by the points being turned when half of a goods train had passed over them, derailing three waggons and causing considerable damage to rolling stock and permanent way. Four coaches were damaged at Ipoh on the 22nd May, by a Driver mistaking a signal and fouling the main line as a down passenger train was entering Ipoh Station.

PORT SWETTENHAM.

The new Selangor Port at Kuala Klang was opened for traffic on the 15th September under the name of Port Swettenham. Considerable trouble was experienced owing to sickness and it was only with the greatest difficulty the traffic could be maintained. I am glad, however, to be able to report that a normal condition now exists and the traffic is fully maintained without complaint.

There were at the close of the year 63 stations, of which four were opened during the year, namely Port Swettenham, Salak, Alor Pongsu and Padang Rengas. Klang, Sungei Besi and Serendah are the only stations that shew a marked falling off in receipts. The decrease in Klang is accounted for by the opening of Port Swettenham. Sungei Besi and Serendah being purely mining centres, the receipts vary from time to time.

There were 126 prosecutions instituted during the year. A sum of $2,500 was paid in claims, of which Perak contributed only $243. Owing to a fire in No. 2 Goods Shed, Kuala Lumpur, on the 20th March, claims to the value of $1,528 had to be paid. The cause of the fire remains undiscovered.

WAYS AND WORKS.

The Permanent Ways were maintained in good running order: 35,865 sleepers and 65 rails were renewed. In Selangor 8 miles 1,545 yards on the North and South Sections were taken up and relaid and rebalasted, the formation being raised over considerable lengths under a special provision of $112,000. In Perak 12,874 and 6,332 cubic yards of marble and sand ballast, respectively, were used in maintaining the open lines. There was no serious delays to traffic owing to slips. The station buildings, bridges and culverts were maintained in good order.

The relaying with 60-lbs. rails of the West Section, Klang to Batu Tiga, commenced in 1900, was completed in 1901.

Several buildings were erected during the year, such as coolie lines, drivers quarters and the material for fencing 20 miles of line in Selangor was procured.

STORES.

The total turnover in Selangor amounted to $710,942. I am unable to supply the figure for Perak. It is intended to re-organise the working of the Stores Departments and this is now receiving my attention.

TELEGRAPHS AND ELECTRIC LIGHTING.

The working of these Departments was satisfactory, though the want of an Inspector in Perak was much felt.

CONSTRUCTION—Continued.

Prai to Parit Buntar.—Opened in 1900 except the crossing of the Krian river. The estimated cost includes acquisition of land and works constructed in Penang, also the cost of two Ferry boats amounting in all to $533,000, which expenditure necessarily brings up the rate per mile, the length of ferry across the strait not being included in the mileage. The approaches to Krian bridge, after the superstructure had been erected, continued to subside, causing considerable extra work and delayed the completion of this small length and so prevented through communication: I am glad to be able to report that the trouble has now ceased. The bridge is two spans of 150 and two of 100. The passenger pier at Penang was nearly completed (since opened).

Parit Buntar-Taiping.—The formation was finished for 27 miles and 15 chains out of the total of 28 miles 31 chains. The line was opened to Bagan Serai in 1900, and from Bagan Serai to Alor Pongsu on the 1st of May, 1901, and tentatively to Taiping on the 1st March this year.

Taiping-Kuala Kangsar.—Fourteen miles 76 chains of formation were completed out of 19 miles 13 chains, and 6 miles 26 chains were opened between Kuala Kangsar and Padang Rengas, another 4½ miles could have been opened between Taiping and No. 1 tunnel, it was, however, decided to postpone the opening until the tunnel should be completed. Very good progress was made on this difficult mountainous section during the year; 461 and 464 lineal yards of heading and completed tunnel, respectively, were executed during the year, of which 369 were through solid rock, the remaining length being brick lined, Nos. 1 and 4 tunnels have since been completed; 357,824 cubic yards of earth and rock work, 65 bridges and culverts under 40-foot span, were completed, and 5 miles 7 chains of permanent way were laid during the year.

Kuala Kangsar-Chemor.—This section was completed in 1900. $4,659 was spent during 1901 on completing Enggor Station and ballasting.

Tapah Road-Tanjong Malim.—Thirty-one miles 79 chains of formation had been completed by the close of the year out of the total length of 43 miles 77 chains—of which 11 miles 41 chains were completed during the year. Nine miles 31 chains of permanent way were laid during the year, making 23 miles 34 chains laid in all. Two bridges of 100 feet and 24 bridges and culverts under 40 feet and 512,570 cubic yards of earth-work were done during the year on this section.

Kuala Kubu-Tanjong Malim.—This section was opened to traffic on the 1st November, 1900, though not fully completed. The expenditure for the year amounted to $72,952. 24,666 and 9,443 cubic yards of earth-work and ballasting were done during the year, and the work of completing the section still continues.

Kajang Seremban Section.—With the exception of 58 chains the formation was practically completed throughout, on which 19 miles 45 chains of permanent way had been laid and 12 miles 8 chains lifted and packed—734,113 cubic yards of earth-work and 30 bridges and culverts were completed during the year. The general progress on this section was very good, with the exception of the tunnel at Seremban, 207 lineal feet only having been completed on 31st December, 1901.

Kuala Klang Wharves.—The wharves were completed, and though the buildings and yards were not fully completed, they were handed over in March to the Ways and Works Department. Through passenger traffic from Port Swettenham commenced in June and the port was opened for general traffic in September.

The total expenditure during the year on Construction amounted to $4,697,727, viz., Perak, $3,249,279; Selangor, $1,448,488.

GENERAL.

In July I commenced the duties of General Manager and Chief Engineer, Federated Malay States Railways Open Lines and Lines under Construction, the appointment having first been created on the 15th of May, 1901. The Railway Departments of Perak and Selangor remains as previously constituted, directly administered by their respective Resident Engineers, but now under the General Manager, and this arrangement will continue until the lines are linked up and through communication established, when one Department will be formed out of the existing two. The fact of having two separate Departments under two Chief Officers, who have been in the habit of working on different rules, methods and systems, is not conducive to the best results, and the administration of the railways will not be satisfactory until re-organisation takes place and one Department with Chief Executive Officers over each Sub-Department, directly responsible to the General Manager, is established. In the meantime the working is being assimilated as far as possible.

SURVEYS.

Towards the end of the year arrangements were completed for the engagement of two Surveyors, four Assistant Surveyors, one Draughtsman and one Assistant Draughtsman in Australia for the survey of the Seremban-Kuala Gemas Extension, on which work this staff is now engaged.

ANNUAL REPORT ON FOREST ADMINISTRATION IN THE FEDERATED MALAY STATES, FOR THE YEAR 1901.

INTRODUCTION.

I have followed roughly the form of Forest Report in force in India, in writing this report, but as I only arrived on 1st November, 1901, I am unable to give full particulars or figures in many cases, owing to want of details and records. The report, however, should be of some use in showing the existing state of the forests and their administration, and will show that although there is still a great deal to be done, a beginning has been made.

It should also serve to give a clear idea of information which Forest Officers will have to furnish in future years and draw their attention to the necessity for keeping records of the information required. The department became a Federal one during the year.

CHAPTER I.

EXTENSION AND CONSTITUTION OF FORESTS.

I.—ALTERATION IN AREA.

Form No. 1 shows the area of reserves at the beginning and close of 1901. The total additions are 53,550 acres, of which the Parit reserve (50,000 acres) and Kledang reserve (3,470 acres) are in Perak, leaving only an addition of 80 acres in Selangor.

No additions were made in Pahang or Negri Sembilan, and no reserves exist in these States except a few acres in the latter State.

In Perak three other reserves were demarcated, but not finally gazetted during the year, with an area of 56,500 acres, and in Selangor an area proposed of 12,000 acres.

This table shows the proportion of forest reserves to area of the whole State.

State.	Area in square miles.	Area reserved forests in square miles.	Unreserved State forests.	Proportion of forests in whole area. per cent.
Perak	7,325	132	...	1.8
Pahang	14,000	...	...
Selangor	3,200	93	...	2.9
Negri Sembilan	2,500	...	...
Total ...	27,025	225

This shows how much remains to be done in reserving forest areas. In Burma the percentage is 10 per cent., and it cannot be called so completely a forest-covered country as the Federated Malay States.

II.—PROPOSALS AND SETTLEMENTS.

As seen in form 2, an area of 70,500 acres has been proposed during 1901, and of this two Bakau islands, near Port Weld, 36,500 acres, and Trolah, 20,000 acres (Taban), reserve have since been gazetted.

An area of 2,000 acres in Negri Sembilan was also proposed, and 12,000 acres in Selangor (Rantau Panjang).

More Getah Taban (Palaquium) reserves are urgently needed and there are many areas which can be taken up in Pahang, Selangor and Negri Sembilan. It is to be regretted this work has been so long neglected in the two latter States.

III.—DEMARCATATION.

This consists in cutting lines through the forest along the reserve boundary and putting up marks. Much requires to be done to the Perak reserve boundaries. The Selangor boundaries have received more attention. There is a total of 305 miles of boundary of which 119 are natural features and require no demarcation, beyond putting up of notices. The necessity for well-kept boundaries is obvious.

IV.—SURVEYS.

Progress is shown in form 4.

These are principally boundary surveys, and are therefore shown in the form in miles, as it cannot be said that an area is surveyed merely because a traverse is run along the boundaries.

Such survey would be useless for the purpose of working plans as understood in India, as full details of all the land enclosed are necessary. The dense nature of the evergreen forests here, however, would make a survey of large areas with all interior details and contours impossible, as the cost would be prohibitive.

Survey of the Bakau forests is now in hand.

CHAPTER II.

MANAGEMENT OF STATE FORESTS.

I.—WORKING PLANS AND THEIR CONTROL.

So far no working plans have been drawn up, hence the necessity for closing to exploitation of nearly all the reserves. Want of knowledge of their contents, and the fact that at present there is more than a sufficient supply outside reserves, makes this policy a sound one. It is hoped that a commencement may soon be made on the Bakau forests of Perak and Selangor.

II.—ANNUAL PLAN OF OPERATIONS.

These have never yet been made, although they are most necessary. Without them it is impossible to criticise the estimates, or to work under a definite plan.

III.—WORKING OF THE YEAR.

Communications and Buildings.

The accompanying form (form 6) gives full information on this head. It is noticeable that nothing has been done in clearing of paths through the forest reserves, a measure so strongly advocated by Mr. H. C. Hill.

Small rest houses scattered about near plantations and in reserves are indispensable, the Forest Officers should travel as much as possible, and in this climate these shelters are a necessity. Although the Forest Officer should have his head-quarters at the head-quarters of the Government of his State, he should live a great deal in these rest houses, and travel in his forests as much as possible.

IV.—PROTECTION AND BREACHES OF FOREST LAW.

The information on this head is incomplete (see form 7).

In Selangor, in some instances each offender has been treated as a separate case and in others several lumped together in one case, the number of cases is fairly large.

All these cases were taken to court, no powers as yet having been conferred on Forest Officers to compound petty offences as in India and Burma.

Out of 525 cases in Selangor, 398 were convictions and 126 acquittals, and one remained pending at the close of the year.

They are all classed together, no particulars being given.

In Perak cases were fewer, but there were several, I regret to say, of extortion on the part of forest subordinates. I have no doubt that the cases brought to court are only a fraction of the offences actually committed as the system of free passes to miners makes offences easy of commission and difficult of detection.

V.—PROTECTION FROM FIRE.

Owing to the climate, this is seldom necessary, and is only resorted to in the case of the Casuarina plantation, Circular Road, Kuala Lumpur, where it was successful during the year.

VI.—IMPROVEMENT OF FOREST GROWTH.

(i.)—Natural Reproduction.

The Forest Officer, Perak, reports that he considers "natural reproduction generally poor; without the help of improvement fellings nothing much can be expected." As far as my own observation goes, wherever I have been the forest growth strikes me as being extraordinarily plentiful of all ages. In Trolah reserve Getah Taban (Palaquium) seedlings naturally sown in dense high forest are very plentiful, and trees of 30 feet and 40 feet high are to be found in Parit reserve, proving that Getah Taban is able to hold its own even in these dense evergreen shady forests. The Forest Officer, Selangor, reports natural reproduction of this species as good in Rantau Panjang. I agree with the Forest Officer, Perak, that improvement fellings are beneficial, but that does not affect the actual natural reproduction which is everywhere abundant.

The seedlings germinate naturally, unaided, and only need a little clearing to ensure their rapid development.

In Parit reserve seedlings of Getah Taban (Palaquium) are abundant in places where no large trees were to be seen, and this looks as if the seed were carried to considerable distances by bats and birds. This view is confirmed by Mr. Curtis, Superintendent of Forests, Penang. This subject should receive greater attention and observation from Forest Officers during the coming year.

Bakau (Rhizophora): Mangrove Forests.—Bakau reproduces itself naturally extremely well. In some places, however, nearly all the seed-bearing trees have been cut out and the area is stocked with Api-Api (Avicennia) and Beremban; but even in such places there is usually a crop of small Bakau seedlings on the ground, and Langadi (Brugeria) is fairly plentiful.

(ii.)—Artificial Reproduction.

About 180 acres were added during the year to the area of regular plantations, chiefly Rambong (Ficus elastica) and (Hevea braziliensis) Para, in Perak. These will be discontinued as soon as seedlings now in the nurseries have been planted out, as these species are being extensively cultivated by planters.

The plantation at Pondok Tanjong was inspected by the Chief Forest Officer. Para and Rambong are doing well, but Chengai and Merbau do not grow well in the open, especially Chengai (Balanocarpus maximus). The seedlings had to be artificially shaded by plantains, when they shot up more in a year than in three previous years. Merbau does better, but cannot be called a great success. (See form 8.)

(iii.)—Cultural Operations.

The Waterfall plantation near Taiping is conducted on the right principle. Lines are cleared in the forest and Getah Taban put in under partial shade, enough cutting being done to assure free growth upwards and freedom from obstacles. This also was inspected by the Chief Forest Officer. The same method is being adopted in Selangor, in Sungei Buloh and Rantau Panjang. The Circular Road Casuarina plantation near Kuala Lumpur was increased during the year by the addition of 80 acres. The cost of this plantation during the year was $2,216, which includes all labour on planting and fire protection. This plantation was inspected by the Chief Forest Officer. In Rantau Panjang $1,796 were expended on clearing existing naturally grown Getah Taban, giving it light and space. Lines were also cut 33 feet apart and seedlings transplanted into these lines. About 70 acres have been so treated.

(iv.)—Experiments.

Some Bilian has been tried in Pondok Tanjong reserve and a little Mahogany. There are 6 acres of the former, they are reported as doing fairly well. In the Circular Road plantation 80 acres were planted with Tembusu (Fagraea fragrans) and Tambu Ayer Laut (Eugenia grandis). The land planted with Kajeput (Melaleuca leucadendron) and Tembusu has been heavily manured, with good results. This manure costs nothing, being supplied by Kuala Lumpur Sanitary Department. An average of about 22 cart loads of night-soil per day were buried between the lines during the year.

VII.—EXPLOITATION OF MAJOR FOREST PRODUCE.

Form 9 is returned blank, no details being available. The fact that all the timber extracted is cut in small quantities by innumerable Chinamen makes this a difficult matter to record, but I hope, in the future, now that there is a better office staff in forest offices, that this may be remedied. It is of great importance to know the annual output of timber.

In Perak the estimated revenue for 1901 under Timber was far exceeded, there being an increase of $58,286. This is largely due to the introduction of the system of measurement of timber, duty being chargeable on the tonnage (50 cubic feet to the ton).

Under heading Fuel there was an increase over estimates of $13,062, largely accounted for by the opening up of new sugar estates in Krian and Matang. A decrease in revenue under Fuel must be looked for as the Bakau (Mangrove) forests of Perak have been over-exploited. A large quantity of Chengai sleepers were delivered to the railway under contract by Mr. Chellancin, cut from inside the Pondok Tanjong reserve, and paid for at the rate of $1.10 per sleeper.

Other Chengai sleepers, cut from the forests between Sunkai and Bidau in Batang Padang, were also delivered by Bu Bi at a cheap rate. Notwithstanding this, Jara wood sleepers were imported from Australia for which $2.50 per sleeper was paid, although it seems an undoubted fact that Merbau (Azelia palembanica) abounds both in Perak and Selangor and could be had at little more than half that rate were timely arrangements made.

In Pahang State timber is worked chiefly in Kuantan where the output of Chengai is considerable, but the duty on timber amounted only to $6,195 during the year in this district. In the Rompin and Pontian rivers Balau was exported, bringing in $2,864. The Negri Sembilan report contains no information about timber.

It is well known, however, that there are large quantities of Penak (Chengal) in that State, and it will be one of the first duties of the Forest Officer to report on and propose reserved forests for protection of this valuable timber. But little yet is known as regards the Pahang forests, and the arrival of two Forest Officers from India must be awaited before any serious work can be commenced in this State. In Selangor, revenue on timber and firewood have not been separated; the whole amount on both these heads was $23,995 and on charcoal $4,947, and export duty on firewood $2,204. This compares very badly with Perak, where the duty on timber exceeded $85,000 and on firewood and charcoal $41,000, and it is hoped that with the introduction of the Perak system—viz., measurement of timber—duty under this head will be more than doubled. During the year the system in force was to grant licenses to fell trees, the value being gauged by their diameter at the base, and the price varying directly with the diameter. This is wrong in theory and impossible in practice, as we have not the staff to measure every tree cut, consequently I feel confident that much loss of revenue has been incurred. The same system obtained in Negri Sembilan, where, from enquiries made, I feel sure the meagre staff of forest subordinates did not, and could not, measure all trees granted under license. Passes were also issued.

VIII.—MINOR PRODUCE.

Form No. 10 is returned blank for want of information. In Perak there was a decrease in revenue due to the fact that for nine months of the year this revenue was credited to customs in the Krian district, and partly no doubt for want of proper control by subordinates. Ataps and charcoal increased. In Perak, Rubber shows a decrease of $7,106, as the collection of this product by licensees was stopped.

It is now collected by Government agency through Sakais under Mr. Cerruti, so far with but poor results.

In Pahang, Rubber was purchased by Government and sold in Singapore, a nett profit of $3,285 being realised, in Kuantan district. For other districts of the State a monopoly of purchase was granted to a Chinese firm on payment of $8,700 for the year. The tithes paid by the farmer on Rubber exported amounted to $11,561.

The working of Getah Taban was prohibited, but Getah Sundik does not seem to have been included in this prohibition, although a valuable gutta percha. This has since been remedied.

Other jungle produce realised $8,873.

In Selangor, minor produce realised $9,391 and export duty on minor produce $2,214. These figures are capable of a large increase.

CHAPTER III.

GROSS YIELD AND OUTTURN OF FOREST PRODUCE.

No data are available under this head, but a few general remarks may be of interest. The timbers most in demand are—

Chengal or Chengai	...	...	...	...	Balanocarpus maximus
Penak	...	...	...	...	" "
Merbau	...	...	...	...	Afzelia palembanica
Damar laut	...	...	...	...	Shorea utilis
Kulim	...	...	...	...	Sorodocarpus borneensis
Tampinis	...	...	...	...	Skætia sideroxylon
Tembusu	...	...	...	...	Fagrea fragrans
Petaling	...	...	...	...	Ochanostacys amentacea
Meranti	...	...	...	...	Shorea and Hopea

of these Chengai and Merbau are generally considered the best, while Meranti and Seraya (a kind of Meranti) are probably by far most used for furniture and building material as they are cheap and very plentiful. Judging by the revenue, by far the largest outturn of timber is in Perak, but the outturn in Selangor is doubtless much larger than the revenue would lead one to suppose, owing to the faulty system of passes and licenses existing during the year and the inadequate staff. In Pahang, Balau is exported (Parinarium oblongifolium).

The value of Chengai, Merbau and other first-class timbers was fixed during the year for purposes of revenue at $30 per ton converted and $20 per ton in the long, the rate of duty being 10 per cent. ad valorem with a further rate of 10 per cent. export on leaving the country. This latter tax, it has now been ruled, cannot be collected under the Forest Rules, but only under the Customs Enactment. It is to be hoped, however, that the revenue so derived may be credited to Forests. Meranti is valued at $20 per ton converted and $10 in the round. The above values are all, I consider, too low, being below the average current rates at present in force. The price of firewood per 1,000 small billets in Klang is $6.50, but higher elsewhere. Most of the firewood consumed in Kuala Lumpur came from alienated land within 10 miles round, but in Perak the Mangrove forests have practically supplied all the firewood for the railway, sugar estates and general consumption in Taiping. Two islands have now been closed to all but the railway supply. An immense amount of firewood has been cut and utilised under free pass by miners.

In Perak, 11,798 free passes, valued at $35,394, for timber and firewood were issued to miners, and in Selangor, 13,621, valued at $34,147, which if paid for would have realised $69,541. I have no figures for Pahang or Negri Sembilan.

CHAPTER IV.

FINANCIAL RESULTS.

Taking into consideration the want of organisation and the system of licenses and passes in Selangor and Negri Sembilan, also want of sufficient staff, the results of the year are very satisfactory, showing a gross revenue of $287,542. Credit is due to the Forest Officer, Perak, for a large increase in that State, $160,610 being realised, an increase of $78,130 over the Estimates, and for the introduction of the system of measurement of timber for calculating duty due. The statement of revenue and expenditure for each State is as follows:—

State.							Revenue.	Expenditure.	Surplus.
							$	$	$
Perak	...	...	...	...	...	...	160,610	62,786	97,824
Selangor	...	...	...	...	...	...	42,751	21,147	21,604
Negri Sembilan	...	...	...	...	...	...	29,801	10,884	18,917
Pahang	...	...	...	...	...	...	54,380	972	53,408
							287,542	95,789	191,753

The large surplus in Pahang is due to the fact that the department was altogether worked by the District and Land Officers, whose able services were obtained without any cost to the department.

Appendices A and B give particulars of revenue and expenditure, but I can only vouch for the absolute correctness of the totals, these being supplied me by the Auditor and Accountant, Federated Malay States. The other details are, however, sufficiently accurate for the purpose of comparison.

CHAPTER V.

FOREST ADMINISTRATION.

The European staff was limited to one Forest Officer and Assistant in Perak, one Forest Officer in Selangor and one in Negri Sembilan. In Perak, Mr. F. W. Douglas held charge for the first three months of the year, when Mr. A. B. Stephens resumed charge. Mr. B. H. F. Barnard nominally held charge in Selangor throughout the year but the work was still in the hands of the District Officers, he merely having charge of reserves, planting and such technical work. Thanks are due to all District and Land Officers all over the States for the large amount of work undertaken by them in connection with issuing of licenses, passes, and collection of duty, in fact practically all the work was in their hands. It is hoped that this will gradually be taken off their hands as new men are appointed to the Forest Department, all except the actual handling of revenue, which it is not at present intended to take over generally. Mr. M. A. V. Allen held the position of Assistant Forest Officer in Kinta till 23rd June, when he was relieved by Mr. P. Phillips, who was trained at Dehra Dun Forest School, and has since held charge. Mr. G. Cerruti was appointed Protector of Sakais, but is also a Forest Assistant in Batang Padang and paid out of Forest votes.

Mr. J. S. Goodenough, Forest Inspector, in Selangor, was suspended in November and subsequently dismissed the service. Mr. A. L. M. Scott held charge of the Negri Sembilan Forests during the year, but was subsequently retired owing to ill health.

In Pahang no Forest Officers have yet been appointed, but arrangements have been made, and two officers it is hoped will shortly arrive from India. The Chief Forest Officer arrived on 1st November. It is obvious that the present staff is very inadequate and a scheme is now being prepared for increasing the strength of the department.

Subordinate Staff.—This can only be said to have been organised with anything like success in Perak. Elsewhere the staff was undermanned and inefficient.

DISTRIBUTION.

2. Return A shows the distribution on 1st January and, on 31st December, and A (i.) the establishment as allowed by the Estimates. A comparison of A and A (i.) will show that on 1st January there were one Deputy Commissioner under strength (Mr. Douglas on leave), nine Inspectors, and 122 non-commissioned officers and men, and that the detectives were in excess by six. Of these three were of the Selangor Force, and were paid as special constables, and three were of the Negri Sembilan Force. A further comparison of A and the Establishment in A (i.) shows that on 31st December the Force was short one Deputy Commissioner (Mr. Douglas, Deputy Commissioner, Police, Perak, acting for Captain Talbot, Commissioner, on leave), one Assistant Commissioner, eight Inspectors (one being on leave from Selangor and one from Perak), 66 non-commissioned officers and men, and was in excess six detectives. These figures include the two Supernumerary Inspectors provided for on the Federal vote. The distribution was practically the same as in 1900.

DISCIPLINE.

3. Return B shows the offences against discipline committed by non-commissioned officers and men during the year. It shows an increase of 468 offences. These are chiefly to be accounted for in Selangor under miscellaneous, or other breaches of discipline, and quitting beats; the increase there under these headings being 30 charges.

The totals of crimes reported against non-commissioned officers and men of the four States for 1900 and 1901 compare thus—

	1900.	1901.
Perak	497	477	decrease of 20
Selangor	457	832	increase of 375
Negri Sembilan	67	100	" 33
Pahang	122	204	" 82

Under the heading "Asleep on Duty" there has been a decrease of 37 offences, Negri Sembilan showing the surprising total of three offences.

Under "Disobedience of Orders" there has been the slight increase of 35 offences. Under "Drunkenness" there has been the slight decrease of nine cases. It will be observed that crimes of a serious nature have been few in number, few serious offences having been reported against the men, and I may say that the discipline continues to be satisfactory.

* Returns not printed.

ENLISTMENT.

4. Return C gives the number of Malays and Indians who offered themselves for enlistment, showing those rejected and engaged.

INDIANS.—The total that offered themselves for enlistment was 657, of these 64 were old police constables. One hundred and sixty-four were enlisted and 461 rejected, while 32 of these were found medically unfit.

MALAYS.—The total that came up for enlistment was 361. One hundred and forty-seven were enlisted, and 196 rejected, 18 of these were medically unfit. There was no scarcity of the Indian element, especially in Perak and Selangor, but many of the candidates were more suitable for employment as cart drivers than constables.

Of Malays there was and continues to be, especially in Perak, a scarcity of the right class of recruits: although so many as 361 offered their services a great many of them were mere boys and others were undersized and wanting in general appearance. The Deputy Commissioner, Selangor, writing on the subject of enlistment of Malays says: "Recruiting among the Malays is not brisk, and none of the ideal Malay constable was seen by me. Although a Malay in joining is paid $12 a month and is found in uniform and quarters, the temptation to good specimens of the Malay has failed to prove sufficient inducement to join a service that is irksome and not, from their point of view, over respectable."

In Selangor and Pahang the Malay constable is allowed a $2 unpensionable allowance. In Perak and Negri Sembilan only $1 is allowed. Besides this, a $1 allowance is made for rice in each of the States. Thus a recruit enlisting in Selangor or Pahang on a salary of $9, with these allowances draws $12 per month, and in Perak or Negri Sembilan $11. Ten years or less ago this would have been very good pay, and would have induced Malays to have enlisted. Matters are very different now. Any ordinarily intelligent Malay can easily earn $12 per month and be free from the irksome ties that are consequent on the maintenance of discipline in a Police Force. I do not consider that sufficient attention has been paid to the necessity of recruiting Malay Police. Without considerable trouble and a certain amount of expense, suitable men cannot be got. If the respective Police Officers rely on being able to fill vacancies as they occur, with men that come and offer themselves for enlistment, then it is not surprising that the results are not satisfactory. To save time, trouble, and unnecessary expense in trying useless recruits, a Federal Recruiting Establishment should be opened for both Malays and Indians, in which they could be taught their preliminary drill, to read and write to a certain extent, and the Police Catechism, and also a certain amount of police duty.

Of the 696 Malays employed in Perak and Selangor, the following figures show where their homes are situated:—

	Perak.	Selangor.
Malacca	7	126
Singapore	1	12
Penang and Province Wellesley	129	32
Rembau	...	75
Sungei Ujong	3	12
Perak	160	5
Selangor	6	9
Kedah	33	1
Sumatra	11	32
Java	1	6
Muar	...	2
Kelantan	1	5
Patani	...	1
Tringanu	1	...
Sarawak (Dyak)	1	...
Unascertained	8	14
	362	334

The contrast, in Perak, of 160 out of 362 Malays who nominate the country as their home, as compared with Selangor with nine out of 334 is very considerable. The greater portion of the 160 men in the Perak Force came from the Krian district, the next largest recruiting ground for Perak is shown as Penang and Province Wellesley, while in Selangor, Malacca heads the list and Rembau comes next. The Malacca Malay is undoubtedly the best class of recruit. They do not like going so far afield as Perak. In Negri Sembilan the Malacca and Rembau Malay predominates among recruit. In Pahang there are a few from all parts.

DISCHARGES.

5. Return D is a return of men who resigned, time expired, were dismissed, recruits discharged as unfit, deserters, retired on pension, retired medically unfit for further duty, died during the year, and those convicted by magistrates.

MUSKETRY.

6. Return E is a return of musketry for the year showing classification and the averages and percentages in the "individual" course and in the collective practice, both for Indians and for Malays, which are shown separately.

Eight hundred and twenty-one Indians fired the "individual" course with an average of 90.37. There were 178 marksmen. In the collective practice 821 were also exercised and the percentage was $46.36\frac{1}{2}$.

Eight hundred and ninety-eight Malays fired the "individual" course. There were 64 marksmen and the average was 74.18. The same number of Malays fired in the collective practice with a percentage of 36.73.

In the "individual" course by Indians, Negri Sembilan shows slightly better than Perak, which shows second. Pahang shows third, and Selangor last. In the collective practice for Indians, Perak shows first, Pahang second, Negri Sembilan third, and Selangor last.

In the "individual" course for Malays, Selangor shows first, Perak second, Pahang third, and Negri Sembilan last. In the collective practice Pahang shows first, Selangor second, Perak third, and Negri Sembilan last. On the whole, the general average in the "individual" firing for Indians was not quite so good as in 1900, and in the collective practice there was in 1900 a percentage of hits of 52.89 as compared with 46.31 for the year under review.

In the "individual" course for Malays the average was 74.18 as compared with 74.15 for 1900. In the collective practice, Malays, the percentage was 36.73, against 37.12 in 1900.

In Selangor the musketry course had to be delayed for a considerable time in consequence of the want of ammunition. It arrived in time, but late in the year, the consequence being that the last shot was fired on the last day in the year. This naturally caused the course to be somewhat hurried on, and it is assumed that had there been more time the results would have been more satisfactory.

In Pahang the Force fired their course with the same weapons as they did in 1900, the new pattern carbine with which they were armed during the year not having arrived in time.

ADDITIONAL MUSKETRY COURSE.

Return E (i.) shows the firing throughout the Federated Malay States in this course.

ARMS.

7. The arms, etc., were looked after as well as possible.

IN PERAK Mr. Field, the Malay States Guides Armourer, gives as much attention to the police arms as possible. He inspected the following districts during the year, Kuala Kangsar, Kinta, and Lower Perak.

IN SELANGOR the following places were visited by Mr. Armourer Field: Kajang, Sungei Besi, Kuala Lumpur, Klang, Kuala Langat, Sepang, Serendah and Ulu Selangor. He thoroughly overhauled and cleaned 527 arms and reported that they were in fairly good condition.

IN NEGRI SEMBILAN the following stations were visited by Mr. Field: Port Dickson, Seremban, Jelebu, Kuala Pilah and Tampin. The number of arms inspected was 256 and he reported that he found them in a very unsatisfactory condition. In this State there is a Chinese armourer who is a good workman, but whose time had, prior to Mr. Field's visit, been too much taken up in making number plates, etc., for the Sanitary Board. This has been stopped.

IN PAHANG Mr. Field visited Tras, Raub, Bentong, Kuala Lipis and Pekan, and inspected 50 Martini-Henry carbines and some Snider rifles and carbines. He examined the 50 Martini-Henry carbines and thoroughly overhauled them, but did not report satisfactorily of the state in which he found them. The police in this State were re-armed with the .303 Martini-Henry-Enfield carbines and the 50 Martini-Henry carbines were sent to Selangor.

HEALTH.

8. Return F is a return showing the number of admissions to hospital and deaths during the year. There were 33 deaths as compared with 17 last year. Selangor appears as unhealthy compared to Perak and Negri Sembilan, but as compared with last year there is a reduction in the number of admissions into hospital of 116. Pahang shows a decrease of 433 admissions into hospital, but there were 621 men treated as out-door patients; a total, including the 276 sent to hospital, of 897; an increase on the total treated in 1900 of 96. At Batu Gajah, in the Kinta district, Perak, malarial fever was very prevalent and especially so in the new Sikh barracks, which were moved from a good to a very undesirable site. The building should be pulled down and re-erected on or near the former site. The number of men treated as out-door patients in Perak was very considerable and shows an increase of 2,796 on 1900. In Negri Sembilan there was an improvement in the number of admissions into hospital by 13, but an increase in out-door patients of 125.

BUILDINGS.

9. PERAK.—A new police station was built at Kati and at Salak in the Kuala Kangsar district. A police station was in the course of construction at the end of the year at Kuala Kurau, in Krian.

The following buildings, for which provision was made in the Estimates, were not constructed:—A police station at Termeloh, Inspector's quarters at Kampar, married quarters for four men at Slim and new police station at Bidor.

SELANGOR.—The lock-up at Pudoh was doubled in size. Two sets of excellent married quarters were built at Kuala Lumpur abutting on Station Street, taking the place of others in the centre of the barrack compound that were dilapidated and in the way. A police station was in course of construction at Batu and another at Jugra to replace the one previously existing. A fine new station was built at Ulu Langat. The Kuala Kubu station was enlarged. In Kuala Lumpur a set of Inspector's quarters have been erected in Petaling Street.

NEGRI SEMBILAN.—No new buildings were erected. The following buildings were provided for:—

1. A new police station at Senawang;
2. New quarters for Inspector of Police, Seremban;
3. Kitchen and latrine, Tampin lock-up;
4. New quarters for 15 married Sikhs, with out-houses, at Seremban;
5. Quarters for Sikh Sergeant-Major;
6. Barracks for four single Sikhs, with out-houses, Mantin;
7. Pounds at Mantin and Titi;
8. Store at Tampin police station;
9. Pound at Broga.

Of these items, No. 6 was completed during the year and Nos. 1 and 2 in February of the current year.

PAHANG.—A police station was built at Bentong. A new wing was added to the existing police station at Raub. Inspector's quarters was built at Kuala Lipis. A police station was built at Temerloh. In addition to these the following buildings were partially completed at the end of the year:—The Inspector's quarters, Raub; Sikh barracks to accommodate 32 men at Pekan, and a police station at Sungei Lembing.

CLOTHING.

10. The clothing was, as hitherto, supplied by the Tailoring Department and gave general satisfaction. Mr. Moss has taken great pains in his work and has shown every desire to please all Chief Police Officers, and he deserves great credit for the way his work has been carried out when the difficulties of transport are considered.

DETECTIVES.

11. This branch of the Force, a very very poorly paid one, have during the year done as well as in preceding years. They have great difficulties to contend against and with a few exceptions have had no training. At $10 per month it is impossible almost to get a Chinese waterman. It is therefore not surprising if some of these men have in the past joined this branch of the Force with the object of trumping up charges against innocent persons and profiting thereby.

This is a matter that has always had the close scrutiny of the more Senior Police Officers and has created the greatest concern, but it is a danger that must be more or less present at any time in any native Police Force. It is to be hoped that the proposed scheme for the grading of the Detective branch of the F.M.S. Police, which H.E. the High Commissioner has approved of, will have the desired result.

CRIME.

12. The return G is a comparative return of the cases reported and discovered during 1900 and 1901, giving the percentage of discoveries. There were 3,970 more reports than in 1900, with 2,653 more discoveries.

PERAK.—In Perak there were in all 17,204 crimes reported to the police, being an excess on the previous year of 1,707, but less than in 1892, 1893, 1894, and 1895, and less by 3,305 than in 1896. The percentage of cases discovered was 47, but it reaches 66.60 per cent. if breach of contract (absconding coolies) is omitted; the total cases reported were 6,051.

SELANGOR.—In Selangor there were in all 15,484 crimes reported to the police. This is an increase of 628 on 1900. The total reports under breach of contract was 6,089.

NEGRI SEMBILAN.—In Negri Sembilan there was an increase of 101 cases reported to the police.

PAHANG.—In Pahang there was an increase of 532 cases reported to the police. This increase is to be accounted for under the following headings:—House-breaking, criminal force, and breach of the Vehicles Enactment.

SERIOUS CRIME.

13. Return H gives the particulars. Perak shows an increase of 36 cases, Selangor a decrease of 27, Negri Sembilan the pleasing decrease of 44 and Pahang a decrease of 9 cases.

PERAK.—Murders: there were 20 murders and 13 discoveries against 22 murders and 17 discoveries in 1900. Of gang robberies there were 76 against 59 in 1900; 60 of the total were in the Kinta district; 29 persons were convicted of this offence, which is satisfactory. Many of these robbers were armed with pistols, which in some cases were used for maiming their victims, while in others they were either shown or fired off to intimidate those being robbed as well as to prevent assistance being rendered. Highway robbery: there were 82 cases and 28 discoveries in 1900. These were also in the Kinta district.

House-breaking: there was a decrease of three cases and a decrease in the discoveries of 13 cases.

Robbery: there were 56 cases and 33 discoveries—that is, a decrease of 15 cases. It is wonderful how seldom Chinese when attacked on road, in house, or kongsi building offer resistance, even when they out-number the attacking party by 10 to 1. The argument used by most of the well-to-do Chinamen, is that they would sooner give “their all” than run any risk of losing their lives by showing resistance. There have been several instances in which it has been shown how soon gang robbers turn tail when fight has been shown.

SELANGOR.—Murders: there were 12 and 6 discoveries against 20 and 9 discoveries in 1900. This is satisfactory.

Of gang robberies there were 57 and 15 discoveries against 30 and 9 discoveries in 1900.

Highway robberies: there were 43 cases and 16 discoveries against 35 and 10 discoveries in 1900.

House-breaking: there were 96 cases and 24 discoveries against 126 and 22 discoveries in 1900.

Robbery: there were 36 cases and 18 discoveries against 62 and 26 discoveries in 1900.

NEGRI SEMBILAN.—Murders: there were 6 cases and 6 discoveries against 2 and 2 discoveries in 1900.

Gang robbery: there were 11 cases and 2 discoveries against 7 and 4 discoveries in 1900.

Highway robbery: there were 32 cases and 5 discoveries against 53 and 12 discoveries in 1900.

House-breaking: there were 74 cases and 5 discoveries against 108 and 13 discoveries in 1900.

Robbery: there were 15 cases and 7 discoveries against 9 and 5 discoveries in 1900.

PAHANG.—Murders: there were 3 murders and 2 discoveries against 5 and 4 discoveries in 1900.

There were no gang robberies.

Highway robbery: there was one case only and that was discovered.

House-breaking: there were 37 cases and 9 discoveries against 16 and 11 discoveries in 1900.

Robbery: there was one case and one discovery against 5 cases and no discoveries in 1900.

With the exception of house-breaking these records are very satisfactory. Under the heading Serious Crime, Perak and Pahang show respectively increases of 33 and 9 cases, while Selangor and Negri Sembilan show decreases of 27 and 44 cases, respectively.

Thus for the whole of the Federated Malay States there has under this heading been a decrease of 29 cases.

SECRET SOCIETIES.

14. These gave little or no trouble during the year.

EXPENDITURE.

15. Return I gives a comparative statement of the cost of the various Forces during the years 1900 and 1901.

The total expenditure was $582,544.41, an excess over 1900 of $51,981.53.

REVENUE.

16. The revenue collected was—

Perak	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	$17,761.68
Selangor	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	14,953.48
Negri Sembilan	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	5,676.66
Pahang	...	...	...	...	...	...	...	7,247.25

BIRTHS AND DEATHS.

17. The births and deaths actually reported to the police were—

	Births.			Deaths.
	Males.	Females.		Males.	Females.
Perak	3,153	2,801	...	10,452	2,249
Selangor	984	925	...	6,790	1,217
Negri Sembilan	1,226	1,200	...	2,571	1,023
Pahang	237	223	...	896	191

REGISTRATION AND DESTRUCTION OF DOGS.

18. Return J is a return of dogs registered and destroyed in Perak, Negri Sembilan and Pahang during 1901.

In Selangor this work was done by the Sanitary Board alone. No provision was made for the registration of dogs outside the limits of Kuala Lumpur. This is now being done by the police throughout the State.

There has been no outbreak of rabies during the year.

FIRE BRIGADES.

19. Nearly all engines, etc., under the charge of the police are in satisfactory order.

There were 43 fires in Perak, the property destroyed being valued at $251,605.10. Of these 11 were in Larut, 22 in Kinta, 5 in Batang Padang, 3 in Matang, 1 in Selama and 1 in Krian.

At Telok Kruing, in Kinta, a whole village of 64 atap houses was burnt and the estimated loss was \$50,000. This place is about $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles distant from the nearest fire engine and police. The fire engine attended but was too late to do any good.

The village of Chemor, in Kinta, was also almost entirely destroyed, 57 atap houses were burnt at an estimated loss of $40,000.

At Siputeh, in Kinta, 21 atap houses were burnt in the main street at an estimated loss of $7,000. The fire engine (manual) rendered all possible assistance.

In the Negri Sembilan there was only one serious fire, that at the house of Capitan Lee Ah Sam, at Gedong Lalang. It was entirely destroyed. Two Malays were charged with the offence of incendiarism and were sentenced to three years' rigorous imprisonment each.

In Pahang there were two fires, one of which was classified as serious. The first was at Raub where 20 shop houses were burnt in the main street. The value of the property destroyed being estimated at $10,129. The other was a case of 42 Malay huts being burnt down near Raub. The occupants were mostly employed by the Raub Gold Mining Company.

TELEPHONES.

20. The remarks made in the report for 1900 refer equally to 1901.

INSPECTIONS.

21. I visited and inspected all the principal stations and a considerable number of the minor stations in Selangor, except Kuala Selangor, Kuala Langat and Sepang.

In Pahang I, in October, inspected at Tras, Raub, Benta and Kuala Lipis, and was very pleased with everything I saw.

In August I inspected all the stations in the Negri Sembilan with the exception of a small one at Rantau. This includes those in Jelebu, Kuala Pilah, Tampin, Rembau, etc.

In Perak I have inspected, on several occasions, the principal stations, more particularly those in the Kinta and Batang Padang districts. I have also visited nearly every small station in the State.

GENERAL.

22. PERAK.—I returned from leave in March and assumed my duties as Deputy Commissioner, Perak, and Captain Lyons, Assistant Commissioner, Kinta, who had been acting for me, proceeded to Selangor and took over command of the Force in that State from Mr. Hatchell, Deputy Commissioner, Negri Sembilan, who had been acting in command in the absence on leave of Mr. Wagner, Deputy Commissioner, Selangor. Mr. Hatchell returned and reassumed command in Negri Sembilan, where First Class Inspector Hannay had been acting for him.

In April Captain Talbot, Commissioner, Police, F.M.S., proceeded to England on leave and I was appointed to act for him, and did so in addition to my own duties as Deputy Commissioner, Perak, till the return from leave of Mr. Wagner in May. Mr. Wagner reassumed command of the Selangor Force on the 22nd May, and Captain Lyons returned to Perak and relieved me of the duties of Deputy Commissioner. Mr. Jones-Parry was appointed Assistant Commissioner, Police, Perak, on the 11th April. Mr. T. Rowley, Assistant Commissioner, Selangor, acting as Assistant Commissioner, Kinta, was transferred to the Land Department, Negri Sembilan, in August. Mr. R. Walter was appointed in his stead to do duty in Kinta, and on the 17th December left the Force on being appointed to Wei-Hai-Wei. Mr. Chief Inspector Buswell, on leave, retired on pension. First Class Inspector McKeon retired on pension. First Class Inspector Evans was promoted Chief Inspector, vice Mr. Buswell. A. McRory, T. Rayney and D. McCarthy were appointed Second Class Inspectors, Perak. Inspector McCarthy was permitted to resign.

Quarantine duties were, as usual, performed by the police, with the assistance of watchmen.

Outbreaks of cholera, small-pox and rinderpest occurred during the year.

SELANGOR.—In this Force, as in that of Perak, much inconvenience was experienced for the want of Inspectors. Since May there was no Assistant Commissioner in Kuala Lumpur. The Deputy Commissioner of Police says it is a wholly unnecessary appointment, that he would be glad to have two or even one Inspector in his place. I do not agree with him.

Inspector Perkins was appointed on the 3rd January. Inspector Crampton's services were dispensed with in February. Inspector Gallagher, appointed in February, was suspended on the 4th April and his services were dispensed with on the 15th of the same month. Inspector Rattray was dismissed the service in May. Inspector McCalman, appointed 15th March, resigned on 31st August. Inspector McCully's services were dispensed with in December. He was transferred from Negri Sembilan in September. Inspector Beck, on leave in England, died on the 1st May. Inspector Page, appointed in September, was dismissed in December. Mr. Whitley ceased to act as Assistant Commissioner from the 24th September. Mr. Wagner, Deputy Commissioner, returned from leave on the 21st May and reassumed duties next day, Captain Lyons returning to Perak. Inspector G. Conway returned from leave on the 16th March, and Inspector Crompton left the State on leave on the 9th May.

NEGRI SEMBILAN.—Mr. Hatchell, Deputy Commissioner, returned from Selangor, where he had been acting Deputy Commissioner, and resumed his duties on the 1st April, taking over from Inspector Hannay who had been acting for him since October, 1900. Inspector Legge was in charge of the Kuala Pilah district.

The State was short an Inspector on Inspector McCully being transferred to Selangor, his conduct in Negri Sembilan being far from satisfactory. It was impossible to find an Inspector to replace him.

The number of stations occupied during the year was 24.

The following stations were closed :—Bukit Putus and Lubok China. The population of the State considerably increased during the year.

PAHANG.—Eighty-seven and a half tahils of alluvial gold were voluntarily registered in the Police Office, Kuala Lipis, during the year which had been procured on miners' licenses at Tanjong Besar, Telang and Kuala Lepar in the Ulu Pahang district.

The only change in the Police Officers was the transfer of Inspector G. H. Conway from Selangor to Pahang in February. He suffered in health continuously and had to be moved in March, 1902.

The post of Chief Police Clerk was vacant nearly the whole year. This threw a lot of extra work on the Assistant Commissioner, Mr. Sumner, who deserves great credit for the smartness of his men and the excellent and neat way in which he keeps his office records.

23. During the whole year the efficiency of the police has been tampered with everywhere by an inadequacy of officers. Where it was possible to fill vacancies new and inexperienced men were only available. Many Inspectors were engaged and found useless and had to be got rid of, and, as has already been shown, on the 1st January the Force was nine Inspectors short and again at the end of the year. Matters had then improved to an extent, there being eight vacancies out of a complement of 32, a fourth.

In consequence of the unsatisfactory results consequent on engaging men locally as Inspectors it has been practically decided to procure them in future from England, and I hope with the desired results. These Inspectors will be considerably handicapped in the performance of their duties, which will, in consequence of the Force being so short handed (it is at the time of writing under officered by 12, not including one on leave, from Selangor) have to be immediately taken up without their having time to first learn them. Had it been possible to obtain locally the services of good men as Inspectors, I feel sure that the Forces of particularly Perak and Selangor would have attained a better state of efficiency. As it is, I consider all concerned deserve the greatest credit, with perhaps one or two exceptions, for the manner in which they have under the circumstances cheerfully and successfully performed their duties.

PERAK

ADMINISTRATION REPORT

FOR THE YEAR 1901.

1. The revenue collected during the year amounted to $8,532,594, REVENUE. as against $7,636,126 in 1900.

The following were the principal items:—

	1900.	1901.
Customs	4,644,602	4,560,238
Licences	932,060	1,764,162
Railways	1,017,618	1,027,740
Lands	351,443	361,805

The increase under Licences is due to an increased rental being paid by the lessees of the General Farms.

2. The expenditure amounted to $8,882,578, as compared with EXPENDITURE.
$6,144,744 in 1900.

The following were the principal items:—

	1900.	1901.
Railways (including Construc- tion)	2,417,990	4,024,103
Public Works	1,229,295	1,450,172
Establishments	1,023,385	1,141,592

The cost of Establishments, including all allowances, represented less than 13½ per cent of the revenue.

3. The balances in Banks and Treasuries on the 1st January, 1901, BALANCES. were $1,472,265; on the 1st January, 1902, $345,335.

4. On the 1st January, 1901, the excess of assets over liabilities ASSETS AND amounted to $1,898,164; on the 1st January, 1902, to $1,548,179. LIABILITIES.

There is no State Debt, and the cost of all railway construction has been met from current revenue or accumulated balances.

5. The total value of trade amounted to $43,934,515; an increase TRADE. of $2,704. The following table gives the comparative returns:—

	1900.	1901.
Imports	14,741,148	15,669,931
Exports	29,190,663	28,264,584

The decrease in the value of Exports is solely due to the higher average price of tin in 1900.

IMPORTATION OF OPIUM.

The total number of chests of opium imported into the State amounted to 2,177: chiefly via Penang. All these chests contained Indian opium, but it is probable that a certain, or rather uncertain, amount of Chinese and Persian opium is smuggled into the Federated Malay States, and an Enactment is now under consideration, which specially provides for regulating and controlling the importation of non-Indian opium.

LEGISLATION.

6. Seven meetings of the State Council were held during the year, and the following Enactments were passed:—

- I. To provide for the licensing of Ferry Boats.
- II. „ amend the law with respect to the Registration of Births and Deaths.
- III. „ amend “The Bills of Sale Enactment, 1900.”
- IV. „ prevent the Propagation of Plague.
- V. „ amend “The Imperial Loans Enactment, 1900.”
- VI. „ „ “The Extradition Enactment, 1900.”
- VII. „ „ “The Jungle Produce Enactment, 1899.”
- VIII. „ „ “The Plague Enactment, 1901.”
- IX. „ „ “The Secretary for Chinese Affairs Enactment, 1899.”
- X. „ substitute the title “Secretary to the Resident” for the title of “Secretary to Government.”
- XI. „ authorize Departmental Fines.
- XII. „ amend “The Pensions Order in Council, 1895.”
- XIII. „ regulate the Importation and Registration of Dogs.
- XIV. „ „ Pedlars, Hawkers and other Itinerant Traders.
- XV. „ amend “The Decrepit Ward Fund Order in Council, 1895.”
- XVI. „ prevent the introduction into the State of Decrepit and Indigent Aliens.

ADMINISTRATION.

7. Mr. W. H. Treacher, c.m.g., Resident of Perak, acted as Resident-General of the Federated Malay States until the month of December, when he was confirmed in the latter appointment. Colonel R. S. F. Walker, c.m.g., Commandant, Malay States Guides, acted as Resident of the State until the month of July, when he was relieved by Mr. J. P. Rodger, c.m.g., Resident of Selangor, who was confirmed as Resident of Perak, on Mr. Treacher's appointment as Resident-General.

Mr. D. G. Campbell, Secretary to Resident, Selangor, acted for Mr. A. R. Venning, Secretary to Resident, Perak, during the latter's absence on leave, from April to September; and Mr. R. G. Watson, Senior Magistrate, until Mr. Venning's return from leave in November.

Mr. A. T. D. Berrington, Senior Magistrate, was appointed Federal Commissioner of Lands and Mines, in September, and was succeeded by Mr. R. G. Watson, Secretary to Resident, Selangor.

Mr. F. St. G. Caulfeild, State Engineer, was appointed Federal Director of Public Works, and was succeeded by Mr. J. Trump, Deputy State Engineer.

The various Treasuries and Audit offices in the Federated Malay States were amalgamated, towards the end of the year, into one Financial Department, and placed under the charge of Mr. Hewett, the Federal Accountant and Auditor.

Speaking generally, the administration of the various Districts was efficient, and the Officers in charge worked energetically and well. The arrears of land and settlement work, however, are not satisfactory, and, in connexion with work of this description, I think that more use might be made of the Penghulus, and other Malay Chiefs and Headmen.

DISTRICTS.

8. The total land revenue, excluding that collected by the Forest Department, amounted to $362,248, of which the sum of $139,801 was received on account of town and agricultural quit-rents. The European and Chinese sugar plantations, in the Krian, Larut and Lower Perak Districts, were considerably extended during the year, and the cultivation of sugar is at present the most successful planting industry in Perak. The rice harvest was fairly good in nearly every District, although an unusually dry season prevented the harvest from being as abundant as would otherwise have been the case. When the irrigation schemes in Krian and Larut have been completed, a great impetus will be given to the cultivation of rice. The slightly increased market price of Liberian coffee enabled the best coffee plantations to carry on their operations without loss, if with only a small margin of profit; but no new coffee plantations are being opened up, and European planters are turning their attention, exclusively, to sugar, gutta and rubber, and coconuts, all of which are doing well.

LAND AND AGRICULTURE.

SUGAR.

RICE.

COFFEE.

9. The Forest Revenue amounted to $157,905: being largely in excess of the Estimates, and of the revenue collected during any previous year. There has, however, been an undue exploitation of the mangrove forests, chiefly in connection with providing firewood for the Railway Department, mining engines and sugar estates: and steps are now being taken to prohibit the cutting of mangrove within certain areas, to enable them to be re-afforested, while the issue of passes, generally, has been restricted. There is no reason why much of the firewood required for use in Perak should not be obtained, as in Selangor, from timber other than mangrove: and, in any case, it is absolutely necessary to protect our mangrove forests, to prevent their total destruction. The collection and export of Gutta Percha (Paladium), which is also in danger of extinction, has been provisionally prohibited: and the areas where these very valuable trees are known to exist, in considerable numbers, are gradually being demarcated, and gazetted as Forest Reserves. Judging from what has been, and is being, obtained from the accessible forests, there are vast quantities of excellent hardwood timber, notably that known as "Chengal," still available in Perak: and all the railway sleepers, numbering 97,474, were obtained locally during the past year, without difficulty. Some good planting work was done, chiefly in connexion with varieties of gutta and rubber trees: and also a considerable amount of felling and clearing, to facilitate the growth of young trees in the various Reserves. The Forest Officer reports that there were few breaches of the law, and those of an unimportant description, but that it was found necessary to prosecute several subordinates in his Department for extortion.

FORESTS.

In November, Mr. Burn-Murdoch, an Officer of the Indian Forest Department, took over charge of all Government Forests in the Colony and Federated Malay States, as Chief Forest Officer. He has already done valuable work in improving the whole system of Forest organisation and control, on the general lines of the system already in force in Burmah.

CHIEF FOREST OFFICER.

10. Much valuable work was done during the year under review, in connexion with the Government Plantations. Among other plants and trees of commercial value, perhaps the most important were the seeds and seedlings of Parà rubber, supplied to local planters. Oranges, limes, pomoloes, coconuts and other fruits were grown, in large numbers, and sold in the local markets or to individual purchasers. The pepper garden was extended, and the area of ground reserved for experimental plantations was also extended; chiefly in connexion with Central American and African rubber and colanuts. Several trees of Parà rubber (Hevea brasiliensis), about twelve years old, were tapped, with the result that each tree gave an average of about four pounds of rubber, the best flow of latex being in August. Rambong (Ficus elastica) trees of the same age gave better results, averaging ten pounds a tree, and, although this rubber is not so valuable as Parà, the trees, being indigenous, are so strong and healthy that they merit the close attention of planters. In the neighbourhood of Taiping many shade and other ornamental trees have been planted, with excellent effect. At the hill station, European vegetables, fruits and flowers of various kinds, including English peas, strawberries and roses, are being successfully grown.

CATTLE.

The Government herd of cattle was well maintained.

MINES.

LODES.

11. The total export of metallic tin amounted to 385,066 pikuls (22,921 tons): as against 355,589 pikuls (21,166 tons) in 1900. Lode tin is found in Perak in at least three different formations: namely, granite: sandstone: and limestone. Little work has been done, during the past year, in developing the lodes found in granite, excepting in one recently discovered near Papan, in the Kinta District: but the lodes in sandstone, especially that at Bruseh, are being rapidly developed. Of all the lode formations, however, that occurring in limestone, at Changkat Pari, is the most interesting: and is, at the present moment, giving the best results. There are large quantities of limestone in this district, containing irregular deposits of ore: and, although these ore deposits have no distinct walls, but gradually change into the enclosing rock, they appear to have a general "strike," from North to South. The ore contains several minerals besides tin, notably copper and arsenic, while traces are also found of antimony, manganese, bismuth and silver. When I recently visited these mines, I found that, in addition to shaft-working on the lode Tamil miners were employed in diving through twenty feet of water into underground caves of honey-combed limestone, containing very rich alluvial ore. On the subject of this very important discovery, which, from the extent of the formation, may have great influence on the future of tin mining in Perak, the Warden writes as follows:—"Practically the whole of the Kinta Valley has limestone as bed rock, and, if tin is found to occur in one place in the limestone, there is every probability that it occurs similarly in other localities: so that, when the alluvial deposits of the State are exhausted—which they will not be for many years to come—there may be these deposits in rock to fall back upon." Steps are now being taken by Government to test the above theory by means of diamond-drill borings.

ALLUVIAL.

There were six companies working with hydraulic machinery, during the year under review, and they employed eleven monitors; while an elevator was successfully employed by the French Mining Company at Slim to lift the tailings from their mines. Active preparations are being made for the extension of hydraulic working on other concessions, and it is estimated that the number of monitors will be doubled during the current year. Under suitable conditions—namely, where there is a sufficient head of water, and the tailings can be disposed of without injury to adjoining lands or navigable rivers—hydraulic mining is unquestionably the most economical and effective system of tin mining at present known in the Malay Peninsula. For many years past, and long before the introduction of "monitors," hydraulic working (known as lampan) has been practised by native miners. The Warden reports that the ordinary open-cast mines, which form the great majority of the alluvial tin mines in Perak, are generally worked satisfactorily: but that this is not the case with the shaft mines, and that it is frequently necessary to prosecute Chinese mine-owners for taking insufficient precautions against accidents, especially in connexion with timbering. About four-fifths of the Chinese mines in Kinta are worked on the co-operative system, while only one-fifth is worked by "wage-coolies." By far the most important and best managed shaft mine in Perak is that at Tronoh, (which has recently been purchased by an English Company), where a thick layer of wash-dirt occurs between a bed of trap rock and the limestone beneath it, and is being worked by means of inclined shafts. The formation of this deposit is interesting, as trap rock usually rests directly on the limestone, and wash-dirt between these two rocks has not previously been recorded in Perak.

Several "dredging" concessions have been granted during the past year: to mine river beds, swamps, and, in one case, a portion of the sea-shore: but no dredgers have yet arrived. It is hoped that this system of mining, which has been successfully carried out in New Zealand, will enable stanniferous land, which has hitherto been unworked owing to the excessive amount of water, to be satisfactorily developed.

DREDGING.

The total area of land alienated, for mining purposes, at the end of the year amounted to nearly 100,000 acres. The labour force amounted to 63,000 men: and, in addition to this, labour-saving machinery was employed, in the shape of pumping engines, monitors and water-wheels, estimated to represent the equivalent of 20,000 miners. Speaking generally, mining land in Perak is now more carefully prospected, and more efficiently worked, than it has ever been before: and much of this improvement is due to the able and energetic supervision of the present Warden of Mines, Mr. Cecil Pearse.

SUPERVISION.

12. The principal work of the Trigonometrical Survey Department in Perak was the measurement of the Bernam Base Line (approximately 11,000 feet in length), which was very carefully checked, and is estimated by the Chief Surveyor to be correct to within a limit of error of $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches for the whole distance. The major triangulation of Perak is closed on this Base Line, and the distances in Selangor and Negri Sembilan will also depend on it.

SURVEYS.
TRIGONOMETRICAL.

The Perak-Reman boundary was demarcated, and many useful coast and river surveys were carried out by this Department. The new map of Perak (on a scale of four miles to the inch) was completed, and reproduced by the Ordnance Survey Office in England. Meteorological observations were continuously recorded at Taiping, and the monthly returns published in the Government Gazette. Mr. Young, who, as Chief Surveyor, Perak, has carried out all trigonometrical surveys in the various States, with marked ability, since the date of Federation, has now been placed in charge of the Federal Trigonometrical Survey Department.

13. The total area of agricultural and mining land surveyed by the Revenue Survey Department during the year amounted to 20,402 acres: 391 town and village lots were surveyed: 515 miles of traverses were run: and an area of 10,949 acres was demarcated for native holdings. The number of title maps prepared was 5,490, and, in addition to this, a large amount of mapping and tracing was done in connexion with the work of other Departments, especially the demarcation of reserves. The work of this Department was generally satisfactory: but a Commission has recently been appointed, to enquire and report whether the present somewhat elaborate and expensive system of survey is either necessary, or justifiable, in the case of small native holdings.

REVENUE.

POLICE. EUROPEANS.	14. The nominal strength of the Police Force was 919, including 19 European officers: the actual strength, at the end of the year, 887. The total cost was $287,233. There has been considerable difficulty in obtaining efficient European Inspectors, and an attempt is now being made to recruit the officers required from one or more of the British Police Forces. These officers have difficult and responsible duties to perform, and are exposed to many temptations, so that it is essential that only capable and trustworthy men should be engaged. The Asiatic Force is nearly equally divided into Indians (Sikhs and Pathans) and Malays, and the deficiency was chiefly in the Malay Establishment, owing to the difficulty of obtaining Malays suitable for Police work. Except in the agricultural districts, I consider that Indian Police Constables are more serviceable than Malays, as they are more amenable to discipline, and inspire greater fear among the criminal classes, especially the Chinese. The question of revising the proportions of Indian and Malay Police in Perak is now under consideration; and, having regard to the numerous gang robberies that have occurred in the mining districts, it is not improbable that the present ratio may be varied in favour of the Indian contingent. A scheme has recently been sanctioned for improving the position of Detectives, most of whom are Chinese, as it has been found, by experience, that the rates of pay hitherto sanctioned are insufficient to obtain the services of intelligent and reliable men. Speaking generally, the conduct of the Police was good throughout the year: their health was also good. Nearly all the men were put through a course of musketry, with fairly satisfactory results. The Deputy Commissioner reports that the clothing supplied by the tailoring branch of the Malay States Guides was satisfactory: but that the boots and accoutrements, obtained from India, did not compare favourably with those made in England.

CRIME.	15. The Deputy Commissioner of Police reports some increase in the number of crimes of violence, chiefly gang robberies, of which there were 76, and considers that special legislation is required to cope with crimes of this description. The banishment of notorious criminals, however, will probably prove efficacious in diminishing, if not abolishing, serious crime, and twenty criminals were banished, chiefly to China, in the course of the year. More stringent regulations, for restricting the importation and possession of firearms, are also now under consideration.

to the progress of building operations, in connexion with a new block of separate cells, it was necessary to employ most of the prisoners, on road and other work, outside the gaol walls; but such employment is scarcely compatible with strict discipline, and provision will be made for the employment of the prisoners on intra-mural labour, as soon as the new buildings are ready for occupation.

17. The total number of criminal cases, most of which occurred and were tried in the Kinta District, was divided between the various Courts in the following proportions:—District Magistrates, 10,585; Senior Magistrate, 183; Judicial Commissioner, 35; on the civil side, the work was distributed as follows:—District Magistrates, 3,618; Senior Magistrate, 265; Judicial Commissioner, 16. From the above returns it will be seen that most of the cases, both civil and criminal, were of comparatively little importance, as the District Courts have very limited jurisdiction. Thirty-two appeal cases, from the decisions of these Courts, were tried by the Senior Magistrate: and 16 appeals were heard by the Judicial Commissioner, whose jurisdiction is exclusively appellate, excepting in cases of murder. The Senior Magistrate reports that the provisions of the new Criminal Procedure Code have given him valuable powers of revision, and have generally worked well; but that a Code of Civil Procedure is still much required.

COURTS.

The number of inquests held during the year was 201.

INQUESTS

The number of cases heard in the Court of the Warden of Mines was 264: in that of the Protector of Chinese, 196.

SPECIAL COURTS.

18. The total expenditure of the Public Works Department was $1,521,434. The expenditure on Works and Buildings was $754,439. By far the most important work was that in connexion with the Krian Irrigation Scheme, on which the sum of $275,788 was spent. The progress of this work was satisfactory, notwithstanding many difficulties connected with labour and supervision, and reflects credit on the Engineers in charge. Of the buildings, the most important were the new gaol in Kinta, still under construction: and the new Museum block in Taiping. The expenditure on Roads, Streets and Bridges was $638,719. The up-keep of existing roads was fairly good, but the progress of construction was slow, and, having regard to the large number of re-votes required, owing to the amount of work estimated for not being completed during the year, the general working of this Department, making every allowance for staff changes and vacancies, cannot be considered altogether satisfactory.

19. The Sanitary Boards carried out much useful work, in the various Districts, and a series of experiments with incinerators, for which special credit is due to Dr. Wright, Chairman of the Larut Board, has satisfactorily demonstrated that it is possible to consume both night-soil and town refuse, in small towns and villages, without serious difficulty, and at a moderate cost.

SANITARY BOARDS. INCINERATORS.

A system of licensing milk-sellers was established in the Larut District. A milk-testing apparatus having been procured, numerous tests were made by the Veterinary Surgeon, with the result that there is a marked improvement in the milk now offered for sale.

MILK.

The abolition of market farms has not had the effect of reducing the price of food-stuffs to the extent anticipated, although it was accompanied by a reduction of market tolls to almost nominal amounts. The most apparent countervailing influences were the combinations of dealers, especially those selling beef and mutton, and the falling value of the dollar; but there were probably other, and more obscure local causes. It has now been decided to give to every Sanitary Board the power, if thought advisable, of leasing the local market; subject, however, to the proviso that food-stuffs may be freely sold, under proper sanitary conditions, in the adjoining shops, and by itinerant dealers, so that there shall be no monopoly in any town or village, such as frequently existed under the former "Farm" system.

RAILWAYS.

OPEN LINES.

Revenue.

20. The total revenue collected during the year amounted to $1,173,050, as compared with $1,017,618 during 1900: but this increase is partly due to the increased length of lines open for traffic, and to the higher rates for goods, brought into force in October. The Perak rates have now been assimilated with those in force in Selangor, and uniform rates have been established over the whole railway system in the Federated Malay States. The working expenses represent about

Expenditure.

57 $\frac{1}{6}$ per cent of the gross receipts, as against about 50 $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent during the previous year. The increased expenditure is mainly attributed to the following causes; extension of the line, and consequently increased staff; enhanced cost of fuel; increased salaries, and higher cost of all materials, estimated in dollars, owing to the fall in exchange. The Mileage.

total length of the open lines in Perak and Province Wellesley, at the end of 1901, was 148 miles: as compared with 137 miles at the end of the previous year. Through communication is now established between Penang and Taiping, although the bridge across the Krian River cannot yet be used, owing to the subsidence of the bank on the Province side of the river. The Kinta Valley Line is still by far the most profitable of the sections yet opened: the annual earnings for the year, in respect of this section, representing a dividend of more than 8 per cent on the capital expended. The per-centage of nett profit on capital expenditure for the three open sections combined, including expenditure on works still under construction, amounts to rather less than 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ per cent. The total number of passengers carried during the year was 1,650,387, an increase of 173,961: while the total goods tonnage amounted to 200,827 tons, as compared with 194,063 tons in 1900. The general working of the open lines was thoroughly satisfactory.

Traffic.

CONSTRUCTION.

The total expenditure on construction during the year was $3,066,492, of which rather more than a million dollars was on account of Crown Agents' bills, for the purchase of materials in England. The summary of work for the same period shews more than a million cubic yards of earthwork: four hundred and fifty yards of tunnelling: and a hundred and thirty bridges and culverts. It was originally estimated that the whole line would be completed by the middle of the current year (i.e., within five years from the date of commencement): but this time will be exceeded, mainly in consequence of the difficulties connected with tunnelling work through the Pass connecting the Larut and Kuala Kangsar Districts. Slow progress was made with this work during the years 1899 and 1900, but it is now proceeding much more rapidly, and it is hoped that the four tunnels in question (of the aggregate length of 919 yards) will be completed by the end of the current year. Within three months after these tunnels are finished, i.e., early in 1903, the whole line should be ready for traffic, from end to end, as the earthwork, although a considerable amount still remains to be done, will probably be completed almost as soon as the tunnels.

GENERAL MANAGER.

The Perak and Selangor Railway Departments were combined, during the month of May, and placed under the control of Mr. Spooner, formerly State Engineer, Selangor.

HEALTH.

21. The State Surgeon reports that, with the exception of an outbreak of cholera in Lower Perak, when, out of 277 reported cases, 201 deaths occurred, the general health of the State was good. The following comparative return gives the results of hospital treatment during the last two years:—

HOSPITALS.

		Treated.		Deaths.		Death-rate.
1900	...	31,579	...	4,368	...	13·8
1901	...	27,293	...	4,207	...	15·4

Excluding deaths occurring within 48 hours of admission, the death-rate was 12 per cent. At the end of the year there were 1,474 patients under treatment in the District and other hospitals. It is to be regretted that there is no provision for convalescent patients in Perak. Such patients, nominally "cured," are necessarily discharged from the ordinary hospitals, but are seldom physically fit for immediate employment on their usual work in the mines; so that, unless they have money of their own, or friends able and willing to support them during convalescence, they not infrequently suffer from a relapse of their disease, or degenerate into sick vagrants. The number of persons who applied for medical assistance from the hospital and travelling dispensaries was 62,334. In the Central Prison, Taiping, 628 convicts were treated, of whom nine died. In the Batu Gajah Gaol, there were 600 cases treated with 80 deaths: chiefly from beri-beri and dysentery. The high per-centage of mortality at Batu Gajah is mainly due to the fact, referred to under "Prisons," that large numbers of sick vagrants are committed to prison, who should more properly be treated in some special Vagrant Ward or Workhouse Infirmary.

DISPENSARIES.

GAOL INFIRMARIES.

The most prevalent diseases were, as usual, beri-beri, malarial fevers, dysentery and diarrhoea. Beri-beri accounted for 4,760 cases, with a death-rate of 15·5 per cent. Malarial fevers shew a smaller number of admissions than in 1900, but a higher death-rate. A solitary case of bubonic plague, from which the patient recovered, was reported from Ipoh. There were 5,836 persons vaccinated, as compared with 4,340 in the previous year, and 63·8 per cent of the results were returned as perfect.

DISEASES.

VACCINATION.

The following details refer to special wards and asylums:—

SPECIAL WARDS.

Lunatic Asylum.—There were 82 admissions to the Lunatic Asylum and 162 patients were treated; of these, 43 were discharged, while the deaths amounted to 30, giving a death-rate of 18·5 per cent. The inmates of the Lunatic Asylum are chiefly employed in cultivating coffee, of which a small plantation is attached to the District Hospital.

Leper Wards.—The number of patients treated in the Leper Asylum at Pulau Jerajak was 91, and there were 27 deaths.

Decrepit Ward.—There were 115 patients treated in the Decrepit Ward, of whom 30 died. All the inmates (about sixty) of the "Tai Wah," or Decrepit Ward, are permanently incapacitated, by blindness or otherwise, from maintaining themselves without assistance. Their chief employment consists in making mats and baskets, for sale, and they are also allowed to keep fowls, etc., and to sell them in the local market. Most of the trustees of this charitable institution are Chinese, and the Protector of Chinese is ex-officio Secretary, the Chairman being the Secretary to the Resident. The funds are mainly derived from a weighing charge on tin assigned to the trustees by Government.

There was a serious outbreak of rinderpest in October in the Larut District, 127 fatal cases being reported, chiefly among buffaloes. There were also outbreaks of the same disease in the Kuala Kangsar and Kinta Districts. Foot and mouth disease broke out on four occasions in different districts, but there were no deaths from this cause; 175 deaths from swine fever occurred in the Matang District; five cases of glanders, among horses, were reported. The State was free from rabies and anthrax throughout the year.

VETERINARY.

TEMPERATURE
RAINFALL,

22. The highest temperature in the shade (97°F) was recorded at Kuala Kangsar, and at Batu Gajah, during the month of March. The lowest (61°) at Tapah; also in March. The greatest rainfall for the year was recorded at Taiping, 132 inches; and the greatest rainfall in 24 hours, at Teluk Anson, 5 inches.

EDUCATION.

23. The total number of schools under Government inspection, at the end of the year, was 126, with an enrolment of 5,924 scholars: nine new vernacular schools were opened during the year. There are now 110 schools for boys and 16 for girls; the former consisting of 12 English and 98 Malay; the latter of 3 English, 1 Tamil and 12 Malay. The total Government expenditure was, approximately, $85,000.

ENGLISH SCHOOLS.

Boys.

The advantages of attending English schools are fully appreciated by the Chinese and Tamil sections of the Asiatic community: but less so by Malays, and steps are now being taken to establish a special Malay branch at the Taiping Central School, with a boarding-house for the boys attending it, from outstations, on the general lines of a similar scheme in Selangor. It is of the utmost importance to their future careers that all Malay boys should acquire a fair practical knowledge of speaking and writing English, without which they are hopelessly out-classed, by Chinese and Indian rivals, at every qualifying or competitive examination. In addition to the religious and conservative prejudices of their parents, Malay boys are at a disadvantage in learning English, as compared with boys of other nationalities, by the fact that their own language is a lingua franca, spoken by all Europeans and Asiatics in this part of the world, so that they can make themselves generally understood without the absolute necessity, experienced by other Asiatics, of learning at least one foreign language. Good work was done in all the English schools, several of which are connected with Protestant and Roman Catholic Missions, and, as most of the children speak some language other than English in their own homes, it is very important that the teachers should, as far as possible, be of English descent. Otherwise, vernacular Malay is too apt to become the medium of conveying instruction in a language which can only by courtesy be termed English. Excepting at the Taiping English School for girls, the attendance at the various Girls schools was unsatisfactory, throughout the State, and, referring to the Ipoh girls' school, the Inspector writes as follows:—"It still affords another proof of "the general apathy with respect to female education, and the indifference with which excellent girls' schools are regarded by the native inhabitants of these States."

Girls.

VERNACULAR SCHOOLS.

The elementary classes of Malay schools were well attended, both by boys and girls, but the Inspector complains that the children are taken away from school by their parents, to earn a livelihood, at too early an age, and before they have passed the Fourth Standard. The attendance at these vernacular schools mainly depends on the personality of the teacher.

SPORTS.

School sports, especially football, are encouraged and popular among boys of every nationality; and such sports tend, in a marked degree, to produce those feelings of respect and good will which are so difficult to find among persons of different colour, race and religion, and which are yet so essential to the happiness and well being of the very mixed communities living in these States.

POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS.

24. The total revenue collected by the Post and Telegraph Department amounted to $96,120: while the expenditure was $145,395. If, however, the value of Service telegrams and correspondence, transmitted free of charge, were included in the receipts, the revenue and expenditure of this Department would be approximately equal. The mail traffic shews an increase of 6.39 per cent over the returns of the preceding year; and there was also a satisfactory increase in the number and value of Money and Postal Orders. I am glad to say that good progress is being made with the Savings Bank, and that the encouragement it offers to thrift is being more and more recognized by all classes of the community, but especially by Eurasians and Asiatics, many of whom have opened deposit accounts in the names, and on behalf, of their children. There were 3,600 depositors at the end of the year, and the value of their deposits amounted to $99,350. Much credit is due to Mr. Nelson, the Superintendent, Posts and Telegraphs, for the manner in which he has organized and increased the possibilities of investing in the Savings Bank, especially by providing facilities for such investment in connexion with the District Post Offices.

MAILS.

MONEY ORDERS.

SAVINGS BANK.

The number of telegrams received and transmitted amounted to nearly half a million.

TELEGRAMS.

New telephone lines, of the length of 92 miles, were erected during the year, and there are now 773 miles of Telegraph and Telephone lines in Perak. The working of this Department, both as regards Posts and Telegraphs, was generally satisfactory throughout the year.

TELEPHONES.

25. The Deputy Commissioner of Police, who is ex-officio Registrar of Births and Deaths, reports that 5,954 births, and 12,701 deaths, were registered during the year under review.

POPULATION.

The following tabulated return shews the arrival and departure by sea of persons of various nationalities:—

IMMIGRANTS AND EMIGRANTS.

	Immigrants.	Emigrants.
Europeans and Eurasians ...	2,173	1,828
Malays	41,090	36,391
Chinese	83,233	57,719
Indians	20,040	16,742

The Chinese Immigrants exceeded the Emigrants by about 25,000 persons, and included nearly 3,000 "Sinkhehs" (contract labourers) for the mines.

Chinese.

The total number of Indian Statute Immigrants imported during the year was 1,679: that of free coolies 288. The importation of Statute Immigrants was practically confined to three large sugar estates, owned by English companies. The quantity of labourers imported was less than that during the previous year, but the quality was better; partly owing to a stricter medical examination at Negapatam, and partly to an improvement in the condition of the raiats in the Southern Districts of India, from which nearly all Indian labourers are recruited for the Malay Peninsula. According to the census held in March, the number of Tamils in Perak at that date was 31,026: of whom more than one half are described as "labourers," and nearly one-third reside in the Krian District, where most of the sugar estates are situated. At the end of last year there were 4,587 Statute Immigrants in Perak, serving under uncompleted agreements. The total number of free coolies is estimated at 13,000.

Indians.

26. Much good work was, as usual, done by the Protector of Chinese: both in connexion with the protection of Women and Children, of whom 87 were received, during the year, into the Government Home: and with the detection, prosecution and banishment of Chinese habitual criminals. His advice and assistance were also of value to the Government, on many occasions, in connexion with matters affecting the general Chinese community. The Protector reports that, owing to the demand for English-speaking Chinese in the Federated Malay States, great difficulty was experienced in filling the vacancies caused by the death or resignation of Government Interpreters.

MUSEUM.

ZOOLOGY.

BOTANY.

27. A new block, consisting of two rooms, each eighty feet by forty, and connected by a passage with the existing Museum buildings, was practically completed during the year, but has not yet been fully furnished with cases: this block will be chiefly used for the Ethnological collections, for which the present space is insufficient. The additions to the Zoological collection were fairly numerous; the most important being a two-horned rhinoceros, and a spotted leopard. The preparation and mounting of the specimens in this section reflect much credit on the Taxidermist, who also prepared several specimens for the Selangor Museum. Two hundred and sixty-one mounted botanical specimens were received from the Calcutta Gardens, and added to the Herbarium. The total number of visitors to the Museum, which contains many interesting collections, and is undoubtedly the best in the Malay Peninsula, was 40,644.

PRINTING.

28. The work of the Printing Office was satisfactorily carried out, and the Government Printer reports that he has now a good supply of plant and materials. The Government Gazette, which is published every fortnight, in English, and every month in Malay, was regularly issued throughout the year. In addition to the ordinary Legislative Enactments, many special Regulations and Reports were published, and also an edition of the Perak Land Laws, a very useful compilation, prepared by Mr. George Maxwell, Court Registrar, Ipoh. A Malay translation of Æsop's Fables was also printed and published by the Government Printing Office.

GENERAL.

MINING PROSPECTS.

29. The output of tin was the largest since the year 1895; but, as the average price was lower than in 1900, ($67 as against $74 per pikul) the value of the metal was less than in that year. At the same time, the price of tin is still high, and, should it be maintained, there is no reason to anticipate any decrease in output during the current year. I must again repeat, as I have written in previous Annual Reports, that the output of tin from the Malay Peninsula is mainly dependent on the prevailing market price, and that there is no immediate prospect of any sensible diminution, owing to the exhaustion of mineral deposits. Although the best-known shallow workings are gradually being exhausted, new mining centres, rendered more accessible by means of roads and railways, are constantly being opened up; and improved methods of mining—such as those utilizing hydraulic and dredging machinery—directly tend to increase the output of tin, as well as to render the development of our mineral resources both more economical and more effective. Both deep workings and lode mining are also still in their infancy. A small quantity of gold, contained in the tin-ore, and estimated to amount to nearly a thousand ounces, was produced during the year, chiefly from the Batang Padang District.

MINING CONFERENCE.

30. A mining conference was held at Ipoh in October, under the presidency of the District Magistrate of Kinta, and was attended by delegates, official and unofficial, from all the Federated Malay States. The report of their proceedings has not yet been published, but much good should result from the discussion of questions affecting the mining interest in these States by the persons best qualified to give an opinion on them, and the resolutions arrived at should afford a valuable basis for future legislation.

PLANTERS' CONFERENCE.

31. I convened a meeting of European planters in October, to discuss various questions affecting the planting interest: such as those connected with labour, transport, land rents and export duties. The views expressed at the meeting formed the subject of subsequent official correspondence, and were also considered at the recent Residents' conference.

32. By the death of Cheang Keng Kwi, late Capitan China of Perak, which occurred at Penang in December, there was removed one of the few remaining links—and by far the most important—which connected the past with the present history of Larut. The deceased, who was a Native of the Kwang-Tung Province of China, established himself as a successful tin miner, and was a leader in the Chinese faction fights in Larut, which were one of the causes of British intervention in Perak affairs. He amassed great wealth, both as a mine-owner and as lessee of the Revenue Farms: was an original Member of the Perak State Council: and was a man of much energy and enterprise. The appointment of "Capitan China," or recognized Official Head of the Chinese community, which was held by Cheang Kwi for nearly thirty years, is one which is no longer required, as the Protector, working under the Federal Secretary for Chinese Affairs, is the best intermediary between the Government and the Chinese; and this appointment will therefore now be allowed to lapse.

DEATH OF THE CAPITAN CHINA.

33. There has been a considerable amount of controversy during the past year as to the best method of recruiting Indian labour: and also as to the most suitable labourers. Indian labourers may be divided into the following three categories:—

INDIAN LABOUR.

- (i). Free labourers.
- (ii). Kangani-recruited labourers.
- (iii). Statute Immigrants.

The first class is composed of men who pay their own passages from India, and are in every respect free: the second, of coolies who are recruited by "Kanganis" (Overseers) sent from the Straits, and who are free to leave when they have repaid their advances, including passage money: the third, of coolies serving under agreement for fixed periods, usually of two years, whose expenses from India are entirely borne by their employers. Free labourers are undoubtedly the best, but comparatively few immigrants can afford to pay their own passages from India, and therefore the ranks of the first class are mainly recruited from those labourers of the second and third classes who have repaid their advances or served their agreements. As to the second class: if trustworthy overseers are forthcoming, the coolies they recruit in India, usually from among their own friends and relations, are generally satisfactory; but, where large bodies of men are required, for fixed periods, it is frequently necessary to engage Statute Immigrants. Speaking generally, the health of the Statute Immigrants was not good, but a marked improvement was shewn during the latter part of the year. The Indian Immigration Agent writes on this subject as follows:—"There can be no doubt that a large proportion of the Immigrants who came to the Straits in 1900 were more or less affected by famine, and consequently unfit to cope with the conditions of life in a new country." Many of the free coolies introduced into Perak in 1900 were men who had been rejected at the medical examination in Negapatam: but it has now been provided that all coolies recruited by Professional Agents, whether indentured or free, must pass a medical examination before leaving India. To attract a good class of Statute Immigrants from India, it will, in my opinion, be necessary to increase the current rates of wages, but this is a matter requiring much careful consideration, as it affects large planting interests in the Colony as well as in the Federated Malay States. The highest rates paid by planters, for Indian Statute Immigrants, were 25 cents a day for men, and 20 cents a day for women, during the whole period of a contract for two years: and the highest rates paid by Government were 25 cents a day for men during the first, and 30 cents during the second year: and for women 15 (recently raised to 20) and 20 cents. All the Statute Immigrants engaged by Government have been employed on the Krian Irrigation works, and, at the end of the year, out of nearly five hundred, all but forty-two had completed their agreements, and were working as free labourers. On the expiration of their agreements, many Statute Immigrants continue to work, as tenants, on the sugar estates of their former employers: cultivating the land at a fixed yearly rental, and selling all their cane to the manager of the estate to be crushed at the central mill. A similar system of tenancy is also common among Chinese sugar growers.

PROTECTOR OF LABOUR.

34. Mr. Heslop Hill, a planter of much experience, both in Ceylon and the Federated Malay States, and formerly Chairman of the United Planters' Association, was appointed Federal Protector of Labour during the year, and visited India, in connexion with the general question of recruiting labour for these States. His practical experience enabled him to make several valuable suggestions on this subject: and also on kindred subjects, connected with the housing, feeding and management of Indian labourers, after their arrival in the Malay States.

MALAYAN ART INDUSTRIES.

35. At the suggestion of the Curator of the Museum, Mr. Leonard Wray, a committee was appointed, in the early part of the year, to enquire into and report on the best methods of resuscitating Malayan Art Industries, such as those connected with metal-work; wood-carving; pottery; weaving, etc.; many of which, owing to the competition of European machine-made articles, are in danger of dying out. H.H. the Sultan has taken a keen interest in this movement, from the first, and has personally presided at every meeting of the committee; whose members comprise some of the most important Malay Chiefs in Perak, as well as European officials specially interested in the subject. The recommendations of the committee have been adopted by Government, and provision has been made for erecting a building at Kuala Kangsar, near to the Sultan's Astana, in which boys and girls can be trained: for the engagement of teachers: and for the purchase of good specimens of the various Art Industries, some of which will be lent from the State Museum.

PORCELAIN MANUFACTORY.

36. A new industry was started last year at Kampar, by a Chinese Company, assisted by a loan from Government, in the shape of a porcelain and earthenware manufactory, which has already turned out some creditable specimens of work.

CENSUS.

37. A general census of the Federated Malay States was taken during the month of March, under the superintendence of Mr. Hare, Secretary for Chinese Affairs. The result shews that the population of Perak has increased by more than 53 per cent since the last census was taken in 1891: the comparative numbers being 329,665, as against 214,254. All nationalities contribute to this total, the greatest increase, among the main races, being shewn by the Chinese, and the highest percentage by Natives of India: but it is satisfactory to note that the number of Malays and other Natives of the Archipelago shews an increase of 36 per cent during the period in question. The Cantonese represent nearly 45 per cent of the Chinese population: and the Tamils 88 per cent of the Indian. The aboriginal tribes, Sakai and Semang, were estimated to number 7,982: and shew a slight increase over the numbers at the previous census. Every care was taken to obtain correct returns, but, owing to the wildness of some of these tribes, and the inaccessible places in which they live, it is probable that the actual numbers are rather larger than those returned. The total number of Europeans amounted to 672: of Malays to 141,723: of Chinese to 149,375: of Indians to 34,710. The two largest towns are Taiping, the headquarters of the State, and Ipoh, the mining centre of the Kinta District: with populations of 13,331 and 12,791, respectively. Taking the area of the State at 6,550 square miles, the density of the present population is 50 per square mile.

38. A new post was created during the year, by the appointment of a Superintendent of Sakais, to protect and assist the aboriginal tribes of the interior. Mr. Cerruti, the Officer selected, has long been settled in Perak, where he has always specially interested himself in the Sakai tribes, whose language he speaks, and whose confidence he has gained to a remarkable extent, as was recently brought under my personal observation, when visiting one of his camps. These shy and practically defenceless people, who number nearly eight thousand in Perak alone, need special protection against unscrupulous Malays and Chinese, who take every opportunity of cheating them, when they bring their jungle produce to barter for tobacco, salt, beads, etc.; and not infrequently kidnap their women and children. The "Semang" or Negritos, a true negroid race, with short woolly hair, differ widely from the "Sakai," a very mixed race of the Polynesian type, with only slightly wavy hair. They differ in appearance, language and customs, and the former, who are chiefly found in Upper Perak, frequently use bows and arrows, while the latter invariably use the blow-pipe, to shoot the monkeys and birds, which, with Indian corn and roots, form their principal food. None of these tribes appear to have any definite religious belief, although they fear evil spirits, and desert any camp in which one of their number has died. It is hoped that the Superintendent will be able to induce them to work, as he has already done to some extent, in connexion with the Forest Department; to induce them to live in permanent villages within "reserved" areas; and to gradually bring them under the influences of civilisation. From their intimate knowledge of the jungle and its inhabitants, these aborigines are unrivalled trackers and hunters; and, from all that I have seen and heard of them, I believe them to be singularly harmless, truthful and grateful—possessing qualities not invariably found associated with even the highest culture. As the earliest human inhabitants of the Malay Peninsula, these tribes deserve every possible protection and encouragement at the hands of Government.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SAKAIS.

39. The administration of the New Territory in Upper Perak, after the final settlement of all boundary questions, was formally taken over during the year, and, provisionally, placed under the charge of the District Magistrate of Upper Perak. Steps are now being taken to trace and construct a good cart-road through this territory, and, as soon as various outstanding land and mining claims have been adjusted, new applications for available mining land, of which several have already been sent in, will receive consideration. Both gold and tin are found here, but mines have hitherto been only worked on a very small scale, by Chinese and Malays, owing to the inaccessibility of the district, and the uncertainty of the land tenure.

NEW TERRITORY.

40. A movement for the formation of a Volunteer Corps in the Federated Malay States, greatly assisted and encouraged by Colonel Walker, Commandant Malay States Guides, and Acting Resident at the time, took tangible shape during the year: and 42 Members were enrolled in Perak. Provision has been made by the Perak Government for the necessary expenditure required for one company of 70 men, and a draft Enactment, providing for the legal status of the corps, is now under consideration. The training given by such a corps—in discipline, drill, and rifle-shooting—will be of much value to the members, and their patriotic spirit is deserving of the highest praise. They will be attached to the Malay States Guides, and, should the latter be required, at any time, to serve outside the States, the services of the Volunteers will be very useful in assisting the Police to prevent, or, if necessary, repress any local disturbances. I hope that it may be possible to form a Cadet Corps at the Central School, in connexion with these Volunteers.

NATIVE
ADMINISTRATION.

41. I am glad to say that it has been found possible, during the past year, by the employment of three young Malay Rajas as Settlement Officers, to increase the number of official appointments for which Malays of high birth are both eligible and qualified. It has hitherto been most difficult, owing to their want of education, to provide for Malays of this description, who, however, have great claims to consideration; and it is to be hoped that they will, more and more, take advantage of the educational facilities afforded to them in the State and elsewhere, and thus become eligible for more extended official employment. At present one of the sons of H.H. the Sultan is being educated in England, and will shortly be replaced there by his younger brother; both these young men should, eventually, be well qualified for important official positions. Even now there are two sons of a former Sultan of Perak holding responsible appointments, one in the Secretariat, the other as Officer in charge of a District: while the Tungku Mentri, one of the principal hereditary Chiefs in Perak, has recently been placed in charge of a sub-District: and the Datoh Sri Adika Raja, another important Chief, was specially selected to take over, and administer, the new territory in Upper Perak.

THE SULTAN.

42. On the occasion of the visit to Singapore of H.R.H. the Duke of Cornwall and York, now Prince of Wales, H.H. the Sultan was invested with the insignia of an Honorary Knight Grand Cross of the most Distinguished Order of St. Michael and St. George, of which Order His Highness had previously been an Honorary Knight Commander. The Sultan has now been specially invited by the British Government to attend the Coronation of His Majesty the King, as the representative of the Malay Rajas under British Protection; and the honour of this invitation, which has been accepted, is most keenly appreciated by His Highness, and by all the Perak Chiefs.

DEATH OF THE QUEEN.

43. The lamented death of Her Most Gracious Majesty, the late Queen Victoria, threw a gloom over Perak as it did over every country and state belonging to, or connected with, the British Empire. The length of the Queen's reign appealed to the Malay imagination: while her wisdom, piety and goodness had been traditions among all Malayan races for more than two generations. As a striking instance of how widely spread was Her Majesty's personal influence, and how universal was the sorrow at her death, I venture to mention, on this great historic occasion, an experience remote from Malaya. The news of the Queen's death reached me on the East Coast of Africa, on board a German steamer whose passengers were nearly all foreigners, hostile to Great Britain, many of whom had recently been fighting against the British in South Africa. On receiving the news of the Queen's death, however, there was, apparently, the same sincere and unaffected manifestation of sorrow among those who were, technically, the "Queen's enemies," as among Her Majesty's most loyal subjects and devoted adherents.

5. Should a candidate during his pre-collegiate course be guilty of misconduct or negligence and indifference to his duties, or for other reasons be considered by the State Surgeon unlikely to prove efficient, he may at any time be notified that he is not eligible for the benefits of this scheme and will thereupon be discharged.

6. Previous to entering upon his course of study at College each candidate and his parents, or guardians, shall enter into a joint agreement that the candidate shall complete his course of study at College and shall serve thereafter in the Federated Malay States for ten years from the date of his appointment as Assistant Surgeon, and if at any time before this period expires the candidate shall abandon his collegiate course or quit the service of the F.M.S. without the consent of Government, he, or his parents or guardians, shall refund to Government the whole of the expenditure incurred on his behalf during his education.

No. 681.—Notification No. 128, published in the Gazette of 1st March, 1901, is hereby cancelled and the following substituted therefor:—

AN AGREEMENT, made the twenty-ninth day of May, 1902, between the GOVERNMENT OF THE STRAITS SETTLEMENTS (hereinafter called the Government) of the one part, and the BRITISH INDIA STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY, LIMITED, (hereinafter called the Company) of the other part. Whereby it is agreed by and between the Government and the Company as follows:—

1. This agreement shall take the place of the current agreement existing between the Government and the Company, dated the 22nd day of January, 1901.

The date of the commencement of this agreement shall be deemed to be the 12th day of February, 1902, and it shall continue in force for a period of three years certain from that date. If either party shall desire that this agreement should terminate at the end of the said period of three years or at any time thereafter, and give to the other party six months' previous notice in writing of such desire then on the expiration of the said period of six months the agreement shall ipso facto terminate. If no such notice is given the contract will continue indefinitely.

2. During the continuance of this agreement the Company shall provide and maintain a fortnightly service of steamers between Penang and Negapatam and Madras connecting with the mails from and to Europe arriving at and leaving Bombay by the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company's mail packets in the week alternate with that in which the mail packets of that Company run to China. The said service of the Company to be timed to leave and arrive at the different ports as set out in the time table shewn in the schedule to this agreement. Should an alteration in the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company's time table render impossible the maintenance with two steamers of this service the Company shall be at liberty to terminate this agreement unless a higher subsidy can be arranged.

3. The steamers of this service shall carry the mails from Negapatam to Penang and from Penang to Negapatam or at the Company's option to Madras (but always so that the mails are delivered in time to be despatched by the train carrying the regular Indian mails for Europe to Bombay), at a speed averaging not less than ten nautical miles an hour. Should there be any default in the performance of this stipulation other than in consequence of force majeure the Company shall pay to the Government a penalty not exceeding $400 in the event of the steamer from Penang not arriving at Negapatam or Madras in time to allow of the mails being despatched by the train carrying the mails for Europe to Bombay, and, on the outward trips, of $10 per hour for each hour by which the mails are delivered in Penang after their due time for any period not greater than twelve hours of delay and of $10 per hour or $100 for each subsequent completed period of six hours in excess of twelve hours late delivery subject to a maximum penalty of $400.

4. The Company's steamers shall leave Negapatam every alternate Tuesday at 6 a.m. or as soon thereafter as the mails are on board. The Superintendent of the Colonial Government Depôt at Negapatam shall have the option of delaying the steamer for a period not exceeding twenty-four hours to wait for the mails from Europe or of expediting its departure by a period not exceeding twelve hours should the mails from Europe arrive before the time fixed for the steamer's sailing. The aforesaid hours may be altered hereafter by agreement between the contracting parties. Postponements and accelerations of departures are to be made on written notice to be given at Negapatam.

5. The Government contracts during the continuance of this agreement to take annually 8,000 tickets for adult coolies from Negapatam or Madras or the ports intermediate between the two to Penang or Singapore with usual reductions for minors and upon the usual conditions, the voyage to begin and end on board ship. Should notice under Clause 1 be given by the Government the number of tickets to be taken by the Government for the six months during which the agreement continues shall be 4,000, but if the said notice be given by the Company the Government shall not be bound to take any tickets during the said period of six months.

6. The passage money payable for a ticket for an adult under the last preceding clause shall be as follows:—Eleven rupees for a passage from Negapatam to Penang, thirteen rupees for a passage from Madras to Penang, sixteen rupees for a passage from Negapatam to Singapore and eighteen rupees for a passage from Madras to Singapore, these rates to include food during the voyage to be supplied by the Company. In the event of the rate for ordinary passengers falling as low as or below the rates mentioned in this clause (owing to any cause whatsoever) it is understood that the Government are to pay the rates above stated.

7. The Company shall supply tickets to the Government at the rates mentioned in the last preceding clause for the first 8,000 and shall supply additional tickets if required by Government at the following rates:—

For every ticket above 8,000, but not exceeding 12,000, one rupee in addition to the rates mentioned in Clause 6.

For every ticket in excess of 12,000, but not exceeding 16,000, two rupees in addition to the rates mentioned in Clause 6.

For every ticket in excess of 16,000 three rupees in addition to the rate mentioned in Clause 6.

Provided always that in the event of the rate for ordinary passengers owing to outside competition or for any other reason whatsoever falling as low as or lower than the rates mentioned in Clause 6 no excess rates shall be charged to Government by the Company whatever the number of tickets taken may be beyond 8,000.

8. The passage tickets shall be provided by the Company and supplied to the Superintendent of the Depôt and shall be paid for in cash on delivery of the tickets. The tickets shall be numbered consecutively and shall be in counterfoil.

9. The Superintendent of the Depôt shall not use more than 450 tickets for any one steamer unless he shall give the Company's Agent at Negapatam (or at any other port at which the coolies will be shipped) at least three full days' notice of his intention to require a larger number which shall not exceed 600 in all or one half of the total number of passengers (whichever be the greater) for which the steamer is licensed. Twenty-four hours before the time fixed for the departure of the steamer the Superintendent of the Depôt shall finally declare the number of tickets that he will require for that sailing and after such declaration no additional tickets can be claimed. Passages so declared shall be paid for even if not used.

10. The Government agrees to forward by the Company's steamers all coolies from India in which they are directly or indirectly interested and the Company on the other hand agree to provide tonnage in excess of the contract steamers, if need be, to take forward all the Government coolies for whom passages are required within a reasonable time.

11. All Government coolies shall be embarked on Monday afternoon.

12. During the continuance of this agreement the Government shall pay to the Company a subsidy at the rate of $60,000 per annum payable quarterly at the end of each quarter and the Company shall convey all mails whether from Europe or elsewhere free of bounty and the Government Inspectors and Officers of the Indian Immigration Department travelling on duty free of charge upon all its steamers sailing under this agreement.

13. The Government shall provide adequate quarantine facilities at Penang so that in case of any sickness among the passengers they may be landed at Penang so that the Company's steamers may not be detained to the detriment of the regularity of the service.

14. The steamers of this service shall be exempt as mail steamers from the operation of the Sunday Labour Ordinance No. 6 of 1892.

15. REPORT

OF THE

FEDERATED MALAY STATES

TO

H.E. THE HIGH COMMISSIONER.

KUALA LUMPUR:
PRINTED AT THE SELANGOR GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE.
1902.

ANNUAL REPORT FOR THE YEAR 1901
ON THE FEDERATED MALAY STATES
BY THE RESIDENT-GENERAL
(W. H. TREACHER, C.M.G.)

The Administration Reports of the British Residents for the year 1901 are transmitted herewith and afford the usual detailed information in regard to each of the States of the Federation.

2. The past year has been on the whole prosperous.

MINING.

As regards the chief industry, tin mining, while the average price of the metal for the year was lower than in 1900—$67.56 per pikul of 133½ lb (£108.15 per ton) against $74.15 (£132 per ton)—the output was larger:—

		Pikuls.		Tons.		Value.
1900	...	713,000	...	42,440	...	$52,800,000	... £5,500,000
1901	...	789,000	...	46,960	...	53,600,000	... 5,240,000

The out-turn approximated to that of 1896, which ranks next to 1895, in which year the largest record for the Federated Malay States was obtained, pikuls 825,000, the sterling price being £62 per ton only, or $32 a pikul.

The cost of living—food, wages, etc.,—and of mining has, however, so greatly increased of late years while the exchange value of the dollar has decreased that, with tin at, say, $60 a pikul, a considerable number of existing mines would be compelled to shut down or work without profit, until the rates of wages re-adjusted themselves.

As it is, the miners in Perak are reputed to have had, on the whole, “a very good year,” and their output increased; in Selangor there was an increased output also, but the miners are said “not to have made much money,” the latter remark applying to Negri Sembilan, where the output increased by some 3,000 pikuls. It is satisfactory to note that Pahang, which produced 15,700 pikuls in 1900 is credited with 26,300 pikuls in 1901.

To refer back to Selangor, I find that the Acting Secretary for Chinese Affairs reports: “The claims for wages from mining coolies and mining disputes exceeded that of all former years. The miners had a bad year of it, and up till the end of the Chinese New Year I was unable to cope with the large number of cases coming in. I attribute the cause to the scarcity and dear-ness of labour and to the restrictions on mining land.”

3. The duty collected by Government on tin exported during the year amounted to $6,968,184, as compared with $7,050,126 in the previous year.

4. The labour force is returned, approximately, at 170,000 against 168,000 in 1900.

(cont.)

I regret to have to report that it has not yet been found feasible to arrange for the direct steam communication between Selangor and Canton which was on the point of being inaugurated two years ago.

5. Appendix B gives charts similar to those that accompanied my last report, brought up to the close of 1901, by Mr. F. J. B. Dykes, Warden of Mines, Selangor and Negri Sembilan.

PLANTING.

6. European coffee planters (Liberian) have again been disappointed by the poor prices ruling for that product, which were indeed lower than for the previous year—$18.29 per pikul against $20.89. Nevertheless, in Selangor and Negri Sembilan the European-owned estates are almost all in good order, there is a general improvement in the sample of coffee, and the planters are showing great determination to tide over the present long continued crisis. The export of coffee for the year amounted to 51,239 pikuls as compared with 44,763 pikuls in 1900.

7. The reports as to the successful growth of Para and Rambong rubber are most encouraging and the cultivation of these species is being rapidly extended.

As regards the former the Annual Report of the Selangor Planters' Association says:—

Not only have we got the experiments in tapping referred to above, but the most casual observer must notice the magnificent growth of nearly all the rubber planted in the Malay Peninsula, and especially that on the well-drained alluvial soil of which we have so much.

During the year two well-known rubber experts from Ceylon visited Selangor and Sungei Ujong, and they stated that they had never seen a better growth, and they seemed astonished at the large returns per tree got by Mr. Derry and others and at the free flow of latex from our young trees.

We think there can be no doubt that a paying future is before the industry, and that ultimately the Malay Peninsula will oust Brazil from her present position as the premier rubber-producing country of the world. This is a bold forecast, but not an unreasonable one.

8. Coconut plantations are said to have a bright future and the yield of fruit from palms on the alluvial flats is very large.

Rats are proving almost as damaging to coconuts as to padi, and I regret to say that the hopes held out in my last report that Dr. Hamilton Wright would be able to cope with the rat plague by a system of inoculation have not been fulfilled.

Beetles, likewise, are most destructive to coconuts. The provisions of the existing "Coconut Trees Preservation Enactment" must be more energetically enforced, and if necessary must be strengthened.

9. In Perak the cultivation of the sugar-cane continues to prosper, flourish and extend, and, I am sorry to say, is in some places displacing padi, European and Chinese capitalists buying up padi land from the Malays, who, with some reluctance, part with their land, unable to resist the temptation of ready cash. The export of sugar from Perak amounted to pikuls 343,881, valued at $1,500,000. The figures for the preceding year were pikuls 278,156, value $1,315,974.

10. Perak is the only State in which the cultivation of the sugar-cane is carried on to any considerable extent, and it likewise takes first rank as regards the raising of rice.

Unfortunately, in the principal district, Krian, the harvest was a failure, owing, it is alleged, to the supineness of the Penghulus in neglecting to see that the planting out of the young padi was carried out at the proper time. I have not heard the Penghulus' version of the story. The Resident refers to an unusually dry season throughout the State which prevented the harvest generally from being as abundant as would otherwise have been the case. The fact remains, that the Commissioner of Lands and Mines reports that "the export of padi from Krian, which in 1900 was valued at $538,404, was in 1901 worth no more than $190,533."

The reports as to the rice harvest from the other States may be summarised as follows:—

Selangor: No report received.

Negri Sembilan: Poor, owing to floods and rats and death of buffaloes.

Pahang: With the exception of one district, bad, due to drought and lack of buffaloes owing to the ravages of so-called rinderpest in the previous year.

11. Tapioca cultivation is extending in Negri Sembilan and a condition attached to the alienation of fresh land for this product is that the planter must introduce some "permanent" form of cultivation, such as coconuts or rubber.

Tapioca cultivation has been commenced in Pahang and will be encouraged.

12. In Perak, especially, a considerable area of native-owned land is planted up with fruit trees. There is a ready sale for fruit to the miners, the trees require or receive little attention, and this fact indisposes the native to the more arduous labour of padi cultivation.

13. The department of the Commissioner of Lands and Mines has not yet introduced any uniform system for periodical returns of acreages under different kinds of cultivation; with yield of the various products. Returns of this nature would be interesting and of considerable value.

GOVERNMENT EXPERIMENTAL GARDENS.

14. There has been regrettable delay in opening the Government Experimental Gardens. The following extract from the Report of the United Planters' Association for 1901 explains the cause of delay and expresses the Planters' appreciation of the establishment of an Experimental Plantation:—

EXPERIMENTAL GARDENS.—In the early part of the year your Chairman was asked by the Resident-General to visit and report upon a block of approximately 72½ acres in the neighbourhood of Sungei Rengum Estate, Batu Tiga, which had been selected and cut out by the Superintendent, Experimental Plantations. The report sent in, whilst not suggesting that the land was in any way exceedingly rich, was in favour of the selection. Upon the matter being brought before the Association in meeting, however, it was decided that an area of 72½ acres was insufficient for the purpose, and one member, who was well acquainted with the locality, stating his belief that the block in question was quite unsuitable on the grounds that the remaining 127½ acres which had not been inspected were impossible to drain, it was resolved to ask the Government to postpone a final decision until a Committee of five members had visited and reported upon the whole 200 acres. This suggestion the Government acceded to with the result that the block was condemned. Mr. W. W. Bailey, on behalf of the Selangor Rubber Company, then offered the Government 200 acres of the Sungei Rengum Estate, adjoining Batu Tiga Station, on certain terms which the Government accepted; the land was visited by a second Committee and reported to be suitable, and the gardens will be started as soon as the Government obtain a transfer of the land, a transaction which, for various reasons, has been considerably delayed. In the meantime the Superintendent has started his nurseries on a piece of Government land adjoining the 200 acres. A special Committee, consisting of the Chairman of the Kuala Lumpur Gardens Committee, Messrs. E. V. Carey and C. Meikle, has been appointed to confer with and advise the Superintendent, and to render assistance in connection with work, which to him, as a comparatively recent arrival, may present some difficulties. Your Committee feel very strongly that the institution of this Experimental Plantation should prove of the greatest benefit to the cause of agriculture in this country and desire to express their recognition of the intention of the Government to keep Federated Malaya well forward in the van of the British Colonies and Protected States which already possess similar institutions.

15. In addition to commencing his nurseries the Superintendent was engaged in experiments, chiefly in connection with the tapping of Para rubber trees.

16. An "Agricultural Bulletin" for the Federated Malay States and the Straits Settlements started on its career towards the close of the year, with Government assistance. Its success will depend upon the support given to it by the planting community, which, I venture to think, is assured, that valuable body the United Planters' Association, Federated Malay States, having taken up the idea with its accustomed energy and thoroughness.

INDIAN
IMMIGRATION.

17. There has been a falling off in the supply of Indian labour. Of the 10,000 tickets for passengers from India to the Colony and Federated Malay States which the Government guarantee annually, only 7,243 were taken up. For this the following causes may be assigned:—

More stringent compulsory medical examination of intending emigrants from Negapatam, by the Superintendent of the Dépôt, who is an energetic officer of the Straits Settlements Government. Improved conditions of life of the coolie in India. Good padi harvest. Low value of the dollar in relation to the rupee. Decreased demand for Indian labour by the Government Railway Department.

It has been necessary to increase the rate of wages offered by Government and it is proposed to raise the minimum rate of wages of statute immigrants fixed by law.

I should correct an error in paragraph 33 of the Report by the Resident, Perak. Free coolies recruited by kanganies are "free to quit" on giving their employer a month's notice, and the repayment of advances and passage money can only be enforced in the civil courts.

It is, however, found to be the general rule that the Tamil coolie is punctilious as to refunding, voluntarily, his debt to his employer.

In Selangor and Negri Sembilan nearly all the estate labourers are recruited by kanganies; the demands for labour were fairly met, and the average cost of recruiting is said to have been some $18½ per head.

18. The Government is fully alive to its duty as regards facilitating and encouraging the operations of the planters, from whose share in the task of developing the resources of these States so much is expected, and with that end in view the question of the immigration of the Indian labourer is receiving special attention.

19. I am sorry to say that efforts to induce the vessels of the British India Steam Navigation Company to run direct to our ports are not likely to prove successful, but it is hoped that it may be arranged for one of the Straits Steamship Co's. boats to run between Port Swettenham and Penang in connection with the immigrant steamers.

A new post of Protector of Labour, Federated Malay States, was created during the year, as an experiment.

INDIAN
(cont.)

The Protector, Mr. T. H. Hill, visited Southern India, and has made reports and recommendations of value.

The Indian Immigration Enactment is being revised and amended.

Dr. Haviland, District Surgeon, Krian, has paid earnest attention to the subject of the health of Indian immigrants and the sanitation of their dwellings.

LAND REVENUE.

20. The total land revenue, exclusive of forest receipts, was $763,643, an increase of some $50,000 on the collection of the previous year. Agricultural, town and village lands contributed in rents $295,417 and mining lands $189,046, while $137,528 were received as premia. The land revenue is steadily increasing.

FORESTS.

21. In paragraph 29 of my last report I referred to the visit of Mr. H. C. Hill, now Inspector-General of Forests, British India, and to his report on the Forests of these States. Acting on Mr. Hill's advice, the services of a trained forest officer from Burma were obtained late in the year, Mr. A. M. Burn-Murdoch assuming his duties as Chief Forest Officer for the Federated States in November last, while during the present year the forest service has been constituted a Federal department under his supervision.

The total forest revenue for the year under review was $287,542 and the expenditure $97,789. For 1899 the receipts were $212,730, and for 1900 $242,936.

The estimated revenue for the present year is $260,000.

It must be recollected that since the commencement of 1901 the collection of gutta percha (Palaquium) has been prohibited. The department is now inter alia energetically engaged in continuing to search for and reserve tracts known to contain palaquium trees, in planting up and supplying from nurseries, and in facilitating the growth of self-planted trees in the palaquium reserves.

22. It has been found necessary to close, to a great extent, the mangrove (fire-wood producing) forests in Perak, which prove to have been over-exploited. These forests are being examined, surveyed and reserved. In due course working plans will be framed and the forests will be worked and become a source of considerable revenue.

23. The States possess no coal formations and no resources of mineral oil. It is most essential to exploit with care these excellent sources of the firewood supplies for the Railway Department, the sugar mills and the numerous engines employed in mining operations.

The Chief Forest Officer will also come to the assistance of the Railway Department, and we shall, I hope, be spared a repetition of the scandal of a country possessing extensive forests, containing capital timber, importing wooden railway sleepers from abroad.

24. These necessary measures in respect of the palaquium and mangrove forests will have the immediate effect of reducing forest revenue, but the future effect of largely increasing it.

25. With the exception of the Perak department the Forest Departments of the States were in a rudimentary condition on the Chief Forest Officer's advent—in Pahang there was no organised department.

(cont.)

The creation of a working Forest Department for the Federated States will involve expenditure at the same time that the measures above adverted to will have a tendency to reduce receipts.

There is no doubt, however, that the expenditure will bear good fruit, and that the department will in no long time fully justify its existence, and not only prove its value as regards conserving our assets in forests, and preventing wasteful exploitation, but become, as in India, a large contributor to revenue, over and above its own cost.

26. A Forest Enactment is in course of preparation.

TRADE.

27. The following are the figures of trade values for the past two years:—

		1900.		1901.
Imports	...	$38,402,581	...	$39,393,403
Exports	...	60,361,045	...	63,107,277
		$98,763,626	...	$102,500,680

28. No ocean steamers at present visit the ports of the Federated Malay States. Our imports come to us through Singapore and Penang and our exports are distributed through those ports. The Federal Government grants a small honorarium to the Colonial Registrar of Imports and Exports who is prepared to answer all reasonable enquiries addressed to him by merchants and traders in regard to trade matters in these States.

POSTS AND TELEGRAPHS.

29. The receipts of the Post and Telegraph department amounted to $202,121, the corresponding figures for the previous year were $191,526.

The total expenditure is given as $313,132.

30. It is under consideration to forthwith combine the four States' departments under one supervising head—a consummation greatly to be desired.

31. The number of depositors at the close of the year in the Savings Banks worked by the Perak department was 1,128 and the value of their deposits amounted to $99,350. The Selangor corresponding figures are 864 and $65,844. The Resident, Perak, reports that the encouragement the banks offer "to thrift is being more and more recognised by all classes of the community, but especially by Eurasians and Asiatics, many of whom have opened deposit accounts in the names and on behalf of their children." Mr. Rodger ascribes great credit to Mr. Nelson, the Superintendent of Posts and Telegraphs, in this connection.

Saving and Savings Banks are still, I am afraid, foreign to the genius of the Malay race.

GOVERNMENT RAILWAYS.

32. OPEN LINES.—The mileage open for traffic at the end of the year was 244½ miles (Perak 147, Selangor 97) as compared with 234 miles in the previous year. The nett revenue was $1,079,118, showing an increase of $43,750 over the results of the year 1900.

The gross earnings were $2,340,822, and the gross expenditure $1,261,704.

The proportion of working expenses to gross receipts was 53.90 per cent., as compared with 50.41 per cent. The worst percentages were shown by the new Province Wellesley section (91.77) and the new Larut and Krian section (91.94).

The increase in the percentage is accounted for by the opening of new sections, alterations to steam ferry boats, rebuilding a bridge, arrears of Exchange Compensation Allowance to officers, increased cost of fuel and rise in price of labour.

The Railway capital account of open lines is given as :—

Perak	$10,637,387
Selangor	7,896,624
	$18,534,011

and the return earned thereon during the year as 5.82 per cent., being for Perak 4.72 and for Selangor 7.30 per cent. The average cost per mile of construction and equipment of open lines to the close of 1901 is reported to have been $75,754—this includes the cost of constructing wharves, piers, buildings, sidings and the purchase of land at six ports, the expenditure at Port Swettenham alone amounting to $1,108,791.

33. The new rates and fares referred to in my last report came into force during the year, resulting in bringing up the Perak rates in most cases to those already existing in Selangor, and in reducing some of the Selangor rates.

This gave rise to some expressions of dissatisfaction in the former State, but seeing that the return on capital is only 5.82, notwithstanding that every economy in working is practised, it is evident that the rates cannot be appreciably reduced at present. In ordinary times the department should be content with a return of 5 per cent., but not with less.

The present rates are said to compare favourably with those charged on the Ceylon Government Railway, though the cost of maintenance and working is higher than in that Colony.

The figures of capital account above given do not include the large sums assigned for the extensions in hand.

34. The rolling stock was overworked and is being added to.

The permanent ways were maintained in good running order.

In Selangor over eight miles on the north and south sections were taken up, relaid and reballasted, the formation being raised over considerable lengths. The relaying with 60 lb. rails of the west section, Klang to Batu Tiga, was completed during the year. No serious accidents requiring special mention here have been reported. There were six deaths in connection with working the traffic, three due to trespassing and three to misadventure. There were no accidents or injuries to passengers.

35. CONSTRUCTION.—The estimate for the cost of the 179 miles of extension, the construction of which was commenced in 1896, put by the revised estimates of December, 1900, at $16,472,982, has been raised by $389,778, so that the estimated cost per mile is $100,380. Of these 179 miles there were open to traffic at the end of the year 82 miles.

The total expenditure on the extensions up to 31st December, 1901, is given at $14,103,743, all furnished by current revenue of the States.

These figures are exclusive of the expenditure ($1,108,791) on the Kuala Klang wharves, which do not form part of the extensions referred to. Including that expenditure, the amount spent on railway construction during

1901 reached $4,697,727. Rapid progress is now being made with the extensions, which are well advanced, and it is anticipated that they will be finally completed by July, 1903.

The Port of Klang (Selangor), inconveniently situated some 12 miles up the Klang river, was closed and the Port of Kuala Klang opened to traffic in September, its designation being changed to Port Swettenham in honour of the officer with whose name the Federation of the Native States and the extension of the railway system will be indelibly connected in the annals of the Malay Peninsula. Port Swettenham is the most commodious and best equipped port in the Peninsula.

36. Towards the close of the year arrangements were made for the engagement of a party of surveyors from Australia for the survey of the proposed extension from Seremban (Negri Sembilan) through Kuala Pilah to Kuala Gemas, on the Johore boundary—some 54 miles. A provision of $87,000 has been made for this survey, which is now in hand. With the completion of the extension to Kuala Gemas there will remain only the State of Johore to be traversed, say 120 miles, to complete the line from Penang to Singapore.

From Kuala Pilah will probably be the most accessible route for railway extension from the main west coast line into Pahang.

37. ADMINISTRATION.—A General Manager of the Federated Malay States Railways was appointed during the year—a long-needed step in the right direction. The appointment was conferred upon Mr. C. Edwin Spooner, lately State Engineer, Selangor, from whose annual report I have gathered the information summarised in these pages.

Mr. Spooner was transferred to the service of Selangor from that of Ceylon in 1891, and among other works carried out the Kuala Lumpur Water Supply, erected the admirable block of Government Offices, Kuala Lumpur, and engineered the fine road over the Semangko Pass from Selangor into Pahang.

PUBLIC WORKS.

38. The total expenditure on Public Works, exclusive of the cost of establishments, was $3,600,000.

I make brief reference to the more important works in hand during the year.

39. IRRIGATION: KRIAN (PERAK).—This scheme was commenced in 1899. Owing to difficulties experienced in procuring labour and to the unhealthy nature of the work, the scheme is not likely to be completed before the close of 1904.

Approximately 100 square miles of padi land will be served by the works.

The headworks will impound some 7,256,000,000 gallons of water in a sheet of water covering 10 square miles.

The main canal is 15 miles in length and there will be 20 miles of branch canals, and, in addition, a large number of distributaries.

The main canal will be capable of carrying 650 cubic feet of water per second.

The scheme will supply water for domestic purposes as well as for crop irrigation and will act as a complete system of drainage in seasons when the rainfall may be excessive.

The estimated cost is over $900,000.

(cont.)

The amount expended to the end of the year 1901 was $535,555. These figures are exclusive of $50,000 spent on preliminary work, 1895-1898. The expenditure during 1901 was $274,500.

The Engineer in charge is Mr. R. O. N. Anderson, for whom, during his absence on leave, Mr. Arthur E. Thomas is acting.

KUANG IRRIGATION SCHEME (SELANGOR), serving some 450 acres of land, was nearly completed. The cost of this work is estimated at $14,700.

LOWER PERAK.—The Director reports: "The surveys in connection with the partial irrigation of and water supply to the delta between the Perak and Bernam rivers, show that a channel from the Sunkei must cross some 12 miles of swamp, a very costly matter; this swamp can be avoided by taking the Batang Padang as the source of supply, but that necessitates the crossing of the Bidor river, also an expensive matter; the advisability of undertaking either of these works depends upon the area and quality of the land to be benefited, and the area of State land which could be sold to meet the proposed expenditure, and rated to provide funds for upkeep; there is every probability that, with a sufficient supply of fresh water in all seasons, this land would be as valuable as similar land in Krian and Province Wellesley."

The area under contemplation for this scheme is, roughly, 110,000 acres, of which about 20,000 acres have been alienated, much of it for coconuts and sugar cane, including the Rabana Sugar Estate, on which occurred the outbreak of cholera referred to in paragraph 81 of this report, while an application for some 11,000 acres for rubber planting is under consideration. This tract of land should become of great value if provided with a good and reliable supply of water. The cost would possibly be not much under two million dollars. Before any definite action is proposed, careful enquiry will be necessary and the owners of estates should be consulted—they may reasonably be expected to contribute towards the cost of any well-considered scheme which may be sanctioned.

WATER SUPPLY.—Owing to the increase of population of the town of Kuala Lumpur, which at the 1901 census numbered 32,000 souls, it has been found necessary to enlarge the Waterworks. A satisfactory scheme has been drawn up under the advice of the Director, estimated to cost some $90,000. The work should be completed during the current year.

The Klang and Port Swettenham Waterworks, commenced in 1900, were well advanced. The total cost will probably amount to $230,000, and the work will be completed before the close of the current year.

40. ROADS.— $7\frac{3}{4}$ miles of metalled road were added to the Perak mileage, $20\frac{3}{4}$ to that of Selangor and $11\frac{1}{2}$ to that of Negri Sembilan.

The road mileages at the close of the year were as under:—

			Metalled.	Gravelled.	Unmetalled.	Bridle.
Perak...	...	...	472	...	119	494
Selangor	...	...	313	51	53	180
Negri Sembilan	...	...	82	93	79	172
Pahang	...	...	83	...	21	73
			950	144	272	919

Total mileage all roads, 2,285 miles.

The small section of road in Perak required to complete the main trunk road from Prai (Penang) to Malacca through Province Wellesley and the States of Perak, Selangor and Negri Sembilan, is, at the date of writing, practically completed. The total length of this trunk road is some 370 miles, which will be reduced next year to about 295 miles by the opening of the direct road from Seremban to Tampin.

41. BUILDINGS.—No buildings of any importance were completed during the year under review.

The additional gaol accommodation at Batu Gajah approached completion.

The extension to the Perak Museum was finished.

The Astana for His Highness the Sultan of Selangor was not completed.

Small progress was made with the European Hospital at Kuala Lumpur.

42. ELECTRIC LIGHTING, KUALA LUMPUR, SELANGOR.—This important matter was under discussion with the Consulting Engineers, Messrs. Preece and Cardew, during the year. The original proposals submitted by Mr. Spooner have in the main been adopted, and work on the hydraulic portion of the scheme has been commenced during the current year. The total estimate amounts to $586,600—hydraulic works, $247,600; electric works, $339,000.

43. ADMINISTRATION.—The Public Works Departments of the States were during the year combined under a Director of Public Works, Federated Malay States, the new appointment being conferred upon Mr. F. St. G. Caulfeild, formerly State Engineer, Perak, who leaves the Perak Service with a distinguished record dating from August, 1879. I may remark, in passing, that the Perak roads, laid out and constructed under Mr. Caulfeild's direction, are unrivalled in the Peninsula, and could hardly be surpassed anywhere, as regards alignment, construction and maintenance.

Owing to death, sickness, leave, resignations, the high cost of labour, the difficulty in engaging contractors, the competition of the Railway Department, cattle disease and other causes, the department was handicapped during the year, with the result that a very considerable proportion of the provision for works and roads was not expended.

I confidently look forward to the happiest results from the appointment of a Director of Public Works for the Federated Malay States, in respect both of efficiency and economy.

44. MOTOR CARS.—A local company was formed to introduce motor cars and lorries where openings presented themselves, and a Government subsidy for a mail and goods service between Selangor and Pahang was discussed. Most unfortunately the type of car adopted by the company proved to be unsuitable and operations have been suspended for the present.

Our excellent road system, coupled with the fact of the not infrequent local stoppages of traffic owing to cattle disease, should be sufficient encouragement to the company and others to persevere and develop this mode of transit. The Resident, Selangor, states that one car, run for a time by a Chinaman out of Kuala Lumpur, was well patronised by the Chinese, being generally loaded to exactly double its seating capacity for Europeans.

FINANCIAL.

45. The total revenue of the Federated Malay States during the year amounted to $17,541,507, as compared with $15,609,808 in the previous year, and is the highest figure yet attained. The expenditure came to $17,273,158 as compared with $12,728,931. In explanation of the increased total of expenditure I should say that the "Federal" expenditure of the two years, 1900 and 1901, is included in the figures given for 1901. Hitherto it had been the practice to include the "Federal" expenditure of one year in the accounts of the succeeding year; henceforth the "Federal" expenditure of the year will be brought to account in the year during which it occurs.

Similar remarks apply to revenue.

The proper figures for comparison, therefore, are—

		1900.		1901.
Revenue	...	$15,609,808	...	$17,383,647
Expenditure	...	12,728,931	...	16,463,175

46. Under revenue the principal increase ($1,021,224) is under licenses, due to an arrangement by which the rent payable by the Perak General Farmer was increased, and to the reletting of the Negri Sembilan Farms.

Under expenditure the chief increases are contributed by the Departments of Public Works and Railways.

Personal emoluments, owing mainly to the grant of Exchange Compensation Allowance on whole instead of half salary, show an increase of $270,418.

47. The proportion of the cost of establishments including State Railways to revenue is given as 17.63 per cent., for 1900 the proportion was 16.67 per cent.

48. The assets of the Federated States on 1st January, 1902, including Bank fixed deposits, and cash in Treasuries and on current account in Banks, stood at $10,337,120. Liabilities are returned at $5,040,695.

THE GUIDES
REGIMENT.

49. Major A. S. Vanrenen remained in command of the Malay States Guides during the year, the Commandant, Colonel R. S. F. Walker, acting as Resident, Perak.

The Regiment, the establishment of which was five companies (A to E), Gunners (50), Dépôt Company (80), with ten European and eight Native Officers, was one Wing Officer, one Armourer-Sergeant and two Armourer-Apprentices under strength, and three privates over strength on the last day of the year.

The following nationalities were represented—Sikhs 545, Pathans 50, Punjaubi Mussulmans 42. The average age was 27 years 5 months, service 4 years 10 months, height 5' 9½".

No difficulty is experienced in recruiting, a large number of recruits offering locally. With the exception of E Company, stationed at Kuala Lumpur, the discipline of the Regiment is reported to have been "very good."

The gunners are an especially smart body of men, and the best musketry shooting company.

A regrettable accident occurred during the annual gunnery course by which two gunners were injured.

(cont.)

The Regiment's figure of merit for the trained soldiers' musketry course is 133/32.

E Company was placed second in the competition for the "Warren Shield," which is open to all Regular Troops and Volunteers in the Straits Settlements and Federated Malay States.

The Acting Commandant reports: "All ranks exhibit the greatest keenness, and to this, and to the liberal supply of ammunition, I attribute the all-round excellence of the shooting."

Battalion field training took place at Kuala Lumpur and extended over a month, the result being "most satisfactory."

Three companies and the gunners were re-armed with the Lee-Enfield magazine rifle.

The health of the Regiment was good, on the whole. The detachment stationed in Pahang, always an unhealthy station, was withdrawn during the year. It is in contemplation to concentrate the entire Regiment in Kuala Lumpur.

The strength of the Regiment is being increased by one company.

VOLUNTEERS.

50. I referred in my last report to the probable formation of a Volunteer Corps in Perak and Selangor. The matter received the cordial support of the present High Commissioner, the Commandant, Malay States Guides (Colonel Walker), the Residents, and myself.

Unfortunately, there was considerable delay in settling the terms of the necessary Enactment and ensuring its being passed on identical lines in the two States. The result was some cooling down of the martial spirit in the former State, where the Enactment had been anticipated by the enrolment of members. The law was passed in the Selangor State Council last month, and at the first "swearing in" an encouraging number of men presented themselves for enrolment. The Enactment will shortly be passed in Perak.

POLICE.

51. The sanctioned strength of the Police Force was—Europeans, 1 Federal Commissioner, 7 Deputy and Assistant Commissioners and 32 Inspectors; Indians, 939 Native officers, Non-commissioned officers, and men; Malays, 1,067 Native officers, Non-commissioned officers and men, 8 Buglers (Indians) and 92 Detectives (mostly Chinese): a total strength of 2,146.

The Sultan of Perak has a small bodyguard of Indian ex-cavalrymen—2 Duffadars and 12 Sowars—who are under the command of the Chief Police Officer, Perak.

52. Discipline is reported to have been "satisfactory," but there were 238 cases of absence without leave, 107 asleep on duty, 38 desertion, 190 disobedience of orders, 105 drunkenness, 108 quitting beat and a number of "miscellaneous" offences.

53. The Commissioner has been greatly handicapped by the difficulty in recruiting a good class of Inspector locally. Several candidates were tried during the year and but few were retained. At the commencement of the year the force was nine Inspectors short and at the close of the year there were eight vacancies.

It has been decided to recruit Inspectors from Europe in future.

54. The experiment was tried of appointing a Chinese-speaking Passed Cadet as an Assistant Commissioner, but no sooner had he obtained some idea of police work than he was promoted to a civil appointment.

(cont.)

The experiment is not likely to be repeated at present. The higher appointments in the Force are not sufficiently numerous to afford adequate prospects of promotion to Civil Service Cadets.

55. As has frequently been pointed out Police drill and duties are irksome to the Malay and not congenial to his nature.

It is obvious, however, that for country districts and districts mainly inhabited by Malays, a Malay Police Force is the more suitable, while for towns and for mining districts Indian police are to be preferred.

56. A scheme has been sanctioned for materially improving the pay and prospects of the detective members of the Force, principally Chinese, providing for promotion and increasing the number of detectives employed.

57. The Pahang Force was re-armed with the .303 Martini-Enfield Artillery Carbine.

The Selangor Force will be similarly re-armed during the current year, and the Perak and Negri Sembilan contingents in the following year.

CRIME.

58. Cases of crime reported in 1900 numbered 35,239 and in 1901 38,211. The percentage of discoveries was 53.98 and 57.48 for the respective years.

Of serious crimes (murder, culpable homicide not amounting to murder, gang robbery, highway robbery, robbery, housebreaking) there were 1,004 cases reported and 292 discoveries, the figures for the previous year being 1,033 and 293. In 1901 there were 41 cases of murder reported and 27 discoveries, as compared with 52 and 32 in 1900.

Twenty-one murderers were sentenced to death during the year—9 of them were Chinese, 5 Klings, 2 Sikhs and 5 Malays.

Gang robberies increased from 96 to 144 and the discoveries numbered 46 against 29.

Chinese Secret Societies gave the Police little or no trouble.

59. The Judicial Commissioner reports that the system of trial by Assessors continues to work most satisfactorily.

60. The Banishment Enactment is of much practical utility and by its aid the number of habitual criminals can be reduced.

During the year 36 habitual criminals and 106 dangerous characters were banished.

PRISONS.

61. Major Vanrenen, as in the previous year, acted as Federal Inspector of Prisons.

The number of prisoners remaining in the criminal prisons on the last day of the year was 1,182, as compared with 1,063 in the previous year. Including the civil prisons, the figures were 1,261 and 1,118. The daily average number of prisoners was 1,301.

There was a decrease in the number of reconvictions in Perak and Pahang and increases in Selangor and Negri Sembilan.

Executions numbered 15—the same number as in 1899—as compared with 7 in 1900.

There were 20 escapes against 18. Ten escaped prisoners were re-captured. Discipline throughout the gaols was satisfactorily maintained.

(cont.)

Fifty-seven cases of breach of prison discipline were punished with flogging. The Inspector reports his satisfaction with the zeal and energy of the staff, with an exception as regards the Batu Gajah Gaol.

The pay of the Native Warders in Pahang was improved.

On the completion of railway communication between Krian and Taiping the prison in the former district was closed, leaving two gaols in Perak—one at Batu Gajah, one at Taiping. The buildings in connection with the former gaol were not completed during the year.

A new gaol is being erected in Negri Sembilan, on a well-selected site, to replace the present building.

The health of the prisoners was good in all gaols with the following exceptions:—Batu Gajah Gaol, Perak; Kuala Lumpur Gaol, Selangor.

With regard to the former, which serves a mining district, deaths in hospital numbered 80, or 12 per cent. of admissions. This is reported to be due to the large number of vagrants committed to the gaol in a very poor state of health, and, to some extent, to overcrowding, the new block of cells not having been completed.

The Residents in conference have advised the establishment of special wards for the detention of sick and decrepit vagrants, and that magistrates be empowered by law to order their detention in such wards for longer periods than those for which they may be committed to prison at present under the provisions of the Small Offences Enactment. A law to give effect to this resolution has been drafted for consideration.

Beri-beri recurred in the Kuala Lumpur Gaol, but was of a comparatively mild type. The total number of deaths from all causes in the gaol hospital was 29 or 2.84 per cent. of admissions. I refer later on to this matter (paragraph 87) which is receiving special attention. It will probably be necessary to improve the ventilation of the Kuala Lumpur Gaol buildings.

The average cost per head per annum of the prisoners throughout the States, including cost of staff and all charges, is returned at $20.99 as compared with $21.10 in the previous year.

The actual receipts from the proceeds of prison labour amounted to $21,344.

LEGISLATION.

62. A number of laws were passed by the Councils of each State.

The subjects of actually new legislation were Plague, Pauper Aliens, Registration of Births and Deaths, Ferries and Departmental Fines.

The Civil Procedure Code was further considered and should become law during the current year.

An amended Land Enactment was drafted for passing, but has been deferred for further consideration on some important points. The new law will empower Government to constitute residential reserves for different nationalities in the larger townships where deemed necessary.

Legislation on several other matters of importance was taken in hand and progress made.

ADMINISTRATION.

63. Sir Frank Swettenham, Resident-General, returned from leave in February and acted as Governor of the Straits Settlements and High

(cont.)

Commissioner for the Federated Malay States until October, when he was confirmed in those appointments.

Mr. W. H. Treacher, for whom Colonel R. S. F. Walker acted as Resident in Perak, continued to act as Resident-General until December, when he was appointed to the substantive post, and was succeeded in Perak by Mr. J. P. Rodger, Resident, Selangor, Mr. E. M. Merewether, Assistant Colonial Secretary, Straits Settlements, being appointed Resident in the latter State.

By the appointment of Mr. E. W. Birch, Resident, Negri Sembilan, to be Governor of Labuan and the North Borneo Company's territories, the States lost the services of one of its most energetic and capable officers. He was succeeded in Negri Sembilan by Mr. H. C. Belfield, Commissioner of Lands and Mines, and Mr. A. T. D. Berrington, Senior Magistrate, Perak, was appointed Commissioner, his office being assigned to Mr. R. G. Watson, Secretary to the Resident, Selangor, which appointment was conferred upon Mr. Douglas Campbell.

Mr. Hugh Clifford, on resigning the appointment of Governor of Labuan and North Borneo, was reappointed Resident, Pahang, relieving Mr. D. H. Wise, Secretary to the Resident-General, who had been temporarily acting as Resident. Mr. Wise resumed his acting appointment as Resident, Negri Sembilan, vice Mr. Douglas Campbell.

On Mr. H. C. Belfield, Acting Resident, Selangor, proceeding on leave, Mr. Clifford became Acting Resident, and Mr. Duberly, Senior Magistrate, Selangor, Acting Resident, Pahang.

In October Mr. Clifford, being in a very bad state of health, was compelled to proceed to Europe on long leave, and was succeeded by Mr. E. M. Merewether, who was subsequently confirmed in the post, as aforesaid.

Mr. T. H. Kershaw, Legal Adviser, was appointed to act as Attorney-General in the Colony, being relieved by Mr. F. Belfield.

Mr. W. W. Douglas, Deputy Commissioner of Police, Perak, was appointed to act as Federal Commissioner of Police on Captain H. L. Talbot proceeding on leave. He was succeeded in Perak by Captain Lyons, Assistant Commissioner.

The post of Secretary to the Resident-General, held by Mr. Wise, was temporarily filled during the year first by Mr. O. Marks, Assistant Secretary to the Resident-General, then by Mr. F. Weld, Secretary to the High Commissioner, and finally by Mr. Aldworth, who succeeded Mr. Weld as Secretary to the High Commissioner.

The Public Works Departments of the different States were combined under one Federal Head, with the title of Director of Public Works, the appointment being conferred upon Mr. F. St. George Caulfeild, State Engineer, Perak. Mr. John Trump, Deputy State Engineer, Perak, was promoted in succession to Mr. Caulfeild. At the same time, a scheme was promulgated for the department, classifying the posts and improving the pay and the prospects of promotion.

The Railway Departments were also placed under one Federal Head, with the title of General Manager. The appointment was conferred upon Mr. C. Edwin Spooner, State Engineer, Selangor, and Mr. P. B. McGlashan, from the Perak Public Works Department, was appointed State Engineer, Selangor.

The Police of the States will be constituted a Federal Department in 1903.

The delay experienced in the rendering of financial information from the various States, alluded to in my last report, caused the formation of a strong Central Audit Office in Kuala Lumpur, under the Accountant and Auditor, Mr. R. D. Hewett. The revenue audits continue to be conducted by the States' local Audit Officers, but the audit of expenditure and the preparation of financial returns and of expenditure warrants is undertaken by the Central Audit Office.

Mr. A. M. Burn-Murdoch was appointed Chief Forest Officer of the Federated Malay States, on three years' deputation from the Burma Forest Department, but did not assume duty until the close of the year. This officer also superintends the Forest Department of the Straits Settlements.

Mr. T. H. Hill, who as a planter and large employer of Indian labour had acquired special knowledge of the nature of the Indian coolie immigrant, was provisionally appointed to a new post of Federal Protector of Labour. It remains to be seen whether it will be necessary to continue this post.

On the advice of Mr. H. C. Hill, Inspector-General of Forests, British India, Mr. Cerruti, a foreigner not before employed by Government, who has become acquainted with the manners and customs of the wild tribe of Sakais, was attached to the Forest Department in Perak, with the primary object of being employed in the Batang Padang district, with the title of Superintendent of Sakais, to select and demarcate gutta percha reserves, to collect through the agency of the Sakais rubber on behalf of the Government and to arrange for its export and sale.

The suggestion of the Resident, Perak, that Mr. Cerruti should be detached from the Forest Department and put in general charge of the 7,000 or 8,000 Sakais and Semangs scattered throughout Perak is being considered.

It would involve the creation of a new appointment, as it would be necessary to replace Mr. Cerruti in the Forest Department.

64. The title of Secretary to Government was abolished and that of Secretary to the Resident substituted.

65. Schemes were drafted for reclassifying the Civil Service and professional and miscellaneous appointments, providing sterling salaries and, in most cases, periodical increments of pay.

Revised schemes for the payment of the members of the Clerical branch of the Service, of Interpreters and of Medical, Post and Telegraph, Court and other subordinates officers are under consideration.

The continued rise in the cost of living, price of food and clothing, rate of wages, the low rate of exchange of the dollar and its relative depreciation in respect of the Indian rupee, have rendered necessary a reconsideration of the rates of emolument of all ranks of Government employes, and the mode of payment of European officials.

The grant of Exchange Compensation Allowance to bring up the whole instead of the half of the dollar salary of officers, whose domicile is in a gold standard country, to the value of 3/- to the dollar, took effect from the 1st January, and was gratefully appreciated

As I write (25.4.02), the value of the dollar is about 1/8. The value of the rupee is, I believe, about 1/4. The Government rate for the local payment in dollars of officers appointed on sterling salaries has been fixed for the year 1902 at 2/0 $\frac{1}{4}$. Doubtless the wisdom of the Straits Settlements will in time deal effectively with the question of the fixity of exchange.

I am glad to be able to report that the Residents in conference have accepted the principle that any monopoly of the sale of food in Government markets is to be discouraged in every way possible.

66. In his despatch acknowledging the receipt of the Annual Administration Reports for the year 1900, the Secretary of State is pleased to note with especial interest the terms of praise in which Colonel Walker spoke of the good work done by the Penghulus in Perak and the zeal which they display in the performance of their numerous and responsible duties.

My desire is to place, if possible, more of the administration of local district affairs, including the collection of the small land rents annually payable by the raiats, in the hands of Penghulus and Native Officers. I am in communication with the Residents, Perak and Selangor, on the subject, and I only allude to it now because of the reference to "Native Administration" in paragraph 41 of Mr. Rodger's present report. The matter is not yet ready for discussion in an annual report, but in view of the fact that the number of our European Civil Service appointments is very large—proportionately larger than that of Ceylon, for instance—while proposals for the creation of new posts are not infrequent, I think the time has come for considering whether more use cannot be made of Native Officials as in that Colony and in British India.

67. The creation of the appointments of Director of Public Works and General Manager, Railways, and the conversion of the Trigonometrical Survey into a Federal Department under a Chief Surveyor, who will exercise general control over the Revenue Survey Departments of the States, completes the list of Federal Officers contemplated by the scheme of 1895, with the exception of the Chief Surgeon and the Inspector of Posts and Telegraphs. It has been under consideration for some time past to fill the latter post. Two Federal appointments have been added to the list referred to—Secretary for Chinese Affairs and Chief Forest Officer.

EDUCATION.

68. An interesting report has recently been written on the subject of Education in these States, whence I have taken most of the following brief remarks.

At the date of British Protection (1874) there was no trace of any system of education beyond the teaching by rote of passages of the Koran in the Arabic tongue by Muhammadan priests and hajis, many of whom were wholly illiterate.

In course of time the Governments, advised by the British Residents, inaugurated vernacular (Malay) schools, and between the years 1883–5 two or three schools were opened where the elements of an English education were imparted to the children of a few European officials, to Eurasians, a small sprinkling of Chinese and sometimes a Malay or two. The sons of ex-Sultan Abdullah were sent to the English school at Malacca, where they received a sound elementary education.

The vernacular schools increased in number annually, and in 1890 an Inspector of Schools was appointed for the State of Perak.

Education Codes for vernacular and English schools were framed in some of the States, but not on identical lines.

69. During the year 1897 a trained Inspector of Schools was appointed for the Federated Malay States, and, under his direction, a Code was drawn up in which prominence was given to grants being dependent on general efficiency rather than on individual passes; to improvement in the methods of teaching in the English schools; to encouraging missionary and other philanthropic bodies to engage in the work of education, by liberal examination grants, salary grants, building grants and so forth; to the training of pupil teachers.

For English schools the Code provides for commencing with an infants' standard and ending with a seventh standard, the curriculum approximating to that of an elementary school in England.

For vernacular schools there are four standards providing for teaching the rudiments of reading and writing in Malay, in both Arabic and Roman character, and the four simple rules as applied to abstract numbers and to the money currency, and weights and measures.

70. In Selangor, 1891, and in Negri Sembilan, 1900, laws were passed for enforcing the attendance at school of Malay boys, between the ages of seven and fourteen, who reside within a radius of two miles of a Government school.

Neither Perak nor Pahang have adopted this legislation, and it happens to be a fact that the percentage of attendance is higher in the former than in the two latter States.

It has been suggested that compulsory attendance should not be confined to Malays but extended to male children of any of the numerous nationalities which go to make up the mixed population of the country. In the present state of public opinion amongst the Muhammadans it would not be possible to apply compulsion in the case of girls.

71. The vernacular schools are entirely supported by Government, and no fees for attendance are charged, the boys making only a trifling payment for their books and other small school requirements. It is possible that if a fee were charged the benefits of education would be more highly appreciated and attendance be improved.

At "English" schools fees are charged which may not exceed $3 per mensem in any grant-in-aid school; the average rate charged is $12 per annum.

There exists no education rate, with the exception of the case of the Victoria Institution (English), which is assisted by a municipal rate of one per cent. on house rents within the town of Kuala Lumpur.

Every facility is afforded by Government in order to encourage attendance at Government schools—such, for instance, as free passes on the Government railway, free carriage by river and by ferry boats.

72. In Malay schools religious instruction, including the reading of the Koran, is provided where there is a demand for it. Three quarters of the schools in Perak and Selangor enjoy this provision, which will shortly be extended to Negri Sembilan, but no demand has yet arisen in Pahang.

(cont.)

As regards English schools, religious instruction is given only in those conducted and managed by Christian missions. The Code directs that such instruction can only be imparted at the beginning or at the end of the school meeting and that no child can be compelled to be present at such instruction, nor can any child be refused admission to a grant-in-aid school on grounds of religious belief.

73. Drill, physical exercise, football, cricket and other games are encouraged and assisted by Government.

74. At the close of the year 1901 there were 188 Government vernacular schools, 7 Government English schools, 12 English grant-in-aid schools conducted by Protestant and Roman Catholic missions, and 2 managed by a body of trustees—the Victoria Institution and the Anglo-Chinese School, Klang.

The returns of attendance show the following figures:—

Vernacular.		English.
Boys.	Girls.	Boys.	Girls.
7,007	363	1,538	262
7,370		1,800
...		...
Total		9,170

The population of the States is about 680,000, of which it is calculated that 70,000 are of school age—i.e., between 5 and 15. The inhabitants are scattered very unevenly over an area of some 26,000 square miles, and means of communication have not yet been perfected throughout that area.

75. Although the position of women amongst the Malays is somewhat superior to that accorded to them in many countries where the Muhammadan religion prevails, it is very doubtful whether the people yet attach any real importance to the advantages of education for females, notwithstanding that the Government takes such steps as it can to induce the growth of a more progressive opinion.

The Sultans of Perak and Selangor are both supporters of the cause of female education.

The latter maintains a school for girls, providing a covered cart for conveying them to the school.

Malay girls are sharp and quickwitted and possess the usual conversational powers of the sex; their ordinary garments are simple in their make-up and darning and art needle work are not requisites; there is very little Malay literature at their service, and no local newspaper, with the exception of an uninteresting Government Gazette. Further, it is still a general custom to more or less rigorously seclude Malay girls from about the age of nine or ten years until they become married. Under these conditions much progress in the matter of female education cannot be expected for some time to come.

At the close of the year there were 15 vernacular schools for girls in Perak and Selangor with an attendance of 363. At these schools hand-weaving (an old Malay art), needle work, knitting, mat-making, embroidery, and gold thread and crochet work are taught, with but very moderate success.

(cont.)

76. There are three Government vernacular schools other than Malay—two for Chinese, one for Tamils.

Reference to the paragraph of this report dealing with the recent Census will show that the number of children of the school age among the immigrant population is very small.

It is not the proper policy for the Government to undertake the education of the children of the alien temporary population in their own languages. On the other hand, all Government and State-aided schools are open to children of all nationalities. I am, however, in favour of making an exception in the case of Tamils, who may eventually be induced to settle in these States in considerable numbers. I understand that a policy of this kind has been adopted in Ceylon where the Tamil language is now regarded as "indigenous."

77. Education being in its infancy here, but little has yet been effected in the way of "higher English education."

Two of the schools prepare boys for the Cambridge local examinations, with sufficient success to warrant the continuance of their efforts.

Scholarships or bursaries ($5 a month) are provided by Government to enable Malay boys from the country to avail themselves of the education given at the three principal English schools.

A Government University Scholarship of £250 a year for four years was for the first time, in 1901, conferred upon a Chinese scholar and is held at Gonville and Caius College, Cambridge.

His Highness the Sultan of Perak has maintained one of his sons for some years past at Oxford in charge of a Fellow and Tutor of Balliol, and another of his sons is proceeding there.

78. To encourage technical education the Government has provided small grants to enable lads from the English schools to undergo a course of apprenticeship in the workshops connected with the Public Works and Railway Departments, but general education must be more advanced and time must elapse before these are utilised to any great extent; furthermore, the progress of the States has given rise to a large demand for clerks, accountants, book-keepers, etc., at good wages, so that it is difficult even to retain sharp boys in the schools when they have passed the seventh standard.

Malays do not appear to be inclined to avail themselves of the advantages of industrial training. Facilities have been provided at the "Malay Settlement," Kuala Lumpur, which, however, the Inspector of Schools reports to have been very successful in every direction excepting that of imparting technical education. Masters have been appointed to teach trades, but, although a retaining fee is offered to students, few have come forward and fewer still have persevered.

A movement strongly supported by the Sultan has been inaugurated for reviving Malayan art industries in Perak.

79. A joint Colonial and Native States' Training College for the preparation of Malay youths as teachers, under a European principal, was opened at Malacca in 1900, taking the place of a similar smaller institution that had been in existence in Perak for some two years.

The students are instructed in the principles of school management, Malay literature, arithmetic, geography, elements of drawing, and some manual work, such as carpentry. The course lasts two years and the students while in residence are fed, clothed, boarded and taught free of all charge.

80. Since compiling these notes, I have received Mr. Driver's Annual Report on Education in the Federated Malay States for the year 1901, and quote from it his remarks in connection with the work of the Victoria Institution, Selangor:—

The Victoria Institution gave in the annual examination its usual evidence of thorough and conscientious work in each department. Two features in the year's work stand out prominently—viz., the successes achieved by three of its pupils in the Cambridge Local Examinations, one boy winning first class honours, second division, in the Junior, with two marks of distinctions, and two in second class honours with the same number of marks of distinction for each, one in the Junior and the other in the Preliminary Examination. Two other candidates passed in the Junior and eight in the Preliminary Examination. I may mention incidentally that the work of the Cambridge Classes, which I examined in December, was the best I have yet had from the school. The other strikingly satisfactory feature is the growth and work of the Malay Department of the school. Many of these boys are holders of vernacular scholarships, and it is gratifying to be able to report that they are not only more than holding their own in English subjects in their respective standards against their Chinese and Tamil schoolfellows, but are still working with profit and success at their own language.

HEALTH.

81. There was an outbreak of cholera (sporadic) in a sugar plantation in Lower Perak—277 cases with 201 deaths.

In Selangor there were five cases of plague, all fatal. In the Coast districts of that State malarial fever continued to prevail. The Resident remarks that “draining, the filling in of pools, the felling of jungle, and the free use of kerosine oil in pools infected by anopheles have been resorted to in several unhealthy localities, with satisfactory results.”

The opening of the new Port Swettenham was followed by a severe outbreak of malarial fever. A Commission was appointed, to whose recommendations, estimated to cost $33,000, effect has been given and is being continued to be given and the health of the Port is now normal.

There was a decrease in the number of beri-beri cases and the type was of a less severe and fatal character.

The seaside hospital for beri-beri is favourably reported upon.

INSTITUTE FOR MEDICAL RESEARCH.

82. The designation of the Pathological Institute, an institute to which I referred at length in my last report, has been changed to that of Institute for Medical Research, and the title of Pathologist to that of Director.

83. The past year was the second of the institute's existence.

Dr. Hamilton Wright, the very able Director, has now succeeded in completing its organisation and equipment, with the result that Sir Francis Lovell, who visited Kuala Lumpur on his tour in the East in connection with obtaining support for the London School of Tropical Medicine, was compelled to express his admiration of the establishment and to pronounce it to be the best equipped British institute of the kind in Asia, not excluding British India.

84. Proposals for affiliating the institute with the London school are under discussion, and if carried into effect will be to the advantage of both. The London school, it is hoped, will periodically supply a skilled Director, his salary being paid by the Federated Malay States, who would return to his post in London with the added experience of tropical diseases gained locally, without cost to the parent school, in "an unrivalled field for research."

85. Two trained Assistants for the institute were sanctioned, but difficulty has been experienced in finding them.

86. Among other independent workers who made use of the institute was M. Carogean, a member of the Pasteur Institute, Saigon, deputed by that institute to study veterinary pathology in these States. One, and a somewhat startling, result of his investigations was the announcement that the disease which intermittently devastates the herds of buffaloes and kine, and which we have hitherto termed rinderpest, is septicæmia hæmorrhagica, and that rinderpest does not occur in the Malay Peninsula.

87. The Director is able to report that, in spite of the time absorbed by the organisation of the institute, its proper work has not been neglected.

A report on the malarial fevers of the country has been prepared, a paper on the etiology of beri-beri is in course of preparation, and several papers on that and other subjects have been contributed by the Director to the home medical journals.

An admirable opportunity for the study of beri-beri was afforded at the gaol at Kuala Lumpur, and Dr. Hamilton Wright was given a free hand to conduct his investigations in that establishment.

CENSUS.

88. I referred briefly in my last report to some of the results of the Census taken throughout the States on the 1st March, 1901.

It was the first complete Census made in the Federated Malay States, and was under the superintendence of Mr. G. T. Hare, Secretary for Chinese Affairs, who has prepared a most elaborate and valuable report.

The work was carried out expeditiously and successfully, and Mr. Hare notes that "the thanks of Government are due to all the Census officers, and to the Secretaries of the Central Committees in particular, for the promptness, hard work and despatch with which they have, without exception, discharged a duty of special responsibility."

For the purposes of the Census the following areas were recognised, to which I have added the figures of population for the years 1891 and 1901, and the increase per cent. :—

State.	Area.		Population.		Increase per cent.
	Sq. mile.		1891.	1901.
Perak	6,500	...	214,254	329,665	53.87
Selangor	3,200	...	81,592	168,789	106.86
Negri Sembilan	2,600	...	65,219	96,028	47.23
Pahang	14,000	...	57,444	84,113	46.42
	26,300		418,509	678,595	62.14

It should be said that the figures of 1891 for Perak are considerably more reliable than those for the other three States.

The total cost of the Census amounted to $60,500, or under 9 cents per head of population.

Mr. Hare's report abounds with interesting deductions from the figures at his disposal. I must content myself with the following remarks.

(cont.)

Principal nationalities exclusive of floating population and prisoners:—

Malays and other Native of the

Archipelago	...	...	312,456*	increase per cent.	34.9
Europeans and Americans	...	...	1,422	„	98.3
Eurasians	...	...	1,522	„	169.8
Chinese	...	...	299,739	„	83.4
Indians	...	...	58,211	„	188.8
Average density of population per square mile					25.7

Population of five principal towns:—Perak: Taiping, 13,331; Ipoh, 12,791; Selangor: Kuala Lumpur, 32,381; Negri Sembilan: Seremban, 4,765; Pahang: Pekan, 1,142.

Chinese population of two British Colonies and the Federated Malay States:—

Hongkong and Kau Lung	...	376,797
Straits Settlements	...	281,933
Federated Malay States	...	299,739
Total	...	958,469

It is stated that during the years 1881–1900, 1,681,711 Chinese immigrants have come to Perak and Selangor.

It is, perhaps, unnecessary to point out that the attraction to the Chinese in the Federated Malay States is the tin mines, that not one quarter of the Chinese population can be considered to be “resident,” and that the disproportion of sexes amongst them is very marked—the proportion of Chinese males over 15 years of age to Chinese females per 1,000 is 927 males to 73 females, the proportion of all Chinese males to all Chinese females per 1,000 is 910 males to 90 females.

The birth-rate is infinitesimal.

The proportion of males to females among the Malays is normal, and the birth-rate is not a low one. The number of the aborigines (Sakais and Semangs) shows no signs of decrease, and the sexes are fairly balanced.

Returns are not available from the other States, but as regards Perak, it appears that in 1879, five years after the date of the commencement of British Protection, the Malay, Chinese and Indian population was estimated at:—

			1901.
Malays	...	59,682	as compared with 141,723
Chinese	...	20,373	„ „ 149,375
Indians	...	837	„ „ 34,710
		80,892	„ „ 325,808

As Mr. Hare points out, the great increase in population is due to the rapid development and expansion of the tin industry, to the employment by Government of large numbers of labourers on roads, railways and public works, and to the steady growth of the planting and agricultural classes.

With the phenomenal rise in the price of tin from 1898 to the present time, the day wages of the Chinese miners rose from 30 cents in 1896 to 70

* Includes aborigines, probably 20,000.

and 80 cents in 1899, and it is calculated that approximately 100,000 adult Chinese arrived in the States from China and the Colony between the beginning of 1899 and the end of 1900.

Mr. Hare adds that "perhaps the most striking figures of the Census are those that show that in Perak and Selangor, where most of the tin mining is found, the Chinese now outnumber the native Malays proper by 18,348 in Perak and 74,771 in Selangor; or, in other words, the combined returns of these two large States show that the Chinese now outnumber the native Malays by 93,119."

PAHANG.

89. The financial condition and the prospects of Pahang, the youngest State of the Federation, have recently occupied special attention. Mr. F. Duberly's report for the year 1901, written under circumstances of difficulty, which he has explained to me, is, to my mind, a model of conciseness, interesting and encouraging, and I think not over-optimistic.

The Malay States have to look for prosperity to the products, vegetable and mineral, of the land. Mr. Duberly's report shows an encouraging development in Pahang of the revenue thence derived—land rents, mining rents, export duty on minerals and on timber—and holds out reasonable hopes of its further growth.

The tin-mining industry is making evident progress, the output for the year exceeded that of the previous year, the largest at that time, by 42 per cent., and applications for mining land are coming in rapidly.

The export of gold reached 23,948 ounces, against 17,048 in the previous year, but 2,472 less than the amount exported in 1897, which so far holds the record.

Four companies began to export gold for the first time.

The Acting Resident has also something interesting to say on the subject of the probable extent of payable alluvial gold, which, however, is not a new one.

90. An important contribution to revenue may confidently be expected from the Forest Department which is now being organised by the Chief Forest Officer of the Federated Malay States to exploit the extensive forest resources of this State.

91. The great need of Pahang is undoubtedly improved communication with the West Coast, and I anticipate that the Director of Public Works will shortly be in a position to submit proposals for increasing the road mileage in the Bentong district and giving access to that district from Negri Sembilan, whence possibly the Government line of railway will ultimately be extended into Pahang.

92. I quote the following from the Acting Resident's Report:—

I do not think the following table can be altogether devoid of interest as showing how the revenue of Pahang has lately increased in a period of three years at a greater rate than that of Perak did in the early days in four years.

Perak Revenue.			Pahang Revenue.
1875	...	$226,333	1898	...	$224,856
1876	...	273,043	1899	...	375,350
1877	...	312,872	1900	...	419,150
1878	...	328,608	1901	...	438,558
1879	...	588,372

I have not specially selected these years, but taken the earliest Perak records available and placed against them the nearly equivalent revenue of Pahang during the last four years.

(cont.)

93. Pahang and its financial outlook was discussed at a conference of Residents early in the current year when the following resolutions were agreed to:—

- (i.) It was decided that from 1st January, 1902, no interest shall be charged on any loan made by any of the Federated Malay States to any other such State.
- (ii.) That all interest on loans to Pahang which has accrued up to 31st December, 1901, be remitted, and that Perak and Selangor bear the loss in equal shares.
- (iii.) That for the year 1902, and until this resolution is rescinded at a conference of Residents, all advances to Pahang shall be made by Perak and Selangor in equal proportions.
- (iv.) It was resolved that it is advisable to establish railway communication with Pahang as soon as circumstances will permit.
- (v.) It was resolved that no portion of the following items of Federal expenditure should be charged to Pahang in 1902:—

Malay States Guides	...	...	...	...	$321,758
Director of Institute for Medical Research	...	...	...	...	280,588
Experimental Gardens	...	...	...	...	12,674
Railway	...	...	...	...	505,252
Chief Surveyor	...	...	...	...	99,826
Protector of Labour	...	...	...	...	7,280
Public Works	...	...	...	...	227,072
Miscellaneous Services—
Introduction of Indian Immigrants	...	...	...	...	15,000
Experimental Porcelain Potteries	...	...	...	...	5,000
Pensions, Malay States Guides	...	...	...	...	1,021
					$1,475,471

- (vi.) It was resolved that it is desirable to await further consideration of the question of a geological survey of Pahang pending the receipt of the report of the recent Mines Conference.
- (vii.) It was resolved that the special circumstances existing in some parts of Pahang render it advisable that a scheme for dealing with the emoluments of officers serving in that State should be prepared, and that the Resident of Pahang be requested to submit a scheme to the Resident-General.

94. The first of the above resolutions, waiving payment of interest when pecuniary assistance is rendered by one State to another, is a progressive step and may pave the way to the ultimate adoption of the principle of the "common purse" which has been referred to in former reports by the Resident-General.

95. As regards the question of a geological survey, the full report of the Mining Conference has not yet reached me, but from an advance copy I find that the members of the conference, whose opinions are entitled to weight, while recognising the utility of a geological survey, consider that in view of the small amount of survey work that has been done and of the fact that our rocks are covered in many places with a great depth of alluvium and generally also screened by dense masses of jungle, grave difficulties and heavy expenditure would be incurred in undertaking anything like a complete geological survey of these states; but they point out that much might be effected with the assistance of a highly trained geologist in indicating generally the localities in which the occurrence or non-occurrence of minerals may be anticipated.

The matter will receive further consideration when the report of the Mining Conference has been received and dealt with.

Suffice it now to say that application was made to the Government of India for the services of an officer from its Geological Department, but no one was available.

GENERAL.

96. In his despatch to the Secretary of State covering the Annual Reports for the year 1900, the High Commissioner has referred in felicitous terms to the visit of their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York to Singapore, when the four Sultans, who were each accompanied by a numerous retinue, had the honour of being presented to His Royal Highness, and Sultan Idris, K.C.M.G., of Perak, became the recipient of the dignity of an Honorary Knight Grand Cross of Saint Michael and Saint George, an honour deeply appreciated by His Highness and recognised by the other Sultans as a mark of the King's kindly consideration for their federated States.

97. The Sultan of Perak, as the representative of the Federated Malay States, has been further honoured by an invitation to be present as the guest of the British nation at the Coronation of His Majesty the King and Queen Alexandra.

His Highness left Perak en route for England in April, 1902, being accompanied by his son Raja Harun—who will replace his brother Raja Alang Iskander at Oxford—Raja Chulan, a son of ex-Sultan Abdullah, and by the Sri Adika Raja and the Penglima Kinta, Members of the Perak State Council.

A Native Officer and 24 men of the Malay State Guides Regiment and 20 of the Sultan's mounted escort departed for England at the same time.

98. Progress was made with the delimitation of the boundaries recently agreed upon with the Government of Siam, between Perak and Pahang and the neighbouring States, and an annexure to the Agreement of 1899, defining the boundaries in detail, should be ready for signature during the current year. The work on the Perak boundary has proved to be most arduous and trying.

99. I record with deep regret the death, on 29th March last, of Lieutenant-General Sir Andrew Clarke, G.C.M.G., who, when Governor of the Straits Settlements, concluded the Pangkor Treaty with the Perak Chiefs, on 20th January, 1874—the first step towards British Protection over the Malay States.

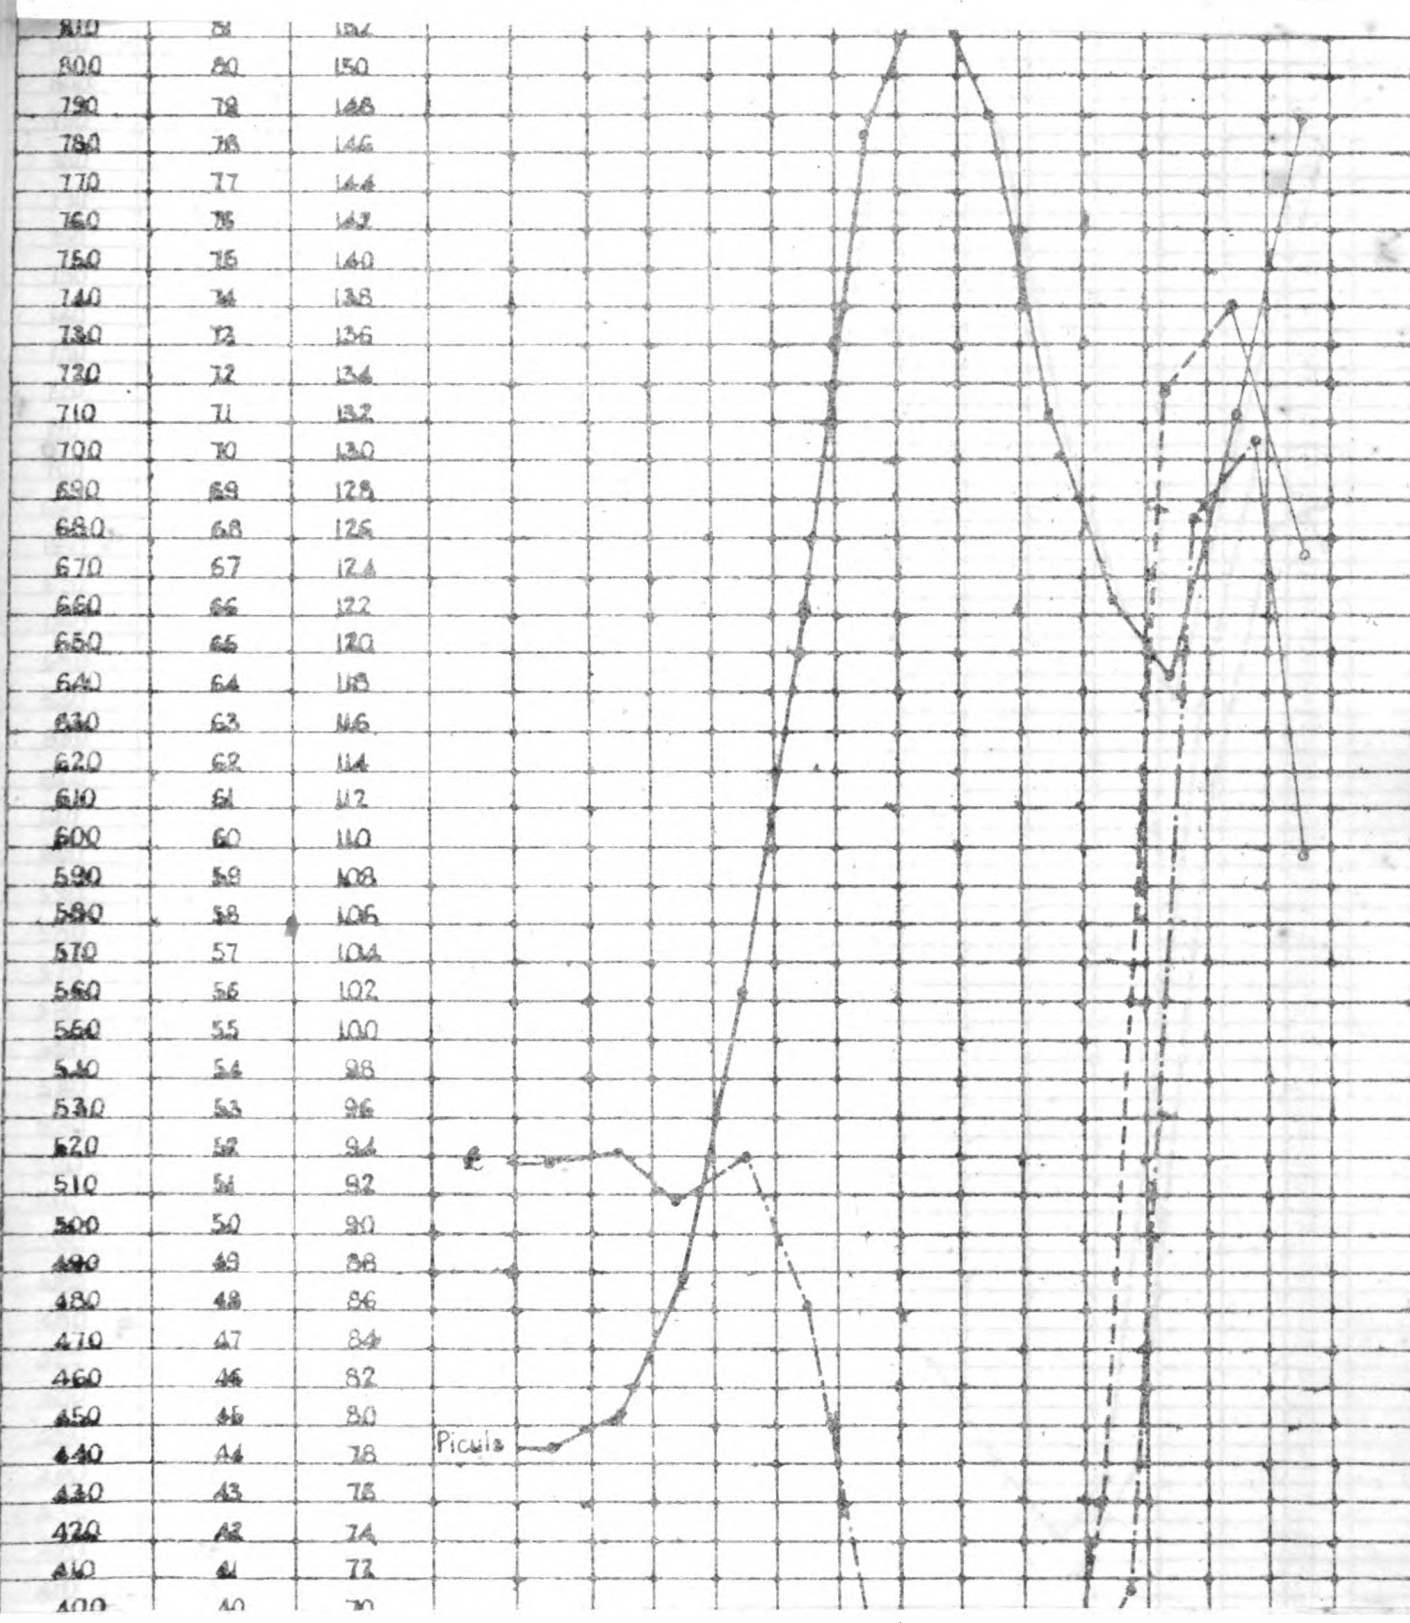

TAIPING, 14th May, 1902.

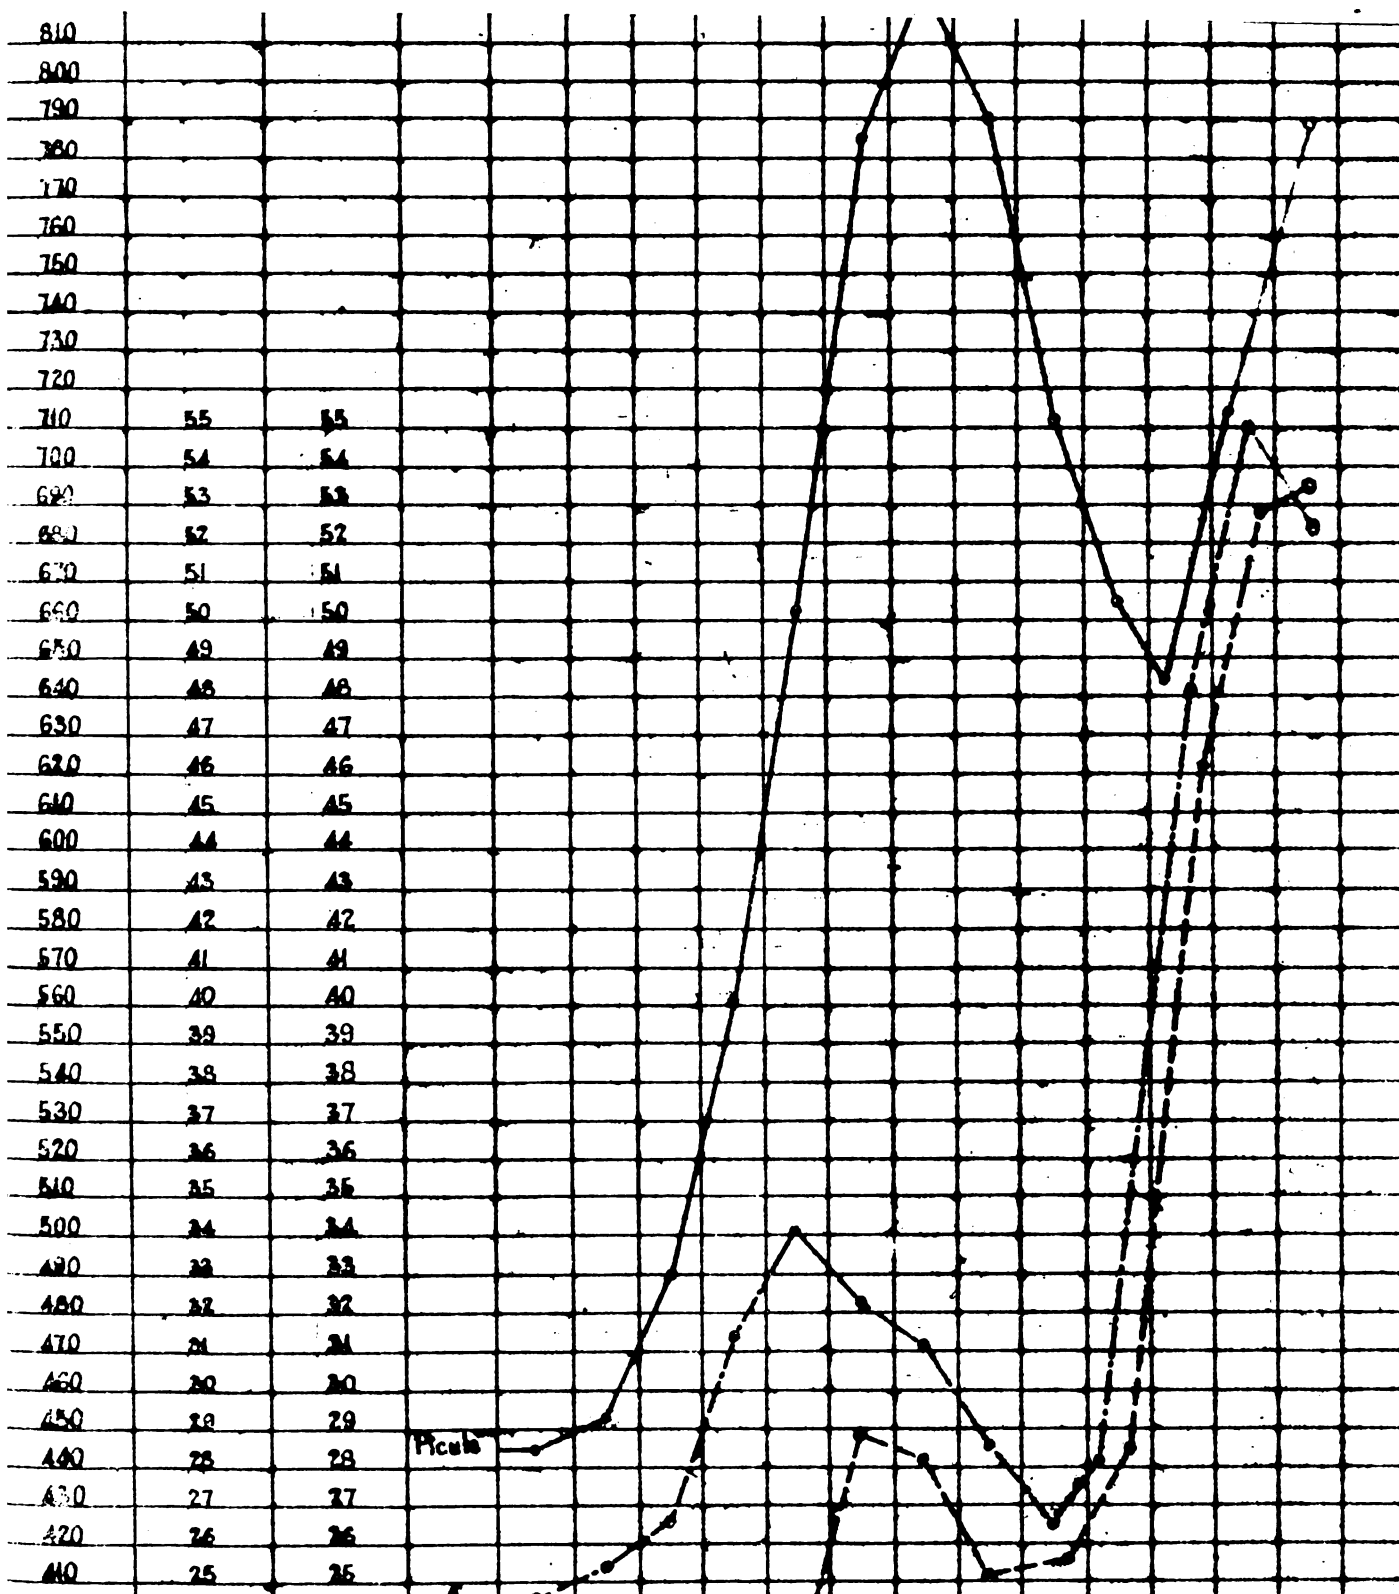

W. H. TREACHER,
Resident-General, F.M.S.

R.-G.O. CIRCULAR No. 41.—1902.

H.C. $\frac{3947}{1902}$

RULES FOR THE CLERICAL SERVICE OF THE FEDERATED MALAY STATES.

1. The appointments in the Clerical Service of the Federated Malay States are divided into the following grades:—

JUNIOR GRADES.
Grade VI.	...	$360	per annum
" V.	...	480	"
" IV.	...	600	"
SENIOR GRADES.
Grade III.	...	$720	per annum
" II.	...	840	" rising by three biennial increments of $120 to $1,200 per annum
" I.	...	$1,320	" rising by five biennial increments of $120 to $1,920

In addition to the above a limited number of appointments on salaries exceeding $1,920 may, at the discretion of the Government, be filled from time to time by the selection of deserving clerks in Grade I.

2. The appointments in the three junior grades are on the non-pensionable, and those in the senior grades are on the pensionable establishment. Pensionable appointments.
 3. The first increment in Grade I. or II. will date in each case from the 1st January, or 1st July, next subsequent to the completion of two years' service in that grade. Increments date from January and July.
 4. Every applicant for a junior grade clerkship must be over 16 and under 23 years of age and must hold a certificate of standard VII. of one of the schools in the Straits Settlements or Federated Malay States; or must pass the entrance examination prescribed in Rule 7 below. Qualifications of applicants.
School certificate.
Entrance examination.
 5. Every candidate must, before his appointment, comply with General Order 36. G. O. 36 to be complied with.
 6. Applications to be examined must be in the form of Appendix A, attached, and must be addressed to the Secretary to the Resident of Perak, Selangor, Negri Sembilan or Pahang. Form of applications to be examined.
 7. At convenient intervals, examinations will be held in the office of the Secretary to the Resident of each State. Place and subjects of examination.
- The subjects of examination will be as follows:—
- (a) ARITHMETIC.—The four rules applied to Straits money, weights and measures and to British and Indian currency, fractions, bills, exchanges in any of the above currencies, simple problems;
 - (b) HANDWRITING.—Copying neatly and legibly a draft letter;
 - (c) ENGLISH COMPOSITION.—Writing a clear and grammatical account of some recent local occurrence, or some simple essay, and writing a simple letter; detection of obvious errors in a given exercise;
 - (d) DICTATION.—Writing down correctly ten lines from a book or newspaper read out once and then dictated slowly;
 - (e) CONVERSATION;
 - (f) READING MANUSCRIPT;
 - (g) PRÉCIS WRITING.—Making a précis or short abstract of a simple letter.
8. The examination papers will be set by the Inspector of Schools, who will proportion the marks assigned to each subject; and unless a candidate obtains two-thirds of the total number of marks given he will be disqualified. Two-thirds maximum marks necessary.
 - No candidate will be allowed to present himself more than three times for examination. Failure to pass.
 9. The names of successful candidates will be recorded in the order arrived at in the examination, and vacancies in Grade VI. will be filled, as a rule, from those standing highest in the list. Provided that when the number of applicants who are eligible under Rule 4 exceeds the number of vacant appointments, preference shall be given to local candidates who have passed the VII. standard of one of the schools of the Federated Malay States or Straits Settlements. List of successful candidates to be kept.
Preference to candidates locally educated.
 10. Should the number of successful candidates be insufficient to meet the number of vacancies in Grade VI., appointments to fill the remaining vacancies may be made from the unsuccessful candidates; but clerks so appointed will receive salary at the rate of $300 per annum only, and will not be entitled to receive any increase of salary until they have passed the entrance examination. Unsuccessful candidates may be appointed if number of qualified applicants insufficient.

Six months' probation.

11. Every clerk will, on first joining the service, be on probation, and will not be confirmed in his appointment unless a favourable report is received at the end of six months from the Head of his Department as to the probability of his becoming an intelligent clerk.

Senior grade examination. After two years' service.

12. No clerk is eligible for promotion to the senior grades until he has passed a qualifying examination; and no clerk shall be allowed to present himself for such examination until he shall have served for at least two years.

Cambridge local examination.

Provided that any clerk who has passed the Cambridge local examination, junior, will be exempted from the obligation to present himself for examination for the senior grades under this rule.

Inspector of Schools to examine all senior grades. Applicants not already in Government service may be admitted. Preference given to those already in the service.

13. Examinations will be held periodically by the Inspector of Schools, Federated Malay States, for the purpose of testing the qualifications of clerks to fill vacancies that may occur in the senior grades. The names of candidates for examination will be forwarded to the Inspector of Schools by the Secretary to the Resident of each State. These examinations will not be confined to clerks already in the service and will be open to applicants for employment who are not in the service of Government; but amongst those who pass at any one examination preference will be given to successful candidates already in the service.

Subjects of examination for senior grade.

14. Each candidate who wishes to qualify for the senior grade must show that he has the means of reading books, such as access to some library. He should be asked to state what books he has read and be able to give some account of them.

He may be required to show that he is of active habits.

He must have a competent knowledge of General Orders, must be able to correspond and converse readily and sensibly on ordinary topics, and explain such common phrases as—e. g., viz., "primâ facie," "proximo," "ultimo," etc.

He should prove himself quite competent in copying difficult handwritings, in proof reading, in draft writing, in taking down evidence correctly in Court, in précis writing and in knowledge of accounts and of the principles of book-keeping.

Certificate of qualification for senior grades.

15. The Examiner will grant to every candidate already in the service who passes the senior grade examination a certificate in the form of appendix B, and the successful candidate will then be eligible for promotion to Grade III., subject to the occurrence of a vacancy and to the relative seniority and claims of other clerks who have also qualified.

Failure to pass senior grade examination.

16. Any clerk who fails three times to pass the senior grade examination may be removed from the service, and no clerk who has not yet passed shall be admitted to the senior grades.

Promotion to grade III. to be by seniority and merit.

17. Subject to good conduct and such special qualifications as may be required for any particular vacancy which may occur in Grade III., the senior clerk who has at the time of the occurrence of the vacancy passed the qualifying examination shall be eligible for the vacant post.

Relative seniority of clerks in each grade.

18. The relative seniority of the clerks in any one grade shall be determined by the date on which they shall have entered that grade and not by the date of their original appointment to the public service; and any clerk in Grade I. or II. who, through misconduct, fails to earn any increment of salary to which his service in that grade would otherwise entitle him shall be superseded by any junior clerk who is granted a rate of salary exceeding that drawn by the clerk who makes such failure. Preference will be given to clerks who have special qualifications, such as a knowledge of languages, for promotion to vacancies in which such qualifications are necessary.

Residents to keep lists of clerks in the five lowest grades.

19. A list will be kept in the office of the Resident of each State of all clerks in Grades II., III., IV., V. and VI., who are serving in that State. The names of Federal clerks will be included in the list kept by the Resident of the State in which the clerks are, for the time being, stationed, in order that they may have equal chances of promotion with other clerks. Clerks in the office of the Secretary to the High Commissioner will be entered in the Selangor list.

Residents to fill appointments in grades II. to VI., including Federal clerkships. Promotions to grade I.

20. In the event of any clerkship (whether Federal or otherwise) in the five lowest grades becoming vacant, the Resident will, after such consultation with the Federal Head of Department as may be necessary, fill the vacancy by appointing the next eligible candidate on the list.

21. Promotions to Grade I. will be made by the Resident-General by selection of the most capable and deserving clerks in Grade II. and no clerk who is not recommended will be eligible for promotion to Grade I.

S.R.-G. to keep list of all clerks drawing $1,200 and over.

22. The Secretary to the Resident-General will keep a list of all clerks drawing $1,200 and over. Vacant appointments in Grade I. will be filled from this list, due consideration being given to the respective seniority and qualifications of the clerks eligible.

Resident to forward to S.R.-G. names of clerks drawing $1,200.

23. To ensure the list being kept up to date, the Resident will, immediately on the receipt by any clerk in Grade II. of the highest salary of that grade—viz., $1,200 per annum—obtain from the Financial Commissioner a complete statement of the clerk's service, which statement he will forward to the Secretary to the Resident-General, together with a report on the qualifications of the clerk and his fitness for promotion to Grade I. These certificates and reports will be kept for reference on a special file in the Resident-General's office.

24. As a general rule, inter-State promotion will be confined to Grade I., but a clerk serving in any grade may be transferred, with the approval of the Resident-General, from one State to another; and any clerk who without good reason refuses to accept a transfer so approved to an appointment in any part of the Federated Malay States the salary of which is not less than that which he is already drawing, may be called upon to resign his appointment.

Inter-state promotion.
Refusal to accept transfer.

25. Before a clerk in Grade I. or II. is permitted to draw any increment of salary provided by these rules, he will be required to obtain from the Head of his Department a certificate in the form of appendix C to the effect that his service has been satisfactory. It is the duty of the Head of Department to refuse the certificate in any case in which the applicant has been guilty of negligence or misconduct or has failed to perform his duties in a satisfactory manner. This certificate will, in the case of a clerk in Grade I., be forwarded to the Resident-General and, in the case of a clerk in Grade II., to the Resident of the State in which the clerk is serving. In the case of a clerk serving in a Federal appointment the certificate will be forwarded through the Federal Head of Department.

Certificate of head of department necessary before drawing increments in grades I. and II.

It will be the duty of the Financial Commissioner to see that the necessary certificate has been obtained before a warrant is issued for payment of any increment of salary under these rules.

26. In the event of any clerk in Grade I. or II. being unable, when due for increment of salary, to obtain the certificate required by the last rule, a special report must be sent to the Resident-General or Resident who will decide each case on its merits.

Failure to obtain certificate.

27. In order to distinguish clearly the appointments belonging to the clerical service proper, to which these rules apply, the grade to which every such appointment belongs must be shown in the Estimates and Establishment Lists—e.g.,

Estimates and establishment lists to show grades to which clerkships belong.

Perak	339	307
Selangor	352	431
Negri Sembilan	34	50
Pahang	35	30
Total ...	760	818

7. The number of re-convictions in Perak has again decreased. This is a testimony of the efficacy of stone-breaking as a deterrent.

WORK.

PERAK.

9. TAIPING.—Extra-mural work, with the exception of about 40 convicts at the quarry, has been discontinued.

10. The intra-mural work consists of stone-breaking, carpentering, rattan, tailoring, tin and blacksmiths' work.

11. In all of these departments most useful work is done.

12. The work shed has been rebuilt and a commodious stone-breaking shed erected.

13. BATU GAJAH.—Owing to the erection of the new prison, accommodation inside the gaol is very limited, and only a minimum of intra-mural work is done. This consists of breaking fibre and rattan work.

14. The extra-mural work consists of making drains, clearing Government reserves, etc.

15. The revenue derived from the sale of industries, etc., in the Perak gaols amounted to—

Taiping	$10,880 61
Batu Gajah	1,526 37
Krian	106 65
Total ...	$12,513 63

This I consider most satisfactory.

SELANGOR.

16. From May, owing to an outbreak of beri-beri, at the Kuala Lumpur Gaol all extra-mural work was suspended.

17. The intra-mural work consists of rattan, carpenters', tailors', mat and chick work. A large party, about four times the usual number, was employed on white-washing, sweeping, etc., but even with this it was found impossible to find labour for all prisoners.

18. If my suggestion, in last year's annual report, re stone-breaking had been carried out there would have been no difficulty in providing prisoners with hard labour.

19. The amount realised from the sale of gaol manufactures was $5,507.77, an excess of $1,997.77 on the estimate.

NEGRI SEMBILAN.

20. Intra-mural work consists of stone-breaking and rattan work; extra-mural, grass cutting and levelling Government reserves.

21. Amount of revenue collected, $526.45; as compared with $561.51 in 1900.

PAHANG.

22. All extra-mural work, with the exception of dhobie and tailors' work.
 23. The extra-mural consists of earthwork, jungle clearing, sweeping and carrying water.
 24. The revenue derived from gaol industries was $782.13.

PERAK.

28. TAIPING GAOL.—The health in this prison has been very good. There has been no epidemic of beri-beri; 20 beri-beri cases have been treated, of these one case only was fatal.

29. BATU GAJAH GAOL.—The daily average in hospital has been 30.88 with a daily prison average of 257.68.

30. The health in this gaol has been far from good, which I consider is due to association wards, overcrowding and to the fact that the new block of cells, in course of erection, shuts out the air to a great extent.

31. There were 81 deaths, by far the larger number of these occurred amongst the vagrant class.

32. The health in this prison will continue unsatisfactory as long as this of class prisoner is admitted. They are quite unfit for work and tend to swell the death-rate.

SELANGOR.

33. KUALA LUMPUR.—The general health of the prisoners has not been good. In May there was an outbreak of beri-beri. It does not appear to have been of a very severe type. During the year there were 205 cases of beri-beri and five deaths.

34. The medical authorities were given a free hand. All prisoners were placed on full diet, extra-mural work stopped, with the exception of a water party, and this gang was kept entirely separate.

NEGRI SEMBILAN.

35. The health of the prisoners has been very good, only three cases of beri-beri and one death.

PAHANG.

36. The health of the prisoners has been very good. I quote an extract from the State Surgeon's report.

37. A daily average of sick in hospital of 3.37 on a daily average number of 82.54 prisoners must be looked upon as satisfactory. The percentage of mortality is 2.5.

38. An even more satisfactory state of affairs may be gathered from the return of beri-beri cases, with the above daily average only six cases of beri-beri without any deaths. This is a decrease of over 50 per cent. as compared with last year, and shows that beri-beri is not endemic in the Pahang Gaols.

* Three committed suicide by hanging. † One prisoner died in district hospital.

40. Return of executions :—

	1900.	1901.
Perak	3	7
Selangor	3	7

Pahang	1	1
Total	7	15

41. Executions are now carried out at Taiping, Kuala Lumpur and Kuala Lipis only. In each of the above prisons the condemned cells and execution shed are in the same building.

DISCIPLINE.

42. The following return shows the number of cases brought before the gaol officials and visiting justices for breaches of prison discipline for the last two years :—

	1900	1901	1900	1901
Perak—
Taiping	566	714

			870	924
Selangor			618	453
Negri Sembilan			93	150
Pahang			45	51
Total			1,626	1,578

44. The discipline throughout the gaols has been satisfactory.

45. The Superintendent in Selangor was much handicapped, as his powers were extremely limited. Owing to the outbreak of beri-beri all prisoners were ordered full diet, consequently the punishment of cells did not carry punishment diet with it.

ESCAPES.

46. The following is a return of escapes for the last two years :—

STAFF.

48. I have every reason to be satisfied with the zeal and energy displayed by the staff, with one exception—Batu Gajah Gaol. The Gaoler, who was in very indifferent health, was allowed to retire on a gratuity.

49. The European warders on the whole have worked well.

50. I regret to announce the death of Warder Battle at Taiping, on 11th May, and that of Warder Scott (Acting Gaoler) at Kuala Lumpur, on 1st November.

51. The native warders show improvement, with the exception of the Kuala Lumpur warders. There are far too many reports and dismissals at Kuala Lumpur.

BUILDINGS.

53. Buildings throughout the gaols in the Federated Malay States were kept in good order.

54. New gaols are now being built at Batu Gajah and Seremban. The Batu Gajah Gaol is well advanced.

GENERAL.

57. On account of the high cost of living in Pahang, the pay of the native warders was raised, and with very satisfactory results.

58. Parit Buntar, now being in direct communication by rail with Taiping, the small gaol there was closed at the end of the year.

59. I have continued to act as Inspector of Prisons throughout the year.

No. 28.] TAIPING, MONDAY, AUGUST 11, 1902. [Vol. XV.

THE following Notification is, by Command of the Resident, published for general information.

R. G. WATSON,
Acting Secretary to Resident.

HIS MAJESTY THE KING'S CORONATION MESSAGE.

No. 712.—The following telegram from the Resident-General is published for general information:—

“Following telegram received from Secretary of State:—

“Following is text of letter which His Majesty the King has written to his people on the occasion of 'Their Majesties' Coronation, and which will appear in the newspapers to-morrow morning”:—

“TO MY PEOPLE

On the eve of my Coronation, an event which I look upon as one of the most solemn and important in my life I am anxious to express to my people at home and in the Colonies and in India my heartfelt appreciation of the deep sympathy which they have manifested towards me during the time that my life was in such imminent danger. The postponement of the ceremony owing to my illness caused, I fear, much inconvenience and trouble to those who intended to celebrate it, but the disappointment was borne by them with admirable patience and temper. The prayers for my recovery were heard, and I now offer up my deepest gratitude to Divine Providence for having preserved my life and given me strength to fulfil the important duties which devolve upon me as Sovereign of this great Empire.

(Signed) EDWARD,
Rex et Imperator.”

5. The increment in each grade shall be given only on the certificate of the Head of the Department in the form laid down in R.G.O. Circular 49 of 1902.
6. Promotion to the higher grades will be by seniority and ability, but should there be no qualified Interpreter already in the service eligible for any vacancy that may occur in the 1st and 2nd grades, the Government may, at its discretion, appoint a candidate not already in the service. The rate of salary paid will depend on the qualifications of the candidate as laid down by the requirements of the examinations above mentioned and the importance of the post he has to fill.
7. In the case of Tamil Interpreters already in the service, they may, on the recommendation of the Head of their Department, be granted such increase as will raise their salaries to one of the rates under the scheme, and they will, in that case, be treated thereafter, in the matter of increments to salary, as if they had originally joined under the scheme. Each case will, however, be considered strictly on its merits, and, if necessary, the Interpreter recommended for an increase will have to undergo an examination to test his qualifications as required by rules 3, 4 and 5.
8. This scheme shall not of necessity apply to any officer whose duties are not principally those of Interpreter—e.g., those whose duties are that of Interpreter and Clerk combined.
9. The examinations shall be conducted in each State by a Board composed of two officers appointed by the Resident and every application for examination shall be accompanied by a statement in the form given below:—

PARTICULARS OF INFORMATION REGARDING A CANDIDATE FOR EXAMINATION AS A TAMIL INTERPRETER.

Name.	Age.	School or College qualifications.	Extra languages spoken, if any.	Date of entering service.	Salary now drawn.	Previous examination, if any.	Remarks by Head of Department (if candidate is already in the service).

10. When a Tamil Interpreter qualifies in other languages which are in common use in the court or office to which he is attached he may at the discretion of the Government receive a bonus for each such language not exceeding $150. This condition shall not apply to ordinary ability to converse in Malay, which is expected of every Interpreter who has been employed by the Government or resided in the Federated Malay States or Colony for such time as would enable him to obtain a fair knowledge of that language.

11. The whole time of an Interpreter is at the disposal of the Government and he is liable to be called upon to perform clerical or other duties when not engaged in interpreting.

This Scheme is approved by the Resident-General, with the sanction of H.E. the High Commissioner, with effect from the 1st January, 1902.

By Command,

2. Promotions to the First and Second Classes can take place only as vacancies occur. Only such officers as now hold fixed appointments in them, or as may hereafter come in by examination, shall be on the Pensionable Establishment.

All future appointments in the Third Class shall be on the Non-pensionable Establishment.

3. All officers now on the Pensionable Establishment of the Department may be required to pass the examination prescribed for their class before receiving further increases of salary, and, unless specially exempted, must do so before promotion to a higher class.

4. Those on the Non-pensionable Establishment may, subject to the approval of Government, be taken on to the Pensionable Establishment should vacancies occur, on their showing all the necessary qualifications.

5. Every Apprentice shall be required to sign indentures for five years, but during the first year he shall be on probation; and if he hold out no promise of becoming an efficient officer, his services will at the end of that time be dispensed with. He shall be on the Non-pensionable Establishment until he has passed the qualifying examination for officers of the Second Class, when he will become eligible for an appointment at $756 on the Pensionable Establishment. His pay shall commence at $240 and be increased by $60 annually up to $480. If at the end of the 5th year he fail to qualify, his services shall cease, or he may be classed as a Third Grade Officer, and be given further opportunities of doing so. No Apprentice shall, whether he has passed the examination or not, have any claim on the Government for employment, should his services not be required on the termination of his indentures, or should his good character, zeal or aptitude for practical work be open to doubt.

6. Tracers may be engaged for the Drawing Office as vacancies occur, or improvers may be taken on at $240 who will become eligible for appointments in the Third Class, commencing at $480. These men may also qualify for the higher appointments as in the case of those officers now in the Department.

7. No claim to free quarters shall be admitted except for officers now in the Department who are already entitled to them. Those who are stationed where houses cannot be rented may, however, have temporary quarters provided for their accommodation; and, if it is found convenient or necessary that any officer should reside in any particular place on account of the nature of his work, he may also temporarily have quarters allotted to him.

8. INCREMENTS.—An officer on the Subordinate Staff shall, after each two years' service in any grade, without promotion, and on the recommendation of the State Engineer, in the form laid down in R.-G.O. Circular No. 49 of 1902, receive an increase of salary not exceeding the maximum of his grade.

9. CONDITIONS OF INCREMENTS.—Increments of salary to officers on all Establishments are not to be given merely on account of length of service, but only on recommendation by the State Engineer, in each case on account of diligence, zeal and ability.

10. ENGINEER ESTABLISHMENTS.—An officer of the Senior Subordinate Class possessing the necessary qualifications may be recommended for advancement to the Engineer Establishment on the occasion of any vacancy occurring therein.

11. SENIOR SUBORDINATE ESTABLISHMENT.—Promotions to the Senior Subordinate Staff will be made entirely by selection, or appointments may be made by advertisement; or in such manner as may be thought advisable; in all cases the officer or candidate most qualified to fill the posts being recommended to the Resident-General by the Director of Public Works.

12. PROMOTIONS GENERALLY.—Promotions will in all cases be made by selecting the individual who, from his good conduct, superior management, and the possession of a higher degree of professional knowledge, shall appear to be the most deserving of advancement.

13. PROMOTION TO SENIOR SUBORDINATE ESTABLISHMENT.—Officers of the Subordinate Establishment before they can be promoted to the Senior Establishment, must pass the examination prescribed. An officer desirous of undergoing this examination will apply to the State Engineer; and in forwarding his application the Local Head will attach a special report upon those points of qualification which cannot be tested by examination, especially in regard to his physical energy and efficiency in practical work, and capacity to manage those under his authority. These reports shall always be considered preliminary to the examination, and the officer shall not be entitled to be examined until they have been received and found satisfactory by the State Engineer.

14. NATURE OF EXAMINATION.—The examination shall be such as to show that he has a general practical knowledge of the various subjects included in the syllabus, and with the modes of construction in use in the Straits Settlements.

15. EXAMINATION PAPERS.—The examination papers will be set by the State Engineer in the subjects specified in Appendix A. No theoretical points such as would in ordinary practice be met by a resort to books of reference will be introduced.

16. OUTSIDE APPOINTMENTS.—If it is ascertained that no officer of this grade has passed the requisite examination, and is in all other respects properly qualified for the Senior Subordinate Grade, any vacancy therein shall be filled by application to the Crown Agents, by advertisement, or in such manner as may be thought most advisable.

17. SUBORDINATE ESTABLISHMENT.—In like manner vacancies in the Subordinate Establishment will be filled, if possible, by the best qualified Apprentice, or by advertisement if no Apprentice be so qualified.

18. QUALIFICATIONS OF OVERSEERS.—All Overseers, however, are required to have a good knowledge of arithmetic, mensuration, elementary practical geometry and of simple account keeping; to be able to prepare simple working drawings; to lay out and construct a building from drawings and specifications; to prepare a simple estimate on being furnished with a design and the rate of work; to measure work; also to survey with chain and compass, and level accurately; and to have a practical knowledge of building in its several branches.

19. EXAMINATIONS IN SPECIAL CASES.—The Government may, on the advice of the State Engineer, in special cases dispense with any examination for any grade.

20. CONFIDENTIAL REPORTS.—To assist the State Engineer in making recommendations for the promotion of officers of the Public Works Department, Local Heads will submit, during the month of January each year, a confidential return of the officers serving under their orders, with any remarks they may think fit, as to their character, ability, zeal, general aptitude and professional qualifications.

21. INEFFICIENCY, ETC., TO BE REPORTED.—Local Heads will be responsible that any inefficiency, inattention to duty, or unbecoming conduct is immediately reported.

22. PROMOTION BY SELECTION.—In the selection of officers for permanent promotion it should be understood that seniority is not in itself sufficient ground on which to base a claim, and will not be allowed to interfere with advancement of junior officers who have proved themselves better qualified. No one will be brought forward who is not considered decidedly deserving of promotion on the ground of good service, the convenience of the public service being paramount to all other considerations.

Approved by the Resident-General, with the sanction of His Excellency the High Commissioner, with effect from the 1st January, 1902.

By command,

OLIVER MARKS,

Acting Secretary to Resident-General, F.M.S.
